The lawn can't possibly get into the neighbors' yard and trample his dog. By way of an argument we would say the lawn owner has a slight edge on the dog man, in this respect. On the other hand the lawn can't wave a welcome nor pat the rcn as door-to-door salesmen. So round two goes to the poochee pal.

In closing we say "Dogs are dogs and lawns are lawns — and never the twain shall meet. Never in complete accord we might add.

Know what happened to our wandering dogpile-agpile? She met an unfriendly end at the fangs and claws of a coyote. So you see rural folk have dog troubles too.

Unbiased

Dear Editor

It is hoped these few remarks will give the ratepayer of Edson something to consider for the betterment of the community as a whole. Our town administrators are looking a head out for personal gain or has the pressure from dog lovers upset their thinking.

The yearly budget has to be cut by $11,000 so gravel tend ers can be reduced which will effort local people but the nearly acquired dog catchers will take over $4000.00 of that out of the town.

Our town bend which everyone feels we should have never had a grant before, but should be happy with $250 Recently a member purchased a horn for $500.00 so if you see the band on parade with a member playing only half an instrument you may draw your own opinion.

In regard to saving or spending the exact figure is not available for the amount paid to our town planner but we may assume it is the sum of $15,000. This man who is a law student, an architect and now town planner should be capable of squeezing at least that amount out of the town.

The dance at Carrot Creek Friday, April 26 turned out to be a gala affair with a capacity attendance. Participants near and far. The Rodgers Brothers orchestra with Hank Smith and the Wranglers provided toe tapping music that left merrymakers clamoring for a return visit in the near future. Gaby Hase and his orchestra will be on hand Friday, May 3 for another dance at Carrot Creek hall. This should be a good one too, folks, so lets attend and get in on the fun.

Can you beat it---our late weather continues. It must be spring after all. Our favorite willow chump is going all out to reward me for my "woodsman spare that tree" stand a few months back. It promises to be every bit as beautiful as I said it would be when I considered they touch not a single bough. That's what I call gratitude

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. HURD

MOTHER'S ENDURING LOVE

It is said that an angel strolled out of heaven one beautiful day and found his way to this old world. He roamed through field and city beholding the varied scenes of nature and art, and just at sunset he plumed his golden wings and said, "I must return to the world of light; shall I not take with me some memention of my visit here? How beautiful and fragrant those flowers are. I will pluck of them a choice bouquet."

Passing a country home where he saw through the open door a rosy cheeked baby smiling up from the little crib into it's mother's face, he said. "The smile of that baby is prettier than these roses; I will take that, too."

Just then he looked beyond the cradle and saw a devout mother pouring out her love like the gush of a perpetual fountain, as she stopped to kiss "Good night" her precious baby. "Oh," said he, "that mother's love is the prettiest thing I have seen in all the world; I will take that, too."

With these three treasures

There is hope for arthritis

Although there is no cure for arthritis, through early diagnosis and prompt treatment, serious disability can be prevented in about four out of five cases.

Even those who have become severely disabled respond to the effective measures now well known.

Effective modern treatment involves a program of simple measures, based on the needs of the individual patients, which may be carried on at home or in the hospital. Such basic treatment includes:

(a rest

(b therapeutic exercise (e.g. physiotherapy)

(c) simple medication (e.g. aspirin)

The amount and kind of each should be determined by the patient's doctor. This basic treatment is neither rapid, nor dramatic but it is effective.

Where there is help, there is hope — hope for cure today — hope for a cure tomorrow.

Mount Robson picnic set for Sunday, May 26

The annual Mount Robson Circle will be held Sunday, May 26 according to word received from the sponsoring McBride, B.C., Chamber of Commerce

As has always been the custom, the picnic will be open to all who wish to attend. Families are invited to pack their own picnic hampers and join a caravan of cars that will be leaving Hinton at 9 a.m. A brief stop will be made at Jasper for those wishing to attend an open air church service which is conducted annually near the totem pole at the C.N.R. station. Cars from Jasper will then join the caravan and all will proceed over the Yellowhead Route to Mount Robson.

A day of picnicing, ball games, races, band music, conversation and good fellowship is planned. In past years the picnic has been attended by people from Edmonton, Edson, Valemount, McBride, and other centres, and a good time was had by all.

"I don't know where you could find a better family picnic in the old style" said a veteran attendee of the annual affair. He said the picnic promoted good fellowship and good roads, and gave everyone an opportunity to enjoy themselves and exchange views.

The picnic is being sponsored this year by the McBride Chamber of Commerce and Farmers' Institute. Anyone planning to attend should contact Chamber president Walter Fowler.

Sportsmen's dinner guests top record

Head table guests for the Edson Optimist Sportsmen's Dinner to-date reached an all-time high.

Some 12 top sports personalities will grace the scene Friday, May 17th when the Optimists stage their 8th annual Boys Work fund raising affair at the Edson Motor Hotel

Latest to join the glittering array of personalities are hockey star Bernie 'Boom Boom' Geoffrion, Clare Drake, Pro golfer Tommy Molyneux, Clarke Rev. Ted Trykale, Cecil "Tiger" Goldstick, Vic Chapman, Ted Tulley, Joe Ryan, Norm Kimball, and foot ball star Harvey Wylie.

Others to be confirmed are Big Johnny Bright, Ernie Ala gania, Matt Baldwin, Bill Godfrey, Glen Hall and Bruce McGregor. The talent scout Tiger Goldstick is completing arrangements to include personalities representing almost every major sport in Canada.

Harvey Wylie, of course is well known to Canadian football fans. A member of Calgary's sporting Wylie family, Harvey is recognized herabouts by the employees of Alberta Gas Trunk line as the country's outstanding native born football star and a Company Staff Engineer.

Jack Innes, Supervisor at Edson headquarters District No. 3 offices has confirmed that Harvey will be arriving by air from Calgary on Friday afternoon with the Company boss and their respective wives.

The key to Calgary's defensive backfield, Harvey is a perennial all-star at safety and also saw spot duty as an offensive half.

It was Wylie who made the unfortunate hobbie that derailed last fall's wild western final between Calgary and Winnipeg. He just caught a piece of it. Blue Bomber end Farrell Funston fell on the loose ball for a touchdown and Winnipeg was on its way to the Grey Cup.

A small number of tickets are still available at the Leader Office, the Edson Motor Hotel desk or from any member of the Optimist Club or John Koch.

WHO

PLANS ALBERTA'S ELECTRICAL PROGRESS?

You may have heard it said that government-owned p[ower] mean co-ordinated planning for the whole province.

In other words, you are being asked to believe that [planning] is not in effect now!

What are the facts?

The investor-owned electrical utilities work u[nder] bodies as the Alberta Power Commission and the Hydro-Electric Development.

This government overseeing and [co-ordinating] this is precisely to ensure planning in the best interests of this province. At the same time it avoids a government power monopoly, [against] whose rulings there is no right of appeal. The present system safeguards free-enterprise initiative. But, under this system, co-ordinated overall planning is a reality right now!

Achievement night held by Clothing Club members

Peers 4-H Clothing Club held a very successful Achievement night in Peers School on May 1. Over 100 parents, neighbors, and friends attended to encourage and enjoy the efforts of the 18 members of the Club.

The Club had 30[?] entered for the year and the girls completed 100% of their projects. 120 articles in all, which were displayed for judging by Mrs. M. Atkinson, District Home Economist, and Mrs. Louise McGuire, acting supervisor of all 4-H Clubs in Alberta

Hall decorations were in honor of 50 years of 4-H Club work in Canada, 1913 — 1963. The program, in which all members took part, was a skit "Bettie, 4-H". This included a meeting, demonstrations, group singing, duets, and a round of six differ[ent] types of 4-H Clubs in Peers and McLeod since the formation of the first Cloth[ing] Club in 1946. It closed with an outline of this year's activities.

A fashion show followed in which each girl modelled garments she had made. Commentaries written by them were read by three first year girls. Garments modelled were: pajamas, shirt and blouses, skirt, jams, pedpo, dresses and suits. The first year girls displayed their various projects.

NDP 'drafting' federal candidate provincially

NDP members in Edson provincial constituency decided at a luncheon meeting this week to invite Jim Torgerson to be the New Democratic Party standard bearer in the coming Provincial election.

It was reported that Mr. Torgerson, a farmer from Sangudo, was very well received during the Federal campaign and that he should have an excellent chance Provincially.

Addressing the meeting was C. Neil Reimer, Provincial Leader of the Party and Mr Regier, National Organizer.

Mr. Reimer advised the meeting that the party would put on a major campaign in the constituencies and through television and newspapers.

"The people in the Province want a proper balance in the legislature, in the economy and in the field of education. We are living in changing times and the N.D.P. must have and will have the courage and program to deal with these conditions," he stated.

The N.D.P. has attracted strong support from all professions, farmers, small business men and workers. It will have an excellent calibre of candidates and the speaker.

Mr Reimer stated that the N.D.P. was the only progressive party in Canada, geared to modern Canadian needs. He advised that the morale of the party was excellent throughout Canada and he was encouraged with the growth and strength being evidenced in Alberta.

It is expected that Mr. Torgerson will advise the Constituency Executive of his acceptance or rejection of his "draft" in a week's time.

Notice to parents

Do you have a child who owns a bike? Does he or she know the elementary traffic rules of bike riding and these bike preservations?

Every spring the House and School Association has organized and directed a pedal pusher club for youngsters. They are again willing to sponsor pedal pushers provided some volunteers will come forward to give instruction and leadership.

If they do not have enough volunteers before their next executive meeting, May 13th, there will be no Pedal Pusher Club in Edson this year unless some other service club will take over.

If you are willing to help please contact either Mr. T. Vennes Phone 3-3080, Mrs. W Martin 3-3480 or send a note in your child's teacher before Wednesday, May 15th.

A woman from the hill country appeared before the local judge complaining that her husband had made a murderous attack on her with a large pair of scissors.

"Judge," she cried, "that man rushed at me and slashed my face to ribbons."

The judge looked at her face, on which appeared not the slightest mark of conflict. "Where did you say this happened?" he inquired.

"Last night," she answered.

"Only last night?" asked the puzzled judge. "But I don't see any marks on your face."

"Marks!" roared the woman. "What do I care about marks! I've got witnesses."

Two provincial candidates in ring -- two nominating

Following on the heels of the federal election, the four main political parties in Alberta have been gathering their resources about them in preparation for the provincial contest which has been called for June 17.

Hon. Norman Willmore has been renominated for the sixth time by the Edson Social Credit party at a nomination convention held a month ago.

Jim Torgersen, who ran federally for the NDP in Jasper-Edson, has consented to be "drafted" for Edson constituency standard bearer.

The Progressive Conservatives are holding their nominating convention on Edson this Thursday, May 16. The meeting is called for 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall, Edson.

The Liberal Party have called their nominating convention for next Wednesday, May 22. This will also be held in Edson in the Commodore Hotel banquet room at 8.30 p.m.

No indications have been given as to who will be running for nomination for either the Liberals or Conservatives.

Boom-Boom big gun at Sportsmen's Dinner

The Optimist Sportsmen's Dinner will have baseball, hockey or football. You name it and you'll probably find some top personality representing it Friday, May 17th, at 6:30 p.m. in the Edson Motor Hotel. Never in the history of the $5-a-plate affair in Edson has been able to offer such a star-studded guest list.

Some 17 sports personalities in all, including the one honest-to-goodness NHL player first and a singer second, will make up the head table.

Bernard "Boom Boom" Geoffrion the veteran Montreal Canadiens left winger, Co-holder (with Maurice Richard and Bobby Hull) of record for most goals scored in one season and two time scoring champion of NHL, who in 115 playoff games, has earned 112 points will be arriving at Edson to first visit the schools and the hospital and finally participate at the sportsmen's dinner.

Molson's will be bringing "Boom Boom" to this Big Little Town accompanied by his charming wife Marlene. At 28 he married Marlene Moreau, the daughter of hockey great Howie Moreau. They have three children, a girl of ten, a boy eight, and a boy four.

Geoffrion takes his public relations job with Molson's Brewery seriously. A baritone who has sung on the CBC television program "Parade," Boom Boom dresses like an advertisement from Esquire.

He will be presenting awards to Edson's rink rats this Friday afternoon at the schools to Kenny Matheson, Warren Owen, Donald Mahon, Ivor Williams and Russell Koch for the most valuable player in their respective leagues.

This should leave a great impression in this community on these lads by hockey's great "Boom Boom."

The head table at the Sportsmen's affair will include Harvey Wylie, Calgary Stampeders, Pro quarterback Tommy Montgomery Edmonton Country Club, Montreal Allouette Vic Chapman, Clare Drake U of A.; Baseballer Clarke Rea, Detroit and Edmonton Flyers public relations man Tiger Goldstick, Edmonton Eskimo Joe Ryan, Ted Tully, Reg. John Bright, Norm Kimball, and a member of the coaching staff of the Edmonton Eskimos; Baseball Secy Ted Trykale; three time Brier champ curler Hank Baldwin, Frank Morris, Tommy Joe Coffey; and possibly sports announcer Ernie Afagenis, Bruce McGregor, Bill Gadsby and Giles Hall.

The dinner is limited to 400 patrons and will get under-way at 6:30 p.m. in the Edson Motor Hotel. A few tickets will be held back and will be available at the door.

Write exams for certificates

It was reported at the last meeting of the Home and School Association that Mr A. Jardine had been approached regarding the issuance of Department of Education certificates to those adults completing the adult education typing and bookkeeping classes.

Mr Jardine replied that the Department of Education did not issue certificates to students studying in the Edson area under circumstances. However if any adult wished he could take grade 12 exams which were held three times a year.

The possibility of issuing local certificates should be considered.

Council considers three major business submissions

Three substantial business projects, tentatively under consideration were presented to the regular meeting of Edson Council on Tuesday, May 7.

One a shopping centre project south of Waterloo Motors facing onto Third Avenue, another a modern store south of the Canadian Imperial Bank on Main Street, and a 12 to 16 suite apartment in Block 9, East on 7th Avenue were considered.

Mr. Colin W. MacDonald of Larmaco Construction Co. Ltd., presented a brief on a proposal to erect a shopping centre in Block 19, indicating it was the wish of the company to obtain lands in that block. It also requested that the area be considered for rezoning from Class III to Class I Commercial.

The proposal was referred to the building and plans committee, the town planning consultant and the interim development officer, for a report on Block 27. The plan referred to the Town Planning consultant for comment and advice.

Mrs. R. Stelter addressed Council in support of a petition requesting a public meeting with regard to Dog Bylaw No 1004. The Council decided to call a public meeting for Monday, May 27, in the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. for the purpose of discussing the restraining and control of dogs within the Town and the subsisting contract with Western Animal Care Limited.

Council granted the request of the Canadian Legion to hold an outdoor bingo, rejected the request of the Canadian Mental Health Assn. for a grant, and passed a one and a half hour parking by law for Main Street, among a considerable amount of other routine business.

Westlawn Investments Co Ltd., of Edmonton, proposed the construction of a 12 to 16 suite apartment, indicated they were ready to proceed as soon as a plan could be prepared by their architect and approved by Council. Upon their presenting a deposit of $200 Council agreed to hold the land until the first meeting in June.

Tentative plans of a proposed story building were submitted by Mr Randall Morras on Lot 8, and part of Lot 4,

Education costs sharp concern of taxing bodies

Concern over the rising costs of education and its increasing demands on urban finances and local taxpayers was expressed when municipal representatives from Evansburg, Wildwood, Edson and Hinton attended the regular meeting of the Edson School Divisional Board last week.

The delegation presented a budget in 1962. Prior to the introduction of the resolution demanding that the board cut its 1962 budget back to the amount of the 1962. foundation program, costs to the town had been The 1962 budget was set at had been rising steadily. As a result of increased expenditure for education, towns and villages were being left a limited amount for spending on local improvement projects, he said. The burden was also being felt by the taxpayer, who could not bear much more taxation. As an example taxes on a modest home in Wildwood were as high as $300.

The foundation program brought into effect by the provincial government in 1961 in an effort to equalize education costs throughout Alberta, had lowered the percentage expenditure from 55% of the total

A woman from the hill country appeared before the local judge complaining that her husband had made a murderous attack on her with a large pair of scissors.

"Judge," she cried, "that man rushed at me and slashed my face to ribbons."

The judge looked at her face, on which appeared not the slightest mark of conflict. "When did you say this happened?" he inquired.

"Last night," she answered.

"Only last night?" asked the puzzled judge. "But I don't see any marks on your face."

"Marks" roared the woman. "What do I care about marks? I've got witnesses."

Farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hutchinson

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Hutchinson were honored by their many friends in Wolf Lake, Alberta, with a farewell party on Tuesday, May 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson had been living on the former Chilton farm. They have now sold the farm and moved to Hinton.

During the evening close to twenty of their neighbors called in for a pleasant social evening. Among them were a few former Wolf Creek residents now living in Edson who particularly enjoyed the visit with old friends.

On behalf of those in attendance and others unable to attend, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson were presented with gifts of remembrance and best wishes in their new home.

Gentlemen:

In 1947 I bought my first Chevrolet truck to use on the farm. Since then I have used only Chevrolet. I have used most makes of trucks and have never found any to compare with Chevrolet for dependability, ease of handling and economical operation.

I have used my fertilizer, grain and livestock trucks for hauling over the years and can say that I have driven them over 1,000,000 miles. I have also used them on my contracting business for the past 15 years, hauling gravel, crushed stone, sand, etc. I have used them for all kinds of hauling and have never had to lay up my trucks for repairs.

From my past experience I have no hesitation in recommending the line of Chevrolet trucks to anyone in need of a truck. Yours truly,

John H. Hesp.

"LOTS OF POWER... AMPLE ROOM... RIDE OUTSTANDING"

Mr. Hesp's complete satisfaction with Chevrolet Trucks is shared by a great many other Canadian farmers, from coast to coast. Truckers and businessmen also agree — Chevrolet Trucks work harder — last longer — cost less! Before you buy any new truck for your farm, see your local Chevrolet Truck dealer. He'll show you exactly how and why a Chevrolet Truck is your best buy!

Delegation Well Received by Cabinet Representatives

The presentation to the Government in Edmonton of a brief from the municipal taxing authorities in the Edson School Division to Provincial Cabinet Ministers was courteously received according to those who went in from the Edson constituency.

The Hon. Norman Willmore, Edson constituency's MLA, accompanied the delegation which met with the Hon. A. O. Aalborg, Minister of Education.

Heading the delegation was Mayor W. A. Switzer of Hinton, who read the brief, accompanied by Secretary-Manager J. Flemming of Hinton, Mayor W. R. Brunelle, of Edson, Mayor Mrs. H. Williamson of Wildwood, and Mayor A. Fleihaber of Evansburg.

The very pertinent presentation is printed below and outlines quite pointedly the problems faced by municipal councils in doing right by their ratepayers in the rising cost of education squeeze.

The brief, verbatim, follows:

The contributing urban municipalities of the Edson School Division No. 12 are gravely concerned with the ever increasing cost of education within the Division, and in particular with the increasing supplementary requisitions of the School Division Board.

The following figures clearly indicate the disturbing trend:

Year	Total School Division Budget	Cost Per Pupil	Total Requisitions	% Requisitions Total Budget
1961	1,567,233	267.00	127,000.00	8.1%
1962	1,911,235	418.00	111,733.00	8.9%
*1963	1,708,823	438.00	183,429.00	10.6%

*Preliminary approved budget of figures.

On May 1st, 1963, representatives of the Villages of Evansburg and Wildwood and the Towns of Edson and Hinton met together to discuss this problem. One fact became clearly established, that in each municipality on costal municipal works projects are having to be cut each year to keep overall municipal budgets in line with the ratepayers ability to pay.

As the result of this meeting, a resolution was drafted and approved for presentation to the School Division Board.

On May 8th, 1963 the urban representatives met with the Edson School Division Board to present and discuss the resolution.

The School Board was clearly made aware of the implications of rising school costs and was asked to trim its budget back to the 1962 level which would require a cut of $71,700.00 or approximately 4% of the proposed 1963 expenditures.

The Board's reaction can be summed up as follows:

1. We cannot cut our budget without cutting services. We need every dollar.
2. The urban municipalities should make representation to the Provincial Government for additional funds to finance education.

In view of the foregoing we urgently request the Hon ourable Ministers to examine thoroughly the adequacy of the Foundation Program with respect to:

1. The ability of local authorities to level and collect increasing education costs on real property assessments.
2. Whether or not local collecting authorities might be vested with some power to limit supplementary school requisitions.
3. Raising school costs and newer equalized property assessments in the Edson School Division.
4. The effect of increased supplementary school requisitions on essential municipal services

In addition our most immediate request is

1 That the Department of Education be requested to re-examine the budget of the Edson School Division with a view to pointing out areas where expenditures could be cut to the 1962 level, and

2 That the Department of Municipal Affairs be requested to review property assessments in the local improvement Districts to ascertain that they are fair and equitable with those of the urban municipalities.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the contributing urban municipalities of the Edson School Division

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Alderman Kim Rose of Edmonton was quoted in the Journal "It's the people not the animals that are a problem, there has to be a give and take in society and dogs are a definite part of society. Whether we be of his opinion or not, we must admit this statement can make us think. It has made me think.

Let's let our children have what rightfully belongs to them, PETS. Let's let them be children and not keep trying to make them think and act like adults, by telling them we had dogs as pets some ten, twenty years ago, but that in this generation they don't fit (because our adult way of thinking is changing)

Let's give our children some child privileges and let them have their pets by tolerating them. A boy and a dog belong together, take away the dog and next if things keep going as they are, we'll have more of those with little tolerance who won't tolerate the boy.

Pets are a help for children to develop sentimental attitudes. It's said that children learn tenderness, gentleness, and consideration, of other human beings by observing the world about them. They learn these qualities by example. What example are we giving them whom we can't tolerate their pets.

Show a better example by putting up a fence to help keep the dog in the yard. Keep your gate closed if you have no pets and both children and dogs soon learn you are one who hasn't time for them. Keep the lid on your garbage can there'll be little trouble there either with dogs or children

As for the fights in the school yard we must admit they do happen, but it isn't too hard to locate the vicious type dog which should be taken from society along with the strays, but to see two dogs fighting is not nearly the hideous sight or predicament that some adults get into, few of which are considered to have them removed from society by the humane-catcher.

Dear Editor

Was in the Edson court room last week for the first time. It's a fine looking room and furnished with befitting dignity

However it is very difficult to hear what is going on as everyone seems to be talking in such low voices. We realize that careful, modulated speaking gives added solemnity to the weighing of cases.

But I feel that spectators in open court provide a safeguard against the possibility of star chamber" proceedings both for the defendants and the officers of the court. This is even truer if everything said is audible

AWARD CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS

MONEY FOR MISSIONS

A type of election post-mortem is discussion of campaign funds, national and local, the need therefor, and how can a party or candidate get money without them.

One cynic expressed the opinion that if a person wished to get into parliament, he should pay his own expenses; that he probably shouldn't be in parliament anyway; and that all, or nearly all, parliamentarians are there only for their own advancement, whether the country advances or not. This view came from a man who could not be accused of disappointment, for he was one of those Canadians who opposed the government that had been in power from 1957 to April, 1963.

The alternative to democracy is dictatorship, and dictatorship requires a muzzling of the population on a discriminatory basis. In theory and in practice democracy in large part is a taxing of all the people with as much fairness as the people themselves permit.

If all members of parliament and members of other elective bodies were compelled to pay all their election expenses out of their own pockets, the elected bodies hardly could continue. Only a very few people, both honest and rich, could be found to serve their country in office. There would be a grave danger that office would be sought mainly by people who would have to make a profit out of it. The late R. B. Bennett may have been the richest of the prime ministers of Canada and possibly paid all his own campaign expenses, but the story that he "bought" even at that time before the expense of television campaigning, had to seek assistance from corporate and personal friends of the parliamentary system.

Observation of the Canadian political scene for many years suggests that there are few really crooked members of parliament. The financial honesty in fact is greater than the political honesty. All the reformers, re-cycled, do not believe that the reforms they advocate are really the best thing for the country.

If there were no campaign contributions only very rich men could get into parliament. There are not enough rich men in the country who could make the sacrifice of time and thought in order to serve the public in an elective office. There also are many worthy men who never could get into parliament if they were not helped financially by friends and well-wishers of democracy. The campaign funds are somewhat like the pennies given to the missions.

HE COULDN'T HELP IT

A little boy on our block got hit by a car early last evening. It seems he ran out into the street from between two parked cars. We'd never actually seen the victim of a traffic accident, although we'd read plenty about them, so we joined the rest of the curiosity-seekers to have a look.

He was lying in the street, covered by a blanket brought by one of the neighbors. It wasn't a pretty sight. He was just a little kid, and the blood on his face and teeth made us a little sick.

But luckily, it appeared that he wasn't too seriously injured, for as we approached he was talking to his mother, who was leaning over him. He said, "But I couldn't help it, mom. The ball rolled in the street."

We hope that every motorist in that crowd heard what the child said. He could not help it—his ball rolled into the street. Because we're sure he meant every word he was saying.

Children's work is their play, psychologists tell us. It's perfectly natural for a small child to get completely engrossed in his play. In fact, that little boy may have been totally unaware of the fact that he had run into the street—because his ball was in that street. He had no time to look first to see if there was a car coming. He was much too busy with his game.

That's why we would like to set forth here the promise that the motorist who injured that child was morally far more responsible than the child—who, after all, was simply acting like a child. That motorist's maturity made him responsible for the safety of the child.

We know the youngster had no right to dash out into the street from between parked cars. We know that any court of law would probably absolve the motorist from any legal responsibility. But we don't think that telling himself "It was the kid's fault" is going to help that motorist any. We don't believe his conscience will accept this explanation so easily.

May we ask every motorist in Alberta to begin today paying closer attention to the signs that warn "Children Near" signs such as residential streets, parks, playgrounds, schools, obstacle closets and laughter, toys, wagons, bicycles in evidence. Each of these signs cautions: Please...a little less speed...a little more understanding of the impulsiveness of children.

NOT A RIPPLE

Sometime when you are feeling important
Sometime when you're ego is in bloom
Sometime when you take it for granted
You're the best qualified in the room
Sometime when you feel that your going
Would leave an awfillable hole,
Just follow these simple instructions
And see how it humbles your soul:
Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it up to the wrist,
Pull it out and the hole that's remaining
Is the measure of how you'll be missed
You may splash all you wish when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore;
But stop, and you'll find in a minute
That it looks quite the same as before.
The moral in this quaint example
Is — do the best you can
Be proud of yourself, but remember
There is no indispensable man.

THIS OLD SILVER TIP GRIZZLIE met his doom when he began to be attracted by the bright lights of Hinton one day last week. The bear had been glimpsed a few times last year in the same area, but the residents got a bit alarmed when it showed up again this spring within sight of west Hinton residences.

Edson district couple joined by marriage

The Edson United Church was the setting on April 27 for the wedding of Maria Elaine Vanderburg and Ernest Spreen. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Audrey Vanderburg and the late Mr. George Vanderburg of Edson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spreen Sr. of the Edson district.

For the occasion the church was decorated with a large basket of 'mums and shasta daisies. Pews were marked with small clusters of flowers.

Rev. D. A. MacPherson performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. George Maclean and soloist was Miss Kathy Kendall.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Cec Vanderburg. For her wedding she chose a full length gown of taffeta and pee de soie lace with lily point sleeves. Her only jewellery was a double strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of dark pink roses.

Attending as maid of honor was Miss Louise Hinchey wore a blue nylon dress in cocktail length, with lace jacket. Miss Gail Morrison as bridesmaid wore an identically styled dress in yellow nylon. They wore matching lierns and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Flower girls Patricia Vanderburg and Katherine Brinsmead were sweet in blue nylon dresses. They carried nosegay bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother Chris and guests were ushered by another brother, Robert Spreen, both of Edson.

Receiving following the ceremony, Mrs. Vanderburg chose an aqua colored lace dress with aqua and white accessories and pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Spreen wore a cocoa colored sheath with white accessories and a red carnation encorsage.

The reception was held in the Elks Hall with 42 guests in attendance. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. George Catlin Jr. and replied to by the groom. A dance followed in the hall.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to Southern Alberta the bride donned a forest green suit accented by brown accessories and a corsage of pink

The Hinton Kiwanis Club who are sponsoring the dinner hope to make it an annual event. Ticket sales are reported to be going well and a great deal of interest is being shown in the dinner and head table guests.

Hi-C group shows outstanding film here

The Pasture-Length, Eastman colour motion picture production "John Wesley," produced in J Arthur Rank Studios, was in Edson last Sunday.

It was shown by the Hi-C Group in the United Church, Sunday, May 12, at 2:00, 3:30, 7:15 and 8:45 p.m. It brings to the screen for the first time the dynamic and colorful 18th Century evangelist and reformer.

John Wesley's miraculous rescue from a burning house at the age of five at the beginning of the film, forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolds in this story of a man of slight stature but of impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history.

The results of John Wesley's work in social reform in

The Salvation Army work among the fallen and Abolition of slavery led by Wilberforce and followers of Wesley.

Factory reforms led to

Lord Shaftesbury "whose life had been touched by Wesley causing him to hate cruelty and oppression wherever he found them."

Co-operative Societies between management and labour led by Lindow, Mazrice and Kingsley

Setting up of dispensaries with free medicine to the poor

Established relief employment for the destitute

Historians credit Wesley for practically everything noble in modern British legislation, and also with preventing Britain from undergoing a political revolution such as France did. The historian, Lecky, says. "It is no exaggeration to say that Wesley had a wider constructive influence in the sphere of practical religion than any other man who has appeared since the sixteenth century."

This picture has been rated as "Excellent" in every way. A silver collection was taken.

East District Doin's

Anne Ivo spent four days at home with her family and returned to High Prairie Thursday. She is working in the hospital there

Helen Burian, Sabina Morris, Lynn and Monda Thomas called at the Ivo home Thursday evening to wish Donna a happy seventeenth birthday. Mrs. Heintz, Jack, Dennel, and Mrs. Burian were also present and sampled Donna's birthday cake. The girls had planned a record session but this had to be postponed because of a power failure. Call again girls — this doesn't happen very often

We attended the odds and ends sale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiseman Wednesday afternoon, and enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Wigley and Mrs. Lawton who sold lunch (fast!) to an business stew gathering. There still remains a smattering of old fashioned people who attend auction sales to buy something but not us.

We go to visit cat sandwiches and visit. Had a chat with Dave Patten, who's remnants on Mr. and Mrs. Patten have a 50th Wedding Anniversary coming up Monday, June 10, but are looking upon bonus Sunday, June 9. Let us make a ring around that date and reserve it an hour to call on the Pattens and wish them many more happy anniversaries.

Enjoyed a chat with Albert Maynard, a friend from Turner Valley whom we had not seen in more than 25 years. Mr. Maynard and friends from Turner Valley Mr and Mrs. Sam Johnson, were travelling through and stopped at Novotny's store in search of former friends and neighbors.

Talk about closing the stable door after the h - has escaped — a recent accident on the highway wherein a car was badly damaged after hitting a piece of badly broken pavement, is proof that such things do happen. The car rolled, but according to unconfirmed reports the driver was not injured. This bit of treacherous road has been very much in evidence for some time but a repair crew was on the spot bright and early the morning after the accident occured.

Mrs. Harold Thomas came home from the city Saturday night after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry O'Toole caring for the children while their mother was in hospital. The O'Tooles named their new daughter Laurie Jean. While on the subject — the Beaty boy's new son is Lawrence Harold, named for his dad and grandfather.

Finds finger in tomatoes

Lloyd Burns while taking his noonday meal one day last week discovered a foreign object in his second helping of canned tomatoes. He and his wife were horror stricken when further investigation revealed the object to be a genuine portion of someone's finger — likely some worker at the canning factory.

The meal was found to be in a well-preserved state, and Mrs. Burns, was rather anxious to re-unite it with its original owner, returned it to the canning company along with a letter of explanation and facts.

The Burns received a letter promptly in return this week in which it was stated that the company found it difficult to believe that a finger could have somehow found its way into their tomatoes.

The Government.

It is regrettable that this story got started in your district through a mistake in the Edmonton Office of the Forestry Division." Mr Will Moore went on to explain that it was no fault of district forestry people who had no way of knowing that the instructions they received were based on an unfortunate mistake made in the Edmonton office, and assured us that as soon as he was advised of this error immediate steps were taken to remedy the mistake.

150 call during Hospital 'Open House'

More than 150 persons called in at St. John's Hospital last Wednesday afternoon during their annual 'open house.' The affair is sponsored each year by the Ladies Auxiliary to St. John's, who act as hostesses to the public.

As their part of the activities the Sisters at the hospital have everything spotless with vases of flowers set out to brighten corners. They also make the sandwiches for the lunch that is served to visitors. Cookies and cakes are made by members of the Auxiliary who also provide at the tea and coffee urns and serve the guests.

Guests are shown the various rooms and equipment by members of the hospital staff. The lovely weather this year made it easier for persons to attend the affair.

During the afternoon Mrs. Rachbourne, president of the Auxiliary made a presentation for her children's ward of toys and puppets which are made by members of the group.

The Hospital Auxiliary have almost completed a two year project and will soon be presenting a fracture bed to the hospital. They help continually in this way, buying pieces of needed equipment that would otherwise be unavailable to the care and comfort of patients.

The Auxiliary are presently planning to make a big cake quilt to be raffled in the fall. The project is being headed by Mrs. A. Berglund.

The Ladies Auxiliary in Edson Hospital in Jasper have extended an invitation to the local group to attend a potluck supper in Jasper on Saturday, June 1st. Any members wishing to go should contact Mrs. George Nakonechny. Last year the Jasper and Hinton ladies were guests of the Edson Auxiliary.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

The most controversial subject of the day is the dog and dogcatcher issue.

All I have to say on the subject is this, "it's certainly wonderful to be able to walk down the street at night (and even during the day) without having to contend with mean vicious dogs barking, snarling and occasionally biting.

It is also much more pleasant in the downtown area at present with practically no flies in sight.

However, docile dogs who are children's pets are another matter. What are your opinions? Can you think of any constructive criticism which may aid the Town Fathers in this difficult and explosive issue?

A public meeting is being held on Monday, May 27th, in the Legion Hall at 8:00 p.m. to discuss the by-law. The general public is invited to [illegible]

FREE ENTERPRISE ELECTRICITY!

The price of the electricity you use every day is a carefully controlled price. Did you know that . . .

a) Your free enterprise utilities are competitive utilities. They must strive to satisfy their customers, and it is in their own interests to pass savings on to you. They have to compete with other sources of energy.

b) Your free enterprise utilities must satisfy government bodies as well. These bodies carefully supervise such matters as utility expansion, overall planning and prices for the protection of consumers.

Together, these two factors work to minimize your electricity bill. We have judicious government regulation now – but that is a far cry from an uncontrolled government power monopoly. Let's not stifle free enterprise initiative. Let's keep it free in Alberta!

Interesting program at regional workshop

A regional workshop of the Edson and Jasper Inglishoe was held in the Dable school on Saturday afternoon. Representatives from Peers, Wildwood, Evansburg and Edson were present. After a brief business meeting a very interesting program was presented.

The main part of the program was a panel discussion about Home and School. Panelists S. Maerts, J. Scott and Wortman under moderator T. Yeoman. They discussed such questions as: is the Home and School a worth while organization and is it fulfilling its function? Are the membership and the Provincial per capita fees too high? What is the purpose of Home and School?

Mrs. S Stellmacher of Seba Beach then gave a short address to the audience. She said that the Alberta Home & School Association right now is facing a crisis. The membership has been continually dropping during the last few years, being now at a new low of 1800. If this continues there is a good chance that the Association will cease to exist. With its demise the parents and the public would lose their one channel to express their opinion on educational matters to the government.

The teachers are represented by their ATA and are able to make their voice heard. The parents have no other medium.

To keep the organization functioning money is essential. What is the dollar per capita fee spent on? Why is it so necessary? The different committees of Home and School need money for travelling expenses of their members and for meeting space.

After the annual convention just passed two extra committees have been added to the Provincial executive. One was set up to study the effect of alcoholism on the schools and guidance in schools and corrective institutions as well as for teenage unmarried mothers. The other was set up to study the organization of the Association itself to see whether and where its organization needs changing. The outcome of this latter committee might possibly result in smaller funds being necessary on the other hand it might just as feasibly result in the opposite.

The single most important officer of the Home and School Association as it stands is the regional director. The director is elected for a two year period in which time he or she is obliged to visit each local Association in his region at least once, which is not enough to be effective.

To be effective regional directors must be trained and the place for this is the Banff workshop which has to be financed. Regional directors should received financial help for their travelling.

Only twice a year is there a complete meeting of the entire executive namely before and after the annual convention, which therefore runs down an extra travelling expenditure. Other expenses are the renting and staffing of a permanent office, mail, the year book and Home and School News. Travelling expenses must be paid in conventions having allied interests and the national Home and School.

It is obvious that in order to continue to function the Association must increase its funds. There are three possible ways of doing this.

1 Levy a small tax on each parent. This is most undesirable. By becoming financed by the government it would be most difficult to disassociate with the government in terms of affecting the welfare of child-education or other matters [illegible].

2. Increase fees. This also would be most undesirable. It would drastically lead to a further drop in membership and eventually the Association would become a club limited to a few who would then easily turn into a pressure group.

3. Increase membership. This really is the only desirable answer. How to do this presents a problem. Meetings should become so interesting that parents want to come to them, but this is impossible if the parents do not tell their local executive what kind of meetings they want.

The annual fee of $3.00 does not seem exorbitant when compared with other spending. The privilege of serving one's community through a service club is considerably higher. Attending bingo games would not be lost.

Certainly no one should be excluded from the Association because they cannot afford to spend $3.00, but it would be quite possible to lower the membership fee if every parent having a child at school would join the Association.

The meeting broke up into buzz groups which discussed the following questions:

Question: What is the most important work to be done by Home and School?

Answer: On the local level the most important function is to act as liason between the home and the school. On the provincial and national level the most important function of the organization is to make its voice heard at government levels on all matters affecting the well being and education of the child.

Question: How can Home and School best contribute to educational advancement.

Answer: At the local level by informing parents what is going on in the schools, keeping them informed on new methods of teaching, matters affecting higher education etc On the provincial and national level by forming and forwarding resolutions to the provincial and federal governments.

Question: What should be the role of the principal in the local Home and School?

Answer: As well as his staff should be primarily resource persons.

Panel discussion brings out interesting points

An intesting panel discussion took place at the last meeting of the Home & School Association, held on Wednesday, May 1st. The discussion on "The value received from the education dollar" was carried on by M. D. Meade, High School Principal; M. Collin, member of the Town Council; and A. Leonard of the School Board.

The discussion brought out many points to be mulled over and questions put to the panel showed very good thinking on the part of the H & S membership.

Some of the questions and answers were as follows:

Question: In your opinion are our schools today meeting the needs of all its pupils? As parents and taxpayers are we getting full value for the money now being spent on educating our children?

Answer: Studies show that too large a percentage of bright pupils drop out of school before graduating. There are many reasons for this the prime among them being the lack of interest in the school system, personal such as sickness, parental attitude, job opportunity) and economic (necessity of helping with the family income).

A most regrettable fact is, that not all students entering University are really university material and about ⅓ of them drop out before obtaining a degree. Others, who are possible university graduates do not enter university. This waste of student potential is one highly technical and complex issues is something the nation can ill afford.

One method may be looking in our school system is considerable guidance counsellors who would be adequately trained to help each student find his own potential and direct him into his proper course. At present a grade 9 and even in high school do not know what they want to be.

Mr Meade, in answering this question, said that from a personal experience he has not found that the bright student is a severe drop-out problem. In his years in Edson he would say that on average not more than one student a year would drop out of school.

Question: Is a modern education costing too much. If so, how do you think costs could be brought down?

Mr Meade said that the cost of education in Canada is about 5.8% of personal income. Speaking generally this would mean that a taxpayer paying $700.00 a year for education, who had two children in school would pay about $9.10 an hour for their education. What price baby sitting?

Speaking longue - in - cheek Mr Meade added he could think of numerous ways to reduce the price of education such as: lowering teacher qualifications as salarys are the single largest item of education costs; increasing class room sizes; reverting to one room schools thus doing away with transportation costs; doing away with such extras as auditorium shops, lab, art rooms, cutting out special remedial classes for the slow learners, eliminating libraries etc

Mr Leonard pointed out that the value of the dollar has dropped considerably and naturally as everything else has gone up in price so has education.

Question: Are you satisfied that young people coming out of our schools today are as well equipped for the work as their parents were?

Answer: On the academic level our children are better equipped than their parents. In our complex world, of industry and science we cannot expect the school to prepare every student for employment. This is not the purpose of the school.

Courses such as shop and home ec are not job preparation courses but have been designed to give the student an opportunity to develop his talents or rather to find out in which direction his or her talents lie.

The meeting then broke up into several groups which discussed three questions, and brought the result of their discussion to the general meeting as follows:

Question. Is there enough stress on the basic subjects in our elementary schools today, such as reading, writing and arithmetic?

Answer: It was felt that three vital fundamental subjects are well dealt with in grades 1 to 3, but that possibly a higher stress should be laid on them in grades 4 to 6.

Question: Should more stress be placed on grammar in elementary and high school?

Answer: Possibly yes, but the essential thing was not so much grammar as the ability to express oneself and every effort should be made to increase this ability.

Question: Are the schools today doing as good a job as the schools of twenty, thirty or forty years ago?

Answer: This question is something the same as comparing a Ford car of 30 years ago with the present model. The answer was an unqualified "Yes"

The meeting continued with questions being raised to the panel and it was very close to midnight before an interested audience broke up for coffee and home

Mill rate up three to 58 for this year

Austerity for the Edson town during 1963 is the message following adoption of a restricted public works program around town and the setting of the mill rate at a nominal increase of three mills following Tuesday night's Council session.

Total levy in mills will be 58 compared to 55 for last year's requirements. Paring the budget of a number of desirable public works and revising anticipated revenue enabled the Council to plan for a balanced budget for the year.

The impact of sewer and water projects in the last two years is just beginning to be felt, extra street lighting, plus an increased "non-approved" requisition from the School authorities. General cost increases forced the Council to raise taxes in Edson the three mills.

Not all public works has been eliminated, but such things as the curb and the gutter program in residential areas, the tourist reception centre and other items have been held up.

It is still hoped to get Second Avenue opened up this year and to work with the provincial government on the paving of 4th Avenue through town. Reconstruction of Main Street from 6th Avenue south may have to wait, but the Town's engineering consultants are being asked to prepare figures on costs.

Your editor who was present at the Council meeting, asked what was included in the budget for town planning consultation. (It will be recalled a story in The Leader last week mentioned a figure of $10,000 in the last few years)

This year's figure for town planning in the budget is $600. In 1962 the amount of $2000 was spent and during 1961 $3000 was spent, of which the provincial government paid a half.

Mayor Brunelle pointed out that the figures do not come anywhere near the quoted figure and that they were only as heavy as they were because extensive work has been done in the last three years on the interim development planning, zoning and replotting of lots in town.

Yellowhead meeting largest and best as Edson plays host

As delegates gathered from Lloydminster on the East to Kamloops on the West for the eleventh annual meeting of the Trans-Canada Highway Association (Yellowhead Route) in the Edson Motor Hotel Saturday promises from the provincial and federal government seemed to add a feeling of getting somewhere at last.

Eleven years of pointing out the virtues of the Yellowhead Pass now require fast, hard and vigorous action it was felt. Recent announcements by Hon. Phil Gaglardi, B.C. Minister of Highways, indicate the Coast province is ready to go it alone if the federal government doesn't move.

Governments and others committed to the principle of giving the Yellowhead Route priority will not be allowed to renege, President W Hawreiak stated As to whether it should be called "Confederation" or "Centennial" highway, Mr. Hawreiak said "a rose by any other name would smell so sweet"

Delegates registered from Lloydminster, Vermilion, Vegreville, Lacombe, Chamber of Commerce, Municipality of Minburn, Edson, Jasper McBride and Kamloops

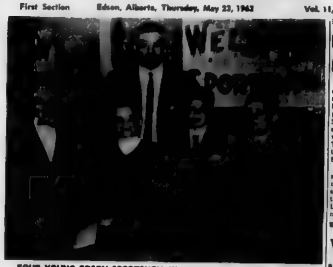
Delegates were joined by the executive of the Edson Chamber of Commerce for noon luncheon in the Edson Motor Hotel, while Edson couples joined the delegates and their ladies for a banquet in the Commodore Hotel following a reception from 5 30 to 6 30

Keynote speaker at the noon luncheon was W. Hawreiak of Edmonton, who was re-elected president of the association The Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Alberta government, was the special speaker for the evening banquet Mayor W R Brunelle gave the official welcome on behalf of the Town at the luncheon

Mr M D Meade of Edson and W Krestoski of Jasper were re-elected to the board of directors of the Yellowhead group.

Edson arrangements were made by Chamber of Commerce President Walter Pisel or and Edson Director M D Meade The next annual meeting of the association will be held in Edmonton

Patricia Smith of Hinton was crowned Queen of the Jasper Elks Sports Carnival at Jasper on Monday. Sponsored by the Hinton Elks, Pat was chosen over four other queen candidates from Edson, Jasper, Valemount, and McBride. Fine summer weather brought larger than usual crowds to the annual Jasper Sports weekend which featured Scottish dancing and piping competitions, a ball tournament, parade band concert, and Tartan Ball. Many from Edson attended one or more of the weekend events.



FOUR YOUNG EDSON SPORTSMEN, Warren Owen, Ivor Williams, Kenny McAlhiser and Russell Koch had the thrill of having Boom Boom Geoffrion present them with most valued player awards at the recent Optimist Club sponsored dinner. Boom Boom's tour is sponsored by Molson's on a cross-Canada basis to popularize hockey.

Says "Highway Industry" biggest along Yellowhead

We should refer to it as the "Highway Industry" the Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, told the windup banquet meeting of the Yellowhead Route Association in the Commodore Hotel Saturday night, in pointing out the significance of roads.

Not only should it be referred to as an industry, but it is also the biggest single activity along our Highway 16 when one considers the trucking industry, the servicing facilities, and the manufacturing activity concerned with motor vehicles. All this local industry is apart from the tourist industry he pointed out. And tourism is growing every year.

It is important that this giant be allowed to expand Mr. Willmore emphasized at the meeting To do this we must have a national highway policy and this involves allocation of federal funds

"It is entirely reasonable and responsible," said the Minister, "for the federal government to help build roads within the province... the profits the industry produces revert to the federal treasury."

Using the Wetaskiwin bypassing on Highway 2 as an example Mr. Willmore told his listeners that the policy of the Alberta government on highways is on a basis of service to the people and engineers recommendation. Even the people of Wetaskiwin who were directly concerned, now admit the government did the right thing.

Speaking about an eventual second north south highway for Alberta, Mr Willmore suggested one of the routes be reconsidered would be the present forestry road east of the Rockies. But he emphasized, when the decision on location is made it will not be on political consideration.

In thinking of roads he reminded the audience, priorities must be established The Howse Pass route for example has no where near the priority rating that the Yellowhead Route has.

The Yellowhead Route meets the qualification of engineering feasibility and the survey of the most people. This is no time to let up on the pressure. It is something attainable and feasible, he concluded.

Dog meeting Monday night

Edson citizens are reminded of the Public Meeting next Monday, May 27 which has been called for the purpose of discussing By-Law No. 884, regarding the restraining and control of dogs within the Town of Edson. The meeting will be held in the Legion Hall starting at 8 p.m.

There has been considerable controversy among dog owners and non-dog owners since the Town Council contracted Western Animal Care Ltd. of Calgary to pick up non-licensed dogs.

Visiting athletes highlight of weekend

Bernard "Boom Boom" Geoffrion is 22, 5' 10", weighs 185 pounds, hopes to continue with hockey as his life until he is at least 35.

The Montreal Canadien right winger left a great impression with the Edson school children last Friday when he made his visitation along with the handsome Calgary Stampeder football star Harvey Wylie.

The two sports celebrities were introduced at the schools by Optimist Art Leonard. Accompanying them on the tour of the schools and hospital were Molson's representatives Wally Caulfer, Stan Hulton from Edmonton and Don Rose, Montreal, Boss Bastiovich, Robin Hood, Bill Lotsch, Norman Lauder, Optimist President Peter Serdiuk and Optimist Andy Veverusky.

Boom Boom, in his address to the students, stressed the importance of education in great measure. He pointed how the great Lou Fontinato, was cut short in an early career and years ago, meant never be able to play, but because of his involvement in education, Lou is able to continue on in life.

In the evening Boom Boom and Harvey joined the head table guests at the Optimist Sportsmen's Dinner which was very colorfully Emceed by Norm Kimball, assistant manager of the Edmonton Eskimo Football Club The masterful Emcee was introduced by Peter Serdiuk President of the Optimist Club of Edson.

The Honorable Norman Willmore brought greetings from the Province and Councillor Jon Snell from the Town.

Cecil "Tiger" Goldstick, the politician of all sports brought all to tearful laughter. He seriously stressed the importance and value of an artificial ice arena for the kids of this community.

LIKED WESTERN HOSPITALITY

Boom Boom Geoffrion was overwhelmed with the true Western hospitality He loved the 4,000 mile journey across Canada sponsored by Molson's and especially the children. He said, "When I get back to

Strong July First planning group set up

At a recent joint meeting of Kinsmen and Lions Club members arrangements were made to set up a joint committee for the purpose of planning Edson's 57th Annual July 1st Sports Day.

The big day has been abbreviated a bit in the past few years with the annual rodeo taking the limelight.

With a strong planning committee set up the July 1st Sports Day this year will assure the public of a very interesting program.

MRS. GRIMMER, Provincial Leader of the NDP, will address a public meeting in the Parish Hall at 8 p.m. Monday, May 27, on behalf of Edson Constituency candidate Jim Torgerson who will also speak. Local NDP officers hope for a good turnout to hear their provincial leader.

Decision on surplus money

The last meeting of the Home and School Association will be held Wednesday, May 29 at 8 p.m. in the A H Dalin School.

There will be no program. The evening will be devoted strictly to business

Among the business to be discussed will be the use of the surplus income to be received from the adult education evening classes and the discontinuation or continuation of the scholarship

As this is an important meeting and a short one, it is hoped a large number of people will attend to express their opinions.

MacKay Braves take money at Jasper tourney

To many cheering crowds the ball teams in the Jasper Tournament displayed some exciting games. The running commentary given by Johnny Way was spectacular in itself. Such talent in a small town is very refreshing.

"BOOK RENEWAL"

This is "book renewal" time for the Unemployment Insurance Commission, and by this time next month well over half a million reparet books will have been filed away and as many new ones issued by the National Employment Office across the Prairie Region.

Pointing out that almost 800,000 books were renewed a year ago in the Prairie Region, Mr Stewart stressed importance of careful attention being paid by employer in the letter of instruction sent to him. "With the usual prompt co-operation of employers, the operation will be completed in a smooth, successful manner," he said.

When an unemployment insurance book is received at the National Employment Office for renewal purposes, the office provides a new book in its place. Following this renewal action by the National Employment Office, the expired books are sent to the Regional Office of the Commission, in Winnipeg, where they are filed under the insurance number in the insured person's account.

This account then becomes the worker's "bank book," a record of contributions which is referred to if the insured person applies for unemployment insurance benefits.

SUPERMARKET OPERATOR W. R. "Bud" Brunelle (right) points out to Leader Publisher Doug Caston how the proposed new Bud's Foodliner on Third Avenue will look from the outside. Incorporating all the latest features of modern food merchandising, initial preparation of the site promises to bring the latest shopping facility into being in the near future.

Rosevear

Mr and Mrs Walter Saken and family were out from Edmonton visiting Mr. and Mrs. A Saken over the weekend.

Mr. Bill Oke Jr was up from Wainwright visiting the Provo family and friends in the district.

Mr. Armand Scethaler and Mr. and Mrs. W. Gosling visited at home with Mr. and Mrs. F. Scethaler over the week end.

The meeting that was held in the Peers School last Friday on Public Ownership vs Private Enterprise in respect to power was very well attended in spite of the busy season. The two speakers for the evening were Mr Carruthers representing Calgary Power and Mr Henry Young from the PUA. Mr Anderson from Farm Electric and Mr Boomer from Edson were also in attendance.

Misses Margaret Klute and Elizabeth Klute were both at home for the weekend.

The last meeting of the season for the Peers Home and Rebekah will be held in the Peers School Tuesday, May 28 at 8:30 p.m. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

TAXES

... or pay them?

Last year Alberta's free enterprise electric utilities paid over six million dollars in federal taxes. Almost 50% of this came back to Alberta for roads, schools, hospitals and other services.

It is important to remember that although government-owned utilities do not pay federal taxes, someone has to pay them.

Wouldn't you rather have your electric utilities pay taxes? – while serving you at rates carefully controlled by the provincial government.

HIGH FLYING TROUBLE

A trouble call came in recently to the light company. In turn the company send a crew to check it out When the linemen arrived they saw that a kite was entangled in the power lines. The crewmen didn't worry about it; kites are always getting caught in power lines and trees.

The trouble the crew was seeking was a blown fuse. No sooner had they replaced it, when the new one blew. Just about the time they had started to recheck the lines, four children approached them and asked if they would take down their kite that was entangled in the wires. Obliging, one of the men climbed up the pole to get it.

As the lineman tugged at the string attached to the kite, he found it wouldn't snap. He cut the string, and upon closer observation noticed a thinly insulated copper wire in the centre of it.

If the kite had become entangled in some high voltage lines, the children might have been killed instantly by the current running down the thin wire to their bodies.

Since children and kites are part of spring, here are some safety precautions for kite flying.

— Fly kites in a level, open space away from power lines, trees and street traffic.

— If the kite should become entangled, leave it. It is better to lose a kite, than to risk your life climbing up to get it.

Kites should be flown in dry weather. A wet string will conduct electricity down to the flier.

— Kite strings should not contain any metallic fibers, tinsel or wire.

— Kites should not be flown over radio and television aerials.

— Winds should be studied for evenness, and freakish changeable winds should be avoided.

FEAR OF BIG GOVERNMENT

This paper has one deep fear about Canada's future; the concern that government agencies will grow and expand until they strangle the rights of the individual. The penchant of Canadians to request expansion of government-run services is becoming more compelling each year. More services demand more government control, more agencies, more bureaucrats with the parallel demands for more money from the taxpayer and less freedom of personal action.

At a recent press panel in Calgary, public power as opposed to private power was explored and debated by leaders. The discussion roamed far afield into the duties of government . . . and it startled and depressed this paper that two of the advocates of public power accept as inevitable the principal of big government. Dave Hunter, leader of the provincial Liberal party, inferred that he could see no apparent end to demands for government-operated industries. Ed Nelson, president of the FUA went even further, and stated that he could envision the day when all land was owned by the government and rented back to farmers for an annual sum.

These thoughts from responsible Albertans are food for deep thought. This paper is against public power. We are against expansion of government agencies. We think a government's job is to control and regulate, not operate

It is ironic that a time when the biggest government of them all — the USSR — is gradually loosening its controls that we in Canada should be embracing the very theories they are gradually rejecting.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

From Edson to New York harbor is 3813 miles. I drove on the turnpike for 1500 miles. Four lane all the way. 70 miles per hour — that's the speed limit.

The other highways are good too, but mostly two lane. No trouble whatsoever. See you in the fall.

Hope to get The Leader in Denmark.

A. Rasmussen

Editor's Note: We were happy to get the above post card from Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen who are on their way to their native Denmark for an extended visit.

Dear Editor:

I agree with the Chamber of Commerce about tearing down old buildings during clean-up week. One of the old buildings which should be torn down is the Smithwood School or more commonly known as the red brick.

It's very unsafe and endangers the life of the children attending it. The bathrooms are very bad. They have, for example, no locks on the doors, there is writting all over this place, and some of the doors are even broken.

In the recess there cracks all over the walls, the floors unpaint and the rooms are the worst ones in fitness. If there was ever a fire, I'm afraid it would be very dangerous. I'm sure many others would agree with me.

Thank you,

Heatherwood Pupil

Dear Sir:

Many people in Edson have been worked up over the recent Dog and Dog Catcher issue. I'm sure many solutions have been suggested over a cup of coffee with the neighbors. However how many of these people have courage enough to come out and voice these opinions at the public meeting on Monday, May 27.

There are a great number of people who continually gripe over the way things are being done in town. They complain "It is no use attending the Council meetings as one is not allowed to speak without first asking permission (two days prior to the meetings." (I must admit I too feel this ruling rather ridiculous and discouraging).

Yet when those same people do have opportunity to do something, as they will at this Public Meeting, they sit back and "Let George Do it."

Are you one of these people? If so now is the time to change. Get out and voice your opinions and support this meeting.

A Public Meeting is being held Monday, May 27th at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall for the purpose of discussing the restraining and control of dogs within the town and the subsidizing of same with Metro Animal Care Ltd. One needs no pre-arranged permission to speak at this meeting. This is the proper place to weigh the pros and cons of this issue. Come on get out to this meeting Monday, May 27th.

See You There

P.S.

By the way did you realize the dog catchers are supposed to pick up cats also!

CAPITOL REPORT

STILL IN SELECTING CANDIDATE STAGE

BY JOHN WARREN

EDSONTON — The bickering and calling that is an election campaign began in earnest last week as the pace of nominations stepped up and the have-not parties sought a chink in Social Credit armour.

While the Social Credit party campaigned as though it sincerely felt its stronghold on the Legislature was in danger, the Liberal, New Democratic and Progressive Conservative parties stepped up their attacks on the government. In the hopes of increasing a woefully small opposition of four.

The Liberals launched their controversial public power issue. The New Democratic struck at what it felt were unreasonably high highway construction costs. And the Conservative leader, Milton Harradence, repeated earlier warnings that the new provincial-municipal police program was a step in the direction of a police state.

Nearly all the opposition groups said one of the greatest failings of the present government was that it had simply been around too long without enough criticism and at least two consider themselves the only alternative.

The type of criticism offered so far in the campaign certainly doesn't centre on one issue Cliff. Manning says the only issue is the government's record as shown in such things as the public works of the five year program and the promise of mines.

To many observers the random criticisms being offered in the campaign so far would not appear to be particularly distressing to the Social Credit party which most feel is in no danger of being ousted or seriously threatened.

If there is one surprising revelation so far in the campaign it is the fact that the Social Credit party believes it necessary to fight so hard.

Mr. Manning's personal appeals through paid television broadcasts began with the introduction of a program called "Tele-facts" back in February. While he got briefly sidetracked by the federal campaign the broadcasts have been primarily a review of government achievement, a rebuttal to other provincial party claims and a foretast of what is to come under a Social Credit government.

At the same time a number of old-timers and comparatively weak MLA's failed to win renomination. The party organization is doing its best to find strong candidates in ridings where the simple label "Social Credit" has previously been enough to win election for whoever was fortunate enough to wear it.

The underlying issue has been domination of the province's affairs by one party to the exclusion of nearly all effective criticism in the form of a potent opposition in the legislature. And it is this state of affairs Social Credit's outstanding successes in earlier elections, that is now giving the party most of its headaches in the current campaign.

If the arguments for an effective opposition become too persuasive there is just a chance that voters who want to see only some government criticism in the legislature will actually outdo themselves and elect a new government.

The premier has handled this possibility on several occasions in the last few months by noting how ineffective the government in Ottawa was during the last parliament because of an unwieldy opposition that stymied legislative activity.

The campaign still has to run to June 17 however, and there may well be some more exciting arguments presented than those advanced in the opening weeks when the major concern of all parties was simply in selecting candidates.

ELECTION DAY THOUGHT

When Parliament eventually is functioning in a normal way, it might well consider the problem that arises when a government must select a day for a general election. At present the law says that the election shall be held on a Monday, but there are times when the country seems to be fresh out of suitable Mondays.

The 1962 election, on June 18, had to be on that day if it was going to be in that season. June 24 is St. Jean Baptiste Day and an important celebration for the French speaking people, especially in Quebec. They certainly would not like to have their commemoration of St. John the Baptist interfered with by the jeers and sorrows flowing from a general balloting.

In 1962 the Government of the Day wanted a spring or early summer election and it is unlikely that the Canadian people want a repeat of an election some month back on August 20.

Scouts attend holiday camporee at Jasper

Last weekend, May 18th to 20th, 33 members of the Boy Scout movement participated in the annual Yellowhead District Camporee. Approximately 60 attendance was made up of 10 from Valemount, B.C. 14 from Jasper, 21 from Hinton, 23 from Edson, and 9 from Grande Prairie, Alberta.

The Valemount Owl Patrol, last year's Camporee winner and the Optimist Shield to the Valemount Wolf Patrol finished up was the 1st Edson Eagle Patrol followed by the Valemount Owls and the 2nd Hinton Beaver Patrol.

Last year the Valemount Owls scored so far ahead of the rest of the Patrols that there was no competition. This year four points separated the winner up from the winner and the rest of the patrols were not very far behind that in the scoring

Judging was based on everything from the way the bag resembled his hair when he left home to the gum wrapper that he threw on the ground walking down to the Jasper Rodeo grounds. Inspection was broken into eight divisions which included incoming inspection, use of campsite, use and care of equipment, cooking and feeding, activities, patrol organization and leadership, cleanliness and sanitation, outgoing inspection.

Activities this year were a campfire game where 20 stakes were tied out in an East West line. The boys had to take three hearings and pass each one out from one stake to another; a water balling competition where they had to ball water in tin foil. They also had to estimate five heights.

Sunday's activities were the bridge building competition at which the 2nd Hinton Beavers deserve honorable mention for building a monkey bridge. Following the bridge building they had an obstacle course to go through.

Each evening a campfire was held down on the Rodeo grounds. the first was held mostly with the Cubs and there were 248 boys and their leaders in attendance at this campfire The second was a smaller one for the Scouts only, songs were sung and skits acted out and campfire pranks pulled on the service scouts.

On Monday morning the Scouts and Jasper Cubs made a very impressive showing when they marched in the Jasper parade behind a marching pipe band.

The following persons, as well as each groups group committee, were responsible for the success of the camporee: Dave Field, Scoutmaster 5th Grande Prairie Swan Troop; Wayne Mallett, Troop Leader 1st Edson Beaver Troop; Dexter Champion, District Commissioner Yellowhead District Council; George Lange, Rover Leader 2nd Hinton Rover Crew; Russell Bohn ing Rover 2nd Hinton Rover Crew.

Duncan Bain, Scoutmaster 1st Valemount Scout Troop, Brian Haines, Assistant Scoutmaster 1st Jasper Scout Troop, Gordon Gilroy, Scoutmaster 1st Jasper Scout Troop; Kelvan Wallace, Scoutmaster 1st Edson Beavers and District Scoutmaster Yellowhead District Council

Kenneth Jarvie, Troop Leader 1st Edson Scout Troop, Edwin Tisseline, Troop Leader 1st Valemount Scout Troop, Kenneth Dervidge, Troop Leader 1st Edson Scout Troop, Bill Mahon, Troop Leader 1st Edson Beaver Scout Troop.

Special thanks must go to the Northern Affairs branch of the Dominion Government for allowing the use of the Camporee site in Jasper National Park.

The living room was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers, multi-colored flowers and confetti filled balloons. During the evening games were played with novelty prizes going to the winners.

The shower gifts were presented to Shirley in a decorated basket, and gracious thanks were extended by the honored guest for the gifts and best wishes received

The evening concluded with a delicious lunch served by co-hostesses Mrs. S. Pambrun and Miss Louise Hinchey.

During the war a young American pilot landed his plane on an aircraft carrier and rushed up to the skipper and exclaimed "What a day I've had," he claimed "I've shot down seven Jap planes, sunk a destroyer and left a cruiser listing." Rail running trades meet again in city

The Railway Joint Running Trades Committee, consisting of Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Trainmen, held a mass meeting April 19th, in the Calder Community Hall at Edmonton, with a registration of 101.

Delegates and Union executives from Port Arthur and South Lookout, Ontario to Vancouver, B.C were in attendance representing approximately 6000 employees of these trades.

The purpose of this meeting was to determine the feelings of the men and what action should be formulated to [illegible] Railways from placing into effect, a plan whereby these employees would be required to operate trains over two sub-divisions instead of the present one sub-division.

Although the CNR allege that they have no definite immediate plans to institute such runs, management has efficially notified these crafts of their intention to do so in the future.

An eleven man delegation was established to go to Ottawa and present the views of the employees to Members of Parliament and endeavor to have a study of this proposed

All delegates spoke unanimously in opposition to any proposal by management, such as the two sub-divisional runs, that would double the distance involved and hours of duty.

It was pointed out at this meeting that road crews at present are subject to work ing a 12 hour day before being entitled to relief, a call any time of the night or day, 365 days a year other than [illegible]

Road crews on the Prairie and Mountain Area's do not receive any additional compensation for work performed on Sundays and statutory holidays.

Railway Joint Running Trades Committees have been set up, and all representatives have pledged full co-operation, on a concerted basis, from Ontario to the West coast.

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. HURD

IS THE GOSPEL OBSOLUTE?

Dr. Billy Graham's popularity with a backward look which presents the realism and power of Christianity in terms of ideas, values and individual decisions, which have actually lost significance for this generation." by Dr. Paul L. Lehmann, Union Theological College, as quoted in Saturday Evening Post, April, 1962.

I have never been one to engage in controversy for controversy's sake. But a statement such as the one just quoted demands comment. I realize I am only a very insignificant preacher while Dr. Lehmann is a man of brilliant mind and far-reaching influence. Yet I dare to contradict him, and I want to tell you why.

What Dr. Lehmann virtually says is that the Gospel which Billy Graham preaches (and which a good many others of us preach is out of date, obsolete, and unacceptable in this age of enlightenment and technology.

What Dr. Lehmann forgets is that in spite of a spectacular advance in modern thought and achievement, man himself remains unchanged. Jeremiah's indictment still holds good. "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately ill, (or incurably) wicked." Any Gospel that fails to strike at the root of things is inadequate. Any Gospel that merely refines man's problem, while failing to renew his nature, simply does not meet the need.

The glory of the New Testament is thoroughly practical, in any age. But these ideas and values must be personal. If we object to individual decisions, we miss the very heart-pulse of New Testament evangelism. The history of the Gospel is distinctively the history of men and women who have engaged in personal encounter with Jesus Christ. That encounter made them 'new creations.' And that is still society's desperate need.

The honest evangel is that it is frank enough to lay bare the devastating nature of sin and beneficient enough to impart a whole new nature. Sorry it is evangelism with a backward look — backward to the redemptive heart of Calvary. And there are none more eager to look back than those who have most truly looked within.

Takes Civil Defence course

Mr Allen Mah has returned from Edmonton where he attended the Radiological Defence Officers' Course No. 196. Mr. Mah successfully passed the examination and as a result is now qualified to act as a Radiological Defence Officer.

Edson will soon be issued with new radiological equipment and anybody who is interested in radiological defence is asked to contact Mr. Allen Mah.

Craft Centre

At the last regular meeting of the Craft Centre, it was decided to postpone the tea and sale scheduled for June 8th, to September 21st. At that time the tea and sale will be held at the Parish Hall.

Reason for the postponement was because of interference with Alberta Craft show to be held in the Calgary Jubilee Auditorium from June 16th to 30th

The best of the articles made in Edson's Craft Centre will be sent to Alberta Craft early in June.

The Craft Centre wishes to inform anyone who wants to take a group on a tour of the centre that he must have permission from director Mrs. Laura Mahon.

TB X-Ray Unit coming to Edson area

Sponsored locally by the St. John's Hospital Auxiliary the Mobile TB Chest X-ray Unit will visit Edson in the near future.

This service, sponsored jointly by the Department of Public Health and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association Christmas Seal Fund, is a source of early discovery not only of unsuspected tuberculosis but many other abnormalities including: heart irregularities, tumors, etc. and is especially valuable in view of the alarming increase in the incidence of lung cancer which the chest X-Ray will reveal considerably in advance of symptoms becoming obvious.

Mr C B Pugh, Director of X-ray Surveys, Alberta Tuberculosis Association, is in the district making arrangements for the Tuberculin testing and Chest X-ray Survey. A house-to-house canvass will be conducted to register every family in Edson, Glenwood and community.

All persons over school age will be included in this registration.

School children have been Tuberculin tested at school through the services provided by your local Health Unit, and will not be required to attend this clinic.

In charge of the program are: Mrs. M McKnight, general chairman; Mrs. R. Cohen, advance registration chairman; Mrs. T. Rennie clinic appointments chairman; Mrs. U Martin, publicity chairman; Mrs. A. Ewachniuk, volunteer help chairman.

The area to be covered in the survey will be: Edson, Grand Prairie Trail.

People willing to help with the work required to run a successful clinic in Edson are asked to contact one of the committee chairmen. Residents of Marlowe, Drentan and Bickerdike are also invited to come to Edson for the clinic even if no house to house canvass is carried out in their areas.

If the canvasser misses you and you do not receive an appointment card come to the clinic anyway.

At the last X-ray clinic held in Edson three years ago 31 people with various diseases of the lungs were found and were able to receive early treatment.

In the Peers district the X-ray Unit will be sponsored by the Peers, United Church Women. A canvass will be carried out to register all district families included in the area the school vans cover, Pinedale and Rosevear.

In charge of the program at Peers are: Mrs. S. Sorenson, general chairman and clinics appointment chairman; Mrs. R. Radcliffe, advance registration chairman. Mrs. Ian McCuaig, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. Young, volunteer help chairman.

Again persons are reminded that they should plan to attend whether or not they have been registered. The survey is made so that an approximate attendance can be planned on.

Over the past 15 years the combined payroll of all governments in Canada has increased from $769 million to nearly $3.5 billion.

Regulations set up for 1963 fishing tournament

HINTON—

Rules and regulations for the annual Fishing Tournament sponsored by the Hinton Fish and Game Association have been finalized and made public by Association president, Art Dunn.

The tournament area will include Zones 12, 13, 14, and 15 as defined by the 1963 hunting regulations, and will also include all of Jasper National Park. The zones extend north, east, west, and south of Hinton. Last years tournament area did not include zone 15 or the Park.

The fishing contest is open to any member of the Fish and Game Association who is a paid up member one month in advance of tournament entry. Fishermen under 16 years of age will be eligible for prizes or certificates, or both provided a parent is a paid up member of the Hinton Fish and Game Association.

Weighing stations will be located at Shop-Easy, Freson's Market, Campsite Grocery and at a store in Jasper not yet selected.

The species of fish for entry in the tournament remain the same as last year with the addition of lake whitefish and brown trout. Rainbow trout caught between the lakes in Obed Creek will be classed as lake rainbow trout.

Regulations for the fishing tournament will be posted at Pioneer Saws & Supply in Hinton. Memberships in the Fish & Game Association may also be got at Pioneer Saws from Art Dunn.

Mr. Dunn reports that some good sized fish have been caught already. Joe Kristoff, who caught a 23 lb. northern pike at the end of the winter, has since pulled in a 31½ lb. pickerel.

The Hinton Fish and Game Association plan to present a petition to the Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, requesting restocking of Jarvis Lake and other lakes in Entrance Provincial Park.

Made a quick trip to Edson Saturday to invest in a pair of tires for the family Jalopy — perhaps we were in too much of a hurry because we wound up with one tube tire and one tubeless. Just one of those instances that proves the old adage "The more hurry the less speed"

Enjoyed h chat with Mrs. Paul Wetsor, in the Super Market.

Had coffee at the Roger Bowman home and find their new trailer almost ready to move into.

Learned that two small houses on the Joe Klebe ranch had burned to the ground Friday night, with nothing salvaged except a power-saw Overheard a couple of women discussing a show of fashionable that occured during a recent friendly get-together.

Watched a lady repairing an electric appliance cord using our old stand-by tool, a butcher knife.

Noticed tourists by the dozens heading Jasper way equipped with everything from skis to bathing suits.

Listened to several "work-er barrel" experts discussing the coming Provincial election (It would be interesting also) in all probability dig astrous, to see some of the street corner solutions put into active service) For example, "If I had my way—which of course I never will—you gotta have connections" or "you'll be tossed out at a heckler"

I would give every man over 40 a pension! Women too, only the Lord knows it wouldn't do them no good, the way women throw money away.

Saw an oil rig moving onto a new site. A good sign. Saw another preparing to move in Drayton Valley. Hot spots so encouraging from where we stand.

Overheard groups of High Schoolers d r o o l i n g over school social activities on tap for the coming weeks. While all the parties, plays and proms coming up we can't help but wonder if the kids have any spare time left over for their studies.

We are sure these events have a place in modern schooling, but it still rubs us the wrong way to see a high school kid spell Marriage (MARRIAGE), and Laugh (LAFF). That's funny, see-ay

When a motor-cyclist who had crashed into a telegraph pole and brought down the wire recovered consciousness his hands were clutching the wire.

"Thank goodness" he exclaimed, "It's a harp!"

Hunting competitions province-wide this year

HINTON—

The Alberta Fish and Game Association will hold provincial-wide hunting competitions this year for members of the Hinton Fish and Game Association learned at their monthly meeting in the Athabasca Valley Hotel on May 14

Up to the present hunting competitions have been local in nature. Now local hunters will have an opportunity to compete for provincial trophies as well.

The resolution requesting province-wide competitions was passed at a recent executive meeting of the Alberta Fish and Game Association in Red Deer. Ken Alexander, secretary of the Hinton Fish and Game Association, presented the resolution.

It is also hoped that provincial fishing competitions can be organized before the end of this years fishing season according to Art Dunn, president of the Hinton Association.

A resolution favoring Sunday hunting in the green area of the province was passed by the Hinton Association. It will be sent to the Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests with a request that Mr. Willmore present it to the provincial Legislature.

These films on fishing were shown at the meeting.

The Hinton Fish and Game Association meets the second Tuesday of every month at 8 p.m. in the Athabasca Valley Hotel. It boasts a membership approaching 300, and was one of six clubs in the province that increased its membership over that of last year. Meetings are open to all members of the family, not adults alone.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

I should like to congratulate the instructors, Lieutenants Basil and McCulloch and all the members of the Edson Cadet Corps for the very fine parade they put on for their annual inspection on Wednesday, May 14.

The Cadets, together with their parents had every right to feel proud of themselves.

Perhaps next year a little more publicity could be given so that more people could come and see for themselves what a good job the Edson Cadet Corps is doing.

Donald M. Hodge

Two gloves turned in

Two young ball players left their gloves at the gravel pit on the Grande Prairie Trail. They can have them by calling at the Leader Office and identifying them.

There's a ball with them too fellas

He was quarreling with his wife, and was getting the worst of it.

"You didn't have a rug on your back when I married you," he said, coldly.

"No," she retored, "but I've plenty now."

Compromise on dogs is public meeting result

AGREE CONTROL NECESSARY BUT WANT NOTIFICATION

Most dog fanciers, sprinkled with the odd dog hater, turned up Monday night for the public to consider dog control. Something over 130 persons, some mad, and some out to see the fireworks, were on hand when Mayor W. B. Brunsle opened the meeting.

The meeting had been called by the Town Council following a petition from ratepayers who wished to hold a public discussion about the contract into which Western Animal Care Ltd. of Penaka entered during the [illegible] for controlling dogs in town.

There wasn't too much in the way of fireworks, but Mrs. Rita Sattler, on behalf of dog owners, very capably read a clause by clause brief based on suggested amendments to the recently [illegible] dog control bylaw.

Mr W. Bruce of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of Edmonton was on hand in the audience. Mr. Bruce explained that this problem came up when towns reached Edson's size.

He said that he had gone over the bylaw and considered it adequate with minor exceptions. During the course of the meeting he made one or two suggestions which would make the application of the bylaw a little more precisionary.

He said that he had gone over the bylaw and considered it adequate with minor exceptions. During the course of the meeting he made one or two suggestions which would make the application of the bylaw a little more precisionary.

Mr. G. A. Bolton, of Woodcare [illegible] Care Ltd., who arrived late in the meeting, readily agreed that his company would henceforth make every reasonable effort to contact owners of dogs caught running at large. If they are taken away. This would apply only, of course, to dogs carrying license.

Mr Bolton informed that this was one of the policies of his company and would like to be informed if there had been any deviation from the policy. He even announced that he had brought back a black and white collie — which brought a happy smile to at least the owner.

In a discussion on the definition of running at large Mr. Bolton stated his opinion that a dog was under control if it was at heel, or walking beside the owner or responsible person. Mr. Bruce had intimated that the regulation on leashes was being looked at differently in other centres.

The SPCA man reminded the meeting that his organization rates a pound for animals too. He considered a control program was the fairest thing for the animals. He told of how animals are frequently injured in traffic when running at large

Not everybody was satisfied with the meeting from comments this newspaper has heard since, but all agree that the dog question has now had a thorough airing. Members of Council are now going to have a fresh look at the by-law as well

Incidentally, unless there is some fresh point of view not previously expressed, The Leader feels the letters to the Editor columns should be closed on the subject for a while

Liberals provide vote choice with Schoeppe

BERT SCHOEPPE

At a recent nominating convention held in Edson the Liberal Party chose Bert Schoeppe as their candidate for the Edson Constituency in the provincial election to be held June 17th.

A long time resident of Hinton, Mr Schoeppe is a well known popular citizen. He became the Regular Bell Agent in the new pulpwood town in 1955, the year the construction of the plant began and is now in the business of general insurance

Mr. Schoeppe's activities in community affairs have been one of the reasons for his wide range of friends in the area. He was a member of Hinton's original Board of Administrators, and helped to form the new Town of Hinton. He also takes an active part in a number of local organizations including the Elks Lodge, the Fish & Game Association and Service Clubs

Prior to moving to Hinton, Bert was president of the Home & School Association, a leader in the 4-H Club, School Trustee, and president of the U.F.U.A. in his home community in Delia, Alberta.

Bert and his wife, Edith, were both born in Alberta. They have two children and four grandchildren.

With his long time residence in the vicinity, his years of faithful community service, his broad knowledge of the area problems, Bert Schoeppe is considered by the Liberal Party an outstanding representative for the Edson Constituency.

In accepting the nomination to lead the Liberals in this constituency Mr. Schoeppe stated "it is my intention to represent the best interests of the people in this constituency in Edmonton.

"One of the most important that has received far too examination and positive action on the part of this government is the continuing heavy burden of school costs on real property; we are taxed out of all proportion without regard to the ability to pay, particularly in respect of young aspects to all of us, and one struggling families and those who are now retired on a fixed income

"I am of the opinion that our present government needs a rude awakening to the basic fact that it is the people who pay the taxes that count and not the preservation of social credit for sake of building a 'creditiste empire' in Alberta."

He concluded

High School graduands honored in Edson

On Thursday and Friday evenings of last week the 1963 graduands of the Edson High School were honored at a banquet, graduation exercises and formal dance.

Thursday evening in the Edson Motor Hotel, the thirty graduands, their parents, teachers and special guests were tendered a banquet by the High School Students' Union. Toastmaster for the occasion was John Condon.

Superintendent of Schools A. D Jardine proposed the Toast to the Queen. Toast to the members of the graduating class was proposed by Principal M D Meade. In replying, on behalf of his fellow graduands, David Keyes pointed out the unique significance of the role of the principal in any school system.

Carole Svedberg proposed the Toast to the staff. Miss Joan Masterin replied on behalf of the teachers

Immediately following the banquet, students, teachers and guests gathered in the High School auditorium for the graduation exercises. Congratulations from the community were extended to the class by Mayor W. B. Brunsle. Superintendent A. D Jardine spoke for the Department of Education and Mr. A. W. Leonard for the Divisional Board Mr Merton Collin brought best wishes from the Edson Local Board

Solos and musical selections were supplied by Vanetta Kavanagh and Iris Potter

Ernest Bohnet delivered the Class History pointing out, among other things, that the first artificial satellite was put into orbit in 1957, the year that this class entered Grade VII. The class valedictorian was Betty Ann Andrews who spoke of the nostalgia felt by all pupils in saying farewell to their parents, their teachers and their school.

Following the valedictory, Principal M D Meade presented each member of the graduating class to the audience, giving a very brief biography of each student. On behalf of the Students' Union he presented each with a grad pin.

On behalf of the graduating class Barbara Koebel then presented a lamp table to the school for use in the staff room.

On the following night a large number of parents and friends joined the students at the graduation formal.

The following are the members of the 1963 graduating class

Robb and Branch news

The Branch was quiet over the weekend as the weatherman decided to pour on the rain. It was badly needed.

The Robbins in general are busy some building, some painting and others moving from one house to another.

Mr. Charlton Sr. arrived last week to join his wife who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lan Charlton. He was seen giving the fence a new look not looking but painting it.

Mr. Wagner has moved his power to Brule and most of his men who live here are back at the old grind. We miss the sound of the planer after all these years.

Mrs. Bruce McNeeley and son of Calgary are visitors at the hotel at present.

The hotel is getting a new look these days too.

Mr. Wilmore will address a meeting in the Robb Hall on June 14th.

Teen and Herd

By Ben

The graduation was super last Friday There was a large crowd in attendance. Every one danced The Dominos from Hinton supplied the music and did a very good job of it pleasing the teenagers as well as the adults. That is almost impossible, but they did it The auditorium was beautifully decorated but not so beautiful as all those girls in their beautiful formals. WOW! Gimme I've used "beautiful" enough.

Our sincere thanks to Mr. Walter Forster of the Edson Motor Hotel. Mr. Forster let us have a party at the Hotel after the dance ended at the High School.

The Dominos played and a special thanks goes to them too. Then there was breakfast — at six o'clock in the morning. For none no one minded having breakfast at that time.

Edson lost to Hinton at the track meet. However some of our fellas came home well decorated with ribbons. Frank King was one of them. We expected that. A new track star with a lot of ribbons, that was Tommy Erickson from Grade 8. Guess that guy's chest will have to broaden by next year although he's a big boy now.

Iris Potter, Margaret Robershy and Wayne Mallet were the possessors of driving licenses, just before graduation too.

Heard someone knocked down a power pole onto a bakery truck. That wasn't enough as he then went and knocked the door off a car. Some guys got all mixed up. Don't they Ken?

Phil and Diane of Pontaks, friends of Joyce's, attended the graduation to see their friend Joyce graduate.

Saw our friend Reid on Saturday when Wayne and I went to a party at Reid Deer after the graduation here. Reid Deer is a very pretty city.

Poor Joanie is very sad. Her little cat, Shaw can away Shaw is a wee little black and white and grey kitten I think I'd run to if I had a name like that- If anyone should happen to find Shaw would they please notify Joan Strongman.

Bright idea: Why don't we have swimming during our Phys. Ed period?

It seems to me that this is a crazy mixed up world people do such queer things in such queer places. Now they are even parking in the cemetery. Oh well. . . Guess I've heard worse.

Oh yes spanking of dogs — When the dog catchers were at the meeting the other night who should be outside but six dogs running at large. Guess they weren't to hear what was being said about them.

Dear Editor:

Re the picture printed lately in your paper of the man and the dog team I note that in May 16th issue under the picture of Mrs. Appleby you printed that the man with the dog team was Mr Frank Putnev and that the picture was taken in 1924. That is not correct.

During the Easter week the week following the printing of the picture, my father John Thomson went into your office to report that Mrs. Ida Appleby was not the person in the picture but that it was a picture of Mr. Maude Haddock of Haddock P.O. celebrated his 50 years of continuous living on the original homestead on May 30th, 1962.

John Haddock, Mrs. Maddock, and infant son Harold left Wichita, Kansas, in 1911 to settle in Saskatchewan. They spent one year at Crain Lake, where they were told about the wonderful opportunities in the Peace River district.

In April 1912 John Haddock loaded his cow and calf, chickens, pig and household effects, along with the team of horses and wagon belonging to a friend Philip Worth, who was to accompany them, into a settler's car and was on his way to Edson, Alberta, the jumping off point for the Peace country.

Mrs. Haddock and son came later by train. The road in the Peace River country was impassable when they started in Edson and they were advised to turn back to Peers, where land was available; the McKenzie settlement west of Shining Bank Lake was be planning.

John and Phil Worth on loaded their car at Peers and cramped beside the car while they located land. At that time Peers consisted of the station and a combined store and hotel run by Mrs Jones.

Phil Worth filed on land in the McKenzie settlement, but due to the untangling of red tape John Haddock missed his chance there. This was very fortunate for him as the McKenzie Settlement is now a wilderness. Mr Haddock located on the present farm site half way between the existing settlements of Peers and Mahaska.

They found a place clear of trees and put up a pole shelter. Lindstrom formed the roof, carpets the outside walls an all odds, a spot of colour in the wilderness of trees and burned stumps. The Anglican Missionary on his first trip for a service at Mahaska after they had settled there commented that it reminded him of the Garden of Eden, when he first sighted it from a hill.

Brush shelters were erected for the chickens and the pig and a spot cleared and broken for a garden which unfortunately was not a success the first year.

Bridges had refreshed his memory regards the picture. I have watched, but to date hadn't seen any further mention of it and meant to contact you on my next visit to Edson. However, this week's paper has prompted me to write now.

When Dad first showed me the picture, I suggested Mr. Stevenson (the old tailor) and Dad thought it to be Mr. J. T. Reid (the old baker). After talking the matter over, we came to the conclusion that the old gent in the picture was not tall enough for either of them men, so it was decided to have you print it. On three same grounds (hoping) would rule out Mr. Palmer.

The true man was Old "Pop" Bridges, father of S. W. Bridges, for further verification, ask Mrs. Bridges, she may even be able to tell you the approximate time it was taken. Those of us who were "kids" in Edson well remember "Pop" Bridges and his candy store.

Sincerely,
Janet Ray

Council putting Main Street paving to vote

Mr. Frank Dusel, of Stanly, Grimble, Robin Limfied, was present and discussed with Council, item for item, the proposed capital paving of Main Street from First Avenue to Fourth Avenue and First Avenue from Main Street to 51st Street and the placing of concrete walks and curb and gutter in the same area, at the meeting of the Edson Council held Tuesday, May 21.

The discussion related principally to the proposed type of construction, Mr. Dusel indicating the opinion of engineers that construction would be satisfactory for existing conditions. It was agreed that separate bylaws should be prepared for the paving apart from walks and curb and gutter.

Present were Mayor W. R. Brunelle and Councillors: M. R. Collin, A. Goldstick, W. F. Lactman, M. D. Maude, J. Scott and P.W. Wells and five citizens.

Council granted its approval to the issuance of a license to Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Kurylo to operate the Tourist Centre Motel and an adjunct retail business covering groceries, meats, confectionary and tobacco of limited size and scope necessary to the service of the occupants of the Motel.

Letter of application from Mr. C.C. Plamond requesting approval of Council to operation of Barber Shop in Sherwood Hotel was placed before Council. He is to be advised that a Provincial License must be first obtained, subject to the approval

The Helen Keller drama shown in local theatre

Helen Keller is an outstanding example of a person who conquered physical handicaps. A serious illness destroyed her sight and hearing before she was two years old. Because of this she was unable to speak, and was entirely shut off from the world But she rose above her disabilities to become internationally famous and to help thousands of handicapped persons to live fuller lives.

Shortly before Miss Keller reached 7 years of age Anne Sullivan became her teacher, and was able to make contact with her mind through the sense of touch. She worked out a sort of alphabet by which she spelled out words on Helen's hand. Gradually the child was able to connect words with objects. Once she understood, her progress was rapid.

Within three years she knew the alphabet, and could read and write in Braille. A special typewriter was made for her on which she did all her writing.

Until she was ten years old, Helen Keller could talk only with the sign language of the deaf-mute. She decided she would learn to speak, and took lessons from a teacher of the deaf. By the time she was 16, she could speak well enough to enter preparatory school and go to college. She brought new courage to millions of blind people. Helen Keller has received awards of great distinction, such as the Chevalier d' ribbon of the French Legion of Honor, the Alumni Association award of Radcliffe College, and decorations from governments all over the world.

The story of Helen Keller and her teacher Anne Sullivan is brought to the screen at the Edson Theatre on June 3rd, 4th and 5th. Acting the lives of these two outstanding people resulted in two Academy Awards for the actresses who portrayed them.

Anne Bancroft won the Best Actress Award for her role as the teacher of Helen Keller. ing of both principals is an other miracle It received a Special Merit Award

"With gas you get service — no doubt about it"

"Any time I have had dealings with the Gas Company they have certainly made every effort to provide satisfactory service."

When you are the only Gas Company serving the residential customers in a community, the responsibility to give good service is great. Northwestern is very conscious of its responsibilities to give good service and extend service to new communities where it is economically practical.

We must also plan ahead so there will be plenty of natural gas for the future – and in all this, carefully control costs so we can continue to provide Alberta gas consumers – large and small, with the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost.

MOUTH TO MOUTH RESCUE BREATHING

. . . the approved easy method of artificial respiration

If victim is not breathing due to drowning, suffocation or electrocution, begin artificial respiration at once. Wipe out any foreign matter visible in the mouth, using your fingers or a cloth wrapped around your fingers.

Tilt victim's head back. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position, thus creating direct air passage to the lungs. If the mouth (or jaw) will not open, seal the mouth and blow air into the victim's nose.

Open the victim's mouth, cover his mouth with your mouth, pinch his nostrils shut, and blow vigorously about 12 times a minute. If victim is a small child, place your mouth tightly over his mouth and nose and blow gently into his lungs about 20 times a minute.

If victim's chest does not rise, there may be foreign matter in his throat. If a small child, suspend him by the ankles or place the child in a jack-knife position with your arm under his stomach. Slap him sharply between the shoulder blades. Continue rescue breathing (mouth to mouth resuscitation.)

If victim is an adult he him on the ground in a jack-knife position and slap him sharply between the shoulder blades. Continue with rescue breathing until help arrives.

EASY-TO-LEARN SURVIVAL FLOATING

Here is a proven method of staying afloat when in difficulty. It is easy to learn and takes advantage of your body's natural buoyancy to keep you afloat for hours. Practice these step-by-step instructions - they can save your life!

1. Take a deep breath and float vertically, chin forward close to chest. Relax completely and you will find you can hold your breath comfortably from 5 to 10 seconds. The back of your head will break the surface of the water.

2. Prepare for slow downward push by raising the arms to shoulder level, palms down, one leg extended forward the other backward. Begin exhaling through the mouth. Lift face gently out of water as you continue exhaling.

3. Eyes open, inhale through mouth as you push slowly downward with both hands. Do not waste energy by trying to raise shoulders above water.

4. When lungs are full, slide under water. As your head sinks under water continue slow downward movement of arms and/or legs to prevent sinking too deeply.

5. Now you are back at the Number 1 position. Practice will enable you to continue the cycle for hours.

WITH Cubs AND Scouts

It takes some imagination and guessing to predict when Cub meetings will be held, but we do know that this Wednesday, May 29th, — the last for A and B packs, until next September. Yippee!!

On June 12th the Cubs will meet with the Scouts for an introduction to the mysteries of Scouting.

A total of 130 Cubs from Edmonton Packs will be camping at Surprise Lake on the weekends on June 8-9 and 15-16. It would be a friendly gesture on the part of the Edson Packs to see that some of their members made our visitors feel welcome in the Hinton district.

Scout Calendar and News

The clean-up job at the Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas property was postponed.

Scout activities will wind up with the June 8th meeting at which the Edson Troop will host their Elders at a Steak Fry at Willmore Park.

The Alberta Jamboree will be held at Sylvan Lake, June 28, July 6. Those boys attending from Edson will require transportation, both for themselves and their gear. This problem is not easily solved because of the distance and also because two trips will be necessary as the Jamboree lasts one week. The Transportation Committee consisting of Ralph Wadey and John Fryer will be working on this after the District Council Meeting next week.

A Group Committee Work shop will be held on June 3rd 7:30 p.m. at the Edson Ski Lodge, conducted by Northern Alberta Field Commissioner Red McConchie

Haddock Happenings

The opening League baseball game was well attended on the afternoon of Sunday, May 26th around a hundred people turned out to root for the teams playing Mahoosuc playgd Reserves on the Mahoosuc grounds. The score was Mahoosuc 6 Reserves 5 in hard fought game. The next game will be in Glenwood, on Sunday, June 2nd, when Mahoosuc plays Glenwood.

The young people of the district staged a surprise party at C. E. Whites on Saturday, May 25th. While Harry White was home for the week end with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nisbet and family of Edmonton spent the weekend with the Haddock family.

Doug Quintal was out the beginning of the week and took home his little daughter Janice, who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Haddock, while her mother was in Edson hospital recovering from a gallbladder operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Armstrong and family left last Thursday to spend a few days with relatives in Saskatchewan.

Anne Herron returned home on May 26th from a holiday in Washington, D.C.

There was a good attendance at Pells church on the 26th. Sixteen children attended the first session of Sunday school. Church will be at 1 p.m. each Sunday with Sunday school at 2:15 to 3:15.

Edson reps at Church Conference

More than 600 delegates from 210 United Church Congregations in Alberta have just met for a week on the University Campus, Edmonton, for their Annual Conference.

Dr. K. P. Robins and Rev. D. A. MacPherson were Edson delegates.

Unique to the Conference was the conversion of tedious sessions into lively debate on important issues. There were:

"An official look at Bishops" with two Anglican and two United clergymen taking part.

"The Settlement Committee on Trial" via a mock trial looked at the present method of placing ministers.

"Christianity on the Campus, a vanguard or a garrison?" looked at the role of the S.C.M., I.V.C.F., University Chaplain and Christian dialectic and Professors.

"The Case for and against Missions" resulted in the opposition teaming heavily in favor at close.

Eight ordinands were ordained to the ministry in the Jubilee Auditorium Sunday evening before a full house. One of these was John Snow (Walking Bear), a full blood Stony Indian from Morley. The ordinands took the morning devotions, speaking on their Call to the Ministry.

The Rev. Dr. Wallace Hamilton of a Community Church in Florida, and author of several books, gave the evening addresses and preached the Ordination Sermon.

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. HURD
IS GOD OPTIONAL

That which is optional is not a necessity; it is something that we can do without.

Is God optional in your life? Are you an busy looking after the so-called necessities of life that you on not have time for God? for Bible reading? for church attendance? This seems to be the common attitude today. Time and time again we hear people say, "I must get around to dropping into church on Sunday, but I'm so busy that I never seem to [illegible]."

This is another way of saying that God is optional, unnecessary, some luxury that we can get along without. It is saying that everything else is so important in our lives that we have no time for the great Giver of life. Would you care to say that in so many words?

How do you think this will sound in eternity when we appear before the God whom we have dismissed so lightly on earth. It will certainly sound hollow. The things that keep us away from God now will all seem like trivialities then.

Your personal relationship to the Lord is the most important thing in your life. Nothing exceeds it in importance. As you take stock now, have you treated your need, God and eternity in the serious manner they deserved?

Right now, put first things first and complete all personal matters that disturb between you and your God. The fact is, God is not optional. . .

Double celebration for General Supply this week

Fifteen year old Edson business is celebrating a grand Opening this Saturday, the combination of a bright new building and a new name

Fifteen years ago, in May, Co-operative Store, to go into 1948, Jack Woywitka came business for himself. At that from Waugh, Alberta, where time he purchased Jellis's he had been manager of a Flour, Feed and Seed store from Mr. William Jellis, an Edson oldtimer who also operated Jellis's Funeral Parlor.

Mr Herman Lindgren, had been working for Mr. Jellis and continued on in the renamed Edson Feed, Flour and Seed Store. Five months later, Jack's brother-in-law, Peter Rybicki, became co-owner in the business.

Dealing strictly in feed, seed and farm implement, the business soon branched out to small hardware. At that time, (1948) Don McLean of B-H Paints showed his confidence in the new business when he persuaded Jack to become the area Brandram-Henderson dealer. About six years ago Brandram-Henderson brought another "first" to Edson when they installed a Color Carousel, a machine that mixes any shade of paint desired by the customer.

Another popular line of merchandise carried by this up-and-coming firm is Pioneer Saws. A complete line of parts and a top service department makes General Supply a popular place with pulp cutters, farmers and others who use this versatile machine.

In 1961, Mr. Lindgren retired from his job and was replaced in the store by Elmer Ahlf who is still with the firm. Four years later in 1956, the name of the business was changed from Edson Feed, Flour and Seed to Edson General Supply Ltd., encompassing their new lines of general hardware, housewares, sporting goods, etc.

The latest step in the business came with the start of their new building last fall This spring another change of name came when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Woywitka became sole owners of the business. Now called J & K General Supply Ltd., the J & K stands for Jack and Kay.

Although they have been in the process of moving into their modern cement block building for some time, and have been operating out of it, they will officially christen their new premises and their new name this Saturday.

At that time there will be low opening prices on everything in the store, plus extra savings on many items. The ladies will particularly appreciate the opening special of a useful plastic pail for only one cent. Of necessity, this is limited to the first 150 ladies in the store on Saturday morning.

Besides this there will be door prizes, treats for the kiddies, free coffee and doughnuts for all

Many fellow businessmen and women are taking the opportunity of extending congratulations and best wishes to the Woywitkas who have helped to prove over the years that Edson is "a good place to do business."

What about their old store building? Jack says that his plans for the future include tearing down this old relic of Edson's pioneer days. In its place he will add another modern building to Edson's main business street.

Congratulations

to Jack and Kay Woywitka

Bridal Shower for June bride

Miss June Scott, bride-elect of June, was guest of honor at two showers last week.

On Wednesday, May 12, Miss Scott was honored by twenty-four guests at the Stood residence, with I. Christensen acting as hostess. A doll with a voluminous skirt camouflaged a box of gifts which was presented to Miss Scott following an evening of games.

A delicious lunch was served with the highlight being a beautifully decorated three-tier cake made and decorated by Mrs. Jean Freeman.

On Thursday evening, Miss Marion Knox entertained twenty guests at a linen shower for Miss Scott. Following a social evening, the gifts were presented in a gaily decorated carousel. A delightful lunch brought the evening to a close.

Miss Scott's marriage to Don Foster takes place on June 26th.

Inter-church youth singspiration

The youth of Edson and vicinity are invited to share in a time of singing after the Sunday evening service, June 2, to be held at the Edson Mennonite Church.

The three-quarter hour program which begins at 8:45 is centered around the songs written by Miss Fanny Crosby, an unusual person whose life story will be given in brief.

Other features will be selections from the audience to be sung from memory and several special music numbers.

This is the summer inter church singspiration. The first one was held at the Edson Baptist Church and was enjoyed by all attending. Take a break and treat yourself to an inspirational songfest this weekend. Everyone is welcome.

Grade one students visit Crimson Crest Dairy

The four grade one classes from the A. H. Dahl school were treated to a field trip on Friday, May 3. The one hundred children and four teachers boarded two school buses at 11:30 a.m. and proceeded to Sundance Creek.

Following a picnic lunch the group went to the Wadley Crimson Crest Dairy farm for a guided tour of buildings, machinery and animals.

The children were thrilled with a wobbly calf, born only a few hours before their arrival. The trip in the bull pen and to the heifer were equally exciting.

A milking machine demonstration was given the children as the contented cows were being led directly from the chopping machine. Other equipment shown and explained to the children were the combine, rake and also machines.

The children received a fund of knowledge concerning the processing of a bottle of milk sterilizing bottles through steaming, to filling, capping and cooling, and finally delivering the milk to our homes.

The field trip was brought to a close when the children were given a treat by the Wadleys on their front lawn: plastic cups for the children and tea for the teachers.

The teachers, children, (and parents, too!) are very grateful to the Wadley family for this delightful and informative afternoon.

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency
and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

First Section — Edson, Alberta, Thursday, June 6, 1963 — Vol. 11, No. 23

NDP Leader says Soc Credit no longer party it pretends

Social Credit is no longer the party it pretends to be, Neil Reimer, Provincial Leader of the New Democratic Party told the meeting in the Edson Parish Hall on Wednesday night.

Mr. Reimer was speaking on behalf of James Torgerson of Edmonton who is running on the NDP ticket in Edson Constituency. Mr. Torgerson confined his remarks, in deference to the provincial leader, to emphasize local issues.

Pointing to the phenomenon of independents running under the Social Credit banner Mr Reimer asserted that "The party no longer protects the people from monopoly, but protects monopoly from the people."

"This is the first time in Alberta's history that a progressive movement like the New Democratic Party has the second largest number of candidates in the running," Mr. Reimer reminded his audience. The Liberals and Conservatives are babbled he said.

Attacking government policies, the speaker said the people have the right to know what kind of law the mejeure bill is going to be before the election and not have it enacted by an order in council.

He also criticized the "extreme arrogance" of the boards who write laws and enforce them. "The civil service has more authority in Alberta that in any other province," claimed Mr. Reimer

In order to relieve taxation, property on property for educational purposes could be reduced 30%. Among them was an extra 3% corporation on big companies, higher royalties from oil companies, etc. Mr. Reimer said he didn't begrudge money for education and stated that for every dollar spent on education $10 comes back to the country through the years.

Mr Reimer satirically paid tribute to Mr. Manning's government "who can send Alberta's oil and gas through pipelines that cost millions of dollars and sell it in Ontario and Seattle cheaper than it is sold here." "We should have Mr. Manning down in Ontario selling it this way so Albertans could benefit," said the speaker.

Need slip for advance vote

Returning Officer John Gerbitz has issued a reminder to persons who may find it necessary to cast their vote in the coming election at the Advance Poll.

Advance Polls are being held in Edson, Hinton and Jasper on June 12, 14 and 15. Those who wish to cast their ballot on any of these dates are cautioned that they must obtain a certificate from the enumerator in their home Polling Subdivision.

Attacking the theme that Alberta is relatively debt free Mr. Reimer quoted figures showing municipal and provincial debt as being $30 per capita in Alberta, $14 in Saskatchewan, and $19 in B.C. and Manitoba. "Alberta has the highest per capita debt in Canada," he claimed.

Mr. Reimer told the meeting about how co-operatives in Saskatchewan save their members money. He also reiterated an earlier charge in the election that Saskatchewan can build roads more cheaply than the Alberta government spends on similar mileage.

Dr P W Cohen of Edson chaired the meeting and in his introductory remarks gave an outline of the NDP stand on medicare. It should be for everyone, without a means test is the NDP contention

FORMER EDSON OPTIMIST CLUB PESIDENT LEW ROBINSON exchanges Canadian and American flags with president-elect Ed Strong of the Breakfast Optimist Club of West Los Angeles. Mr. Robinson is now affiliated with the Los Angeles Club and made the exchange on behalf of the Edson Club. The exchange took place as part of an Optimist international program to promote goodwill and knowledge of Canada and the States among Optimist Clubs in both countries.

MP throws challenge to Mill and Province

"There have been some comments on my speech with regard to the Pulp Mill in Hinton and it's American domination" Dr Hugh Horner writes from Ottawa.

"If these people are sincere, why do we have to continue shipping the best pulp in the world outside of Canada to be fabricated" says the member of Parliament for Jasper-Edson.

"I challenge them to take steps immediately to set up a fabricating plant in Hinton to provide additional jobs for Canadians

"At this time it might be a good thing if the present Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests comes out before the Provincial election and demands this additional secondary industry if North West Pulp and Power are going to continue to have the benefit of huge timber leases in North Western Alberta," concluded Dr Horner.

N. Willmore speaking here on June 13

The Hon. Norman Willmore will be addressing a meeting in the Legion Hall Thursday June 13 at 8 p.m. as part of his speaking tour of the constituency during the election campaign

Social Credit committee rooms have been set up in the former Canadian Propane building across from the Leader office.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sevaser and boys spend a recent weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas.

The Thomas families were grieved to learn of the passing of Jack Kinch, a couple of weeks ago. Jack was on his way to Carrot Creek to visit friends when he died suddenly in Edmonton, of a heart attack.

We enjoyed coffee at the home of Mr and Mrs Matt Kasa, Wednesday of last week and took time out to admire their home and lawn. In the process of renovating our house and building a lawn and yard fence, we grab every opportunity to borrow ideas from our neighbors.

Drove to Jasper Sunday and called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Berhardsen. Karen and Jim spent the long weekend at their home there.

Enjoyed a trip to High Prairie Thursday and a short visit with Grandma Rehner whom we happened to meet in the former "Henderson's Coffee Shop," near Whitecourt.

Witnessed the first major forest fire of the season, near Sunset House and the puny efforts of man attempting to control the blaze that covered hundreds of acres of highly inflamable timber. Fanned by a strong wind the fire appeared to be out of control and near by farmers were burning fire guards around their buildings. One look at a forest fire reminds us that "one tree will make a million matches, but one match can burn a million trees."

Miss Joanne Morris daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris was chosen Queen Candidate for our F.U.A. Local. Boots are out and tickets available from a host of school pals, friends and neighbors, and from Joanne herself.

Best wishes for a complete and speedy recovery to George Hall, a patient in Edson hospital.

Another successful dance was held in Carrot Creek Friday of last week with the Rogers Brothers band and Joyce Smith providing toe tapping music and songs.

We see Pat Bonesky driving a nice Chev pick-up the past weekend. It seems Pat has been horse trading again.

Shirley Thomas has been enjoying the use of a beautiful Pontiac the past week. Mrs. Bill Tochinsk and family are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs Ken Thomas for a week or so, Mrs. Tochinsk has handed the reins over to one who enjoys driving.

You think dogs and people are the only ones who feel like ending it all now and then? Well take it from Bess the shid horse life isn't just a bale of hay for her. We get this straight from the horses mouth and Bess never lies.

Bess had earned a night's rest after toiling all day in the bush, but did she get it? NO She was just settling down for a well deserved nap when Whamo: the barn fell down. Smack dab on top of her.

The thing that upset her most was the fact that she had to stand there for all of a minute before someone came to her rescue. (Actually Bess tells us she didn't think a human had it in him to whack from a sound sleep and reach her in such a short time).

Next night she was lonesome. She started out but eventually landed in a school yard in town. People chased her, dogs barked, cars hooted their horns, no she took to the bush.

When her humans finally caught up with her she was standing behind a tree all set to make a run for it if they happened to be strangers. Of course as soon as she recognized the folk from home she breathed a sigh of relief and gave herself up.

Saturday Bess boarded a truck and came home eager to tell her stall mates of her experience in a strange camp.

The only war approved of was the Trojan War; it was fought over a woman, and the men knew what they were fighting for.

Chester Armstrong's father is spending a holiday with Chester and his family at Shining Bank lake.

George Peake is on the first stage of the construction of a new house Mr Rinske has just completed the digging of the basement.

Orval Pryke's have struck water at 127 feet and report a strong pressure. Forester of Edmonton has been drilling there this past week.

Seeding is pretty well completed in the district, except for one or two who were unfortunate as to have their crop snowed under last fall and had to reseed it this spring. Bill Peach was one of the unfortunate ones and is still seeding.

Crop growth is slow but even due to a combination of cold and dry weather. We could use a rain there day soaker.

JUNIOR CITIZEN AWARD

For the second year a Junior Citizen Award designed to give young Albertans the recognition they deserve and to further encourage the spread of good citizenship among today's young people has been announced by Calgary Power Ltd.

The Leader is cooperating with the rest of the weekly press in Alberta and we take pleasure in pointing out this novel idea to our readers. Every community may not have a candidate, but at least we should review the achievements of our young people each year to see if any should be nominated from our district.

There will be six junior citizens selected for the award of a Canada Savings Bond and a framed citation of their achievement each year. As pointed out in the announcement of this series of awards elsewhere in this issue, you the readers of this newspaper will contribute to the success of the program by sending in nominations.

To qualify any boy or girl in Alberta, 16 years of age or under, whom you deem worthy of special recognition for any outstanding achievement, between Oct. 1, 1962, and July 7, 1963, is eligible. Possibly your nominee has performed an act of physical heroism — done an outstanding work with a church, school, social or other organization. Perhaps he or she has organized a worthwhile project, achieved scholastic success under adverse circumstances or shown great courage in illness. The achievement could be in connection with his or her family, his school or his community.

The area of qualification is virtually unlimited. Therefore young people deserving of special recognition in any sphere may be nominated for Junior Citizen of the Year.

Send details of your nomination to this paper with name, address and age of the young person. We are proud to be able to play a part in this recognition of outstanding young people. But don't wait! Nominations must be made by July 1st.

SUCCESS MEANS WORK

Another school year is coming to and end — the end approaching with ominous rapidity for those pupils threatened with failure to pass.

The universities have already held their final exams, and students are waiting results. June is the month of decision for students in elementary and high schools, and examinations will soon be underway in both areas.

The transition from public to secondary school can be difficult, but more difficult is the change from secondary school to university.

An education expert at a recent conference on mental health, held at Kingston, Ont., emphasized this move from secondary school to university as a testing time for students.

"I have noted a special stress in that students are asked to learn in a totally different way at college, for which they are unprepared at high schools," said Dr. Graham Blaine, Jr., psychiatrist to the university health services at Harvard University. He said that originality and creativity are suddenly demanded of those entering university, instead of the regurgitation of memorized knowledge at high school.

This is only part of the stress on the newcomer to university. The tension factors include poor preparation for freshmen for university life, overemphasis on examinations, conflict of early religious training with new ideas encountered in the university, and the anonymity thrust upon freshmen by the size of the university community.

Since Dr. Blaine was talking to experts in the field, he did not mention the obvious, that students who work hard and get high grades can take the next level in stride, whether it's going from grade to grade in public school, form to form in collegiate or year to year in university.

Ladies bursaries pupil bursaries

Grade XII students planning to graduate from high school this year are reminded that provincial bursaries in the amount of $100 each are provided for competent and deserving students by Provincial Command Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion.

To be eligible, a student must be the child or grandchild of a war veteran (World War I or World War II), or the child or grandchild of a man or woman now serving in the Armed Forces.

Successful applicants going on to institutions of higher learning will have the bursary supplied to that institution, to be applied against fees, books, etc.

Should a successful applicant enter a School of Nursing, she will receive $50.00 in cash at the time of her entrance, and the remainder at a later date.

Students wishing to apply for a Canadian Legion Bursary should consult Mrs. E. Carlson, Edson, to secure the necessary application forms.

LOCAL PRIZES

Again this year, the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion will sponsor two $25.00 prizes in grade XI. One will be for the highest mark in Social Studies 20, and the other for the highest average in Language 20 and Literature 20 combined. Reference to the Edson Branch.

Winners of the grade XI prizes will be determined by the Principal on the basis of the school records for the year 1961-62.

For further information, consult either Mrs. E. Carlson or Principal H. D. Meade.

HUMOR COLUMN

In one of his autobiogies of comedians, Bennet Cerf writes that Eddy Kinchwagh, the popular lecturer, was waiting to be introduced at a conference when a workman appeared carrying a screw-driver and beckoned to the chairlady.

After a whispered conference between the two, the chairlady turned and spoke to the audience. "I am sorry," she said, "that there will be a slight delay. Word has just been given to me that there is a screw loose in our speaker."

CAPITOL REPORT

MORE THAN 160 RUNNING FOR ELECTION

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — At week's end more than 160 people were in the race running for the next Legislature's 63 seats.

Social Credit filled its slate Friday with the nomination of Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman in Cardston Riding. At the same time the Liberals had 32 candidates, the New Democratic Party had named 50 and the Liberals had 32 candidates, the New Democratic Party had named 50 and the Progressive Conservatives had 15.

There was only one Communist (Calgary Centre), one Independent (Hand Hills-Acadia) and two Alberta Unity Movement representatives (Lacombe and Stony Plain).

But while contestants were popping up all over the place, contentious issues were harder to come by.

Premier Manning himself, in the latest of his series of paid telecasts, outlined the principal points on which his government is being criticized.

He said they were that: the government has sold and is selling oil and gas resources to big corporations and foreign interests; the government has had too large a majority in the legislature and there is need for a bigger opposition; the government has been too long in office and a change is needed.

All three of the arguments have been heard with tedious regularity in recent weeks, and Mr. Manning's dismissal of them had an equally familiar ring.

Despite the imminent election it appeared to be government "Business as usual" last week.

An agreement between the government and Calgary Power was signed giving the company complete operating rights and control of the Peace and Flood (Control) dam being built on the Brazeau River 90 miles south-west of Edmonton.

The government has provided $14,000,000 for construction of the dam which has begun in 1960 both to produce power and curb pollution.

The company must buy the dam by 1975 or pay interest on the portion advanced by the government. The company will have spent more than $70,000,000 on the project by that date.

The initial four-point program for the province's Northern Development Council was also announced last week following a meeting of Council members and cabinet.

The new body plans to place emphasis on the need for transportation facilities in the north, on development of northern industrial potential, on a change in status for Wood Buffalo Park and on agricultural development.

The Council's purpose is to investigate, plan, co-ordinate and promote development of the northland.

Jack Oberholtzer, Deputy Industry and Development Minister and a Council member, said the probable first area of activity will be transportation. He said facilities are far from adequate for full development of the north.

Tale of a Tax

The mushroom growth of a tax levied at factory level was recently illustrated for the edification of the Royal Commission on Taxation by a cosmetic manufacturer. An item that has a factory price of $1.00, he explained on top of that, or it leaves the factory at part of a distributor; at that point the item, if it were tax free, would be priced at $1.18. The retailer adds 50 per cent, and the consumer would how it fre $1.79.

If in doubt . . .

If in doubt — don't say it...
If it's something which could do harm
If you think there is someone
It might worry or alarm
If it's something that tomorrow
You may wish you could recall
There's a simple rule to follow
DON'T SAY IT AT ALL!

In fact, the $1.00 item starts off with a 50 per cent excise tax plus an 11 per cent sales tax, receives a 15 per cent markup on the $1.82. The distributor's 15 per cent markup then amounts to 10 cents, so it goes out to the retailer then adds 30 per cent, and the consumer buys it at about $2.12 — plus whatever provincial sales tax applies.

And that's how a 50-cent tax and an 11-cent tax add up to 30 cents. —C.J.H

If in doubt — say it...
If it's something kind and true
(never mind how unimportant it may appear to you)
If there's one chance in a thousand
It might make some sad heart gay
Then don't hesitate a moment
SAY IT RIGHT AWAY!

Swimming pool going strong

The schedule for the Edson swimming pool has been set up for the month of June and classes are well organized now in most age groups.

The correct pool schedule for the month of June follows. It is suggested that interested persons clip this for reference

The group of Grade XII boys who did the "Russian Dance" and sang "The Happy Wonder" were much applauded. As always the students also drew interest and applause. This type of concert is very pleasing to attend, so let's look forward to seeing more of them.

Scattered showers in the past few days have been appreciated, as crops and gardens in the district could stand a good rain.

Mr and Mrs Rod Wiseman and small daughter from Drayton Valley spent last Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. Wiseman.

Mrs. H. Wagner had a club combat with a black bear, managing to get a few good blows in and striking safely away.

Health Unit instituting year round dental program

For the first time in its six year history, the Edson Health Unit will be instituting a year round dental program to start in June, 1961.

The Health Unit has employed a dental auxiliary, Miss Louise Kishimoto, who will be a permanent addition to the staff. She has completed two years training in the School for Dental Auxiliaries, a branch of the College of Dentistry at the University of Alberta.

A native Albertan, Miss Kishimoto lived in Lethbridge prior to her University training. She will be arriving in Edson on June 10 to assume full duties. Although her main office will be Edson, she will be working throughout the Health Unit area.

The public are reminded that the Dental Auxiliary's work will not involve any form of treatment in the way of dental extractions or fillings.

Miss Kishimoto's prime and only interest will be that of prevention and education as regards the dental program. Prevention will take the form of cleaning of teeth, application of topical fluorides and referrals to their private dentist where indicated. Education will take the form of instructing the children on proper care of their teeth in the field of brushing and nutrition.

For the first year of this program, only grade one children throughout the Health Unit will have the benefits of this service. If this program is well accepted by the parents, the hope is that in the near future the program can be expanded to include a broader age group.

The Dental Auxiliary will work on only those children whose parents have signed a Dental Consent Card. A 95 per cent acceptance on dental consents is required.

As the program gets underway, each child in the above mentioned group will receive an appointment time, date and place. Parents are asked to confirm whether or not the child will be able to attend. This will be most important during the summer holidays, when school re-opens in the fall the appointments will be made and held at the schools.

A great amount of the success of this program will depend on the attendance of the parents along with their children at the clinics. It is hoped parents will avail themselves to bring their children rather than send them.

If any parents at any time have any questions regarding this program Health Unit representatives will welcome enquiries.

A bald-headed barber was trying to sell his customer a bottle of hair tonic.

"But how can you expect to sell it when you don't have any hair yourself?" asked the customer.

"Nothing wrong with that," came the answer; "I know a guy who sells brassieres."

Niton Central students present enjoyable festival

Niton Central senior students and instructors are to be congratulated on a delightful Fourth Annual Festival presented Friday, May 31st in the school.

A one act comedy, "School Bus Romance," under the direction of Miss Sunderland, gave parents a practical work a day glimpse into the trials and tribulations of the bus driver.

Dance acts, directed by Mr. Kendrak ran the gamut from modern day twist to Old World Russian Sword dancing. Latin American Limbo, the Charleston, very well presented by Joanne Hewins; and a Scotish number. They provided thrills for every one

Tumbling under the direction of Mr Kendrak with the students accomplishing the impossible as far as the audience was concerned, was very much enjoyed.

The tumbling program was interspersed with comedy as the Great Ahmo (Harold Anchorstoir) attempted to show how tumbling should be done. He wound up a complete "flop," in more ways than one

Following entertainment the audience was treated to a one act play with a serious theme, "The Valiant" was directed by Miss Sunderland. The cast included: Ken Richardson, Bill Cronin, Charlie Bowd, Lynn Thomson, Keith Baker and Jimmy King Vincent Sokoloski who had rehearsed the part of attendant, met with an accident and was unable to take his place in the play.

Miranda Thomas was assistant director, Helen Burian was stage manager, Mr Pollack looked after make-up.

Singing directed by Mr. Hansen included: The Happy Wander, by Grade XII boys.

A Scotish number, Blue Bells of Scotland, Spanish, La Chacarachs; Irish, Rendezvous Stream, American, Good Old Mountain Dew, by the Happy Wanderers, Canadian, This Land is Your Land

Miss Beth Miller at the piano played accompaniment to about vocals with the exception of the Scotish number for which an accordian supplied appropriate music.

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. HURD
THE HOLY BIBLE
Best Seller — Least Read

We have often heard it stated that the Bible is the world's best seller; although more recently, it seems, Communist literature is proving to be a powerful competitor. Even if the Bible is as widely purchased, the question remains, is it as widely read? And the answer seems quite obviously to be, No.

Then why? Why do people buy a book they seldom, if ever read? The most likely reason is the one heard most frequently, It's too hard to understand.

Two things need to be said: First, since the Bible is a divine revelation, it can only adequately be understood by divine illumination. You see, it helps a great deal to know the Author. Every believer in Jesus Christ is indwelt by the Holy Spirit. One of the chief ministries of the Holy Spirit is to enlighten our hearts and minds in divine truth. The Spirit has been given as our Teacher. As you read, let it be with prayer that the Divine Teacher will guide you and give you understanding.

But this is also true. The Bible is a study book. Bible knowledge comes through diligent study. It is as you search that you find. You would never read any other book in a great many folk apparently "read" the Bible, from here, a bit there, some today, skip tomorrow; every body, distracted mind. Try a concerted and consistent plan of Bible study; you'll be amazed at the results.

Of course, the Bible must be read obediently. It is God's living word and will. Are you willing to believe what you read? Are you prepared to accept the Bible's claims, follow its directions, fulfill its precepts. Our life here and our destiny here after depend upon our response to God's revelation in His Word. For the Bible is the voice of God offering salvation through His Son, Jesus Christ.

As Rev. W C Tompkins recently noted in one of his bulletins, "The Word of God insists on absolute faith, implicit obedience, and total surrender . . . It is not enough to believe historical facts about the Bible We must become changed men and women"

Here at The Edson Baptist Church, the Bible is our textbook in every department of the Church and Sunday School. We are anxious, to help you discover the wonders of this Book.

Plan the harvest

BY PASTOR SNOWALTER

The proper time to think about the harvest is at sowing time.

Even a small child knows that good seeds need to be planted before one can expect to gather the fruit.

Truly, only the very ignorant would go with a basket to reap unless there had been first a planting, or to go to pick beans when only peas had been sown.

But men seem most ignorant of God and His law of life. They are not very particular what thoughts, habits, actions, or energies of life are like They never give serious thought to the fact that in these things they are forming the harvest of life.

Some even try to ignore all about planting, cultivating, or pruning and entertain the false hope that somehow somewhere within God's mercy they will not be left out!

Let us not forget the Word which says, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Galatians

FLEXI TOOTH*

HARVESTS MORE CROP - PICKS UP FEWER STONES

Field-tested last year on the prairies, this remarkable new, flexible harvesting tooth for combine and bader pick-ups has proven to be superior to conventional teeth. Flexi Tooth can be lowered closer to the ground. As a result Flexi Tooth harvests more crop per acre.

It picks up fewer stones — meaning less rejection at market — less damage to costly equipment. Mounted in rubber strips Flexi Tooth is quieter — minimizes dust. What's more, wild buckwheat is cleaned off and doesn't "load" as it does with conventional teeth.

Bert Schoeppe sets out Liberal policy for voters

As a contribution to presenting the issues in the current provincial election this paper prints the policy statements by Bert Schoeppe of Hinton, the Liberal candidate for Edson Constituency. Mr. Schoeppe's point of view follows:

As your Liberal candidate I am very pleased to present a program of action for Alberta I believe that it is more important than ever before that we in Alberta have a good, solid alternative in the present government. We have witnessed an ever growing tendency towards outright rule of the Province by bureaucracy.

I would venture to say that almost every person in this audience who has dealt with the Provincial Government will testify to the validity of this statement.

The situation is such that government decisions are handed down by various departments with an arrogance without parallel.

In addition to this growing aspect of a built-in bureaucracy, we find ourselves with a nebulous government under the leadership of one man. I do not deny that he is an extremely able person, however, you know and I know that a proper, democratic government should bring to office the best minds available so that every segment of our society is represented by the members of the crown in Edmonton.

It would be fair to say that Social Credit, because of its nebulous nature, has not been able to attract vigorous intelligent talent to their ranks when our Premier finds it expedient or necessary to hold three top ranking cabinet posts himself.

This surely is a real indictment that government which has been in power for so many years does not have the confidence or the guidance which we expect our governments to show

Therefore, I am proposing to lay before you a dynamic program of action which is truly representative of the needs of Alberta and yourselves in particular.

TAXED OUT OF PROPORTION

One of the most important aspects to all of us and one that has received little consideration and positive action on the part of this government is the continuing heavy burden of school costs on real property; we are taxed out of all proportion without regard to the ability to pay; particulary in respect of young struggling families and those who are now retired on a fixed income.

It is the intention of a new Liberal government to base the property tax for education on a rate not to exceed 25 mills on an equalized assessment. Mr Aalberg says we are spending more per capita in Alberta than any other province, but we are not at all convinced that we are receiving full value for our dollars spent under the present system.

It is our intention to thoroughly review the Cameron Report in its entirety with the view of revising education and teaching standards in Alberta, and make certain that Alberta Teachers Association are discharging their full responsibilities to our educational system

POLICY ON PUBLIC POWER

The Liber party does not believe nor does it advocate nationalization of industry for the sake of nationalization; but we most definitely do not subscribe to the principle of granting monopoly in industry affecting all citizens in Alberta under the guise of Free Enterprise; This is what we have in Alberta have done and continue to do. under the Alberta Power Commission which is a government board. They are three main power companies operating in specified areas best suited to their mutual interests. This is what we refer to as an "exclusive monopoly" supported by the government at large and affecting every taxpayer in the Province of Alberta.

What will effect the Liberal Program offers is not nationalization or interference of free enterprise, but rather that we should "Assume the full responsibility for the production and distribution of power" through the means of legislation with the approval of the public in order to serve and protect the best interests of Alberta.

In spite of powerful opposition and a great deal of criticism, the Liberal Party proposes to assume the full responsibilities, which up until now, we in this Province have guaranteed in private companies on the basis of an exclusive monopoly.

FARM POLICY

Turning now to farm policy it is the intention of a new Liberal Party to establish farm marketing boards by the approval of two-thirds majority of those who vote. It is necessary to place our farmers in a strong marketing position to be sure that they receive the maximum prices. There is no doubt that farm costs today have far outstripped the value he receives for his farm produce.

This area is well aware of the woeful shortage of veterinary surgeons. We intend to establish a veterinary college at the University of Alberta with or without the aid of the federal government.

We intend to create a system of voluntary crop insurance

Probably the most important and most imaginative aspect of the whole Liberal Program is going to be the creation of a "Provincial Development Fund" for the purpose of stimulating investment in Alberta. Certainly this constituency of ours would benefit from the development of secondary industry.

Every citizen will be able to buy shares and participate in revitalizing industry, building up our economy and providing those much needed jobs. Think what this can mean to our farm producers' right in this constituency

I would like to say that I am very proud to offer myself to your Liberal candidate We have a program of action for the betterment of Alberta, consider if you will some very real problems which need measures.

1. The staggering cost of education and property
2. Bureaucracy in our present government.
3. The need for public power.
4. The need for vigorous farm policies.
5. The need to revitalize industry and provide employment. This is the program and I ask for your support on Monday, June 17, 1963

ADULT SUPERVISION - SPECTATORS AND CONTESTANTS AT OWN RISK

Alberta Chamber meeting rejects Hinton - G. P. road

BY M. ELAINE ALEXANDER, HINTON DELEGATE

Two hundred delegates, representing fifty communities were registered at the Alberta Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in the MacDonald Hotel, Edmonton, on May 27 and 28th to consider resolutions and policy declarations as presented.

Plenary sessions were held in the Rupert's Land Suite and the first session was mainly taken up with policy statements regarding agriculture.

Business and government resolutions included one in which the Chamber endorsed the principle of private and corporate ownership of industry, including utility companies. Government is also urged to aid in decentralization of industries.

Educational policy statement included teacher standards, recruiting of teachers of exceptional merit; study of financing of education so as to assure that the program is equitable to all citizens. A separate resolution asks for the establishment of a grade six school in business administration for the 1963 fall term.

REGARDING HIGHWAYS

A major plan for the development of a network of hard surfaced highways and a uniform system of highway load limits which will permit load limits on all Provincial highways of 72,000 lbs. for five axle vehicles; 56,000 lbs. for four axles vehicles and 45,000 lbs. for three axle vehicles.

A bridge across the Peace River was given approval but the highways from Entrance to Grande Prairie and from Cold Lake to Wildhorse were rejected on the grounds of being regional.

Resolutions regarding the Darrel Thompson Highway and the Yellowhead South remain as previously written due to the tabling of a resolution regarding the Howse Pass Route when it was amended to be "after completion of the Yellowhead."

On the proposed Howse Pass Route arguments were hot and heavy on several occasions during the argument for the and feathers were ruffled — with Yellowhead supporters active in their opposition to another route being given priority. Request for the Howse Pass Route has been a tradition for many years at the Alberta Chamber Annual meeting.

The Edmonton Chamber played host at a reception in the ballroom prior to the annual tax cuts. "Reduction in taxation is a necessity as we cannot afford to have money spent for us. We are business men, we are prepared to take chances," he stated. It is just as important to have each community chamber active as to have an active annual dinner at which Hon. Perry Page, Hon. Russell Pririck and others were honored guests. The speaker was Canadian Chamber President, Mr. Victor Oland of Halifax who was introduced by J. A. Weber of Edmonton as, "a man who says what he thinks and means what he says."

Mr. Oland in his address stated that deficit financing is the key to progress of Canada's economy but this should not be taken in the public but rather in the private sector in the form of areas with local group, he concluded.

At the President's Breakfast session held in the Jasper Room, Dennis Sydney O'Connell,secretary manager of the Lethbridge Chamber was guest speaker. Men, money and supervision are the three requisites of the Community Number he said There is one aspect of community life in which the Chamber should take an interest.

Attention is bringing more letters from and into this letters then is used with determination today into a Golden Age — or disaster. Determine your potential. Potential is the sum total of the abilities and talents of a community.

George Didsor, incoming president, was sworn in by the Justice M. E. Manning at the luncheon session. At this session Hon. Gordon Taylor introduced luncheon speaker, Mrs. Margaret "Mac" Murray formerly of Fort St. John and now of Lillooet, B.C. Her topic — the Alaska Highway — "The Cr&k."

She described the building of the Alaska Highway which is still a military road, retained by the military. She outlined some of the problems which would be encountered in paving the existing road and the cost of rebuilding much of this road. "Enhance the speed laws and skip the paving" she advised. For almonths of the year at least the road is paved with snow that makes a smooth surface suitable for travel.

The government is to be asked to study and consider the establishing of Land Titles Offices in several areas — and to encourage and welcome the expansion of the sugar beet industry in Alberta.

Of particular interest in view of recent phebenicites which were defeated due to the two-thirds majority clause, the government has been requested to reduce this to a simple majority as in other notice.

The Banff-Lake Louise Resolution with regard to ski areas and the promotion of these is Alberta parks was accepted as amended, which should encourage the expansion of private enterprise in the ski industry.

A plebescite at a suitable time for the consideration of Daylight Saving Time in the province of Alberta was approved

A request for a Provincial Nanaord was referred to the Board for consideration.

No delegate was present from Edson. John Way and Miss Bobbie Fraser attended from the Jasper Chamber.

NW Baseball League underway for season

BY IVOR FOSTER

Lots happened in the North Western Baseball League action on Sunday. Hinton Hi-Brites ended a two-game league opening slump, by beating the MacKay Braves in both games on Sunday's twin bill in MacKay.

The Jasper Panther's managed to hold onto their league lead by splitting with renamed — and by the looks of it re-vitalized Edson Orioles.

In the MacKay-Hinton encounter Fred Solnki pitched perfect ball for 5 innings and went on to beat the MacKay Braves 7 - 6 in regulation time. A second inning barrage of hits off Al Bjork drove in 5 runs for the Hi Brites and Bjork from the mound Charlie Gallagher came in to relieve and held the Hi Brites to two runs in the following innings.

MacKay scored one in the sixth and five in the 7th off the bats of Al Bjork, Ernie Walsh, Fred Dmytz and a 3 home run by Charlie Gallagher. Al Bjork was the loser

In the second it was Hinton all the way, clobbering MacKay 13 - 3 with Mel Solky on the mound giving up only six hits.

The highlight of the second game was a 6th inning, two run blast by Fred Solnki his first of the '63 season.

JASPER-EDSON SPLIT GAMES

In the Jasper-Edson series it was Jasper in the first game 7 - 1. Proskiw capped his 3rd straight win and Nick Antoremko lost the decision in his first appearance

In the second Dave Anker won his first and Proskiw lost his first of the season. For Anker it was one win and one loss and Proskiw his first loss against three wins.

Glenn Dirk hit his 3rd home run — a bases loaded blast — and Dave Anker hit his second of the season.

LEAGUE OPENERS

Last weeks action saw, Hinton and Art Reich lose out to Jasper and Proskiw in the first game in Jasper and A Fred Solnki lose to Bill Proskiw in the second Glenn Dirk hit two home runs and Red (Mr. Clean) White of hockey fame hit his first of the year.

EDSON-MacKAY SPLIT OPENER

In MacKay it was Edson and MacKay splitting a twin bill. In the first Charlie Gallagher picked up his first win of the season with Anker coming up the loser. There were two home runs in this game: one by Shield (Edson) with his present band, Joe is also a top guitar and fiddle player

Having gathered together a group of Canada's best Country and Western musicians the dance is bound to be a success so make a point to come and hear these entertainers in person.

Dance to feature former Edsonite

Dancing fans and music lovers of western and oldtime music will be pleased to know you will be able to hear the best in Edson on June 14, Little Britches Rodeo Day.

Former Edsonite Joe Sopic, who is currently making quite a name for himself over the air waves of Alberta will be playing for the dance in the evening with his group and the well known Country Rythms Sweethearts.

That group is expected to be in the morning parade and will be meeting people at various during the day but have big plans for a full evening of dancing at the Legion Hall

While living in Edson Joe played for many of the rodeo festivities and appeared on several TV shows in support of the Edson Rodeo On those occasions he was accompanied with Peter Craig, Jim Ball, Bill Owen and Haden Boyd.

Being featured as a vocalist

Robb News

There seems to be a lot activity on the Branch if traffic and equipment means anything

Our local gas-pumper, Les Charlton, has installed new gas pumps which aren't as tall as the old ones. Now he can see over the top and watch the rush coming and going as well as fill gas at the same time. Motto must be "Safety First". Mr. Ken Dean was a visitor from the city over the week-end at Charltons. He was busy helping pour cement for the new addition to the garage

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and family of Edmonton were visitors over the weekend at the Hoglins and Brandles.

Bertie Olson was home at the weekend, returning to WestLock on Sunday evening with his wife and family.

Messrs Bob and Bill Anderson are visiting here for a few days with their sister, Mrs. Simmons.

Wagner's crew, now working on the mill at Brule were all home for the weekend.

Mrs. Rogers spent the week-end in Hinton with her son Buck and family.

Miss Margaret Beatty of Edmonton spent the weekend with her parents at Mile 33

Mr. and Mrs. Milanick and son were visitors of the Voytovich's, leaving their son with his grandmother, Mrs. Voynarick. Mr. Voynovcek is recovering rapidly and is able to drive his truck again

LLOYD BOSSERT (above) made the draw for the 3rd door prize at the J & K General Supply grand opening last Saturday. Here, he holds the prize he drew for, a set of glasses and rack which was won by Miss Marguerite Haughstead of Edson.

EDSON, A CONVENTION TOWN

The following "Meniorial" was given by Bill Hogie of CFRN-TV on May 24 concerning the facilities offered by Our Town:

I won't suggest that the Town of Edson will ever outdraw the town of Jasper as a convention centre . . . (probably due only to the lack of a mountain backdrop) but Edson at least is fast becoming known as the Convention town of Alberta.

For its size . . . Edson outdraws most other Alberta towns in convention bookings . . . a sign of progress and enterprise.

One of the reasons for the advance in Edson is a Mayor W. R. Brunelle . . . and a few public-spirited citizens . . . who have overcome some odds in promoting the town's friendliness . . . and its Rodeo attraction. With elimination of a substantial coal industry . . . and the loss of many railway jobs . . . it might be expected that Edson would become discouraged . . . but now we see it pulling itself up by the bootstraps.

It's booming . . . due in part to an unfolding gas and oil industry, but much of the new investment in hotels, business centres and apartment blocks, is the result of the enterprise of its civic and Chamber of Commerce leaders for helping to make our Grand Opening last Saturday such a decided success. Our thanks also for the best wishes expressed for us by our friends and fellow businessmen.

Congratulations to door prize winners:

Norman Willmore answers questions at Fulham meet

A public meeting was held in Fulham School on the evening of June 8th. Twenty seven people turned out to hear the Honorable N. Willmore speak. C. E. White presided at the meeting and after a few introductory remarks asked Mr Willmore to take the floor.

Mr Willmore reviewed his government's record since 1956 and gave a brief resume of the proposed program regarding health and the senior citizens. He said that nursing homes for the aged who were not able to look after themselves may be used instead of building chronic hospitals.

A question period followed Mr Willmore's speech.

Question: Under the medicare scheme proposed, would the patient have free choice of doctor and hospital?

Answer: Yes. The government has full co-operation of the doctors of the province.

Question: How is the rate of individual premium arrived at?

Answer: There is a possibility it will be based on taxable income, not gross income. Over a certain taxable income bracket the patient pays the whole premium. The lower brackets would be assisted by the government to pay the premium; if income is not taxable you qualify for assisted premium. The scheme is voluntary not compulsive.

Question: Who screens applicants?

Answer: There is no means test. The applicant signs a declaration of his financial standing.

Question; Can the medicare policy be obtained without signing a financial declaration?

Answer: Yes. The applicant simply pays the whole premium. The question of land purchase boards was brought up. The local board often approves purchases which are then turned down by the board in the city. This causes a certain amount of dissatisfaction as some times the people concerned find financial support in other ways and are able to make a private deal.

Question: Why are we paying such high prices for sugar when we have three of the largest sugar refineries in Canada in our own province.

Answer: This is a matter of world price and the province has no jurisdiction over trade and commerce. Mr. Willmore assured his audience that sugar prices will drop soon.

Question: What can one do when a lynx is molesting poultry at 3 a.m. since they are a protected animal and one is supposed to notify the game branch, and we have no phones.

Answer: Shoot it and notify the game branch later. You have the right to shoot any predator molesting your livestock on your own property.

The boldness of bears in the district was brought up. One member of the audience attributed this to the failure of stereomgraph and lumber camps to bury their garbage, thus allowing the bears to no longer fear human scent. Mr. Willmore replied that the forestry branch officers do check these camps but there is lack of cooperation on the part of some camps.

Question: Is there pollution of the water of the Athabasca river from the pulp mill at Hinton?

Answer: Tests are constantly made by the forestry branch and the Dept. of Health and there is not enough toxic matter been found to be harmful. Checks are conducted regularly.

Question: What is being done with the extra dollar charged on game licenses?

Answer: This had been used to compensate for crop damage by wild animals, but the fund was not called on very often, so it is proposed to use this money to train young hunters.

Question: Would this not create a large group of weekend hunters?

Answer: We already have them. There are constant complaints of vandalism, and we consider this to be a problem in educating the young hunter. We will teach him courtesy, recognition of game the more shooting of cows. They will be taught game behavior and the game regulations as well as the proper use of a gun.

The chairman called for a hearty clap for Mr. Willmore and the meeting closed.

In one of his anthologies of anecdotes, Bennet Cerf writes that Emily Kimbrough, the popular lecturer, was waiting to be introduced to an audience when a workman appeared carrying a screw-driver and beckoned to the chairlady.

After a whispered conference between the two, the chairlady turned and spoke to the audience. "I am sorry," she said, "that there will be a slight delay. Word has just been given to me that there is a screw loose in our speaker."

W I MEETING

The June meeting of the Mahaska Womens Institute was held on June 4th, at the home of Mrs Maude Haddock Six members attended, Mrs White presided at the meeting.

Mrs. M. Haddock was asked to continue for this year as vice president.

Mrs. Burka brought a fleece to be used for quilts, Mrs. Haddock will prepare it for carding. Mrs B Fairbairn volunteered to card it. An offer to purchase two more quilts was discussed and approved.

Norman Hayes was home for a few days, on holiday from his job at Judy Creek.

Mr and Mrs Byrd of Edmonton were out for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers and family of Edmonton spent the weekend in their cottage in the district.

Work is going on at Cyrenne corner putting in culverts and straightening the road. this will eliminate a very dangerous curve.

Claude Hellekson, accompanied by Bud Thomas went on a camping, a fishing trip into the hills south of the Athabasca last week. They had the experience of shooting a cougar from a sleeping bag. The small dog they had with them woke them when the cougar came into camp. Mr. Hellekson is going to have the hide tanned for a rug. it measured 8 feet 2 inches long and 4 feet from paw to paw when spread out.

Mr and Mrs Reshill and Mr. and Mrs. Sebastianelli attended the High School Prom in Niton on Friday, June 7th. Quite a number of the young people of the district attended also.

We are appreciating the nice rain we had Sunday and the warm weather since then.

BEAR IN ABUNDANCE

Complaints come drifting in that our wild life is becomic bigger and bolder Milner's h e a bear which hangs around the yard, in fact comes almost to the house door.

One lady of the district looked out her kitchen window to see what the dog was barking at and found him trying to drive away a large black bear near the house. Grizzy sat up and waited at the door which proved too much for the lady who retired to the cellar and let them fight it out. The dog emerged from the battle and brute proceeded to tear the door off the granary and have a feed of grain before leaving the premises.

Mr and Mrs. Ben Green have had a very enjoyable party for their many friends on June 8th.

Annual ball tourney at Hinton this Saturday

The Hinton Hi-Brite Baseball club are sponsoring a four team baseball tournament this Saturday, June 15 at the Hinton sports grounds.

The first game will commence at 10:00 a.m. between the Jasper Panthers and Hinton Hi Brites. At 12.00 noon the hard-hitting MacKay Braves will oppose the rejuvenated and renamed Edson Orioles.

Following this there will be an all star fastball game featuring the best players from the local fastball league.

A highlight of the day's events will be a colorful ceremony by the Hinton Elks Lodge No 420. At that time they will do a full dress march past under the leadership of John Wood, to a point where the Elks and Town officials will unveil a black granite plaque in commemoration of the late Gordon Moore. The late Mr. Moore was a staunch supporter of all forms of athletics in the Town of Hinton and a worthy member of the Elks organization. The Elks Exalted Ruler Eli Hamm and Mayor Wm Switzer will perform the unveiling and in memoriam will name the local ball park, the Gordon Moore Ball Diamond.

The final event of the day will be a nine inning game to decide which team will win first prize money and receive the Hinton Truck Lines Trophy. The trophy was won last year by the Hinton Hi Brites.

There will be a few games of chance for the lucky ones as well as bingo. It is planned to have a few rides for the children to keep them happy while the parents enjoy the other festivities. Come one come all, and support your baseball teams.

AN EDITORIAL LOOK AT EDUCATION

By Maxine Cooke, Editor Hinton Herald

A great deal of concern has been expressed recently about the rising costs of education, which has resulted in higher local taxation. What should be even greater concern to the taxpayers, however, is the value received for their tax dollar.

What many parents find particularly disturbing now days is the number of High School drop-outs, and students that are unsuccessful in year end examinations. Hinton may be only slightly below the provincial average in both respects, but what students, parents, and those concerned with education should be asking themselves is, if this is good enough? Last year, four students passed out of grade 12 with senior matriculation out of a graduating class of 21. Seven were trying for matriculation or university entrance requirements. The remainder were working towards a High School Diploma. This year much the same percentage is expected. There have been a number of drop-outs during the present school year.

The figures may not seem so startling if it is realized that far greater percentage of students go on to High School and the senior High School grades than used to be the case a generation ago. A high drop-out rate occurred then between the Public School and High School grades. Now almost all students are encouraged and expected to continue to the High School level. Consequently many entering in grade nine may not have the ability to read it or successfully complete grade 12, and a certain drop-out rate should be expected. However, who is students of better than average intelligence lose interest, and are among the drop-outs, an effort should be made to determine the reason.

A survey of High School students, their parents, and teachers provides some of the answers. Many students admit they have not been applying themselves to the best of their ability. Although teenagers are quick to take advantage of any laxity in discipline they admit they would work harder, and would actually prefer stricter enforcement of rules. Homework is done for the teachers who insist that it is done, and it is the disciplinarians who command greatest respect and get the best performance from students.

If parents believe, as they seem to, that more discipline would be desirable at school, they must be prepared to back it up completely at home. It is perhaps natural for a parent to feel that his child should be the exception of the rule, and to take his side regularly or wrongly. But when discipline is considered it must be administered fairly and consistently if it is to be respected, and to be effective.

It is a pity perhaps that over the years a high school education has come to be regarded as a right rather than a privilege. Students might value the opportunity for learning more highly if a few sacrifices were necessary on their part. Perhaps the curse of self indulgence as evidenced in class could help students take greater pride in their school and make a greater effort in achieving good basic records. One of the greatest challenges facing teachers of course is to present lessons in such a way that they capture student interest and excite the desire to learn.

It is too late this year to urge students to "pull their socks" or some parents and teachers to "shape up" and examine their responsibilities. But a new school year will be starting in the fall and we hope that a fresh effort will be made to improve attitudes and performance, for the good of all concerned.

We like to shop to music

BY FERN ICE

Music hath charms, accordling to some old time philosopher and come to think about it we agree. One of our leading super markets has a record player somewhere about the place — a record player that really knows its stuff.

What could be more relaxing than a waltz thru the fresh fruit and vegetables to the tune of "In the Good Old Summer Time"?; a few bars from among the canned goods, a lively number from the meat section or a rousing Schottische down the aisle of cheese, eggs and bitter?

Joking aside, we love it; no corny commercials, no jabber jawed interruptions to jar the nerves, just good old music that makes you hum right along as you load up your cart and plan delectable meals for the immediate future.

Hospital Aux. learns of Health Unit duties

At their last meeting before the summer months, members of the St John's Hospital Auxiliary learned something of the Edson Health Unit organization. Dr. Fenton, as guest speaker, gave an outline of what the work of a health unit staff is how big the Edson Health Unit is, how big their staff is, etc.

During the meeting two members of the Auxiliary who will be leaving Edson shortly, were presented with spoons. Mrs. B. Segal and Mrs. Stan Malenko were the spoon recipients. The first baby spoon was presented to Mrs. Kirkan Ash.

Mrs. A. Berglund is busily working on a log cabin quilt which will be raffled for the Auxiliary. Tickets on the quilt will be available shortly. Another fund raising project is the bake sale to be held Saturday, June 22 in the Eaton Order Office.

CAPITOL REPORT

VOTERS NOT VERY STIRRED UP ON ELECTION

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — Volleys were being fired off in all directions last week in connection with the provincial election but no one seems to know whether they were aimed at securing votes or were simply to wake the public up.

Welfare minister L. C. Halmrast has already been elected (by acclamation in Taber-Warner constituency) and more than 200 candidates have filed nomination papers in the contest for the other 62 seats.

Speeches are being made in churches, community halls and clubs every day; press releases are being dispatched by the hundreds; posters are appearing in scattered areas and newspapers, radio, and television advertisements are appearing almost constantly.

It has the earmarks of a real election campaign but the problem is — the people, even if they know, couldn't seem to care less.

With less than a week left for campaigning election talk normally is injected into nearly every conversation but not this year. Premier Manning told the Red Deer audience of less than a hundred in an 800 seat auditorium that public apathy is Social Credit's worst enemy.

He was repeating the remark for the umpteenth time . . . a sign that he may feel some real concern about the possibility of losing by default. He appears to be one of the few Albertans who thinks Social Credit could be in any kind of difficulty at all.

Liberal leader Dave Hunter brought his power team to the fore, noting that he had gained enough public support to persuade Calgary Power to spend thousands of advertising dollars in opposition to it.

Neil Reimer, New Democratic Party head, picked on Northwestern Pulp and Power for helping finance Social Credit's campaign. He also called for the removal of Ponoka returning officer Allan James for what he called James' "partisanship and his enmity" toward Ponoka NDP candidate Alfred Harris.

Milton Harradence, the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, read a prepared statement in Calgary in which he said the Social Credit government knew it was in trouble and that it would introduce a sales tax after the election was out of the way. Responded Mr. Manning. "That's Mr. Harradence's statement and it's as completely inaccurate as his other statements."

The four major parties have tried their best until now to get the electorate agitated about the election and may have had some small measures of success through the popular but expensive medium of television.

However, the Alberta Unity Movement which has been a very real peal as far as the government was concerned for the past year, has said virtually nothing since the campaign got underway. Its half dozen candidates don't appear to be too much of a threat to those they're running against and Mr. Manning has devoted less time during the past two weeks than he did earlier in countering their arguments.

As for the outcome . . . predicting being one of the unfortunate obligations a columnist runs into from time to time . . . we'll make it 55-8 and split eight seats any way you want.

About four years from now we'll be hearing the same appeals for an effective opposition and an end to the dynasty . . . but it won't be this June 17th that it happens.

TORIES ADVOCATE MORE LOCAL AUTHORITY

EDMONTON — The wraps came off the provincial conservative party's platform last week revealing more than 40 planks built around a return of authority to local government bodies.

The campaign policy for the June 17th election was announced in two separate conferences, in Edmonton a share provincial president Gerry Amerongen and in Calgary by party leader Milton Harradence.

Mr. Amerongen charged the Social Credit government with responsibility for destroying the powers of the people chosen to govern municipalities, schools and other local bodies.

"Matters of the most elementary local importance are handled in Edmonton" rather than by local administrators, he said.

He said the government has attached strings to financial assistance it provides local authorities through provincial revenues and treats such payments as a type of bounty when "really it is only redistributing our own funds".

He said the government would also establish a new and more equitable sharing of the tax revenue between the province and municipalities.

Royal Commissions would review sources of taxation, determine the level of government spending necessary for education and study all aspects of natural resources development.

Revelation of the Tory platform completed the list of party policy statements.

Viewed together the most striking thing about them is their similarity. Liberal, Conservative and New Democratic ideas of what is wrong with the present Social Credit government and what can be done to correct it appear to differ only in degree and detail.

The Liberals want to investigate operation of public works department. The New Democratic Party chose the highways department and the Conservatives picked on education and mines and minerals.

All agree property taxes should be reduced with NDP committing itself to cutting the levy for the education foundation program in half.

The Liberals would set up a development fund to give Albertans a share in the oil sands and other developments. The New Democrats would develop the sands through a crown-sponsored company and the Tories would set up a royal commission to recommend best means of development.

The three parties agree there must be a return of authority to municipal administrations and a restoration of legislative power from the boards and tribunals that hold it.

Principle differences are in the NDP concentration on oil and gas development and medical care scheme for all. Liberal takeover of the three major private power companies and Tory detail on such things as an Alberta hansard, bill of rights and a veterinary college with or without federal assistance.

For the Social Credit party the campaign is based on the government's record and a new development program.

Mr Manning considers his greatest enemy to be voter apathy in the wake of two earlier elections in less than a year.

Last week a Social Credit nominating convention for the Vegreville-Bruce constituency was repeated because of irregularities in an earlier meeting . . . and it too, ran into smarts.

It took three votes and considerable bickering before former member Alex Gordey was named.

At one point there were more votes cast than there were delegates and at another a candidate said he played against a "stacked deck".

Following voting results Mr. Gordey said "the good Lord was with me."

Jasper Glee Club gives outstanding performance

Although the audience was not nearly as big as it could have been, those who attended the concert by the Jasper Glee Club last Friday evening were treated to a truly outstanding performance.

Prior to the first that some of the Glee Club had to wait until 9.00, and then were delayed by road construction west of Edson, the concert did not get started at the expected 8.15. However, from the first notes of "The Maple Leaf Forever," their opening selection, the concert was thoroughly enjoyed.

The concert was sponsored by the Edson Craft Centre, who afterwards entertained at a luncheon before the group returned home to Jasper. The Glee Club came to Edson at their own expense. As Mr. J. Brickley, their conductor told the audience, "it seemed a waste to only give the local performance after spending for so many months." Following their Jasper concert, the group gave a benefit performance in Hinton on the 28th of May.

Edson residents can be thankful the group is so generous with their talents for the door take on Friday would never have been enough to cover the sizable fee that most glee clubs of this type would charge.

Singing a variety of selections that are well known and well loved by most music lovers, the concert went smoothly through such numbers as Cool Water, Galway Bay, Buffalo Hymn of the Republic, Lida Rose, etc. It may well be that choice of selecting can mean the success or failure of a singing group and that many popular songs for Edson's auditorya clubs of the past few years would have resulted in this town also being able to boast of a glee club.

An extra treat was the solo by Lee Hunter of the song "When The Sergeant Major's on Parade." Piano accompaniment for this selection was by Ramsey Brickley, who like his mother is an accomplished pianist. Mrs Brickley Sr. plays the accompaniment for the Glee Club performances.

A performer well known in Edson in the person of Mrs. Norma Cohen, gave a well received piano solo during the evening. The glee club and Mrs. Cohen were introduced by Mrs Gus Hetler, president of the Craft Centre

Holidaying in Europe

Two Edson girls, Misses Joyce Bellas and Shirley Beattie, are presently enjoying an exciting holiday in Europe.

They were in Rome at the time of the death of the Pope and visited St Peter's Cathedral where the body was lying in state. They did not join the throng of mourners who filed past the casket as they would have had to wait at least nine hours in line.

The girls are presently resting for a few days at the Italian French Riviera and from there will go to Paris. From Paris they plan to get on for an extended visit in London.

Camp meeting to be held at MacKay

An old style Camp Meeting will be held at MacKay Hall for a full week, July 7th to 14th. All interested are invited to gain faith as they hear the Word of God from various speakers.

There will be special instruction for children.

Everyone is invited to attend and make this one week camp an example of old time revival religion. Those who are able are asked to take camping equipment, especially cooking utensils and dishes. Meals will be served on the grounds by free will offerings

A Dutch family's adventure on the Grand Prairie Trail

By Mrs. J. Dykink in a talk at the Adult Education "Graduation"

It was about the year 1926 when Uncle John and Aunt Anna left Holland with their ten children. Before he left he told his friends, "I am going to Canada, because I want a great big farm and that is impossible to get here in Holland." It was hard to say relatives and friends behind, but they knew that it was impossible to get the farm he dreamed of, in Holland.

The first thing he said when he saw his wife was, "Now you can bake a big cake Mom. We will have a great big farm in the Peace River Country. That's worth a big cake.

It is October, in the fall of 1914. The train stops in Edmonton and a large family — father, mother, and four train children — step off. Jope they have to go by wagons for three hundred miles. Uncle John was happy. Aunt Janna was sad.

They had a baby of three months, and she asked herself, "What will I do when one of the children gets sick? There is no doctor in the whole Peace River Country. Where do we have to live? It will be winter pretty soon, and no house is waiting for us.

"I left all of my friends behind. Over there we will have no neighbors for miles around! Is there a school? No wonder she was sad. There was no road, just a trail from Edson. And there they went —day after day— the family, some cows and guns.

One night the camp was settling down when Uncle John told two of the boys to take the horses and find something to eat for them. The boys left. One hour went by, then another but the boys didn't come back.

So Uncle John told his wife, "I will go with Henry to find the boys." They went and after half an hour they had already found them. The boys told their father that they were lost and couldn't find the camp.

The four of them started walking. It was already dark and they couldn't find the camp. Meanwhile, Aunt Janna was anxiously waiting. What had happened? Where were they? What could she do. It was so dark already. Then she got an idea.

She took a cow bell and started ringing it. She sat there ringing and ringing that bell for hours, but no husband and sons showed up. Finally she got so tired, she fell asleep. But early next morning she started ringing again.

After a little while she saw them coming, all four of them with the horses. They said, "We heard the bell ringing and we tried to walk straight to it, but first the sound came from the south and then from the east. We were so tired that we finally went to sleep until this morning when we heard the bell ring again.

This time we could walk straight to the camp, and we weren't even a mile from it" — La Glace— The boys are busy digging a hole. There is already snow on the ground, and the family is living in a tent. Now they are making a better house. It is a hole in the ground with poles in it and sod around it. Poles are used for the roof with lots of sod on top of it. That is where they had to live that first winter, but there was no room for the older boys to sleep. They had to sleep in a straw stack with the pigs, laying close together to keep warm.

Before spring came, two of the boys had to go to Edson to get supplies. They had to go by sleigh. The day before they left Aunt Janna cooked a big pot of stew. She put it outside as it was frozen solid. This was to be the food for on the way. That is what they did for many years.

Sometimes it was sixty below zero. At night one of the boys chopped branches from a tree to make a bed in the open air. The other made a fire and chopped the food with the same axe.

They kept the fire going all night, but still one of the boys froze his toes. In the morning the snow was mixed very under the bed where they slept.

The trip was not easy with ten children. The youngest was six weeks old but they arrived in good health at Monarch which is about one-hundred miles south of Calgary. After about eight years Uncle John became restless again. "Look," he said, "all my boys is just a quarter of land. That is not enough for me, and I can't get any more land because we don't have any money to buy some. Shall we go some place where we can get homesteads. We have a large family and we can get lots of homesteads. What do you think, Mom" Shall I try There we can get our big farm."

Aunt Janna tried to talk him out of it, but it didn't help much.

Next spring he couldn't stand it any longer. As soon as spring work was over he took his horse and started for the North. He came through Edson, but that was not the kind of country he was looking for.

After a number of weeks the family was anxiously watching for his return. Where was he going? How long would it take him? What was in stock for them? Finally, there he came.

They could already see on his face that he was happy.

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. MURD
"ECHMANN'S GOD"

Even in our enlighted twentieth century it is all too easy to fashion a god to suit one's self and then to worship it to your own utter destruction.

Consider, for example, the situation of Adolf Eichmann, who was recently executed in Israel for methodically bringing about the destruction of some six million Jews in Hitler's Germany. According to William E. Hull, a Pentecostal missionary in Jerusalem who talked with Eichmann concerning his need for salvation, Eichmann was "a firm believer in God" who "prayed every day."

But Mr. Hull has some revealing things to say about Mr. Eichmann's God. "His God was a personal God who wouldn't condemn anyone," Hull is quoted as saying, "and who didn't judge sin. He (Eichmann) saw God manifested everywhere in nature and he strongly believed in a life after death."

"His God:" The words describe Eichmann's error exactly. His God was self-created, a creature of his own poor rationalizing. Clearly this was not the Holy God of the Scriptures, "slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness and truth," but one who will "by no means clear the guilty" (Cf. Ex. 34.7, ASV). The God he claimed to serve does not bear the slightest resemblance to the God who so loved the world and so hated sin that He gave His Son for sinners.

The natural mind immediately does obeisance to that which is outwardly religious. "Belief in God is good," it claims. But there is no help in self-made religion. Belief in one God is a step in the right direction but only a step, as James points out (2.19). The vital step is that the seeker come to know the "one God, and one mediator between God and man Christ Jesus" (1 Tim. 2.5).

Yet the fact remains that unconverted millions are deceiving themselves by rejecting the message of the Bible and substituting intellectual and emotional cushions of their own making. Those may seem to serve well enough for the present, but they can never bring cleansing from sin, a new life or assurance of heaven. And anything less is too little in the light of eternity's most solemn questions.

Like As A Father

PASTOR SNOWALTER

God often uses common everyday illustrations to explain spiritual truth. He "talks" man's language so that we can understand.

As one might suppose, the earthly illustrations are often inferior images of the Divine truth, especially when man is the object of the illustration.

In one sense, we fathers are like God to our children. They are dependent upon us for the necessities and provisions of life in addition to life itself. Their welfare should be our daily concern.

The Author of the Bible knows that one of our tendencies as fathers is to forget the needs of the little ones. We generally do fairly well by them in providing food and shelter, but at the same time being harsh with them or expecting too much from them.

How grateful we can be that God, our Heavenly Father, isn't toward us as a lot of fathers are to their children. And, how the example of God's dealing with us ought to temper our actions to our dependent ones.

"Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him. For He knoweth our frame; He remembereth that we are dust." Psalm 103.13,14

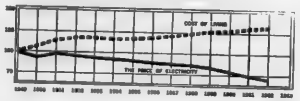
THE COST OF LIVING AND THE PRICE OF ELECTRICITY

Many things have contributed to the rise in our cost of living, but electricity is the exception.



COST OF LIVING TODAY 130% of 1949
PRICE OF ELECTRICITY TODAY 75% OF 1949

Electricity is 'cheaper by the dozen'. Because you're using more electricity today to save time, labour and money, the average cost per KWHr is 25% less than in 1949.

Graduation ceremonies for adult education group

Well over one hundred students, teachers and guests attended Edson's first adult education graduation ceremonies on Thursday, June 6th. Sponsored by the Home & School Association, the affair was held in the High School Auditorium.

Mr. Jon Scott, Chairman of the adult education committee, was a very capable master of ceremonies for the evening. Mr. Ted Yeomans, past president of the Home and School Association extended a welcome to the gathering following the singing of 'O Canada.'

The program got underway with the presentation of certificates of merit to the typing and book keeping classes by the instructors Mrs. Anne Roebuck and Miss Joan Maurice.

The first speaker of the evening was introduced to the audience by Mrs. Helen Graff (Mrs. Edwin McGreer did the adjudicating with a light satire on 'Father's Day.')

Other public speakers interspersed throughout the evening were Mr. Ben Eldridge, introduced by Mr. Herb Martin, and Mrs. Darlene Marx, introduced by Mrs. Barbara Merg. Mr. Eldridge gave a very informative speech on juvenile delinquency, while Mrs. Marx demonstrated a scrapbook of cartoons depicting the various speeches in public speaking classes.

The three serving classes were presented with certificates by Mrs. Hazel Johnson. Mrs. Buhel and Mrs. Paul were unfortunately unable to attend.

At this point, the German classes presented their program, beginning with two prayers and a skit followed by a few well chosen songs with Mrs. Kathleen Carter at the piano.

Speakers from the basic English class included Mrs. Jenny Dykink and Mr. Abe den Ouden. Introduced by their instructor, Mrs. Irene Buchek, Mrs. Dykink gave a very interesting true speech about her uncle and his family who were pioneers of the Peace River country.

Mr. Abe den Ouden who has been in Canada only seven years, told of the perils and hardships to be met when arriving in a strange new country alone and with no knowledge of the language. Members of the class were then presented with their certificates.

Rev. Ver Burg regretted his necessary absence and his public speaking class was presented with certificates by Mr. Ted Yeomans.

The French class very ably guided by their teacher, Mr. Ray Morin, sang some very delightful French songs, then accepted their certificates.

The evening was brought to a close with a few well chosen words from Mr. Alex Justice, past of Schools. Lunch was served by the Home & School Association.

Following the ceremonies several of the classes presented their teacher with a gift in appreciation of their help.

McLeod Valley bull scores

Last Sunday's two scheduled ball games in the McLeod Valley baseball League were played in cold, wet weather.

Rosevear met and overcame Wolf Creek at Wolf Creek by a lopsided 10-11 score. The weather was a bit too cold to get out and watch the game in comfort but maybe next Sunday will be better.

The Mahaska ball diamond was the field of battle for the Mahaska Marlboro game. This was rained out at the end of the first inning. Maybe it was just as well for Mahaska had only got a total of 7 points for Marlboro's zero.

Marlboro will be looking for Cards this week at their next meeting with Mahaska.

"IT'S BEEN A PRETTY GOOD FIFTY YEARS" Mr. P. M. Olson could be saying to his wife as he holds her hand during the open house reception at their home last Sunday. Thy reception was arranged by some of the Trail neighbors of the Olson's who presented gifts and good wishes on the momentous occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Olson honored on 50th anniversary

Many old friends and neighbors called during an after noon reception at the Palmer Olson home last Sunday to wish Mr. and Mrs. Olson the best on their 50th wedding anniversary. The reception was organized by their neighbors on the Grand Prairie Trail and was capably handled by Mrs. Fred Gosney, Mrs. Eva Lind strom and Mrs. D. Caswell.

Thirty one members of the family were also present for the anniversary celebration including son Leslie, from Brantford, Ontario three daughters Mrs. Vera Carlson, Mrs. Ruby Layden and Mrs. Verna Miller, 14 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Mae Daley travelled from Sacramento, California, for the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chase from Kelowna, B.C.; Mrs. Ilona Olson from Cimeena, B.C.; Mrs. Leona Barbara and Rita from Innisfail, Alta.

A family dinner was held in the Legion Hall on Saturday Mr Chase spoke on behalf of the honored couple, reviewing the past for those who had gathered. Leslie Olson spoke on behalf of himself and his sisters, thanking God for the opportunity of making this important anniversary celebration possible.

During the two gatherings many cards, and telegrams were received. Among them as messages from Lieutenant Governor J. Percy Page and Premier E. C. Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were married at Bield, Manitoba on June 10, 1913 They spent the first four years of their marriage life there then moved to Kelowna, B.C. in 1920. In 1921 they homesteaded in the Yales district living there until 1947 when they bought their retirement home on the Grand Prairie Trail. Both are enjoying good health and look forward to many more years among their neighbors in the district.

Optimist sponsored youths to attend science seminar

The United Nations Association's third annual Seminar on Science to be held in the Physical Science Building of the University of Alberta at Edmonton from Sunday, Aug. 18th to Saturday (noon) August 24th, 1963 will be attended by two grade XI students of the Edson High School

The Optimist Club of Edson is sponsoring a boy who has excelled in science studies and the Opti Mrs. Club is similarly sponsoring a girl.

The U.N.A. endeavours to keep the public well informed on the work of the United Nations and especially with regard to Canada's part as an active member. The Seminar in Science is designed to provide oriented high school students with an opportunity to view world problems from a scientific point of view and inform the students of the work of the U.N. and in particular U.N.E.S.C.O. in maintaining peace and building friendly co-operation among the nations of the world.

Two students selected from the high school will have an opportunity to view the science facilities of a fine modern university and will hear three outstanding lectures from the University of Alberta staff. An exciting and challenging program for the students has been arranged which will impress them with the opportunities that lie a head in science, that may help solve the great problems faced by mankind in this troubled world.

The Optimist Club and the Opti Mrs. Club feel that these Seminars can play an important role in the education and preparation of our young people today. Financial assistance toward the cost of board, lodge and tuition fee for the week of the seminar and the cost of transportation to and from the school is being granted to Fred Klein, grade XI student and Karen Fosshein

The United Nations Association in Canada members give generously of their time and efforts to organize, finance, and conduct these seminars. The Optimist and Optimist Club hope its small share will help the young students in great measure to give them a wonderful opportunity to increase their scope and knowledge, and help make them better citizens of Canada and the world.

MRS. DARLENE MARIS shows the adult Education graduating class scrapbook of the cartoons depicting various speeches in the public speaking class.

Lynx increasing in district

BY PERM ICE

"Bob Cats" or rather lynx seem to have moved into the district en-masse according to all reports.

Recently Mr. H. Heintz went out to investigate a commotion in the barn yard and discovered a lynx treed by the family dog. A well aimed shot ended the cat's career and possibly his quest for a change of diet.

According to the encyclopedia the lynx, a member of the cat family, is nocturnal and is a robber of hen-roosts and sheep-folds.

Unlike the cougar the lynx does not attack humans nor animals capable of protecting themselves. To all intent he is a coward and local cattlemen are hoping he continues along this line and steers away from young calves and pigs.

Lighter vote returns Hon. Norman Willmore with wide majority

PART OF PROVINCIAL SOCIAL CREDIT RETURN

Overwhelming endorsation of Norman Willmore for the sixth time was the unqualified verdict of the voters of Edson Constituency in Monday's vote. The trend locally was the same as for the whole province which saw the Social Credit Government of Premier Ernest Manning retain 60 of the 63 seats in the Alberta Legislature.

Mr. Willmore received 3760 of the 4906 votes cast. Bert Schoeppe, his nearest rival, polled 1403 votes on behalf of the Liberal party to retain his deposit of $100. Jim Torgerson polled 734 votes for the New Democratic Party and forfeits his deposit as he did not receive half of the votes of the winning candidate.

The total vote was 58 percent of the 8373 qualified to cast their ballots. In the June election in 1959 Mr. Willmore received 3071 votes, Chris Nielsen, Conservative, 1064 and Mel Parkyn, Liberal, 631 votes. Mr Willmore's tally was 302 less, but amounted to a gain in confidence as 460 less ballots were marked.

Norman and Dorothy Willmore, with son, Jack, were on hand in the Social Credit campaign headquarters in the former Canadian Propane building in Edson as the results came in. Norman was warmly congratulated by his many friends as his re-election for a sixth term sets something of a record even in a party for which such results are relatively commonplace after holding office for 28 years.

At returning Officer John Gerlitz' office Monday everything functioned smoothly while all the returns from the polls flowing in after the polls closed at eight o'clock. By ten o'clock all the polls had been heard from except one isolated one and the board showed the results below:

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE pretty girls in a parade with a cowboy cowboy at their side to set the mood for a Little Britches Rodeo. Last by the Princess Patricia band the parade started off Edson's most successful little stampede to date.

HON. N. A. WILLMORE

Returns to Legislature for sixth term

Total of 19 teams in July 1st tournament

Final arrangements are being made by the Klansmen and Lions Club, co-sponsors of Edson's Annual Affair this year.

Eight baseball teams will be battling each other for the $500.00 in prize money.

The regular NWBL teams of Hinton, Jasper MacKay and Edson are entered. An entry has been received from a club sponsored by Mickeys Coffee Shop in Edmonton who are run through their paces by a well known name in this part of the country Lou Hiatt.

A new Club to Edson but certainly not to the baseball circles is the highly cried City Pales.

This year there is a real injection of home district baseball with an entry from the McLeod Valley League who will be playing under the Rosevear banner. Under the whips of Ernie Fahrion and Nick Mihuch this club will have few surprises in store. Make it a point to take this game in and give the local boys your support.

Oil and money, Drayton Valley have got oil and will be after the money as they round off the eight team entry which will provide Edson and district with some of the best baseball seen for some time.

Fastball action will see eight teams competing for $160.00 in prize money. Here again the local teams of Edson, Hinton and Mahonka will square off against Mr. Fastball himself, Henry Sawyer, who pulls the strings for Spruce Grove Aces. Other city entries are Ed Miller Const. and Alpine Const., back for another try at the money. A new entry coming this year to try their hand is Ideal Paint from Edmonton. Due to the revised school grounds only one diamond will be used and that is at the Jubilee Jr High.

Ladies fastball will see teams from Peers, Edson Drayton Valley, with one more entry to be confirmed yet. Don't miss this action as the scores often resemble a batting beauty contest 24-24-24.

Another big attraction will be the midnight dance in the arena to the toe tapping music of the Hinton Dominoes. For those who want to get out of the sun, Bingo will be held in the Arena on Monday, with prizes galore. All this, together with rides for the kiddies, games of chance and hamburgers to no end promise a good time for everyone.

Sports Day Predictions

(ONE OF THEM HAS TO BE RIGHT)

MacKay Braves scalp opposition and take home first money. Coach of the MacKay Braves Andy Shand predicts this is their year.

Rosevear All-Stars grab first money and head home. Kent Craig, player in the McLeod Valley league predicts their all star club will give all opponents a run for their money.

Booming Bats of Drayton Valley strike again to win First Prize money July 1st. Draytonites believe they have a monopoly on booms and strikes and are not ready to come up dry at any time.

City Pales Capture first money July 1st Policemen are always looking for some one's lost money.

Hinton are up first money July 1st. Everyone believes Hinton has everything sewed up.

Mickey's Baseballers Find July 1st profitable. Lou Hiatt, who is now Coach of Mickey's ball club, has never been to Edson that he didn't win. Either a friend or an admirer.

Jasper and Edson Orioles coaches Mike Bugaida and Dave Anker are staying away from predictions and concentrating on the results.

First big fire burning near Robb

The first sizable fire of the Edson Forest Division for this season broke out Tuesday afternoon at North West Pulp & Power Ltd. Camp 22, about 6 or 7 miles north of Robb.

Men were immediately called out for fire fighting duty, 30 of these from NWP&P Camps 23 and 33 as well as six tractors from these camps. Tuesday night three spray planes from the Edson base were on the job and bombing the fire. In spite of this about 200 acres were burned over by Wednesday and by this time there were 110 men battering the blaze.

A second fire, burning in poplar cover, south and east of Carrot Creek was less severe with 27 men on the job. Fire hazards are quite high following continued hot weather and Forestry men are hoping for rain to ease the tension.

PPCLI Band sparks Little Britches Parade

Smart in the black trousers and scarlet tunics that make up their dress uniform, the famous PPCLI Band from Edmonton was in town to lead the Little Britches Parade last Friday and get activities off to a flying start for the rodeo in the afternoon.

Stepping out smartly in front of the band were the good looking young ladies who make up the Edson Majorettes. Following after the band came an open car carrying Rodeo officials and the Hon. Norman Willmore Three Peats with a rural theme were next in line. These were sponsored by the FUA Locals from Rosevear, Peers and Edson and prizes for their excellence were awarded in that order.

Decorated bikes and horses in groups and singles brought up the rear of the parade. Judges Bert Herring, Mrs. George Zieger and Mrs. J. Garvin awarded prizes in the equestrian entries to: 1st, Carol Pemplet; and 2nd, the Sparks Family entry.

Winners in the bike entries included Alt Canadian, Billy Rulyk; Original pair, Gloria and Evan Davidson; Twin costumes, Valerie Willets and Margaret Spurgeon; Comic, Susan Zedell; Fancy bikes, Lorraine Sabourin, Doris Bissett, Shirley Kehler and Evan Brand. The youngest entry in the parade was four year old Bert Mahon.

Queen candidates were: Colleen Fahrion, Eileen Warren and Johanna Morris. The girls were sponsored by the district FUA Locals. Miss Fahrion was chosen to reign as Queen of the Rodeo.

The busy day had actually started with a bacon and egg breakfast for any member of the FUA who could be at the Edson Trustee corner lot by 8:30 a.m. or shortly thereafter.

The rodeo got underway after dinner with a good turn out in the stands and 180 entries from as far away as Jasper and Haddock. Many people felt that the performances put on by the enthusiastic

The men were competing for the Edson Medical Centre Trophy, for the low net score, the Edson Dairy Trophy, for low gross score, and for a number of prizes given for novelty contests.

The Medical Centre Trophy was won by Ken McElroy with a net score of 102 for the 27 holes and the Edson Dairy Trophy was won once more by Perry Wells with a low gross score of 114.

Winners of the novelty competitions which included the low and high score on hidden holes, the lowest and highest number of putts required for 18 holes, a driving competition, a chip and putt contest, and the high gross score were Tony Grassi, Stan Gelasiet, Bill Kostiuk, Leo Koebel, Percy Wells, Keith Switzer, and Sam [illegible].

All in all an excellent time was enjoyed by everyone, and those that did not win any of the prizes are out practicing for next year's tournament.

Anyone for Scuba Diving?

Once again this season, lessons are being given in scuba diving at the local swimming pool Anyone over 18 who is interested in this fascinating sport are invited to either ask for information at the pool or contact Bandy Murray at Murray's Drug Store.

The first lesson to be held this Thursday evening at the pool.

Scuba diving has been quite popular in the past few years, even before the pool was completed, when Jimmie Mundell, Randy Murray and others started skin diving in Beir Lake and other local lakes. A club was formed with quite an active club [illegible], and though many of the original members have left this area the ones who remain now form the nucleus of the present scuba diving club.

District League ball scores

Both games in the McLeod Valley Baseball League saw unwonted scores last Sunday as fans watched under a hot June sun.

At Marlboro the visiting Rosevear team whomped the locals by a 10 - 5 score.

It must have been visitors day for the Wolf Creek boys, playing at Mahaska, whipped their hosts by an even bigger 11 - 0 score.

An Edson man, Mr. D. B. Bates was elected to the Board of Directors of the Alberta Council for Crippled Children and Adults at their recent annual meeting in Edmonton.

J. A. girls attend Jasper rally

The Junior Auxiliary girls of St. Catherine's church rounded up their fall year of various activities by attending a rally held annually at Jasper.

Fifteen girls in their green and white uniforms parked themselves into several cars and started off bright and early Saturday morning.

At Jasper the girls were treated to lunch and a film strip on Hong Kong, courtesy of the Jasper girls auxiliary. The film was particularly interesting to the girls as they had been their study for the year.

The Edson girls then put on a pantomime, narrated by Valerie Wilhelm, about three refugee children in Hong Kong. Other girls in the group sang an action song. A play on pledges was then portrayed by the Jasper group.

The Juniors are an active group working along with the senior W.A. At their banners this year some of the girls made bibs and jackets for the Indian children as their Dorcas work. They also help pay for a little refugee girl in Hong Kong.

Mrs. Ben Romme and Mrs. Ali Martin, leaders of the group, wish to thank everyone involved for their kindness in making the day at Jasper the success that it was.

IF YOU HAVE NO FACTS DON'T REPEAT IT

This week we carry a warning from Chief Constable J MacDonald, printed below, and a letter from a local solicitor warning rumourmongers that they are treading on dangerous ground in repeating gossip about people without knowing for sure whether the stories have any basis in fact.

The rumours are malicious and are cowardly as well. The person talked about has no reference as certainly no one tells him or her.

This editor has heard several in the last few weeks and in each case we have checked with authorities. As Chief MacDonald states below two men were convicted. The trials were held in open court by the local magistrate and sentence duly passed. No other persons are under suspicion for similar offences. An investigation IS being conducted, but it is about how these slanders got started and how they have been repeated.

If you have no facts — for goodness sake don't encourage anyone to tell you gossip of a slanderous nature. Above all don't repeat anything about local persons concerning, when you have no personal knowledge

Chief MacDonald's warning follows:

In the past three weeks a great many people in the Town of Edson apparently took it upon themselves, with out colour of right or the slightest foundation of truth to spread vicious and malicious gossip about several upstanding citizens of the Town of Edson.

To unlawfully mention an innocent party or parties with a crime that is punishable by law, is a malicious and vindictive motive by those who actually meet together and concerted, and with all disregard for the reputation of their fellow men, those who so willingly and without proof of the same in as them corrupts the reputation of any innocent individual are subject to criminal action and civil libel

Knowingly contributing to such fabrication and failing to disassociate oneself from the malicious allegation of an innocent party is subject to the severe penalty provided by Law

Anyone who has been told an allegation and the false allegation endangers the reputation of party concerned, his family, his business and fails to take the necessary precaution and care, not in further endanger the reputation of individual concerned passes on the malicious falsehood to another person is criminally responsible for the consequences of their conduct.

For the information of those who so maliciously started the false rumors and further spread same so carelessly, they will in due course be interrogated by the police Town Police are now in the act of investigation At no time in the course of police investigation were the names of persons in the form of evidence contained or the slightest suspicion of guilt ever brought to the attention of a other other than the two persons convicted last month.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

Permit me the use of space in your newspaper to make an observation on a very unhealthy situation presently existing in Edson

Last month James Ball and James Dair were charged with an offence under Section 149 of the Criminal Code of Canada. Both men appeared in Magistrate's Court, pleaded guilty to the charges and were sentenced by Magistrate Keyes to one year and six months respectively. The sentences varied in the two cases because of certain mitigating circumstances in the case of James Dair.

No other persons or persons have been charged relative to this matter and on discussing these cases with the police officer in charge of the investigation and also hearing the evidence submitted at both trials the writer finds that no charges are pending against anyone and that no even a shadow of suspicion has been cast upon any other person in our community. These and these alone are the facts.

Rather it appears that certain people in Edson are more than willing to take facts for granted with very little foundation and, seemingly, in the hope that by doing so they will be able to shift the result that for the past month a tremendous amount of filthy, untrue gossip and downright lies have been spread throughout the town. These stories issued around Edson are so utterly false, so utterly ridiculous and so utterly stupid that one questions the intelligence of these people who are unable to recognize a falsehood when they hear one.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to determine where these "crank pot" stories originate but, Mr Editor, I am not concerned here with the "originators" but rather with the "spreaders" of the stories. Apparently certain people in our town fail to realize that often as much damage is done by the "repeater" and "spreader" of false tales as the "originators" and they further fail to realize that they are equally guilty of a criminal offence under the Criminal Code of Canada and liable for damages in a civil suit alone with the "originators"

My point in writing this letter is to attach these so-called citizens of the town who per sist in repeating a shocking story the minute they hear it without first challenging the "teller" to establish its veracity and without first making the slightest effort themselves to find out whether the tale is true or not before passing it on to someone else. These people are dangerous to the community and need to have their mouths washed out and their hunches capped by court action.

At the present time no less than six innocent professional and businessmen are being mentioned in connection with the charges against Ball and Dair.

On discussing this situation with the police officer in charge of the investigation I find that none of these six men has been connected with or even suspected of being connected with or implicated in anyway in these immoral offences or with any other similar immoral offence In other words, the stories which have been spread about the town for the past month are gross falsehoods, malicious lies dastardly and damaging enough and these people who are (not originating) disseminating these lies, are assuming innocent reputations and are leaving themselves exposed to criminal charges and civil actions for libel, slander and defamation.

The situation in this respect has been so bad that last week these lies became the topic of conversation among certain students at our local high school. Thankfully not all high school students are involved in spreading these falsehoods but some are and those students need to be reminded that they are not necessarily exempt from the provisions of the Criminal Code of Canada or from the foundation actions simply because of their immaturity at age.

The writer has asked for the assistance of the Police Department in ferreting out these "repeaters" and "spreaders" of falsehoods and it is expected that these people will be charged with a criminal offence and will be faced with civil suits for damages. These people can take this as a fact and not as a falsehood, and let them start looking around for a while

The prosecutor is wrong this letter, Mr Editor, is twofold, firstly, to put a stop to the spreading of malicious tales and, secondly, in the hope that by doing so these people will retract their statements and thereby right the wrong which they have inflicted upon innocent people

HATTONFORD

This district was well represented at the Little Britches Rodeo. It was pleasing to know that Miss Fabrizio from Hosevear won the Queen contest and also that Hosevear took first in the Goats.

The Rodeo itself left a lot to be desired as to the quality of stock used, as well as the judging of some of the events. However all the contestants were good sports, some what disappointed, and the arrogant and rowdyism seemed to enjoy the day anyway.

Mr and Mrs. Ted Phillips and daughter from Edmonton spent the past weekend with Mr. J. Cundiet and family

Mr. Dale Wigley was a business visitor to Mayerthorpe on Saturday of last week.

Mr. Dick Cundiet is at present employed in Edmonton

Election Day in this district re-named warm and pleasant to allow all voters to get to the poll without difficulty.

The sympathy of the district is extended to Mrs. P. Wasmund on the death of her grandmother Mrs. Hilstrom of Prince Albert, Sask. Mrs Wasmund and son left on Thursday to attend the funeral

Education Department answers delegation from local governments

An answer to the brief presented by delegations representing the two major towns, Hinton and Edson, and the villages of Evansburg and Wildwood which met with members of the provincial cabinet in Edmonton last month has been received.

The delegates from the local municipalities asked for a re-examination of the School Divisional budget and that the Department of Municipal Affairs be asked to review the property assessments in the local improvement districts.

The answer from the Hon Anders Aalborg, Minister of Education, follows.

Mr W R. Brunelle,
Mayor, Town of Edson,
Edson, Alberta.

Dear Mr Brunelle:

This Department has now studied the brief which you and the Mayors of the Town of Edson, the Village of Evansburg and the Village of Wildwood presented to Honourable A. J Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Honourable N. A. Willis more, Minister of Lands and Forests, and myself on Monday, May 13th, recommending that the Department of Education re-examine the budget of the Edson School Division with a view to assisting out areas where expenditures could be cut to the 1962 level

The 1963 budget of the Division has been re-examined as requested and the comments of the officers of the Department in this connection may be summarized as follows:

"Sheets have been prepared comparing the budget of the Edson School Division with the budgets of other school districts. The revenue and expenditures have been compared on a pupil basis as the total enrolments vary a great deal among these divisions

"The division will be entitled to approximately $8,300 under Part G. This has been omitted from the revenue section of the budget.

"The cost of instruction has increased $22.00 per pupil over last year as indicated on these sheets. There is a fluctuation in the enrolments due to the pulp employees who move in after freeze-up in the fall and leave again before the spring break up.

"According to the Chairman of the Divisional Board the cost of utilities is much higher in the Edson School Division than any other areas and he had requested the teams to review the rates charged with a view to obtaining a reduction, but to date this has been unsuccessful.

"The Board should also review the number of teachers required in some of their smaller schools as there is some possibility of reducing the staff.

"The pupil/teacher ratio has dropped from 25.84 in 1959 to 22.88 as indicated in the present budget. At the same time qualifications of the teaching staff have improved since the School Foundation Program began in 1961 These items tend to increase costs which are reflected in the supplementary requisition required.

"The percentage of elementary pupils in Edson is 64.13 per cent in comparison to the provincial average for the divisions of 59.62 per cent. This would indicate that the Edson School Division should be able to improve their pupil/teacher ratio."

The above advice has been forwarded to the School Division.

Attached for your information are statements which compare the financial operations of the Edson School Division from year to year during the period 1959 to 1963, inclusive From these statements the following conclusions may be drawn.

(1) The percentage of elementary pupils in Edson is 64.13 per cent in comparison to the provincial average for the divisions of 59.62 per cent. This would indicate that the Edson School Division should be able to improve their pupil/teacher ratio.

(2) In your Town the school population dropped from 1,304,480 in 1960, before the Foundation Program was introduced, to $1,709,000 in 1963, an increase of $344,320, municipal taxpayers of the Division will be asked to contribute only $600,000 in 1963 as compared with $800,440 in 1960, a decrease of $184,247.

(3) The contribution to the Edson School Division from the general revenue of the Province has risen from $508,777 in 1960 to $1,008,866, in 1963 an increase of nearly 100% in three years.

(4) The Foundation Program of School Finance has saved the taxpayers of your Town and other municipalities of the Edson School Division many thousands of dollars.

Yours sincerely,
Anders O. Aalborg

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir,

Upon receiving such an over-whelming welcome to your "Little Britches Rodeo," I feel in my heart that it be only fitting for me to thank all the wonderful people who made our trip such a success.

Big game dates set out

Alberta's Department of Lands and Forests has just released its Circular No. 8, 12 which declares the bag limits and season dates for all big game in the province. The hunting seasons in which big game may be taken generally lie between August 21 and December 21

The dates vary depending on the species of animal and the hunting zone. The province is divided into twenty four zones and three special areas for the purposes of managing the annual harvest of big game.

Exceptions are elk, which may be taken as late as March 14, 1964, in the Waterton Lakes area and bear, which have an additional spring season from April 1 to June 15, 1964 in the forested areas.

In the settled areas, north of the Bow River, the bear season is open all year round There are also special licenses and tags for the hunting of antelope, antlered whitetail and antlered mule deer in specified areas.

Archers get a break in Zone 6, which lies adjacent to High way No. 1 from Calgary to Banff, with the season stretching from August 31 to December 31 for deer, moose and elk and to October 20 for sheep and goat

United Church plan July vacation school

The Christian Education Committee of the United Church met on Wednesday night to discuss relevant matters. It was decided to abandon the congregational picnic usually held at this time of year as not sufficient interest seemed to be present to hold it, also it was decided to postpone a further Family Night until fall.

Bills were voted paid and arrangements made to provide a sufficient number of copies of "World Friends" the magazine for the primary children in the fall.

Vacation school was discussed and it was decided to hold a vacation school in Edson during the latter part of July if sufficient leaders could be found to help with the program. The actual length of the school or time of it was not settled as this would depend on the opinions of the leaders.

It is hoped that enough people will volunteer their services so that each leader would only have to be responsible for a small part of the program e.g.: crafts, singing, games, study periods. If anyone is interested in lending a hand with this very worth while project they are asked to phone Rev. MacPherson 3-3027, Mrs. J. Oliver 3-3852, Mrs. R. Erickson 3-2022 or Mrs. U. Martin 3-3466 as soon as possible.

A committee was appointed to recruit Sunday school teachers for the fall session and the possibility of holding regular classes for such teachers was discussed. During July no junior church will be held during the regular Sunday school hours from 9:05 to 10:40 as takes the place of Sunday school. All children are invited to attend. There will be no regular classes held.

Arrangements for baby sitting during the summer church services are being made.

Rev. D. MacPherson was allowed expenses to attend a session in Normandville Christian Training College this year.

Pentecostal Church dedication this Sunday

This Sunday will be a highlight day in the history of the congregation of Bethel Pentecostal Church of Edson

Some will remember the old church building that stood on the same location, that building served the congregation for some thirty years Due to needful replacement, a new building project was begun in 1962.

The first step was the completion of the basement which was roofed in and used by the church until now Last year the congregation then took the last step and added the upper part of the church. The construction of the upper part of the building is unique

The structure being that of lodge pole pine logs cut by special machines and not being nailed at any point The log building was manufactured by Pals-Log at their plant at Erith Tie Cr., on the Cnd Branch

The mould of the building from the altar to the entrance is on the rustic design and has a natural warmth and beauty that is hard to surpass. All the interior is in natural wood finish and the color is very soothing and pleasant

The church wishes to thank the many that have made this project possible and trust that in the enlarged facilities it will be of better service to the community at large.

To celebrate this milestone of church history, the dedication of the church will be

WITH

Cubs AND Scouts

Most of the boys planning to attend the Alberta Jamboree, are busy reviewing school work in preparation for the Grade IX exams next week. Good luck, gang.

Among those scouts attending from the Edson Troop are Wayne Callaghan, Jon Jorgman, Terry Caswell, Tim Caswell, Rick Gardiner, Warren Harrison, Ken Jarvis, Kenny Keenlyside, William Mahon, Scott McVay, Duane McLeod, Ian Oliver, Robert Oliver, Allan Remmerth, Grant Schultz, and Jackie Wilson. Steve each Jamboree Troop consists of four patrols of eight Scouts, the Edson representation will be camped with boys from Hinton and Grand Prairie.

The Campsite is divided into four Sub-camps, called after former names for Syl van Lake: Ka-ganna, Wapaco, Methy and Siwa.

The boys should have received a copy of Policy and Organization, a list of personal equipment and a medical sheet to be filled in by their family doctor

Three cars and a trailer have been obtained to transport the boys and their gear to Sylvan Lake: J. Piper, J. Oliver and R. Gardiner will be taking the route through Drayton Valley, thereby, avoiding the heavier traffic and cutting the travelling time considerably

The Scouts should have these gear at J. Oliver's, 6425 - 5 Avenue, on Friday evening, and then appear at the same address before 7:00 a.m. Saturday, complete with lunch to be eaten on the way. The Edson contingent should arrive at Camp Woods at noon or shortly after. Opening ceremonies will take place Sunday, June 23rd.

Closing ceremonies will be held Friday, July 5th, with the boys leaving for home on the Saturday. So far cars are required to bring the boys back. If you would like to volunteer your car for this purpose, kindly contact Ralph Staley at 2-6010.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the Troops from the Yellowhead District to meet with others from this province, as well as scouts from Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Montana, Washington, Central or South America

Yellowhead District events are now available for 25-The 3rd Alberta Jamboree events are also available also be those boys attending the Jamboree. Jasper Camporee events have not arrived as yet

Your MP Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

From the Ottawa Journal Dated May 1, 1963)

Official figures which came last week should be noted well by Canadians.

For what they showed, beyond any dispute whatever, is that when Mr. Diefenbaker handed over the Government of Canada to Mr. Pearson, he presented Mr. Pearson with a house in good order.

He left Mr. Pearson a country whose national production in 1962 had climbed eight per cent to a peak of $40.4 billion — the greatest increase achieved by any Western country and the biggest income ever earned on his story by a country with a population of 20,080 real people.

He left him with a country which, after years of trade deficits, had at last achieved a favorable trade balance.

He left him with a country which on the testimony of President Kennedy, had achieved a greater price stability than any other Western industrial nation.

He left him with a country whose reserves of gold and U.S. currency had been brought to $2,700,000,000— the greatest reached in years.

He left him with a country on which, during 1962, trade had reached an all-time high in which manufacturing had jumped by eight per cent, construction by 9.2 per cent business capital investment by 4.6 per cent, outlays for new machinery and equipment by 8.6 per cent, and consumer spending by five per cent.

Mr Pearson has said that he will "get the economy going" and "restore confidence".

If Mr Pearson can "get the economy going" beyond an increase of eight per cent in the gross national product of a single year we shall all be grateful to him—and we shall not hold him to his talk, about "90 days of achievement."

But what many must wonder about, in the light of the facts we have cited is what Mr Pearson can have in his mind when he talks of "restoring confidence"? What there really any lack of confidence, or reason for lack of confidence, in a country which in trade and income and price stability surpassed every other Western nation in 1962?

We must all hope that Mr Pearson does well; that he will be but to wish well for Canada But for truth's sake, if for nothing else, let Mr Pearson and his friends stop trying to give the impression that they took over a broken-down Canadian economy.

They took over a home in good order — a strong, going concern.

The worst possible kind of government economy is an economy that deprives children of an adequate education opportunity.

It seems as though the two most dangerous periods of life are (1) before 60 and (2) after 60.

MacKay Braves win Hinton Baseball tourney

BY FRED SOLISKI

The MacKay Braves have entered two tournaments so far this season and have won both. The Braves defeated the Hi-Liters in the final game of last Saturday's tournament by a score of 5-2 to take top money and possession of the Hinton Truck Line Trophy, courtesy of Ernie Muldoon.

The Annual Tournament commenced at 10:00 a.m. with Hinton playing Jasper. This game was also counted towards League standings and was won by Hinton 7-5. The highlight was a home run by Fred Soliski, which rendered him to a steak dinner donated by the Athabasca Hotel. The winning pitcher was Mel Soltys, who went 6½ innings. He was replaced by Joe Passmore who retired the side in order. The losing pitcher was Bill Prosser.

LOSE IN FINAL INNING

The second game of the day saw the Edson Orioles battle the MacKay Braves in a tie but were defeated 7-6 in the final inning. MacKay had a 6-3 lead going into the fifth inning but Edson managed to push across 4 runs to tie the score.

This was accomplished by means of two free hit batters walking a sacrifice fly and three consecutive singles by Prather, Lagace and McNiven However the Braves catcher Wayne Mullins, scored a run in the top half of the seventh inning to break the tie and win the game.

Following this an all star team defeated Marshall Wells 11-6 in a football game that provided a change of pace.

DEDICATES BALL PARK

Midway in the tournament an impressive ceremony took place when Mayor W. A. Switzer dedicated the ball diamond to the memory of the late Gordon Moore, former Hinton citizen and sports man.

In his brief dedication address Mayor Switzer said, We the citizens of Hinton are gathered here today in the midst of sportsmen and on this field where sportsmanship itself has been displayed on so many occasions, in order to pay our respects to a man who has passed to that far off country, one who has contributed so much to sport in Hinton, to both youth and adults, by his efforts in actively promoting the facilities and the actual games themselves On your behalf I am about to dedicate this ball diamond in his memory. I ask you to rise and pause for one minute's silence in memory of Mr Moore.

The Mayor then stood before the marble plaque with citizens, ball players and family present, and removed the veil with the following remarks: I, William Switzer, Mayor of Hinton, do now, in the name of the citizens of Hinton, dedicate this ball diamond with this plaque in the memory of one of our fellow men who contributed so much to sport, and it shall be known now as the Gordon E. Moore Diamond

MACKAY TAKES FINAL

The final game commenced with Charlie Gallagher pitching his second game of the day and by using a variety of pitches, counted to an easy 8-3 win over the Hinton Hi Riders. Bert Hanson started the game and lasted for 3 innings with his lanky baseball but began to tire and he was relieved by Fred Soliski who finished the game.

The Hinton Hi-Rite Baseball Association wishes to express their gratitude to the Hinton Elks Club and especially to Syd Hillcoat, Ben Schaning, and the remainder of the Elks who contributed so much of their time and efforts towards making the Hinton Annual Baseball Tournament a success. They also thank the many fans who have faithfully supported them so far this year. A special thanks and appreciation to Ray Fortier for his capable handling of his announcing duties.

Shower for Saturday bride

A bridal shower for Miss Deanna Rukavina was held on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leo Bezak. Approximately thirty ladies enjoyed an afternoon of bingo prior to the presentation of the gifts, in a decorated basket, to Miss Rukavina.

A delicious lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. L. Bezak and Mrs. L. Keeley.

Miss Rukavina's marriage to Dennis Hill, takes place from Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, June 22nd.

PPCLI Band leads parade

little britches entries were more enjoyable than the professional riders of the annual rodeo. Maybe it was because the youthful riders put so much heart and effort into their rides, but they certainly held the interest of the crowd.

A big vote of thanks should certainly go to the chute man, judges, rodeo committee and all who helped to organize and keep the rodeo going so smoothly. They had a full afternoon with more entries than expected and a good deal of the credit for a very successful rodeo must go to this hard working group.

The band concert in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. was rather poorly attended but those who knew about it enjoyed a program of musical perfection by the band of the famous Princess Patricia Regiment. The local band also took part in the program.

The dance later that evening in the Legion Hall enjoyed a capacity crowd as Edson and district residents turned out in force to wind up Farmers Day and the Little Britches Rodeo dancing to the music of Joe Supple and his Ramblerin Orchestra from Edmonton.

East District Dale's

We were of the opinion that while on our brief sojourn away from the old homestead, our column would suffer because of more pressing business; but to our surprise we have ample time to jot down current events.

Grandpa Thomas. Bud and Pat went on an early morning fishing trip last Sunday (4:30 a.m. we believe) and came home with a fair sized catch. The early bird gets the worm and the worm gets the fish. Fish worm that is.

Clarence Bowman is breaking a colt for Rays, during his spare moments.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Brown and daughter will take up residence on their newly acquired farm in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos Ice were guests at a surprise silver wedding anniversary given in their behalf at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Beaudy, Saturday, June 8th. Hostesses Donna Ice and Jean Beaudy, and host Pat Beaudy, engineered the get-together, and near fifty friends and relatives gave the finishing touches for a very successful evening. Gifts consisting of an electric mixer and tea-kettle from the family and Clarence; plus several lovely smaller gifts, were presented during the evening. Guests outside the family included, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris and Sabina, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradford and family, Clarence Bowman, Harry White, and Melvin Hellekson. Thanks a million folks we loved every minute of it.

Mrs. Herb Heinks Sr. was admitted to St. John's hospital Sunday. Get well fast Mary.

Inland Raymond Thomas was admitted to hospital last week. Raymond is the young est child of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Thomas.

Anne ice who has been working for some time in the hospital at High Prairie has accepted work with Switzer's Drug Store in Edson, and will be starting her new job soon.

Learned too that Joe Klahbeuch has started planning lumber at his farm near Carrot Creek.

Mrs. Ladouceur was a lone winner of the grand prize in the Edson Legion's open air cash bingo. A total of 39 persons were winners in the 15 game bingo.

Mrs. F. Ladouceur of Hinton wins $1000 cash bingo

Richer by $1000, Mrs. Frank Ladouceur of Hinton was so excited when she won the big prize at the Edson Legion's Cash Bingo last Saturday evening that she couldn't remember how to spell her name.

After quite a few split bingos on the fifty dollar games it was a surprise to everyone, including Mrs. Ladouceur, when she handed her have for a full card after only 46 numbers called.

Shaking with excitement she was escorted to the front platform to have her card checked. When the Legion president Harold Gold asked her how to spell her name so he could make out her cheque she couldn't remember it.

Later, when asked what she was going to do with all her money, Mrs. Ladouceur, who has a growing family, said she hadn't decided yet, but she wouldn't have any trouble finding places to use it.

Of the 322 persons playing bingo for the cash prizes, 39 took home money. Besides Mrs. Ladouceur only three persons won single bingos, $50 each. Mrs. A. McEvoy of Edson won the $50 sale prize.

The Edson Branch of the Legion were gratified with the bingo and with the number of people who turned out to make it such a success.

World famous Wilf Carter to sing here this weekend

Do you like a sad song? Do you like a mournful ditty — a plaintive lament for home, mother or sweetheart? Then you are sure to be a Wilf Carter fan. The top entertainer in the cowboy ballad business got his start right here in Alberta, but his fame has spread over this continent, to England France and even down under to Australia. There are nearly five hundred songs composed and sung by Wilf Carter, and many more stored, and it is hard to keep his records and music below in stock.

When he was in his early teens, Wilf Carter left his home in Guysborough, N.S., via the best-car route for Calgary, Alberta, and then got a cheap hay job on a Carstairs ranch. Here, he learned the tricks of the cowboy's trade... ropin' and ropin', and rodeoing all the while. He attended all the community dances, learned many of the old pioneer tunes, and helped in the entertainment by plunking a guitar and singing cowboy ballads.

When the Calgary Stampede rolled around, Wilf Carter was a real cowboy, and he entered in the wild horse and steer milking events, and rode in the chuckwagon races. He also did a bit of yodelling in the bar, parade, and morning street shows, as a side line, and when he sang of mother, daddy, horses and home, he sounded mournful and sincere.

Wilf's rhythm resembles the trot of a horse, his tunes sound like revival hymns, and his lyrics are filled with honest cowboy sentiment. After a brief spell of yodelling over a Calgary radio station during the depressing thirties, Wilf Carter drifted to the States. Here he picked up the name of "Montana Slim," and in a few short years was broadcasting over Columbia from New York City and receiving ten thousand fan mail letters a week.

Wilf Carter looks like a cowboy, and talks like one. He wears stylish shirts of his own design, and a ten gallon hat is the perfect sounding board for his type of yodelling. He can't read a note of music, but none the less, this guitar-strumming, song writing, broncobusting entertainer has real talent, he likes people, and they like him. The C.P.R. hired him as official songster for the famous Trail Riders' Club a while back, and the version of "There's a Love Knot in my Lariat" resounded from the mountain tops. That winter he cruised to the West Indies, and the tropic nights pulsated with such appeals as "Cowboy, Don't Forget your Mother." Nowadays, when the "Wilf Carter Show" hits the road, people line up for blocks to hear the old maestro, for he has both personality, and a way with a song.

Someday Wilf Carter intends to retire to his Alberta ranch to shoot the breeze with old friends, and watch the prairie sunset. In the meantime he is pretty busy making the most of his time and talents as it says on the plat ter "With words and music by Wilf Carter."

WILF CARTER

Wilf Carter will appear in Edson next Monday evening, July 1st in the Edson Arena at 8 p.m. The Collins Twins will also be a part of the Monday evening stage show in the arena. Persons taking in the ball games on Monday will also see Wilf Carter when he puts in an appearance at the Memorial Park.

Mrs. Upcott of the Mahaska branch and Mrs. Walker of Jasper are in the book of Remembrance and Mrs M. Haddock in the Book of Life.

She explained why the provincial dues had been raised from $1 per member to $2, this was to cover dues to A.C.W.W and travel fund. Mrs Whitson suggested that we file back copies of Home and Country for reference and copy in back of our minute books details of dues scholarships etc

There are new rules coming out for histories and scrapbooks of the branches

Discussion followed regarding constituency funds. Mrs Whitson said there is an organizational fund available in constituency convenors who are trying to organize new branches

Mrs Lawton made a motion that we hold a constituency dues of $1 per member, this was passed Tentative plans were made for the 1964 conference at Hazlehurst

Mrs Atkinson commented on the handicrafts which she had been judging while the meeting was in progress. She suggested that a rug be made available to stimulate interest in the handicraft contest at the constituency conference and suggested that a smaller list of articles should be chosen for competition. The large red class on display this year as aprons. Most articles were very attractive and of good workmanship

SURE LET'S LOOK AT CONFEDERATION

As part of the majority of Canadians referred to as "English" by our brother Canadians in Quebec we have been increasingly perturbed that no real counter statements to those coming from Quebec are being made. The Quebecois say it is time their "nation" received a better deal under confederation or the extremists say they should break away.

With July First coming up next week to remind us that Canada is going to be a hundred years old on July 1st, 1967, perhaps it is time the rest of us in what they call "English" Canada put something on the record. It needs emphasizing that "English" Canada apparently includes native Indians, Irish, German, Russian, Italian, Chinese, French speaking Belgians, Dutch, Polish, Scandinavian and every other national group represented in Canada's make-up. But bi-culturism must only be for Canadians of early French settlement in Canada it would seem

This is not to say that we think that the teaching of the French language should be left to grade ten in our school systems. It is a wonderful thing for our children to be bi- but preferrably multi-lingual if there is a practical way of doing it. Seeing that we have French as well as our corn flakes boxes perhaps it is the one that should be favored. (The publisher even took a course in conversational French this winter). However a strong case could be made for German or Italian or for Russian which is going to be a world language with that country's progress in science and population.

The confederation we learned about in our history books is much more than the joining up of four frightened colonies faced with large armies released from a civil war in the United States. The four were Upper and Lower Canada (Ontario and Quebec) with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick Manitoba entered as a new province in 1870 after some trouble there called the first Reil Rebellion by we "English" Canadians. British Columbia came into Confederation in 1971 after being promised the CPR hookup. Prince Edward Island joined in 1873, Alberta and Saskatchewan joined when Rupert's Land was divided up in 1905. Newfoundland — the oldest British colony — became the tenth province in 1949

This was the timetable and the mechanics of the union of Canada from sea to sea. There was something else that Confederation gave the world. It was the orderly steps by which the colony could break away from its Mother country. The thirteenth original colonies in our south had broken away earlier by brother fighting brother in an armed rebellion. Our sister members of the Commonwealth — Australia and New Zealand for example — chose the Canadian way and remained in the British family of nations

One other thing that should be stated on July First comes up is that Canada DOES have a flag — The Red Ensign. The Union Jack is the flag of the United Kingdom We are heartily in accord with the program of publicity the I.O.D.E. and the Royal Canadian Legion are making to emphasize this point ... several years.

Lady golfers enjoy annual Closed Tourney

The weather cleared and a perfect day for golfing was enjoyed by the contestants in the local Ladies' Closed Tournament, on June 16th

Laura Mahon came home the winner and collected the trophy by carding a low gross score of 82

Maureen Zoerb won the low net score, Kay Reil the long est drive contest and Elsie Wells walked off with the putch and putt competition

Winners of prizes for several novelty contests were Gladys Wortman, Ivy McEvoy, Julie Gerdal and Elsie Wells

It is certainly evident, and encouraging to the Golf Club, that many ladies are finding golf a very enjoyable means of relaxation, as is indicated by the increasing number of women visiting this season A welcome is extended to all the new lady members of the Club, whether they started because of an interest in the game, or as a means of self defence against golfing husbands We know that you will love "the grand old game"

CAPITOL REPORT

THE VOTERS CHOOSE - - - WHY NIT PICK

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — Well, sir Mr. Manning put it, the people had their day and now his administration can get back to the work at hand

And while the Social Credit victory surprised no one the extent of that victory is something to be marvelled at. Again, as Mr. Manning put it, the people are to be congratulated for resisting attempts by opposition groups to mislead them. In his opinion Albertan's once again proved themselves the best informed electorate in Canada.

All three leaders of the parties attributed the landslide more to the premier's personal appeal than to any other factor. Just what they, or their successors, will be doing in the next four year's to tarnish that appeal is not known. But at least the leaders will not have to worry about sessions of the legislature interfering with their plans because they won't be among the three opposition members facing the premier and his 80 colleagues.

Hardly had the candidates given their thank-yous and explanations last week when the possibility of protected rentals in two Edmonton ridings cropped up. Two unsuccessful candidates, Neil Reimer, the NDP leader, and Ian Sinclair, a Liberal objected to the way ballots had been drawn up in their constituencies.

Mr. Reimer finished well behind Lou Heard, a chiropractor whose name appeared on the Edmonton northeast ballot with the prefix "Dr." Mr Reimer said there was no doubt use of the "Dr." cost him votes. "I should have been able to use the fact I'm vice president of the Canadian Labor Congress to influence union voters," he said.

Mr. Nicoll's complaint was about the use of "Dr." before the name of J. Donovan Ross on the ballot in Strathcona centre where the health minister won handily.

The election act stipulates that the name, occupation, residence and party of a candidate must be on ballots, but makes no provision for use of a title or prefix.

"Sticking to the letter of the act the Dr. prefix should not be included," said chief returning officer Raymond Crevalin but he said the matter was a "triviality."

In any case there were 61 Social Creditors who won without the advantage of a "Dr." before their names And the voters who are irresistably attached to Mr. Manning and whoever lags along with him did have their say in choosing a government.

The premier reflected on this point during a television address soon after the election. "It's a little difficult to understand why those newspapers and political opponents who had so much to say about democracy during the election campaign seem now so unwilling to accept its verdict and respect its voice."

At the same time he repeated the promises that had been made by the Social Credit party both before and during the campaign so the public would know just what to expect.

Government programs to commence immediately include recruitment and training of the provincial force of police which will be available to towns, villages and municipalities who wish to use it; and a fact-finding committee to look into the whole question of rising costs of government, education and hospital expenditures on both the provincial and municipal levels.

Also to get into action soon is a stepped up program of northern studies through the northern Alberta Development Council.

And, of course, there's the medical services insurance program which the voters seemed to think was just fine although they haven't been told much about it. It is to be explained soon and will get underway in October, said Mr. Manning.

The Government of Alberta
announces

THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN

WHAT IS THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN?

The Alberta Medical Plan is a measure to provide a pre-payment medical plan covering the costs of medical, surgical and obstetrical services, for all residents of Alberta, regardless of health, age, or forward premium payments for those in defined income levels.

HOW IS IT OPERATED?

Sponsored by the Government of Alberta and endorsed by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, this coverage is made available through the approved insurance companies in Alberta, members of the Canadian Health Insurance Association and Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

Benefits under the Alberta Medical Plan provide for the payment of medical, surgical and obstetrical services (when conception occurs subsequent to date of coverage) of any physician when required for preventive, diagnostic or therapeutic treatment and care; specialist and consultant services as defined under regulations; anaesthetic services; and necessary laboratory services and diagnostic aids including X-ray when ordered and/or provided by a medical practitioner.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

This pre-payment plan is available in three categories on an individual basis—one person two persons
family of three or more persons

As well, it is available on a group basis through your employer.

IS THE PREMIUM FIXED?

The Alberta government has fixed a maximum premium for all insurance companies and below this maximum, premium levels may vary with the company of your choice, thus maintaining the regulation of the market place and the force of competition to the benefit of the insured.

IS THE PLAN LIMITED IN COVERAGE?

Enrollees under the Alberta Medical Plan are at liberty to combine the basic benefits available under the plan with such additional benefits as they may choose in consultation with their insurance company. However, the premium charged for the combined coverage may not exceed the maximum rate established under the Alberta Medical Plan. Any extra premium for additional benefits must be the responsibility of the insured.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR PREMIUM SUBSIDY?

The Alberta Government will pay a portion of the premium for those residents of Alberta in the defined income levels. A resident to receive subsidy must be a person who has resided in Alberta for 12 months of the preceding 24 months.

A.

Alberta residents whose taxable income is below the taxable level according to federal government tax regulations, will benefit from provincial government contribution toward premium costs on the following basis—one person $18.00 a year
two persons $42.00 a year
family of three or more $72.00 a year

In most cases these already covered under a group plan will benefit by the same contributions from the provincial government.

B.

Alberta residents whose taxable income is below $500 according to federal government tax regulations, will benefit from provincial government contribution toward premium costs on the following basis—one person 27.00 a year
two persons $21.00 a year
family of three or more $36.00 a year

In most cases those already covered under a group plan will benefit by the same contributions from the provincial government.

WHEN IS THE PLAN EFFECTIVE?

The starting date for benefits under the Alberta Medical Plan will be October 1st, 1963.

Enrolment under the Alberta Medical Plan commences July 1st, 1963.

All persons who enrol prior to October 1st, 1963, will be eligible for benefits commencing October 1st. Enrolments after this date will become effective from the first day of the fourth month after mailing application. No premium will be charged for this waiting period.

HOW DO I ENROL?

Those applying for non-subsidized enrolment under the Alberta Medical Plan may enrol directly with the insurance company of their choice. Subsidized enrollees must complete with the insurance company of their choice a government contribution application form which is available through the insurance company. A list of health insurance firms is included on the Alberta government information folder available at Alberta government offices, any health insurance office, or the office of your physician.

WHAT ADDITIONAL BENEFITS DOES THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN OFFER?

1. Widow or Widower.
If a person, single or the head of a family, covered continuously under the Alberta Medical Plan for at least two years becomes totally disabled prior to age 65 as the result of an accident, injury or disease and is so prevented from engaging in any gainful occupation, he will not be required to pay his monthly premium for a period of up to six months, starting the third month after his disability.

2. Health Check-up.
After a contract holder has been covered by the Alberta Medical Plan for a continuous period of two years, he and his dependents shall be entitled annually to a routine examination to ensure their continuing good health.

3. Non-Cancellability of Coverage except for gross misuse, or non-payment of premium.

DOES THE PLAN OPERATE OUTSIDE ALBERTA?

In cases where a covered person obtains services as provided under the Alberta Medical Plan from a physician outside the Province of Alberta, the company carrying his insurance will pay the physician the same fee as if such services had been provided in Alberta or the fee charged by the physician, whichever is the lesser. The insured person will be responsible for any additional fees the attending physician may charge.

ARE THERE EXCLUSIONS TO THE PLAN?

The following diseases, conditions and services are excluded from coverage.

All services not rendered by, or under the supervision or direction of, a physician; standard laboratory services and diagnostic aids, including X-rays while the covered person is an in-patient in an approved hospital; preventive procedures, and treatment of diseases and conditions for which, after diagnosis, medical, surgical and obstetrical care can be obtained without cost, or at minimal charge by public authorities; any emergency treatment of mental illness where the said treatment is provided by a physician in the course of his private practice; any conditions which is the responsibility of the Workmen's Compensation Board; sterilization for reasons other than health; treatment for conditions or injuries resulting from active participation in riot, civil disturbance, or while engaging in war or riot; the fitting of eyeglasses, eyeglasses; dental care; visual X-rays for dental purposes; physiotherapy and actinotherapy; institutional nursing services; ambulance services; mileage or time involved by a medical practitioner in travelling; all examinations by a physician as may be required for the use of a third party. Where a covered person makes claim under the contract, and at the time the claim arises he is in force any other form of medical services insurance or coverage, the liability of the approved carrier shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount of the claim and the amount payable under the other medical services insurance or coverage.

ARE THERE ANY SPECIAL RECOMMENDATIONS?

The head of a family who receives government contribution under the Alberta Medical Plan must cover himself and family. Any member of the family, under the age of 19 years shall be entitled upon attaining the age of 19 years, to enrol as a covered person. Any waiting period shall be calculated from the effective date of the original family contract, provided application is made and the appropriate subscription is paid within 30 days of attaining the age of 19 years.

We were amazed at the collection of towels, bathing hats, swimsuits and cloakers which have already accumulated in the swimming pool's lost and found box. So, mother if your child can't find an article, it might be worthwhile to have a look yourself. That lost and found box is big enough to lose a child in!

The beginner's swimming lessons were completed this week Sponsored jointly by the Home & School Assoc and the Red Cross, these lessons were given free to any child who mastered at least three feet to the shoulders. Regular pool admission was charged. A special thank you to the instructors who so unselfishly donated their time in an effort to teach these youngsters to swim.

AS I SEE IT

BY PASTOR E. HURD
Don't Cut Your Sense of values

Pastor Don Whitelaw of Alberhan, Ontario, a Seminary

alsom of ours, reminds us in a recent issue of his bulletin that ever your about this time many students think about leaving school. They feel the urge to stop learning and start earning.

Pastor Whitelaw suggests that if you are one who may feel this way, you should stop and think about the hard financial facts that are involved. For it has been proven that the more schooling you have the more money you will earn every day of your working life.

According to high school statisticts, each year of high school completed adds an average of $250.00 to your annual income The matriculation year adds $440.00 Work that out for a forty year working life. Don't cut your sense of values.

Our writer goes on to say that more tragic still is the fact that far too many people are cutting their sense of values with respect to their eternal soul since they are making no preparation whatsoever for eternity.

Mr. Whitelaw concludes, "Soul values each individual Jesus Christ gave His life for you and me. We are precious in His sight. What a tragedy he spare His love by remaining in sin only to enter eternity separated from Him for ever Check up on your sense of values. Open your hand, heart and will to the greatest gift offered, . forgiveness, peace, and everlasting life by receiving and trusting Jesus Christ as your Saviour and Lord."

Tri-Service Rodeo to be bigger'n better than ever

The tempo of Rodeo planning is starting to pick up with the announcement from Tri-Service officials that Monte MontAna from Northridge, Calif., has been accepted to perform at this year's Rodeo.

Monte has one of the world's smoothest horses. So outstanding is his act that it has appeared on Coast to Coast TV on the "You Asked For It Show."

This coupled with future confirmation that the Shriners Band will also be here; together with the "Red Knight" Paratroops from the Canadian Army; the thrill catching show of Dare Devils Riding Motorcycles through walls of fire; and many more hair raising stunts, promises to give the district one of the top notch rodeo programs of any year.

Girl softballers win 32 - 20 in opener

The Edson Women's Softball team got off to a good start with a decisive 32 to 20 victory in their first game on Sunday, June 23rd, at Peers.

The Edson girls board two coaches this year: Ken Antonenko and Wayne Wartking.

Captain of the team is Jerry Mortimer, who also plays shortstop. Back catcher is Audrey Hyatt, while Mona Mycek pitches them in. Holding the bases are Evelyn Tournel, Fern Lamoureux and Marie Chiasson.

In the field are Sharon Antonenko, Jane Bunyon and Donna Barker. Other players are Rosemarie Wortheim, Marion Rubel and Sherry Jurkowski.

The girls as yet do not have a sponsor. Aren't there any local merchants willing to support a team in exchange for some cheap advertising? As uniforms have already been purchased, expense money would include only meals and equipment.

If anyone is interested in supporting these gals, please phone Jerry Mortimer at 722-3262. Also any girls who still have a uniform from last year are asked to contact Jerry and she will pick them up.

The girls next big game will be the July 1st tournament. Come out and cheer for your favorite team!

In loving memory of W. J. Armstrong, who died suddenly on the 28th of June, 1962.

NWBB League teams split weekend double

BY FRED SOLISKI

The last weekend in the North West Baseball League didn't prove very much. The league standings remained the same. The Edson Orioles and the Hinton Hi Brites split their doubleheader and the MacKay Braves and the Jasper Hatchers beat each other in twin bill.

In the first game of the Hi Brite-Oriole tilt, the Edson team completely overwhelmed the Hinton players by a score of 18 - 2. The game was close to the fifth inning when the score was 8 - 7 for the Orioles then the roof fell in for the Hi Brites. Roger Tymchiske and Al Lagace hit back to back homers off pitcher Chuck Keel. Hinton left fielder Harvey Knoll also lumped one over the fence for his first homer this year.

There were several fielding gems which indicates a good brand of ball. Hinton third baseman Phil Herrison made several diving stops of line shots down the third base line and threw the runner out, on a very fine fielding play.

The second game seemed like a repeat of the first one when Edson took an early lead and appeared to be on their way for their second win. However, Hinton tied the score 6 - 6 and then went ahead 9 - 6 to make this the final score.

Ken Antonenko was the defensive star of this game when he robbed Earl Gray of an extra base hit. The Edson centre fielders raced right back to the centre field fence and caught Gray's hard hit ball which appeared to have gone the distance.

This centre fielder also caught a similar ball that was hit by Hinton second baseman Rod Norbus. Hinton also completed two double plays which cut short an Edson rally.

Your MP Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

Dear Friends:

We now have had 80 days of Liberal rule. Very few decisions of any importance have been made to date. We have a Budget, and it is this that I would like to comment on to you.

You have no doubt heard that the Liberals brought us record taxes to help write the budget. You might say "Good, get all the salves you can." However with these people still on their company payrolls, it is impossible for them not to favour their own backgrounds and training.

Mr. Gordon's budget is a regressive and defensive approach to many problems. He says it is important for Canadians to invest in their own industries and be less dependent on foreign capital, but he does not reform the tax laws that make it unattractive for Canadians to invest. He does not remove the punitive death duties that force Canadians to sell their family companies to foreign interests. He does not offer the slightest incentive to persuade traditionally cautious Canadians of the advantages of investments in risk ventures.

One cannot force people to invest, but one must give them enough incentive to invest either through tax concessions, or create a favourable economic climate where profits are ensured.

The budget confidence disaster failure in this direction by forecasting a gain of only 5% in the gross national product compared to the 7% of last year. This coupled with the much wider application of its 11% sales tax, will cause the cost of living to go up. This budget does nothing for Canada, and gives Canadians few reasons to place their confidence in Mr. Gordon.

The reason no one ever gives the groom a shower is because folks know he's washed up anyway.

Kindergarten class enjoys annual picnic

On Thursday, May 31st, Mrs. Sabourin, the kindergarten children, mothers and younger brothers and sisters held their end of the year picnic at Sombrero camping grounds. It was a gay day, perfect weather wise, for their nature hike and ball game.

The children, rather than play their own ball game, preferred to watch Mom run around the bases. This was great fun until their turn(ed) came.

Tables were set and lunch was enjoyed by all. There is no doubt but that coffee still tastes best when brewed with fresh air and sunshine!

Mrs. Sobourin thanks the parents for their lovely gifts, and feels that the last three years spent working with these youngsters have been three very happy years.

Edson Locals

Mrs. Joyce Robinson and children of Toronto are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn.

Mrs. A. Hearnes of Edson won the camping outfit raffled by the Edson Legion. The draw was made last Saturday evening, June 22. The camping outfit was comprised of a tent, two sleeping bags, two camp cots, camp stove and a picnic thermos jug.

Mr and Mrs. C. E. Bengston and daughter, Mrs. Shaw, of Kimberley, B.C., are visiting this week at the home of Mr. Bengston's sister, Mrs. Aaron Bergland, enroute to Drayton Valley and Westrose.

Mr nd Mrs. Walter Kortzman are enjoying a visit from Mr Kortzman's father, Mr. Charlie Kortzman of Edmonton.

Mrs. Gregson has returned from a trip to Vancouver where she visited her brother Mrs. Mary Bergrem will leave June 30 for a holiday in Scotland. While there she will visit two brothers whom she has never seen as she came to Canada before they were born.

"Beats me what you see in him," said the sweet young thing, "he's just an every day sort of man."

"What more could you ask for?" replied her room mate.

Grand Opening for new Edson billiard hall

The ladies of Edson and District are getting a special invitation this week to call in at the Open House which Pete's Billiards is holding to celebrate the grand opening of his new building on 3rd Avenue East.

The reason for the special invitation? In many centres, especially in cities, the ladies have invaded this once male sanctum, the billiard hall, and have proven they are just as adept, or a little better at the game than many men.

Pete can't see why the girls and women of Edson can't enjoy the sport too. Especially when the surrounding is so bright and attractive. Then too, he would like parents of teenagers to drop in and see where their youths have been spending so much time lately. This of course doesn't mean the men aren't welcome in the Open House or to patronize the business. Men just naturally expect to have a good time at a billiard hall and the bright setting at Pete's will add to their enjoyment.

One thing about the new billiard hall is the fact that swearing and rough talking will not be allowed.

Visitors will see a modern building with huge windows facing south on 3rd Avenue. This combined with the bright inside color scheme gives a building that is altogether pleasant to be in.

The six Brunswick billiard tables are of modern design with light grey legs, sides in turquoise shade. The bright green felt tops are edged with mahogany wood. The ceiling of the building is off white with the top half of the walls in cream shade and the bottom half in mahogany panel.

There are settees of modern design in light grey plastic and chrome for spectators and those waiting for a game.

Manager Pete Rybicki is well known in Edson, having been associated with the Edson General Supply store coming to Edson in 1948. He has plans for enlarging his building but before that time expects to add shuffleboard for his patrons, by next month.

The highlight of the Open House on Saturday will be the announcement of the new name for the business. Up to now it has been automatically called "Pete's Billiards". Mr. Rybicki felt an other name would be more in keeping with the decor of the building and last week asked for suggestions. He has had quite a number mailed in or handed to him.

The judges are to choose the name on Friday night and the new name will be announced at 4 o'clock on Saturday when the $15 prize will be awarded for the best name.

Lightening causes $3,500 school fire

The Edson district, like the rest of Alberta, was hit by severe electrical storms over the weekend. The storms were accompanied by hail in spotty areas that resulted in almost complete losses for a number of crops.

Probably the biggest single loss was that caused by a lightening strike at the Wildwood School. The damage resulted when lightening struck the engine of the exhaust fan in the east end of the auditorium causing a fire to break out.

The resulting fire caused damage amounting to $3,500 which could have been much greater had it not been for quick action on the part of the Wildwood volunteer fire department

School division employees have already started repair work in the auditorium which will necessitate [illegible] and the [illegible] of the roof to repair [illegible] as well as repairs to the fire and water [illegible]. It is expected repair work on the school will take a month to complete

In the immediate Edson district hail did considerable damage on Sundas to Ed Nysarth and Silva farms south of town. Lions volunteer to operate tourist reception centre

A committee from the Edson Lions Club were given the green light at the Council meeting July 2, to operate and place a building at the east end of Highway 16 (4th Avenue) for the reception of tourists passing through town.

This week the Lions Club members have been putting up a Pole-Log building that will feature locally produced lumber and other district supplies.

An official opening of the centre has been tentatively set for July 20 Adverse weather could delay putting the roof and other finishing touches to what promises to be an attractive structure Volunteers have indicated they will be able to staff the centre this summer to provide information on Edson and District and answer enquiries Various tourist promotion organizations have indicated warm approval of this local initiative and are assisting with literature

Present were Mayor W. R. Peterkin and Councillors, M. A Cullin, A Goldstick, M. D Meade and J Scott and one citizen

Council granted its approval to issuance of a license to Mrs. Judy A Owen to operate a beauty parlor business in premises Lot B, Block 18, subject to approval of Health Inspector to proposed plant and operations.

Around Parkland Lodge

There just is not much news from our Lodge at the moment, but we would like to thank the Lions Club for the rides they gave us. We are the ones at present enjoying them very much. We [illegible] wish to thank Mr. Watson for the books he brought the guests and the Edson Masons for the wheel chair they gave us. It will come in very handy.

We had a lovely evening at the Lodge on May 23rd when the Lads from [illegible] entertained us and who I [illegible]

Mrs. I. Chapman has left us and is back with her family at Jasper. Mr. C. Barker has come to his home for a holiday. Mr. E. Perry has left us to live at home, he is feeling much better now.

Mrs. A. Markwood is spending a few days at Jasper. Mrs. Nelson has gone home to stay with Mr. Mitchell's son at Dodsland. We regret that Mrs. N. Thompson is in hospital, we all hope she will be home soon.

A thank you from all to Mr. Dyer for the lovely flowers that he has brought us from his garden.

The guests are enjoying the Afternoon card games and croquet on the lawn in the warm sunshine.

In our garden we have a small shrub with a tiny nest [illegible] in it. There were four small blue eggs in the nest for days, now the latest report is that Mother and Family are doing well.

Visitors are always welcome at the Lodge.

Tourist Centre Motel asset to Edson business

An attractive addition to Edson's off Main business section is the Tourist Centre Motel which is holding its official opening this Saturday July 13.

The Tourist Centre had its beginning last November when Nick Chabik dozed the site off along the [illegible] west of town. At that time many local residents wondered what could possibly be built on a muskeg area like that.

They watched with interest as snow was removed and the actual work began in February. Big machinery prepared the site for the footing forms and heaps of earth were piled up between the bankings and the highway. As the buildings took shape and progressed interest grew in the development.

Carpenters, roofers, window installers, plasterers, painters all seemed to be swarming over the building at one time. At the same time ditches were filled in, local truckers were hauling in dirt and gravel the ground was levelled.

Suddenly the new motel emerged from its cover of snow-cap and motorists could see [illegible] what now proves to be a very attractive building with a distinctive stucco finish that fit in nicely with the dark green spruce at the back of the property.

With the motel Edson also gained some new residents in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kurylo and their family of four. Their children range [illegible]

HAVE WE NO OUTSTANDING JUNIOR CITIZENS?

The question has been asked a number of times whey there has been no nomination for a Master Family or Alberta from this district. We would like to ask: "Why has there been no nomination for a Junior Citizen Award?"

Calgary Power Limited have advertised their offer to make awards to Junior Citizens if Alberta who have some distinction or accomplishment which warrants their election as an award winner. As it says in their advertisement in this issue "Who to nominate: Any Alberta boy or girl 16 years or under, worthy of recognition for an outstanding achievement between October 1, 1962 and August 1, 1963. For example, an act of physical heroism outstanding work with a church, social or other organization scholastic success under adverse circumstances courage in illness."

The nomination is not a difficult task. Here is what they say about it: "How to nominate: Send details to the editor of this newspaper. Include name, address and age of young person you nominate and your own name and address. Nominations must be made not later than August 1, 1963 Winners will receive public recognition and the Alberta Junior Citizen Award."

What about it folks? Here's an award that is just waiting to be won — and somewhere in the district we should be able to locate some young person who is deserving of the recognition.

Will you make a special effort, between now and August 1st, to discover some young person who you believe should receive such an award — let us have his or her name and the facts of the case. We will make sure they are forwarded to Calgary Power as quickly as possible

Dear Sir:

Who Are They?

It seems in every community endeavour you hear the remark, "THEY" should have done this or that.

These people who are referred to as "they" deserve considerable credit as they are working with one thought in mind and that is to develop a better community to raise our families in.

One successful sports tournament has recently passed with considerable acclaim going to a rather small group of people of the community carrying the load.

Before we realize it the two days of the Edson Rodeo will be here with a tremendous amount of work falling on a few. This is a community project bringing business to the town that is an asset to everyone living in Edson.

It should not be necessary to have to be asked to help as your support is needed in building our community along with members of the Edson Trail Rider Rodeo Association.

Just remember a few extra shoulders against the wheel will make the load lighter and they can say, job well done.

Bill Owen

Yellowhead Route to be Parade theme

Rodeo officials are looking forward to a bigger and better rodeo parade than ever before and are asking Edson businesses and organizations to take part by entering a float.

It is suggested that floats this year follow a theme of support for the Yellowhead Route. This should give lots of scope for the imagination for any type of business float.

Competition and awards will be made for the entries in the Friday, August 2nd parade only. Facilities for parking floats will be provided at the fair grounds Anyone wishing float parking space are asked to make a reservation with Lloyd Bossert as soon as possible

ALBERTANS GET LOOK AT MEDICAL PLAN

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — For weeks before the election opposition leaders demanded a detailed look at Mr. Manning's Plan so the public would not have to vote on something it knew little about. Their appeals went unanswered (Mr. Manning said he sincerely wished he could present details but they simply weren't completed) and the public voted for Social Credit and the plan anyway.

Last week, seven days after the election, the premier and Dr. Ross had apparently been able to get the details ironed out and a mass of advertising prepared with which to inform the public of just what the scheme involves.

It differs only in a few ways from the broad general outlines known as far back as last winter.

The non-compulsory plan offers a government subsidy in the payment of health insurance premiums to two groups of persons, those not paying income tax and those with a taxable income not more than $360.

It does not involve a program for persons crippled by an unexpected high burden of medical debt regardless of whether they were enrolled in the plan or not. Such "catastrophe" insurance had been promised, and Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross said it might be implemented later.

The maximum amount of subsidy under current Medical Services Incorporated rates will be 50 per cent. Its provisions are expected to help, in some degree, about 350,000 Albertans to pay their insurance premiums.

In general its coverage appears to parallel that of the average private plan. Things not covered include dental work, eyeglasses, sterilization for reasons other than health and treatment of injuries received while actively engaged in a war or riot.

An unusual feature of the plan, and the one opposition critics say is most open for abuse, is that the government will take anyone's word that he or she is eligible for subsidization. Plans are to make periodic checks to discover frauds but Dr. Ross said the government does not have access to federal income tax records.

For at least one party the election didn't end June 18. The new Democrats announced last week they would challenge in court the election of Social Credit per Lou Hyard in Edmonton North-East. The Social Credit member, a chiropractor, defeated NDP leader Neil Reimer and Mr. Reimer maintains this was at least partly the result of the use of the prefix "Dr." on the ballot in front of the Socred's name.

The NDP says a lawyer told them use of the "Dr." prefix on the ballot is clearly a violation of the Election Act which stipulates name, address and political affiliation must be included but makes no provision for anything else Mr. Reimer trailer by fewer than 1,500 votes.

The week also included some interesting reports on Alberta's education costs on financing.

Education Minister A. C. Aalborg said the debt of the province's school districts had climbed beyond the $140,000,000 mark but that school construction had apparently passed its peak and had levelled off at about $20,000,000.

He explained that rapid centralization in rural districts [illegible] heavy borrowing to provide larger schools for expanding enrolment (rom 1957 to 1959. The peak is over now and it's simply a case of keeping up with natural growth since the backlog had been overcome

Two days later, however, a report was made that the cabinet was considering an increase in the government's tax levy on property for financing the education program — if a planned study of costs indicates a hike is needed

The report said the cabinet does not agree that increased education costs must be met by a boost in the 32-mill appeals went unanswered (Mr. Manning said he sincerely wished he could present details but they simply weren't completed) and the public voted for Social Credit and the plan anyway.

Robb and Branch News

Strange as it may seem the Branch News of last week sure missed the headlines both in the Hinton Herald and the Leader

Several of the former residents too numerous to mention individually were renewing acquaintances and camping over the weekend. Sorry to say our proposed Pat C'less Jamboree for the 21st of June had to be postponed until fall Many former residents were looking forward to it with great anticipation.

Mr. Charltons addition to his garage has turned out to be a new garage much larger than the other one "Must be money in them. Dar bills".

Mr and Mrs Pat Bradley and son Allan were visitors at the Ken Brandies and Hughes last weekend finishing up their holiday having just returned from Vancouver.

Mr and Mrs Johns from the city were visitors at the Ken Brandies on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Dean of Edmonton were visitors at the Les Charltons over the weekend

Mrs Phillip Lang and daughter Gail left for B.C. on Saturday.

Mr Bernie Olson of Morin ville was a visitor at the Kendrys over the weekend taking out a truck load of furniture.

Mr Ken Snyder and Mr. Jake Bellefeider were visitors to the city attending the horse races. Where, we hear, Jake hit the jackpot.

Activity on the Branch is mounting and with our recent fire Mr. Hoglin and Mr Kendrandie have sure ' round up the road between here and Edson and out to the Fire Camp Those boys sure eat or rather I should say, dine very well. There still is a stand by crew stationed at the site but our recent rains have helped considerable

There will be lunge at the childrens picnic at Robb next Friday, June 28 when the Community Association will dispose of the jackpot which totals $70.00 Numbers will be called until it is won as the lunges will be discontinued during the summer months

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pan brun and family accompanied by Mr. Charlie Pambrun motored to McBride, B.C' over the weekend

We have a Chinese chef at the hotel who specializes in Chinese food, so why not take your wife out to dinner at the Bryan Hotel

Electricians have been busy wiring more houses in the area lately

The Kemperdis brothers have opened the mine at Brazeau Remors are going around that 32 mine is going to open We all hope so It will be like old times again

Our wild life seems to be enjoying town again in broad daylight A couple crossed the track between the store and garage the other day and bear are visiting people's doorsteps A couple of cubs were seen at the camp site between Robb and Coal spur as well as a grizzley seen near the Mile 10 camp

DRIVE A CROOKED LINE. Even the soberest of Canadian drivers would have to pity motorists in Stockholm, Sweden, trying to follow this centre white line It took off in snake-like directions after heat from the sun melted the surface of the road.

A COOL BREAK. When the summer sun is scorching, the job of fighting fires can be mighty uncomfortable. This Toronto fireman finds some relief by rinsing his face with spray from leak in hose joint.

Simonette caravan to be held July 20 weekend

EDSON —

On August 21st, 1959, members of the Grande Prairie Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of D J Storrer of that city, travelled over a forestry trail from Goodwin to Entrance, to meet the Yellowhead Caravan at Hinton. The motive was to promote completion of one of the most scenic forestry roads in the area and to provide a link for the Peace River Country with National Parks. They forded rivers and made the trail passable.

In December of that year, with the frost in the ground and a packed snow covered trail, members of the Hinton and District Chamber of Commerce, journeyed over this same route to Goodwin and on to Grande Prairie for a meeting with the Chamber of Commerce there. The object — prevention of a highway.

On the Labor Day Weekend, 1960, the two groups met at the picnic shelter near the Simonette Tower for a Barbecue and dedication of the road as a future Highway 40 from Mexico to Alaska. A rustic sign was erected to mark the spot and let other travellers know that someday this would be an alternate route to Alaska.

Last year's caravan and barbecue was forcibly cancelled due to weather and road conditions. Next weekend July 20 and 21, your Hinton and District Chamber of Commerce, together with the Grande Prairie Chamber has arranged for a barbecue and caravan to the Simonette.

At the Grande Cache Lodge at the Muskeg there will be the annual rodeo Saturday afternoon July 20th. From there to the Simonette is a pleasant trip, through scenic foothills country. The barbecue is on Sunday afternoon with tickets available in several places as listed above. Such entertainment arranged for the afternoon.

A good government campsite and shelter will accommodate the travellers who go on from the rodeo on Saturday to spend the night and take in the affair on Sunday afternoon. Those planning to attend are asked to contact the Chamber Secretary so that arrangements may be made for the herd.

Why not make it a family outing, take along your tent and equipment and be among the trail blazers for a weekend of good fun. For the fullerners, there are streams not too far distant and for those who would rather sleep under a roof, there is accommodation available at the Muskeg.

A group from Edmonton will be flying in to join the group.

Make your plans now, to meet at Simonette.

Pete's Billiards is still Pete's Billiards

With the official opening of Pete's Billiards on June 29th, amusement surprise with the announcement that Pete's would still continue under the same name.

The three judges, Don McCardle, Bert Herring and Bob Watson, looked over the more than 40 entries in Pete's name suggestion contest and decided when all was said and done that the one suggesting Pete's Billiards seemed to ring the bell. The suggestion was sent in by Mrs. Lenore Field who won herself $15.00 for approval of the name.

There was a steady line of well wishers into the Billiard all day, to offer Pete congratulations and best wishes on his new business venture. Many ladies attended and a few stopped for a game of billiards while there.

Door prizes were won by Gene Jokes from Edmonton, a fishing reel, Neil Garbett a travel alarm, and Slim Martin a cue.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST Well-eyed Pike ever taken from the McLeod River is proudly displayed by Ron Tilley of the Leader staff who caught it during one week off. It weighed in at 13 pounds and was 30 inches in length. "It was one of the best fish I've ever eaten," says Ron.

The 3rd Alta. Jamboree - Jamboree of "Promise"

A Jamboree, both in name and fact, is usually identified with Boy Scouts and covers all phases of activity, including camping, meal preparation, program participation and personal cleanliness, and generally inculcates a boisterous frolic.

The third Alberta Jamboree had all the ingredients, attracting 66 Scouts from the states of Washington, Idaho, and Montana; 30 Scouts from British Columbia and the Yukon; 2 Eskimo Scouts from Resolute Bay; 43 from Saskatchewan and one each from Peru, Haiti, Mexico and Brazil.

The balance of the 2000 Scouts came from Alberta, supervised by some 400 leaders. The World Jamboree to be held in Greece in August will be attended by only 1800 Scouts representative of Scouting around the world.

The Yellowhead District contingent of 23 boys, 2 from Hinton and 4 from Edson, hardly knew where to begin when asked to recount some of their experiences of last week. In true Boy Scout tradition they traded and bartered for whatever was available — crests, woggles, neckerchiefs, knives, hats, caps, etc. The new Yellowhead crest proved extremely popular.

The site of Camp Woods run be judged by the 30 minutes it took the furthest camp to answer General Assembly at the camp itself — located on Sylvan Lake.

On arrival at Camp Woods, June 28th, the Yellowhead troops began to set up camp assisted by Commander J Oliver, who later found the camp traffic jammed and returned to have supper with the Scouts.

With the exception of Wayne Callaghan who was lodged with Red Deer Troop at Sub camp Methy 8, the Yellowhead contingent was located in Sub Camp Methy 2, with Rover Chief George Lange of Hinton, Allst Ted Oakley of Alix, and Troop Leaders Bill Mahon and Ken Jarvie in charge of them.

Refrigerated trucks brought milk, meat and other perishable foods in daily. The Scouts drew rations for each meal according to a previously arranged menu. Each patrol was allotted a pound of butter, a gallon of milk, and three loaves of bread per meal, besides meat, vegetables, cereal, fruit juice and dessert. Each patrol was responsible for preparing its own meals.

Activities at camp were many and varied. Besides the usual camp activities of swimming, boating, hiking, and overnight trips, the Scouts were treated to a visit by Governor General Vanier, who inspected the camp and took the salute at the Sunday Church Parade.

Other visitors to camp were Premier Manning, Mayor Hawrelak of Edmonton, Mayor Hall of Red Deer, Mayor Hunter of Calgary, Mayor Hall of Red Deer, Mayor Hunter of Calgary, Mayor Hall of Red Deer, Mayor Hunter of Calgary

Fourteen successfully pass Red Cross Swim tests

HINTON—

Following a strenuous round of lectures, swimming classes and life saving instruction fourteen participants in the Red Cross Instructor's Course held the last week of June successfully completed tests which qualified them as swimming instructors or senior leaders.

Many of the newly qualified instructors and leaders are already donating their time and services assisting with Red Cross swim lessons and life guard supervision at the pool.

G. A. "Gil" Gilmet, Provincial Director of the Red Cross Water Safety Program for Alberta, was in Hinton, June 26 and 27 to help test the instructor candidates and attend the banquet at the Timberland Hotel where awards were presented. He commended all participants for their swimming ability and for their "alacrity, enthusiasm, and business-like attitude."

Hinton is unique, he said, in two ways. It has the largest adult swim program in Alberta, and is the only pool in the province which offers free swimming and free lessons to all.

He told those present that swimming instructors gain a good deal of pleasure from teaching others to swim, and that their skill may sometimes save a life.

Those qualifying for instructors or senior leaders ranged in age from 15 to 32. The youngest candidate, 15 year old Terry Switzer, topped the group with a mark of 96. The general level of swim was high.

Preceding their tests participants received 27 hours of lectures and a good deal of instruction in swimming and life saving techniques. Many of the candidates went down to the pool mornings at 8 a.m. to practice, and on the Saturday prior to their tests were kept busy from 9 a.m. until midnight.

Newly qualified instructors include the following: Harry Karasiuk, Dick Johnson, Ned Bowley, Phyllis North, Virginia Gould, Joyce Parker, K. G. Saunders, Inga Hansen, Wally Waagert, and Larry Ranger.

Those successfully completing the senior course but classed as senior leaders because of age were Terry Switzer, Kenny Anderson, Philip Thompson, and Eric Hansen.

Red Cross instructor and senior leader bodies were presented by Brian Hobson (director of Hinton's swimming instruction program, Eric Anderson local Red Cross president was chairman for the evening.

Hinton Hi-Brites win twice in home games

BY FRED SOLISKI

On Sunday, July 7th, Jasper Panthers played the Hinton Hi-Brites at Hinton and lost both games by scores of 2 - 1 and 5 - 3. The first game was held up for about an hour due to a passing cloud burst. When play resumed there was no scoring until the fourth inning when Bill Proskiw of Jasper hit his first homer of the year to account for their only run. Then Mel Soltys scored in the bottom of the forth inning to tie the score.

Hinton went ahead by one run in the bottom of the sixth when Tom Chaiko scored on a long single by Ernie Middoon, which made the final score of 2 to 1. Winning pitcher was Fred Soliski who gave up 3 hits and struck out 11 batters. Losing pitcher was Bill Proskiw who gave up 7 hits and struck out 7 Hinton batters.

In the second game Hinton scored two runs in the first inning. Jasper threatened to score in the second inning but for a neat double play by one and lineman Earl Gray which quickly stopped a rally by the Panthers. They did score fatally in the third inning, a total of three runs to go ahead on the ball game.

However Hinton Hi-Brites prevailed in their half of the third inning and scored three runs also, with the help of a double by Tom Chaiko and a combination of errors by the Jasper team. This ended the scoring for both teams and a final score of 5 to 3

The highlight of the double-header was probably the first game that was played without errors despite the wet ball and slightly muddy conditions. The winning pitcher was Fred Soliski who relieved Mel Soltys in the third inning and the losing pitcher was again the Iron Man: Bill Proskiw

Unemployment field has little room for the untrained

There is little place in the field of employment today for the untrained worker. The shortage of manpower already developing in the skilled trades in some areas on the Prairies reflects the need for development of skills in line with industry's increasing trends towards automation

This was the statement today of R C MacLean of Winnipeg, assistant director of the Unemployment Insurance Commission in the prairie region when he paid a visit to the National Employment Office in Edson The UIC official drew attention to the importance of technical and vocational training, and noted that many people are taking training or re-training to improve their chances of steady employment.

"At this time of year, with much construction and other industrial activity in progress, and with manpower shortages developing in the skilled trades, it is sometimes difficult to fill an employer's order, especially when he asks for special skill or experience," stated Mr MacLean "To us and the NES as well as himself, the person who is hunting for a job on his own is requested to list his skills and experience with the National Employment Office We are not trying to stop people who are looking for employment on their own, but ask that they also register at their National Employment Office as soon as they are available for work, thereby increasing their chances of obtaining a job"

The number of high school students looking for summer jobs has increased greatly in recent years, so that a problem now exists said the UIC official Describing these young people as being "willing and enterprise" he hoped that any employer who could make use of a student worker would do so, "many of these students need money in order to finish their high school course or go on to university."

Importance of the National Employment Office in Edson area was stressed by Mr MacLean, who referred to nearly 1,500 placements made through the local office in the past year. This certainly indicates the function being performed in the community by the National Employment Service." he stated.

ART OF KEEPING COOL. That sly wink says: "Come on in, the water's fine!" Four-year-old Darlene Rowe, like all Canadian youngsters, believes that whether it's splashing under a garden hose or kicking up water in a pool or lake, there's nothing like an old-fashioned drenching to cool you off.

Ball game rained out

Only one game was played in the McLeod Valley Baseball League last Sunday. It saw Rosevue take their visitors, the Mahaska nine, by a 7-3 score.

The second game scheduled for Wolf Creek and Marlboro on the Wolf Creek diamond, played second fiddle to a much needed rain.

Trailers needs lights

Persons going on vacation with a trailer or boat trailer in tow should see that they are equipped with tail lights in place of reflectors, police officials advise.

A law came into effect July 1 which make two tail lights mandatory, on all classes of trailers. Cpl. John Wood of the R.C.M.P. points out that a brake-stop light would be an added safety feature that would be advisable although not required by law at present Many provide a greater measure of safety and may become a requirement in future

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my beloved sister, Mrs. Marion Lafleur who passed away July 12, 1950

This date recalls sad memories,
Memories that are lost to us.
Only God knows how much we miss you
You meant so much to us
Though your smile is gone forever.
And your face we cannot see,
We still have sweet memories,
Of you we loved so much
To be remembered and sadly missed by Edson, Mac and Kim

Bear scores youthful fishermen

Two Robb boys had a scare last weekend while fishing in a creek near their home.

Jackie Medubik and Bob Bedard were fishing in the creek just around the corner from Jackie's home. Their dog started to bark frantically and looking up the boys saw a bear not very far away.

They quickly started to run across the creek when Bob, handicapped by rubber boots which quickly filled with water stopped in mid stream to size up the situation. The sight of the bear standing on its hind legs waving its front paws caused him to forget his boots, and head for the opposite bank.

The next time they looked the bear was half way across the creek still coming. They took to their heels again and made it safely home. They were unharmed other than for a bad fright, but they haven't been fishing so frequently since then.

Optional adapter lets you hook up conditioner behind mower, do two big jobs in the same swing through the field!

The powerful 7½ Blade 450 Mower is fully-mounted and hitches quickly to most ASAE 3 point tractors. Its long (3½ in.) sickle stroke means faster mowing action, better mowing efficiency.

You'll like the way New Holland's pitmanless action gives smoother, quieter mowing with just enough vibration to pig short, fine grasses from the cutter bar. This reduces time-consuming delays from clogging. You'll mow up to 7 acres an hour even from hilly fields!

See us soon. Ask for a demonstration.

Details of 6th Annual Rodeo taking shape

Edson's reputation for putting on an exciting rodeo is not going to be diminished this year as details of events scheduled for the three big days are finalized.

President Jim Griffiths of the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association says events are planned to complement the professional competence of Harry Vold, of Pareke's stampede stock, and competitive spirit of some of North America's top riders.

Both Friday and Saturday, Aug. 2 and 3, will start off with a bigger than ever parade which will feature the fine Molson's Band from Edmonton, the Shriners, the Army's "Scotties" and the Vegreville Youth Band, on one or both days.

Attractions will extend into the air as Friday there will be a Para-reverse drop and Sat-urday the RCAF's famed "Red Knight" will make aerobatic passes over the crowds.

Elsewhere in this issue is a list of the purses for the rodeo events and entries in some categories open to local contestants will be received at the former Signal Building prior to August 1st.

The evening performance which will start earlier than previous years, will include motorcycle stunt riding and racing, flat and fast Hat type chariot racing, a midway of fun for all, fireworks as it gets dark, and all the other trimmings.

Special attractions during the day will include industrial displays, children's rides, bingo with a day long background of live Western flower music.

Evening dancing starts Thursday night with Joe Dipple and His Rancheros, the Rogers Bros. and Joyce Smith on Friday night and Gene and The Vergers, Saturday night. All the dances are being held in the Memorial Arena at the corner of 10th and 48th Street.

The Rodeo Queen will be crowned at the dance in the arena on Thursday and with her princesses reign during the two day rodeo.

For those who like prizes, and who doesn't, there will be eight draws of $25 for the lucky program number holder.

Lions sponsored Tourist Bureau opens Saturday

A ribbon cutting by the Hon. Norman Willmore at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon, July 20, will officially open Edson's Tourist Reception Centre.

Sponsored by the Edson Lions Club who have constructed a Fab-a-Log building locally produced by Erith Tie Company, the project has had the active support of the Town Council in addition to the volunteer work by the Lions.

Considerable interest is being evidenced by tourist promotion groups in Alberta. Mr. J. F. Oberholtzer, Deputy Minister of Industry and Development, in the Alberta Government will be on hand, as well as Mr. Ted Kreuzer, of Markland, President of the Alberta Tourist Association, and others from Calgary.

Mayor W. R. Brunelle and Edson Chamber of Commerce President Walter Fenley are also working toward making the opening a memorable one.

Farming in Edson and District is gradually inclined to turn out. There is no need to have the chickens at home either. Mothers in the Lions

No well fire contrary to city report

Contrary to a report emanating from Edmonton there is no truth in the story that a well south of Edson was on fire.

Apparently the report started from someone observing a routine testing of the back pressure on the newly drilled hole.

No need for Red Adair anyway.

Don't fall for these 'Big Deal' peddlers

BY IRENE BOCHEK

While enjoying a second cup of coffee one morning last week a friend phoned to tell of winning two free subscriptions for answering a simple question via the telephone. Upon closer scrutiny, however, the big deal proved not much of a deal at all.

To obtain this 'free' prize, my friend had to subscribe to a third magazine for 60 months at 25c per week.

Some deal! Figure it out, and subscribing to the three magazines through our local agency costs slightly less, and you don't sign to receive magazines you aren't too enthused about anyway for five years.

We wondered what the sales patch would be if the question was answered incorrectly. My opportunity to find out came that very afternoon. Given a choice of two answers I purposely chose the wrong one, feeling rather foolish in my feigned ignorance.

Well," said my sympathetic interrogator, "that is incorrect, but for participating in our telegrams, we are going to send you free — etc."

Thanks just the same!

Naturally, these salesmen are "working their way through college."

Lost! one jacket

Young Edward Minter was looking pretty sad indeed all his freckles when he dropped into The Leader office the other morning. Edward had a problem. He had lost his jacket.

Wolf Creek wins double header

Making up for the time they lost when their game was rained out on July 8th the Wolf Creek boys took both games of their double header from Marlboro when they met them on the Marlboro ball medal. Scores were 11 - 7 and 12 - 11 for Wolf Creek.

The score was a little more lop-sided when Rosevear trivelled to Mahaska to defeat their hosts by a score of 13 - 8.

Of the four teams Mahaska seems to be able to boast the most faithful fans with a pretty good turnout at the home games. The remark has been passed fairly often that the McLeod Valley League games draw better crowds than the Northwestern Ball League does. TB X-ray clinic to cover Niton district

The Mobile TB Chest X-Ray unit to be visiting the Niton district in the near future sponsored by the Niton Community Association. The clinic will set up in the Niton Auditorium.

The area to be covered in the survey is Niton Hatton-ford, Niton Junction and Foley Timber. A house to house canvass will be conducted in the area to register all families. All parents over school age will be included in the registration.

There is a possibility that some few persons may be missed in the canvass, but all are urged to attend to take advantage of this free health service. Time and date of the clinic will be announced as soon as pre-registration is completed.

In charge of the program locally is Mrs. P. Setzer who is being assisted by Mrs. D. Setzer. Mr. & Mrs. Hugh Dun[illegible] of Vega, Alberta Tuberculosis Association, has been in the district making arrangements with the ladies for the clinic.

The tuberculin testing and chest x-ray survey service is sponsored jointly by the Department of Public Health and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association Christmas Seal Fund. It is a source of early discovery not only of unsuspected tuberculosis but many other abnormalities including heart irregularities, tumors, etc. and is especially valuable in view of the absence, in many instances of symptoms becoming obvious

HARVESTS MORE CROP · PICKS UP FEWER STONES

Field-tested last year on the prairies, this remarkable new, flexible harvesting tooth for combine and baler pick-ups has proven to be superior to conventional teeth. Flexi Tooth can be lowered closer to the ground. As a result Flexi Tooth harvests more crop per acre.

It picks up fewer stones — meaning less rejection at market—less damage to costly equipment. Mounted in rubber stops Flexi Tooth is quieter—eliminates dust. What's more, wild buckwheat is thrown off and doesn't "load" as it does with conventional teeth.

Yellowhead route is good travelling

Local and surrounding district people planning a trip to B.C. would do well to consider the Yellowhead route. I was there all the way both ways and there is no doubt but what the road is finished and in good condition is available on the road.

To ask anyone not living on the highway one is always advised to go by the John Hart and Dawson Creek Highways or the southern Rogers Pass route. Granted the scenery is wonderful on these roads, but they are much longer, a matter of 500 miles more driving.

The Yellowhead is the most beautiful, the most spectacular way of travel through the Rockies. It is a direct route. Last weekend there were no snowbanks even after a week of rain. The road was still passable and in fact very good

'Look Behind You Neighbor' still brings warm memories

A post script to the Edson Pageant, 'Look Behind You Neighbour', which was easily the highlight of Edson's 50th Anniversary year, was received recently by Mrs. Andy McEvoy in the form of a letter from Scotland. The letter was from Mr. Maurice Heggie Jr., a member of the Commons-ealth Conference group who toured Canada in 1962.

It is interesting for Pageant members and Edson as a whole to know that the show still receives fond memories all around the world for those who were able to attend.

The letter follows:

9 Windsor Gardens
Edinburgh, 10
My Dear Ivy; (and all my wee devil friends in Edson)

I am ashamed that so much time has gone by since I was so delighted to receive your letter and such a charming memento in the form of the two photographs.

I was terribly pleased to hear from you — and of all the cards and messages which I received this last Christmas, none gave me half so much happiness as your letter and the photos.

There is no doubt, and I am sure that I speak for the vast majority of our Conference members, that the occasion on our tour which affected us most deeply and which we were all privileged to spend with you wonderful people from Edson.

You know, I very, very nearly got off the train at [illegible] (it stopped there in the middle of the night) intending to stay a day and catch up with the Tour again in Jasper! I would so much rather have spent my time in Edson than in Jasper! In the land although I was pretty determined, the Conference Secretary, Catherine McLean, prevailed upon me not to get off — for her sake — as in the absence of the Conferences Director on the other train, she felt the responsibility for her charges fairly heavy upon her and the thought of letting us loose on the unsuspecting people of Edson was too much for her. I shall always regret the fact that I didn't have the moral courage to stick to my guns and I shall always wonder what might have happened if Georgie Wilkey and I had decamped on the Town of Edson early that morning.

Now we shall never know — but perhaps it was for the best. These ideas, spontaneous and taken with the enthusiasm of the moment, sometime tend to misfire. Perhaps it was better that we should all part as we did with the warm glow of friendship, happiness and appreciation in our hearts for all that you had given to us through the medium of your Pageant.

This is something which none of us will ever forget and was indeed the highlight and the most moving experience of what was a very wonderful and impressive tour of Canada and her people.

I thought at the time and I have always remembered my feelings about your Pageant as it developed and the effect and impression it had on us all. It reminded me of Oliver Goldsmith's Deserted Village, when talking of the Village Church he said: "and those who came to scoff remained to pray."

It was just such a change which came over the hearts and minds of all those present as your Pageant unfolded. The sincerity and goodness and friendliness of the people of Edson shone through the lines of the play.

I doubt if there were many who did not feel a lump in their throats, or a tear glisten in their eyes as the final curtain fell on that night. There surely never has been any dramatic performance after which the audience were so much in tune and at one with the performers.

Truly, it was a memorable occasion for all of us from so many different countries and I hope in some small measure for you too, who did so much and gave so much to us.

You may be sure that if ever my wife and I visit Canada again, that of all places I should like to take her it would be Edson. I hope that if ever that day comes, that there will still be those in Edson who remember the night of the Commonwealth

Instruction in this 1963 course entitled, "Walking With God" will be in the form of Bible stories and Bible study, Memorize, hymns, and handicraft. The school will be divided into the Kindergarten, primary, Junior, and Junior high departments under the supervision of Rev G. E. Mueller.

The club here was boasting of his ability to distinguish between different beverages. Finally one of the listeners took a flask from his pocket and asked the connoisseur to taste it and tell him what it was. The man tasted a mouthful and promptly spit it out. "Great Scott!" he cried, "that's gasoline."

"I know," came the bland reply, "but what brand?"

Please give my warmest wishes and heartfelt thanks to all those in Edson whom I remember as fondly and who may, who knows, even return her me

Yours very sincerely,
Maurice

Health Unit starting on year round program

With its institution of a year round dental program the Edson Health Unit has made another big stride forward in public health care in the widespread Unit district.

With the acquisition of a permanent dental auxiliary Miss Louise Kishimoto the Health Unit has now been able to start on a program that will eventually cover the biggest percentage of children in the area. Starting in Edson on July 2 the program got under way with clinics and cleaning the teeth of grades one, two and three students in the Edson school area.

It is expected the Edson operation will be completed early in September. Miss Kishimoto will then move to Hinton, Fitzhugh and the Coal Branch before moving to the east end of the District.

It is estimated it will take a year to complete this first step in the program for the entire Edson Health Unit area.

It must be emphasized that the Dental Auxiliary's work does not involve any form of treatment in the way of dental extractions or fillings.

Her work will be the prevention and education as regards the dental program. Prevention will take the form of cleaning the teeth application of topical fluorides and relevant advice to a child's private dentist where indicated. Education will take the form of instructing the children on proper care of their teeth through brushing and proper nutrition.

The Dental Auxiliary will only work on the teeth of children who's parents have signed a Dental Consent Card. It should be pointed out that a card is sent out at the success of the program will depend on the attendance of the parents with their children at the clinic.

Miss Kishimoto, a personable young lady from Leth bridge, has completed two years training as a dental hygienist with the faculty of dentistry, University of Alberta.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Vroom wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Irene Jane to Mr. David Rutherford Mathewson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Mathews. The wedding will take place August 24 at the Edson United Church at 8:00 p.m.

BRAVO, MR. MANNING

The frankness of Premier Manning's views on the proposed royal commission on bilingualism and biculturism will undoubtedly annoy those French-speaking Canadians who expect English-speaking Canada to bow meekly to their every demand. For this and other reasons the sentiments expressed by Premier Manning in his letter of May 28 to Prime Minister Pearson are of great importance and significance.

Alone, among the ten provincial premiers, he has had the frankness and forthrightness to express concern over the direction in which the proposed commission is heading. In so doing, Mr. Manning has made himself the spokesman for hundreds of thousands of English-speaking Canadians who are anxious that the commission get on the proper track.

Let no one assume that Mr. Manning opposes the holding of such a conference. He, like every other thinking Canadian, recognizes the danger to national unity of a continuing breach between English-speaking and French-speaking Canada. The proper objectives of the commission should be clear. They should embody an investigation of the means by which national unity and a sense of national purpose may be achieved.

"If the objective is to encourage citizens of all racial and ethnic origins to make their maximum contribution to the development of one, overall Canadian culture embracing the best of all," comments Mr Manning, "we feel this would meet with wide-spread endorsation and support."

In a single sentence, Mr. Manning has defined the proper framework of a nation. Yet, how remote this admirable concept seems to be from the shape that the commission is now assuming. By its very name — royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism — it seems to concede the existence in Canada of a dual culture which is the antithesis of a one-nation concept.

If there is to be a royal commission at all, its basic concern should be nation unity. For it to proceed on the two-nation premise as fervently advocated by Quebec Premier Lesage and others, is to render the value of such a commission null and void at its very outset. Mr. Manning, unlike Premier Lesage, is ready to place national purpose above petty provincial nationalism. In so doing he has expressed clear and realistic terms of reference for the proposed commission.

He naturally favors a cementing of national unity. He considers the value of a society whose citizens are fluent in two or more languages. But he quite properly rejects any attempt to divide Canada into two nations in giving official recognition to a dual French and English culture. Premier Manning has uttered views that have been left unsaid for far too many months. It is to be hoped that they will be taken seriously by Mr. Pearson and the other provinces.

JOBS THAT LAST

The government is spending a great deal of money to make work for the unemployed and it plans to spend a great deal more. A certain amount of this sort of spending is necessary and useful. New bridges have to be built, rivers dammed, roads laid out, schools, hospitals and other public buildings put up.

In the long run however, such spending makes jobs only for the length of time it takes to complete each project. Government made work projects are for the most part, temporary expedients.

What are needed are jobs that last. These are manis to be found in productive industry. If the government were to do less spending on its own account and encourage industry to do more spending, many more new jobs would be created and what is more important they would be lasting jobs.

Industry would spend many more on new plant equipment and for the development of new products if it were not taxed so heavily. If the government were to spend less, it would need less taxes and industry could spend more.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

A Personal Message insert ed in the Want Ads section of the July 18th edition of the Leader by Al's Exchange, has caught the eye of many a reader, I'm sure.

I agree with the writer's point of view that many people who phone a business place do not have the patience to allow 12 rings before they hang up. These people must not realize that a person may be doing one of numerous things and can not instantly leave what he or she is doing to rush to the phone.

Having had experience in the business field, we also found this annoying, but always felt that if someone were interested enough, they would call back again.

Any business man who so degrades the very source of his livelihood by calling his patrons, and I quote, "Stupid People", is not worthy of the patronage of these so called "Stupid People," and he may find hereafter that he may have to search for his bread, and butter elsewhere.

I'm happy to say Mr. Rifeter that I was not one of the so called "Stupid People" who called this firm, for if I had been, you can be sure that after reading his personal message, I would not phone Al's Exchange on a bet, or ever show my face in that place again!

Amazed

Editor's Note: We suspect that Al, like all businessmen really appreciates his customers and wanted mainly to call attention to his problem of getting to the phone.

CAPITOL REPORT

OTTAWA CONSULTS PROVINCES ON CHANGES

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — The people who prowl the halls of the legislature looking for news could almost be forgiven if they wished for Christine Keeler to drop in... just to stir things up a bit, maybe to spend a little scandal around and give them something to write about.

But neither Christine nor her social and business associate Mandy Rice-Davies stopped around. The reporters continued to prowl, listening to the echo of their shoes on the aisled, old government centre and maybe wondering how they could ever find a session of the Legislature dull. Compared to the mid-summer doldrums the most routine session in Alberta's history takes on the proportions of a circus.

In chatting with cabinet ministers one does become aware of one subtle change, however, an alteration of the relationship between Ottawa and the provincial capitals which promises to attract more attention

As indication of this was the flurry over Mr. Manning's observations on a study of bicculturism. Although the item has now been relegated mostly to the letters to the editor columns of our newspapers it showed clearly that the new federal government is much more anxious to get provincial government opinions before taking action that will affect the majority of provinces.

Failure of the Conservative administration in the national capital during the last few years to consult the provinces on subjects ranging from health programs to reconstruction grants often caused bitterness in Edmonton.

Now it seems Mr. Manning and his ministers are being nearly swamped with invitations to get together with federal government officials, to let Ottawa know what they think and to hear the opinions of other provinces on important matters.

Examples of this are the pending talks about federal loans to municipalities for such things as school construction. (Mr. Christine Keeler to drop in... just to stir things up a bit, maybe to spend a little scandal around and give them something to write about.

But neither Christine nor her social and business associate Mandy Rice-Davies stopped around. The reporters continued to prowl, listening to the echo of their shoes on the aisled, old government centre and maybe wondering how they could ever find a session of the Legislature dull. Compared to the mid-summer doldrums the most routine session in Alberta's history takes on the proportions of a circus.

In chatting with cabinet ministers one does become aware of one subtle change, however, an alteration of the relationship between Ottawa and the provincial capitals which promises to attract more attention

Gordon Taylor, the province's highway minister, said last week he welcomed the Ottawa announced plan to shorten the relationship of the two levels of government on

"We've been trying for a long time to get one," he observed. "And the federal government has been putting on off."

J. P. Deschatelets, federal public works minister, said he hoped such a meeting can be held this fall. And Dr. J. Donovan Hess, the head of Alberta's health department, added he will try to arrange a meeting with federal authorities to discuss using a military hospital in Calgary as relief for the city's hospital bed shortage.

It seems, what with redshuffling Walter Gordon's national budget and culling such a variety of combats, Ottawa offices must be booming.

The only other bits of news included a cabinet announcement that a committee has been appointed to make recommendations for revision of the rules of the Supreme Court of Alberta. It was also announced that revenue from government sale of petroleum and natural gas reserves during the second quarter of 1963 were the best in more than three years... $30,108,140.

East District Doin's

We missed the boat last week so the following is our gatherings in a nutshell.

Farmers were perturbed over a shortage of moisture, but since then a couple of good rains have eased the situation.

Allen Shantz Jr required three stitches to close a cut to his hand, the result of an accident while opening a box of pop. This did not prevent him from joining his find in a near 30 mile "bike-a-thon" a few days later. Allen Jr. (12) and his son rode the loop, taking in Cornal Creek, Niton, Hattonsford, Peers, Newtony's store, etc.

The big dance at Cornal Creek was well attended and folk are looking forward to the next one, July 20th.

Johnny Meistat has a recently acquired pick up truck. Bill Heintz is driving his car again. Lee Shantz has his Farms going again; Mom Lee's car is perkin pretty good for losing a diamond, by Harold Peterson.

Harold, Eileen and Hal Peterson and Chris, Hal's pal, spent a few days with relatives and friends in the district. They left Friday for Calgary where they planned to take in one day of the Stampede and spend a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Thomas, then head back home to California.

Wayne Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thomas, was visiting in Calgary to accompany Harold and Eileen to California, where his parents now make their home.

Johnny Morris suffered a broken arm recently and spent a short time in hospital. He was discharged Saturday complete with cast.

Sabina Morris is working at Rudi's store in Peers, while the owners are away on their holidays.

Betty Lythe is looking for a young kitten to replace a wise old cudgey who loved to chicken dinner now and then and raided the chick coop in opposse his appetite. Who has some lifesaver by any chance?

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiseman and Don drove to Viking last week to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chorlo and family.

Mrs. Terry D'Aoste and family spent a week or so at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thomas.

We suspect Mr. and Mrs. Heintz have running on their minds, judging from the shipment of cherries picked up by Donall recently. The Heintz family have been holidaying in B.C. and evidently spent some time in somebody's fruit garden. Den tells us his Mom and written instructions to open the cases. Superfluous advice we would say.

The Brawley infant was admitted to St. John's Hospital Saturday. Several other junior members of the family have nieces included, are being treated at home for 40 hour flu.

Mr and Mrs Omer Gaudi and Mrs. Bill Thomas, was wedding in Calgary to accompany Harold and Eileen to California, where his parents now make their home.

Christine Apoll honored by bridal shower

Miss Christine Apoll was a very surprised guest of honor on July 10 when members of the Christian Reformed Church Ladies Aid entered her to go to the Church parish house There, she found about 25 ladies waiting to shower her with gifts and good wishes for her forthcoming marriage

An evening of games was enjoyed before the bride-elect was presented with a huge decorated basket overflowing with miscellaneous gifts. Her sister, Mrs E Dykstra, assisted in opening the gifts and passing them around for all to see. The bride's ring was tied to one end of the gift ribbons and passed around to finally come to rest with her younger sister, Edith.

The shower was convened by Mrs Adrian Maris who was assisted by members of the Ladies Aid. A luncheon was served to end the very plea sant evening

Miss Apoll's marriage to Mr A Gustafson took place last Saturday July 20 at 4 p.m. in the Christian reformed Church

Marlboro News

Mrs. Lauderbach, Miss Stafford, two other Alberta girls and a girl from Indiana, are holding Bible School here this week and next. All children are invited to attend regardless of their church. These lessons are approved by most churches.

Mrs. Moe Lambert, Miss Judith Lovell, Mrs. B. Lovell, Bessie Prince, Miss Desjarlais, Marvin Nicholson, Freda Uhlrondelle, were some of the people who visited Edmonton this week

Mrs Louie Gladue and children have moved to Edmonton

Erich Wahl and family of Burnaby, B.C. are visiting relatives here this week

Mrs. Myles Lee, Mrs Sarah Plante and Mrs. Sophia Hay man have all been in the hospital this week

Mr. and Mrs Pat Desjarlais returned from Red Pass, B.C., after a visit with Margaret

It seems the Heintz Peerage will soon have another resident as the old Spencer farm has been bought and the new owner has been negotiating with prospective neighbors to have a road built to his new holdings

Noticed Pa' Aheldons car has a crumpled fender, a recent mishap no doubt. Twasn't like that a week ago

How did award winning art director Fernando Carrere recreate these scenes? Old photographs guided him in building the segregators cells where Mosul existed in subterranean confinement with only caged birds for companionship For the rest of the sets, Carrere worked from drawings, diagrams and recollections by former convicts and guards who took part in the real life story on which "Bird Man of Alcatraz" is based

"Bird Man" coming to Edson Theatre

Burt Lancaster specializes in intense. An Academy Award winner for Best Actor, he is consistently named one of the screen's top money makers. When he tackles a part he pours boundless energy and skill into the job of making it not only believable but enthralling and memorable

In "Bird Man of Alcatraz" coming to the Edson Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday, July 25, 26 and 27, he "ages" 30 years, portraying a fantastic man who is killer, scientist, artist, author, scholar and for over half a century, convict. Based on the astonishing best seller by Tom Gaddis, the film co-stars Karl Malden, Thelma Ritter, Betty Field, Neville Brand and Edmond O'Brien.

Lancaster came to California from New York and repeats the role with his first film, in which he played Ike Clanton in "The Killers."

In and out of cinematic jail throughout the intervening years, he has sought the unexpected in both story and casting. The versatility of material and performance in "From Here to Eternity."

The prison sets are grimly authentic, many giving more camera an inside view of penitentiaries never before seen on screen. There are yard and cell blocks at Alcatraz which were reproduced as part from sketches by a former convict there. And the notorious three-tiered "D" blocks, where the bloody riot of 1946 that took five lives broke out around Stroud, were also reconstructed.

Months of planning goes into Rodeo effort

The smooth efficiency with which the details of Edson's Rodeo are falling into place is the result of planning by the committee since last fall

Everything from signing up for Harry Vold's professional stock supply to sitting in with the Central Alberta Stampede Association to help plan the itinerary for the movement of stock to various rodeo shows to arranging for entries in what looks promising as a bigger than ever parade each day.

On Friday the Vegreville Youth Band and the Canadian Army "Scots" will give some of the sound to the parade. On Saturday Hobson's Band from Edmonton and sponsored by the Edson Chamber of Commerce together with the Edmonton Shrine's Oriental Band will add their musical abilities.

Radio and TV stations are to be contacted to cover the [illegible] with CFCW Camrose CHBA both radio and TV and the CBC having indicated they will be coming public relations will be radio and TV from the city during Rodeo Week

Attractions besides the show on the rodeo arena of the grounds will include, an [illegible] displays, a bigger than ever midway by Copeland Shows, motor cycle and car pump daredevil acts.

The Rodeo Queen will be crowned on Thursday night at the Memorial Arena on 50th and 49th Street during the [illegible] concert just before the Supple and His Ramblers take with the Western Five dance.

The dance Friday night on the Arena will have the Rovers Five and Joyce Smith present the music while Saturday night Gene and the Cavaliers will take forth the melody.

A Parade one drop Friday

CHANGE IN STAFF

A change on the staff of the Government Telegraph and Liquor Store [illegible] the end of the month with the transfer of Mr. N. A. Galbraith. Mr. Galbraith was succeeded by Mr. Robert Stewart who was transferred here from the Peace River station

Friday morning shopping on Rodeo weekend

Last minute pre-rodeo shopping will be possible again this year as Edson Town Council have proclaimed a half holiday for businesses from Noon on Friday, August 1.

The half day will allow store staffs to attend the Rodeo, but still accommodate shoppers in town before noon on the first day of the Rodeo.

Accoutrements appropriate to creating the right stampede atmosphere are being stocked by merchants and everyone will be welcoming forth in cowboy and cowgirl attire as the big week opens.

Improved Rodeo Grounds mark this year's progress

Experience gained from previous years has prompted the Tri-Service Rodeo Committee under the organizing zeal of Jim Griffiths to provide parking facilities for another 700 vehicles on the grounds.

Through donations from decor operators Cliff Taylor and Jake Kohler and other firms the parking space as well as a third bigger midway section has been cleared and levelled.

In addition the grounds have been seeded to oats, clover and grass mixtures and the resulting green growth will alleviate the dust and dirst problem encountered in previous years.

The latter excavation in the centre of the grounds has been filled this year as well as [illegible] and the race track has had necessary levelling work done on it

To supply water for stock well driller P. G. McGinnis of Carrot Creek donated his services to drill a well at the edge of the stock corrals

Improved grandstand seats and better layout will make for more comfort for the thousands of Rodeo patrons who will be flocking to the popular annual stampede show, but still want more than top-notch professional riders provide in entertainment late

Funny? I guess not

BY IRENE BOCHEK

Some people have a rather distorted sense of humor. Last week some friends of mine parked their car and walked the remaining distance to a creek to do some fishing.

After fishing the stream for some hours, they wearily returned to their car to drive home. What a jolt to discover the car had four flat tires!

Having no car pump they started walking toward Edson. Luck was with them as a passing motorist gave them a lift.

They returned to their car with a friend, and a hand pump. However after pumping up the tires by hand, they were chagrined to discover the car wouldn't start. The trouble appeared to be drawn neeted battery cables.

Still, the car motor remained dormant. Finally nearing midnight, their friend pushed the car all the way to town. A garage bill foiled the troubles on a punched gas line.

CPA means quality in performers

In posters and other advertising for the Rodeo the words 'CPA appear. They stand for the Cowboys' Protective Association in which Rodeo performers prominent in Western Canada, and especially Southern Alberta are the offerers.

The Canadian organization sets the conditions under which the Rodeo cowboys work and are paid. This has eliminated a lot of the accidents and poor performances formed in of Rodeos in the past, especially in the smaller centres.

By its rules and by how the manner in which a cowboy shall enter in and down, with the results that the rules protect the cowboy as well as the organization sponsoring the Rodeo. The spectator, of course, is the biggest beneficiary.

The CPA organization has a working agreement with the Rodeo Cowboys' Association of the United States so that American cowboys can compete in Canadian rodeos and vice versa by paying the necessary fee.

This has resulted in the best performers from both sides of the border attending as many stampedes as travelling facilities will allow.

Both groups discipline their members severely for irregular conduct, failing to repay money fee

The Women's Institute are planning to finish up the grave markers at their August meeting at Mrs. Maud Haddocks on August 6th. Anyone who would like to help with this work would be very welcome. Please bring a picnic lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Genereux and family are visiting with the Bob Neale and Nello Canaris families.

Mrs. Becker Sr. has returned home from a holiday spent in B.C. She reports a very enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Mary Connors and Karen are home again, after a very enjoyable holiday spent in California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Waddell and family of Washington, U.S.A. were guests of Mrs. Waddell's aunt, Mrs. M. Haddock, for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Cassette and family of Edmonton visited former neighbors in the district last week.

Mrs. Brady and Joan of Edmonton (former residents of this district) were guests at the K. Fillmore home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan O'Dare of Peace River and their family were guests in the Paul Johnson home this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Whillier of Wetaskiwin and their family were also visitors in the Paul Johnson home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Cunover in the birth of another son on July 16th. They have named him Kerry Michael.

His parents took him in the city to have surgery on his sinuses, after being notified a bed was available. Boydean was admitted to hospital and prepared for the operation but had to return home again as the surgeon had gone on holiday.

Real broncs harder to come by nowadays

What's happening to the cowboy and trademark raising outfits that served [illegible] horse, symbol of the [illegible] of the American Spirit of [illegible] Rodeo?

Some say it is a result of the [illegible] breed already victims of the [illegible] people of city [illegible] Edson Rodeo Club [illegible] and deny the real meat and [illegible] the points.

Others go so far as just to [illegible] breed in the [illegible] sense of the word, [illegible] golden era [illegible] years in the future.

Either way, it is easy to [illegible] contractors home has ready [illegible] some sort of crossroads. [illegible] days buying [illegible] are harder to come by [illegible] ever seen them in these [illegible] see the arenas of 1963 are [illegible] the toughest ever [illegible] a rodeo.

Gone forever are the [illegible] pile-bred herds of wild [illegible] ers running the hills [illegible] of the Rockies. Some [illegible] are the broncs [illegible] all early day saddle bronnes. Midnight, was a Canadian schoolmarm's mount until a blowing tumbleweed one day spooked him permanently.

Once accepted in a Rodeo a pampered life reserved for aristocrats of the equine kingdom. Almost all the Rodeo stock contractor can do to keep the horse in a bucking mood is to provide strong the Rodeo bruise fraternity with plenty of good hay and grain and mild exercise. A particularly busy bucking horse may travel 20,000 miles a year by truck, but he will be in action only 50 times during the season, for less than a total of 8 time, which adds up to less than ten minutes of work.

Each year "talent scouts" for the Rodeo stock contractors roam the hinterlands searching for strong horses with a penchant for shedding their riders. And the annual buckiest horse contest at Medicine Hat Exhibition and Stampede, will attract many modern day Rodeo broncs are not horses born wild but good horses come bad. Many horses come from ranches as saddle horses or pulling a farm wagon.

Perhaps the most famed of UNWILLING GYMNAST . . . turned a flip by his humpshouldered adversary's bucking tactics, this cowboy heads for a rough landing in rodeo's bull riding event.

RCAF's "Red Knight" to appear over Rodeo

One of Canada's top pilots, here within all allied air forces of the Red Knight to be the [illegible] of aerobatic maneuvers at the Edson Rodeo on Saturday August 3rd. He will appear over the Rodeo Grounds at exactly 3 p.m. and will be in the Edson area for a total of 12 minutes.

The Red Knight is Flight Lieutenant Dave Barker an instructor at the Royal Canadian Air Force No. 2 Advanced Flying School at Portage La Prairie Manitoba.

He joined the RCAF in 1954 and won his wings at RCAF Station Gimli in 1958. He has posted overseas with one of Canada's North Atlantic Treaty Organization squadrons in Germany.

During the period he was a member of the 10 Air Force Team. This team won the Governor Trophy nine times in succession.

During the 1960 competition F/L Barker obtained the highest overall score in the competition.

On returning to Canada in June F/L Barker was transferred to Station Portage La Prairie and is employed there as an instructor.

When the Red Knight comes to Edson we will see Barker, what one spectator described as "like that of a homesick angel".

F/L Barker will slam his bright red T-33 Silver Star jet trainer through high speed manoeuvers at a very low height. At this height it is likely that the Knight's first error in judgement, timing or equipment would be his last.

A unique feature of the show is that all manoeuvers will be carried out within the confines of the display area, a most difficult task with any high-speed aircraft.

The first time that the Knight appears he will do a low-level, high speed fly past at more than five hundred miles an hour.

After his initial fly past the Knight will position himself for a series of looping manoeuvers at speed which will range from 150 to an excess of 500 miles per hour.

A breathless roll one of the Knight's specialties is performed as a [illegible] roll except that there will be a definite pause at each of the four quadrants of the roll.

The highlight of the Knight's exhibition will be a low level bypast performed at high speed in an upsidedown position on the Knight's first appearance on the east a few years ago an airman, veteran of many airshows, commented "It is impossible to do that at that height but he's doing it."

The schedule of the Red Knight is such that arrangements to have him appear could be made for in advance and even then many of the requests are turned down because it is impossible for one pilot and one plane to be in more than one place at once.

SOARING SKYWARD, THIS BUCKING BULL attempts to dislodge his cowboy burden within the eight seconds allotted for a qualifying ride under rodeo rules. The cowboy tries to hang on by gripping braided rope secured around the bull's middle.

Bull-fighting clowns add color to Rodeo

The outlandishly colored shirts and fabulous, baggy pants of the rodeo clown, more than a laugh provoking costume are respected badges of a rare kind of courage. Clowns in rodeo are not specialists in comedy. They are there to prevent tragedy. They are brave men first and funny men only secondarily. And the real reasons for their presence in the arena-like bucking bulls — is no laughing matter.

The cross-bred brahma bull is probably the most ferocious of all the world's domesticated animals. They are the only animals in rodeo regarded as potential killers. Although they may appear docile on pasture or in holding pens separated from the herd and turned out of the chutes they fight with everything they have: their slashing, hooves, horns and tremendous weight.

Despite their bulk they can move like a panther; they have no fear of man on horse back either and will attack without hesitation. For that reason, mounted pick-up men cannot be used to help rescue the cowboy. The bulls simply won't let horses get close.

To avoid the bull's charge, whether he backs off or jumps off at the end of the ride, the bull rider must rely on a fast set of legs and the courage of the rodeo clown.

The clown moves in to distract the bull, to allow the cowboy to reach safety often the job is complicated if the rider, injured in the fall, is unable to run. The bull takes after the hardest target at the clown must be in close when the rider goes down word of all, he must stay in close until the cowboy makes good his escape.

Often you will see the wild eyed clowns competing on rodeo events, wrestling steers or riding broncs, but few contestants have any desire to trade jobs with the rodeo clowns. His is a lonely profession.

Harry Vold is tops as Rodeo stockman

Born in 1894 and raised in the Peace district, Harry, along with his brother Ulaf, supplied stock at his first rodeo in 1911 on the home ranch at Acher, Alberta, having approximately two hundred head of bucking horses at that time. Being little demand for bucking horses, most rodeos got their bucking stock, Harry sold many horses to Leo Cremer who at that time was one of, if not the largest stock contractor in the U.S.

In the early 1940's many of Cremer's best bucking horses came from Canada through Harry Vold. In an article written by Casey Tibbs, several times World Saddle Bronc Riding Champion, Paddle Face the horse he named as the best bucking horse he had ever seen, was sold to Cremer by Harry Vold.

It was through horse deals such that Harry soon realized the day was fast approaching when bucking stock would not be so plentiful as Canada, so instead of selling these good horses he got together a string of his own.

In 1946, Harry went into the rodeo business in earnest, supplying stock at the Panoka Rodeo that and every year since. In 1952, Harry contracted, or sub-contracted, stock to forty rodeos in Canada and the U.S., had eighty six rodeo performances on his own.

The horse Harry rates as the best he has ever owned and has had more money than on than any other horse in Canada is Red Pepper. Red Pepper went to the first National Finals Rodeo held in Dallas, Texas in 1960, again in 1961, went again in 1962 when it was held in Los Angeles, was placed on almost every time he was out.

The saddle bronc riding has been won on him at such rodeos as Edmonton, Calgary, Ellensburg, Washington Pendleton Oregon, Denver, Cheyenne, and the Cow Palace in San Francisco, California.

Harry now owns approximately two hundred and fifty bucking horses, thirty five bucking bulls, forty head of Mexican dogging steers, two fifty five saddle and parade horses, a set of portable chutes, six trucks, four of them cattle liners and a tub trailer in all enough to easily put on two rodeos on the same day.

Harry's home ranch is at DeWinton but he also has a ranch at Morningside in the Panoka area, which is pretty well rented for most of his Canadian rodeos. During July and August Vold supplies stock at two two-day rodeos almost every week.

This is when his Panoka ranch comes in real handy, always keeping a fresh string of stock on grass, he keeps changing stock often. This is no doubt the key reason his horses keep bucking through out the summer, when he is rodeoing so steadily.

Harry competed in rodeos in saddle bronc and bare back riding until 1944.

A Special Welcome to Out of Town Visitors

EDSON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

BAREBACK RIDING REQUIRES BALANCE and a strong arm. Clinging to the rigging's narrow handhold, this cowboy lets his booted foot fly high above the horse's mane.

Steer Wrestling provides lots of action

One of the most important things about watching a rodeo is knowing the rules. Like other sports, rodeo has its share of the unfortunate, sometimes a bobbit, of officials on the field.

Steer wrestling, for example can be pretty routine. The cowboy rides after the steer from behind a barrier on in calf roping the has a lance who rides on the other side of the steer to keep it running straight.

The "hoggers" as he is called by the cowboys, drops out of the saddle onto the run ning steer, brakes the animal to a halt by digging in with his boot heels, then twists him down. It is a timed event and the quickest time wins.

Nothing difficult to understand about that. But what happens if the cowboy misses the steer altogether? Or the steer gets out of th. arena? Or if the dogger loses his grip and takes out after the escaping steer on foot?

Now let's see. Where's that rule book? The rules say the steer once he has crossed the starting accelerator belongs to the contestant and no matter what happens foul. If the arena, he cannot be disqualified, the grass stand is forbidden him. Should the steer escape the arena, turn or stopped. The steer is returned to the chutes and turned out again. The watchers are alerted from where they were stopped.

If the cowboy misses he steer on the jump has to make the circuit to try again. He gets about a chance, but most cowboys make the circuit to try again. If the steer slows down the dogger shake loose of it before after he is roped. The "dogger" is not allowed to help the steer in any step to regain his feet unless he has the animal up and turned right.

Occasionally, the steer will stumble and fall accidentally as the rushes under its jump. When that happens, the cowboy must let the steer regain his feet before attempting to twist him down. Stopping the steer and "dogging" him is most likely the two distinct movements. Should the cowboy down the animal before it is brought to a full stop the field judge will not flag time until the steer is let up and thrown properly.

In the fastest action which may take no longer than a few seconds from chute to field flag, judges throughout the steer wrestling event must be alert to every detail. Only then can they be sure that the cowboy has performed properly.

But it is not a crime to make the steer stay down under their own power. The fall of the animal must be brought about by the cowboy alone. He may not use his horse to throw the steer down. He may not even touch the animal with his horse. He may not touch the animal with his horse. He may not even touch the animal with his horse.

Seconds count in Calf Roping

Use of automobile equipment in calf roping has taken a lot of the excitement out of this rodeo event. But human nature being what it is, there still must be judges to rule on the close calls and make final decisions.

The automobile equipment consists of a barrier, a device which gives each calf a predetermined equal head start of light rope held taut by a cord spread, the barrier is latched across in front of the roper and his horse. When the calf crosses the scoreline marking the headstart, it releases the barrier.

If the roper rides through the barrier before it is released, it breaks at a point where it is held together by twine strips. The judge, who inspects the twine after each roper leaves the starting box, rules the barrier broken and assesses a ten second penalty. Sounds easy, but it isn't. With hundreds of dollars riding on a split second of a second, the roper sometimes charges past the barrier a split second after it has been released but before the light rope has fallen out of the way.

The twine might be broken where it catches on the horn of a stirrup, leaving a tough decision up to the judge. If the broken piece falls within ten feet of its original placement, he must rule the barrier broken and add the penalty.

The mounted field judge waits down the arena, ready to signal time with his raised flag as soon as the roper has completed the tie. But he too has to keep a sharp eye for satisfaction of the rules.

The roper may catch the calf anyway it works out over the head, around the saddle, even by a leg. But he must let go of the loop when he throws it and the rope must hold on the calf until the cowboy can get his hands on him.

Missing the first throw won't disqualify the roper if he carries a second rope, coiled and ready, on the saddle but two loops are all he is allowed.

Rules prevent the calf from being thrown or jerked down by the rope. Sometimes in these furious races against the stop watch it can't be avoided. If it happens accidently the cowboy must let the calf get on its feet and throw him by hand.

Once dismounted, the roper can approach the calf from the right or the left side, working under the rope as if he was of necessary. He can turn the calf from the right side by "flanking" it, park, or by "heeling" or from the left side by "heeling" it, flanking and pushing on a forelegs to tip the animal over. The cowboy may cross and uncross three legs with any hind he likes, then snap his hands away from the tie strong to signal for time. Down comes the judge's flag

"DON'T WATCH THE GROUND GO BY," this cowboy is thinking as he sweeps down at the barns of his quarry. Rodeo's steer wrestling event is no place for the faint-hearted. Digging in his heelheels, the cowboy brings the steer to a halt, then twists the animal to the ground.

Jasper Rodeo features local amateur riders

Edmonton who don't see enough rodeo during the August 2nd and 3rd activities will have an opportunity to compare notes with their Jasper neighbors. Jasper is hold our three annual rodeo the same weekend as Edson, but on Saturday, Sunday and Monday rather than Friday and Saturday.

The Jasper annual event is billed Frontier Days this year and will get underway with a mammoth parade at 10:00 a.m. Saturday. From then on the pace will quicken with the arrival of attractions moving to the Jasper Rodeo Grounds. The grounds are located south of town on the Jasper Banff highway in a lovely mountain setting.

The stock for the Jasper Rodeo is provided by J Bar J cott of Clymont, Alberta. So far this year the number of entries already have made it necessary for the rodeo committee to select more stock.

The one who will miss Slim Martin and his talented mule of the Edson Rodeo will be able to see him over the week end of his birthday celebrations at Jasper Always a hit, when ever he puts on an appearance, Slim will be missed this year as he has added that special bit of humour in past Edson rodeos that is his own special brand.

A variety of adult and child pass events, pony chuckwagon races, and other events, added to Jasper mountain scenery will make a good way for Edmonton to taper off their big rodeo weekend in true Western style.

Edson is now included in the list of professional rodeos. Jasper is in the amateur class and draws on riders from Edson, Marlboro, Hinton, Hinton as well as Jasper.

William I shall have to give up smoking. The doctor says that one lung is nearly gone.

The Edson Leader
The Voice of Edson Constituency
and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT
First Section — Edson, Alberta, Thursday, August 1, 1963 — Vol. 11 No. 30

Promising weather is forecast for Rodeo as interest snowballs

Little change in the weather pattern is expected in the next three or four days according to the local weather office Isolated thunderstorms will develop in the afternoons but the chance of their hitting in any one locality are fairly minor Afternoon temperatures will be in the near 70's so there's every reason for hundreds to flock to the Rodeo Grounds

Interest in the two big days Friday and Saturday of this weekend is starting to snowball with the big Rodeo section in last week's Leader and coverage by city radio and TV stations. CFRN crews spent Tuesday in Edson with direct broadcasts to help create the stampede spirit.

First event each day will be the parade starting from the east end of 4th Avenue (Highway 16) at 10:30 Friday morning (for Route Map see bottom of this page) For a list of the events turn to the middle pages of this issue

President W Hewitak of the Trans Canada Highway Yellowhead Route Assoc followed an introduction by Hon Norman Willmore will officially open the Rodeo at the grounds

Out of town bands making the parade a musical treat both days will include the Vegreville Youth Band, the Canadian Army "Sunshine," the Station band from Edmonton, and the Shriners Oriental Band.

Parade entries should report to Parade Marshall Peter Serdiuk and committee at 4th Avenue East before parade time for position in the parade.

The Rodeo is scheduled to start at 1:30 each day at the grounds A regular bus schedule from Edson Theatre Park area lot will start at 12 noon each day operated compliments of Mr Hans Affolter.

Besides the champion North American cowboys who will be competing for points on stock supplied by Harry Vold of Ponoka there are midway attractions, horse racing, both flat and chariot, daredevil motorcycle and car acts and all the other trimmings of a stampede.

Shorter intermissions are planned for this year, both for the afternoon break and between the afternoon and evening performances. The latter starts at 6 p.m. Much more grass covered parking space is available this year as well and the midway area has been expanded to accommodate more patrons.

A [illegible] this year's Lions Carnival which will run [illegible] dance at the Mirror Lake Pavilion [illegible] Lions Club [illegible] to last [illegible] that [illegible] at the [illegible] will play both Thursday and Friday nights with the Stroll on Friday and Saturday.

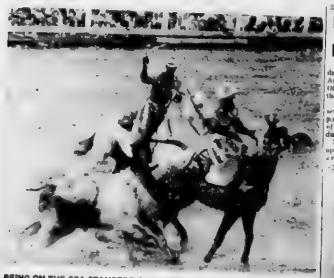
Rodeo Chairman Jim Griffiths and his hard working Trail Riders Rodeo Association have done a grand job of planning for this big annual event which promises to outpull all previous years



BEING ON THE CPA STAMPEDE CIRCUIT ensures Edson Rodeo goers that they will be able to witness some of the top riders in Western Canada and United States. The stock provided by Harry Vold of Ponoka ensures that the cowboys earn their money as the animals are bred especially for rodeo performance. This plus the informality of a rendition about town such as Edson attracts city visitors as well as brings out district people.

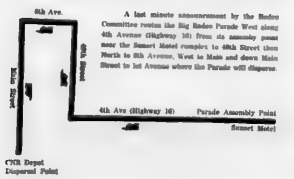
Here as lad during railway construction

We had an interesting gentleman, both hale and hearty, in to see us this week who was here during the railway construction era in 1909-10. Mr. Joe Cote, from Lansing, Michigan, is here visiting his nephew Paul Giannetta and family enroute to Vancouver and Seattle.

Mr Cote recalled that he came along with his father during the railway construction period and on day of 13 and 14 watched history being made in this area in 1909 and 1910. His father later had a contract to make mine timbers at Coal and Pocahontas. In 1913 they moved to Michigan.

Mr. Cote was back once in 1964 when Mr and Mrs. Giannetta were living on the Coal Branch, and is intrigued with our part of the country He is driving alone on his circle tour through Canada and the States as Mrs. Cote had a disc removed from her back and finds car riding difficult

Rodeo Parade Route Down Main



A last minute announcement by the Rodeo Committee routes the Big Rodeo Parade West along 4th Avenue (Highway 16) From its assembly point near the Sunset Motel complex to 60th Street then North to 6th Avenue, West to Main and down Main Street to 1st Avenue where the Parade will disperse.

Holiday postal hours

In conjunction with the half day (Civic Holiday, this Friday, August 2nd, the Edson Post Office will be closed during the afternoon

Hours are as follows Market service from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. during which all phase of postal service will be conducted.

Lock Box Lobby will be open for box holders from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

JIM GRIFFITHS
Rodeo Association
Chairman

Friday morning shopping on Rodeo weekend

Last minute pre-rodeo shopping will be possible again this year as Edson Town Council have proclaimed a half holiday for businesses from Noon on Friday, August 2.

The half day will allow store staffs to attend the Rodeo, but still accommodate shoppers in town before noon on the first day of the Rodeo.

Arrangements appropriate to creating the right stampede atmosphere are being stocked by merchants and everyone will be blossoming forth in cowboy and cowgirl attire as the big week opens.

Over hundred swimmers competing on Sunday

Something over a hundred young swimmers from Jasper, Hinton Devon and Edson will be vieing the other in their class for swim honors at Edson Kinsmen Pool on Sunday, August 4

Starting at one p.m the meet is sponsored by the Edson Swim Club Forty events are scheduled and it promises to be a busy afternoon.

It is hoped to send Edson swimmers to Devon on August 3 and Camrose on the 11th as a jumping up for Northern Alberta semi finals being held in Edmonton on August 18

GOOD LUCK was the reward for patience for Mr. Frank Whiteman of Wainwright, shown here holding the 41 inch, 14½ pound jack fish he caught recently in a local fishing spot. An eight pound test line was used to land the beauty.

Royce Stappard now calls Jasper home

Modernization of the Canadian National Railway has meant the transfer of many of the long time residents of the Town of Edson.

One of Edson's first three sons, Royce Stappard, who was born in Edson in 1912 was one of the recent trans fers to Jasper, Alberta.

Royce took his schooling in Edson but his plans to study law were cut short by his father's death in 1928. His brother Johnny's medical career also ended at the same time in his third year at University.

After finishing his school ing Royce went to work for the CNR as a call boy and has been employed by the same company ever since.

One of his best friends and sidekicks, Mr Fred Hatfield enjoys passing on a few sto ries about Royce during his Boy Scout days and also the times he sang in the musical revues shows produced by Mr Hatfield. To have these two oldtimers get together after a hard practise as they have been members of the Edson Lloyd cruit Boxes' reputation, is an education whether you or had you have to judge for yourself.

District No 82 of the BCIP in Edson has Mr Stappard as the Noble Grand who has been an active member for many years and he has shown great interest in the United Nations speaking tim es upon served in the Lodge.

Now residing in Jasper but being able to commute back and forth on weekends Royce still talks about the Edson friendship and the seventeen years he honored at the home of Mrs Richardson.

Two years of boarding at the home of Mrs. Keebel and Mrs. Earl Bardock has drawn nothing but praise of good cooking and warm friendship.

Progress marches on table! those welcome additions of Edson to other destinations but good memories accompany them with a warm spot in their hearts for friends in the old hometown a

Pre-wedding party honors bridal party

Miss Leona Bergeron was honored at a bonanza shower on Saturday, July 27th, at Pool Community Hall. This bridal shower was unique in that the men as well as the ladies were invited.

The evening consisted of lunch dancing, and a very enjoyable mock wedding starring George and Dorothy Cooper, with Joe Wynn as the presiding minister, and Mr E. Fowler as father of the bride.

Following a delicious lunch served by the ladies of the community Miss Bergeron opened her gifts, bestowing a wish upon each donor. The guests were graciously thanked by Leona and her groom to be.

Miss Bergeron's marriage to Mr David Imber will be held from the Anglican church on August 10th.

Commercial trucking on both highways is limited to the night hours between 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. effective May 31 to Sept 30.

Foot-rot dread disease among district herds

BY FERN ICE

— An unconfirmed rumor that sores cattle from one herd died recently of foot rot has created a sense of panic among the local stock men.

The disease appears to be wide spread, cropping up un expectedly even among isolated herds.

We contacted a vet and learned that an iodine powder available at drug stores is an effective preventative. One pound of the powder mixed with 90 lbs of fine salt will, according to our information, do the trick when administered before the disease strikes.

Sheep should have the same preventive treatment. Stockmen are urged to keep their cattle and sheep separated from other herds, feed the iodine-salt mixture, and call a vet at once should the necessity arise.

Shower honors August bride

A miscellaneous shower was held for Miss Irene Vesovnick on Monday, July 29th at the Edson Motor Hotel. Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Dolores Bossert, Jane Willis, Doreen Werner, Annette Grudes, Florence Brown and Pauline Loborsky.

Miss Vesovnick was lured to the banquet room under the pretence of discussing decorations for her coming wedding. Imagine her surprise as she was greeted by approximately thirty-six guests.

Following a few games, a model T car (homemade) pulling a trailer laden with gifts was driven into the room. After opening her presents Miss Vesovnick graciously thanked the guests.

A delicious buffet style lunch brought the enjoyable evening to a close Mrs Dorothy Simpkins and Mrs Ida Shankchuk assisted with the lunch.

Miss Vesovnick's wedding to Mr David Mathers takes place on August 30th.

July 1st financially successful

The combined Lion-Kinsmen committee who did such a good job of organizing and running the July 1st Sports Day this year, report that the project was not only successful from a participation and crowd satisfying point of view but from a financial point of view as well

Profits in excess of $1800 have made the committee more certain than ever that the July 1st Sports Day should be continued without breaks on the part of sponsoring organizations.

A financial statement will be carried in The Leader next issue covering expenses and remunerations fully

Australian lady inspects family held Edson lot

One of Edson's property owners saw her property for the first time a few weeks ago, although she has been paying taxes on it for many years. Miss Margaret Berge, an Australian of Scottish descent, inherited the property from her father who had received it as a wedding present from his wife in 1911 or 12.

The property was purchased on speculation of its becoming valuable in the booming town of Edson and probably Mr Berge never saw it in his life. The original let lay south of the CNR Depot, but with the consolidating of the town's boundaries the site was exchanged for one lying west of the SNA property on Highway 16 west.

Miss Berge, a teacher in other lady.

Brisbane, Australia, is taking a world tour. She said her mother had told her that if she ever came to Canada she must look up Edson, their property, and Mr Gregg with whom they had corresponded for an long

A person with a keen sense of humour, Miss Berge said when she saw her property there was a tent and a clothes line on it and she thought when she got her next tax notice that she should send a bill of equal amount for rent

She said she had had such a lot of nice things happen to her since she arrived in Canada. Someone had told her she "must" see the Calgary Stampede so long as she was going to be near Calgary at that time So she saw the parade, sharing a part of her rain coat on the curb with an

An unexpected pleasure at Calgary was meeting Bob Hope In Miss Berge's words "I reached up and tapped a tall cowboy on the shoulder and asked him what was going on" He said "see for yourself," and showered me for ward and there was Bob Hope Comedian Hope was quick to recognize the "Down Under" accent and happy to accompany a program for an Aussie.

Leaving Edson Miss Berge planned to stop over in Jasper for a couple of days before going on to Vancouver and Seattle to visit relations. A cross country tour of the States with stops in Washington, New York and other large cities was to follow before she boarded ship at New York for Europe and the British Isles where she would meet other Scottish relations for the first time.

Miss Berge is one of a dozen or so persons all over the world who has been paying taxes on land in Edson since the 1910 to 12 land boom. At that time lots were being hawked and sold at fabulous prices to people to whom Edson was only a speck on the map

One of three taxpayers Dom in San Francisco Another h passed away two years ago in South Africa, and probably had never seen the property he was paying taxes on Through these tax accounts, Edson secretary-manager Joel Gregg has made some interesting correspondence ac quaintances

Much of the property, like that owned by Miss Berge, had been sold, sight unseen by speculators. The specula tors made the only fortune to be had as a big share of the lots sold were in the middle of the muskeg good for nothing but raising frogs.

Many let their lots go back for lack of tax payments The ones who have kept up payments was still find it worth while. With Edson's position in an increasingly important oil field it could be these fine lots of property will pay off handsomely in the end

MISS MARGARET BERGE, Edson taxpayer from Brisbane, Australia, stops for a quick photo before boarding the bus for Jasper. Miss Berge, making a world tour, is reaping her new experiences with the enthusiasm of a school girl and will have a store of memories when she arrives home late this year. It is hoped her memories of Edson will be long remembered.

East District Doin's

The Schools opened for the first day at the Thomas and [illegible] homes, but our boys were absent and returned to the home in Calgary after the same down with our instructor flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bate were called Thursday evening

Sunday's show was a busy one of activity. Monday evening when a group of the friends from Ontario were invited in to make an unscheduled stop while Frank Manske repainted a broken trailer hitch. The boys were branching in but not a great deal of housing-canning equipment. The trailer broke at Jasper and they had to return to their home province.

The Barton family have every reason to believe the old saying, "a rover rambles" true. Hitch, plan to working at Jasper had been forth removed, and for a few days was rumored that the cure was none. But the doctor was sick for several days following the extraction. Mrs. Barton was well again, taken ill and wound up in Drayton Valley hospital and Tom suffered very sore eyes after looking at the effects of the sun. All is back place the same weekend. Hope everything is under control by now folks. Walter was up today, by time digging a basement under the house and carrying about his usual tend and aging family.

Brad Currie and Matt Kam moved heavy equipment to the chart farm in Saturday, to begin making hay while the sun shines on the parsnip project.

Neighbors were surprised Sunday morning to find the farm house of Ben Riehl bare, situated on the farm of Joe Kuhlmann, had burned to the ground saturday night. The building had not been occupied for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas moved to Edson Sunday evening, and began work at Mr. Sabat's Dental the following morning.

Harold Thomas came home from a visit with a telephone [illegible] over the holiday [illegible]

Ronnie Thomas is under the care of nurse Kuhnke suffering the flu [illegible] and a chest cold.

A hail storm Monday afternoon destroyed grain fields and gardens and made life miserable for the stock unable to find shelter.

Rod Thomas spent a couple of days recently raiding Carp's 32 of mounting bears at the request of Forester officials. He managed to shoot a few and wore the rest, but says it is impossible to clean them out as long as [illegible] period on leaving four bear around. Peggy says hunter Jack rattles. Rod is presently employed elsewhere in an effort to desensitize an area apparently over run w/

I couldn't begin to list all of you, but I am indeed grateful. This column is so much easier to write if you phone me with news of your visitors, holidays, shows and elevators. MR. AND MRS. DONALD FOSTER

Members Memorial United Church in Montreal was the setting for a very pretty wedding on June 29, when Miss Jane Scott only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Scott of Montreal, Alberta became the bride of Mr. Donald Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Foster of Edson Alberta.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Whitfield before an altar decorations with bouquets of pompoms. Great pots were also placed with white baskets made up with sprigs of lily of the valley and silver bells.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Oliver Willis and the soloist was Mrs. Robe Bauer who sang The Wedding Prayer and O Perfect Love

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of organza fashioned with a square neck line and lily point sleeves and highlighted with lace panels on the skirt. Her bouffant veil misted down from a crown and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Marion Knox, friend of the bride, was maid of honour. She wore a green dress with overlayers of sheer printed nylon. Jean Hey-

Pauline sister of the groom was bridesmaid. She also wore green and carried a bouquet of yellow snapdragons and sheer printed nylon. The flower girls were bands of flowers and they carried bouquets of white roses.

Best man was Mr. Ivor Foster, brother of the groom. Ushers were Mr. Robert Watkinson, friend of the groom and Mr. Fred Scott brother of the bride and Mr. Bill Calder.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Scott chose a dress and duster ensemble of fine organza complemented by white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with a duster of a darker shade. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

At the family reception which was held at the Chateau Lacombe, the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Clyde Shouldice, friend of the bride and was responded to by Mr. Ivor Foster on behalf of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Foster left by car for a honeymoon in the Maritimes. For travelling the bride chose a dress and duster ensemble of aqua with shoes in tone. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Surprise Lake Echoes

BY LYNNE GALBRAITH

According to the Indians, July is supposed to be the month of storms but at Surprise Lake they had next to perfect weather for the entire senior high school camp. Because of this, the fourteen campers and the staff were able to enjoy many outdoor activities. The campers came mainly from Edmonton and Edson however there was one camper, Larry Bakes from Dunson Creek, B.C. The staff also came mainly from Edmonton and Edson, except for Mrs D. Bateman from Mayerthorpe.

Some of the activities were archery, taught by Betty Whittle swimming, under Mrs D. Mahon's direction, rafting, by Lynn Galbraith and Mrs D. Keys. Boating and a hike around the lake were two other activities.

All campers went for a two day, two night campout with the girls on Nanguay Island and the boys at Flat Rock Hill. Both groups were accompanied by their leaders. Everyone had lots of fun and lots to eat, but all were glad to get back to camp and Mrs Collette's good cooking.

Both nights during the campout everyone gathered at Beaver Bump for vespers. During the time they were there the campers made the sites ready for cookouts and over nights for camping campers. During the time they were around the main camp such as fixing sidewalks and put up screens on windows.

In a more serious vein, each morning the campers had a Bible study after the flags were finished. The theme of this Community, and it was discussed under the areas of worship and prayer, relation ships to others, handling difficulties in a Christ like manner and serving others in the larger world community.

For this study they broke up into groups under the lead ership of cabin counsellors Mrs H. Isaacs, Mrs D. Bateman, and Mr J. Collings. After meals when Rev. Mac Pherson came director, gave the campers a chance to clear both bowls and bodys. The campers complained that they did not have enough time for this worship but study

In the afternoon there was a leadership training course which was led by Rev. and Jim Norman assistant camp director. Here they discussed communication of individuals within a group

After leadership course all gathered together with Jim Whittle the singing director, and did some serious but amusing which they really enjoyed. Jim also led much of the singing after each of the meals and at campfire each night. Instead of a campfire on Friday night there was a square dance with music and calling provided by him Collette and his family.

While the campers were doing all these activities, Mrs Collette, the camp mother, was happily helping the cook in the kitchen before meals, and after meals checking to make sure the campers did a good job of washing the dishes. Mrs. R. Trousdell, the camp nurse, and her assistant, Linda Mackenzie, were busy with their various duties. Bruce Cameron the business manager was very busy running into town to get supplies to keep the camp running. Miss Betty Whittle and Helen Edgecombe kept hopping looking after the staff children.

The Junior High camp at Surprise Lake was very successful, even the weather on the campers side. The director Mr. G. Vyers, and her assistant Mrs. Beard both of Edmonton, were happy with it.

The cabin counsellors Mrs F. Bishop, Mrs R. Smith, Mrs S. Falkinge, Carol Fetman, Dawn Pinchbeck Bruce Cameron, Jim Whittle and Mr J. Collingson were kept busy keeping up with the forty eight enthusiastic campers. There were no bikes, rowboats, and overnights this cabin counsellors baked a cake on their overnight, one that will never be seen again. Also there was archery, boating and swimming. Mrs R. Hansen conducted a very good waterfront program and some of the campers were able to get various Red Cross awards.

The craft instructors, Mrs I. Malson and Lynne Galbraith were kept running in circles helping all the campers with their various craft projects. During their craft period some of the boys launched a paper and started to decorate it.

Each day all the cabins had two cabin hours. During one of these they did their bible study and during the other they did any of many various activities.

All three activities worked up monstrous appetites, as Bill Fallelie and her assistant Jikki Fellinge were kept busy from morning to night preparing and serving delicious meals. Betty Whittle the camp mother, was kept on her toes supervising the new menu of dishwashing.

After each meal Jim Whittle, Suzanne Cheskie, or Marion Edge led the campers and staff in a rousing singsong. These same three led the singsongs around the campfires at night. One night instead of campfire Mr Cullen and his family again provided an evening of square dancing which everyone really enjoyed

At this camp Mr B Lions den was the camp manager and Mrs D Bateman was the camp nurse.

Shining Bank Rodeo has poor turnout

Shining Bank Rodeo, on a considerable distance being ploughing up the ground with July 24 was organized and run this year by the Currie Bros. of Viking, Alta. They had a a remarkable trip on the road since of backing stock name but due to the fact, that the Rodeo had been a spur of the moment idea it was not widely advertised and there was a shortage of riders.

It was announced that next years rodeo would be the one and Wednesday in July which should help in obtaining riders.

The wild cow milking event was highly entertaining. Winners were 1st, Irvin Vance and Clarence Bowman second, Ross Taylor and Ken Fairbairn, third, Barney Vance and Harold Lambert

The children's barrel race was very interesting as the contestants in this event were: Ilah Currie 22 seconds, Dan Wiseman 23 seconds, Dan Wiseman 26 second, Ian Birkill, 30 seconds, Joe Crawford, 25 seconds, B Currie seconds, Bruce Taylor 36 se-

The barebark riders were Keith Fairbairn, Clarence Bowman, Barney Nelson and Ray Barnes. Ed Powers tried a ride for the first time without any training on the horse and rode

LOTS TO DO THIS WEEKEND IN AREA

A little hard feeling may have been created in the past week or so, with the knowledge in Edson that Hinton was planning to hold an Antique Car Derby the same weekend as the annual Edson Rodeo was scheduled for.

It is to be hoped the feelings will be forgotten in the goodwill of Rodeo Days, and that a warm hand of friendship will be extended to visitors from our neighboring town when they attend on Friday or Saturday.

Then again, being between Edmonton and Hinton, Edson residents will get a free look at the Derby entries which should be coming through town on Saturday after the Rodeo parade, but before rodeo activities start.

The reason for the event being held the same weekend is quite hard to when tracked down. Some months ago when the Hinton Chamber of Commerce was in the process of looking for something which could become a six-month different annual affair for their town the idea of an antique car derby was hit upon. The Antique Car Club of Edmonton were approached regarding when their cars would be available as derby entries. After much correspondence on the subject it appeared the only weekend possible would be the one which included Edmonton's Monday Civic Holiday.

Unfortunately, this was also the weekend that Edson and Jasper had long before set aside as the dates for their annual rodeos.

It is bound to make a bit of difference to attendance at events in all three towns. Possibly Hinton will suffer most. However in this day and age, when people motor 50 or 100 miles for a Sunday dinner many from home or a good show, etc., it might be considered unreasonable that Edsonites will continue to have a feeling of holiday exuberance left over from Friday and Saturday's rodeo excitement and pack up the family Woosisine to take off for the west.

Hinton's Car Derby activities will reach their peak on Sunday, following the costume dance to music by Edmonton's famous Tail Gate Band on S-Bridge overpass. Sunday's activities will include a parade of the old model cars, the annual Soap Box Derby, etc.

Further west Jasper's Rodeo will be in full swing, as well as a chance to relax in mountain surroundings, go for a swim in the Jasper or Miette pools, or the many other activities that are particular to Jasper.

In all probability patronize their own events, they look for nothing up a notch to get their neighbors' trade for more entertainment. The effect on Edmonton merchants can be nothing but good as the trade of Hinton or 16 West from Edson should be used up more with interesting things to do this weekend.

THE LUSCIOUS TOMATO

The tomato provides a delightful addition to the fresh menu. Some say it is a vegetable and others a fruit. Whatever it is the tomato can be enjoyed in many ways. The new varieties being developed and tested at the Provincial Horticultural Station hope we likely to make tomato production an extensive enterprise.

The tomato can be eaten raw in thick, red slices. It provides the main ingredient for savory green pickles. It can be eaten as chili sauce, catsup or relish. Maybe would be hum-drum affairs without their zests. It is one of the three most widely eaten vegetables.

With the exception of it is difficult to believe that the tomato was considered poisonous up until as late as the year 1850. It was called the "love apple" and the plant was grown as a decoration for the garden never to eat.

The tomato plant is a native of South America. The Spaniards carried the seed to Europe but no one thought of to eat the fruit. From thence it spread over the world. Our own Eastern Irrigation District grows some of the very finest tomatoes

Dear Editor:

Re-Journal, July 26th.

Our mayor has made a far reaching statement not just reaching the Journal but the very origin of the town when he said "the 2,500 population of Edson could stand the loss of the few railway men left, and that truckers are more permanent people than rail way men, they'll build homes."

One of our best friends in Edson is THE trucker in town and he knows I am not prejudiced.

If our mayor will give any thoughts to the statement he has given to the press, he'll realize how he contradicts himself. Whatever effect the loss of Edson lost on Mr. Simmonds when he stepped off the train and from the platform at the railway station he viewed the town for the first time, as the writer can recall having heard more than a couple of times he can certainly attribute to railway men for they were the inhabitants, property owners paying taxes, backbone of this part of the country, community spirited people who attended their life evenings here, the town would never have been born were it not for these people whose loss he says "we can now stand."

Regardless of whether or not the noise of ties being spiked, or the manner in which they are spiked, it is inevitable to a lot of business firms that family ties have been uprooted. The loss of over half a million dollars yearly payroll (a lot of spending money) may not have been noticed by Mr Brunelle but why does he not consider the business men who surely do notice that these people have left and are leaving.

I gather from the remarks made that this statement could have been made over a year ago since the referral to the shoe factory and at that time Mr Brunelle was going to build a 300,000 dollar supermarket—mall said, those who live in Edson know we have no shoe factory, no 300,000 dollar supermarket, lot of wind.

Edson has been compared with the town of Port Saskatchewan which so far this year has building projects close to one million dollars and since Edson is growing according to the statement made in the Journal July 26th, where do we start, to begin a comparison?

JOKE OF THE WEEK

It was the last dance of the evening at a western, previously that a young man noticed a lump on the shoulder of his pretty partner's jacket. He pulled it, and by the time the dreamy waltz was over, and she left for the check room to get her coat, he had a bit, of string in his hands. Not knowing what to do with it, he tossed it into a corner and then took his date in the car to take her back to her sorority house. He noticed that she kept looking at him with a queer look in her eye but forced about it and he himself her goodnight.

The next morning the girl was telling the house mother of her sorority about the dance.

"I had a perfectly wonderful time", she exclaimed "but one thing puzzles me."

"What's that?" asked the house mother.

"I can't figure out what became of my underwear" replied the girl.

CAPITOL REPORT

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT HAS ITS NON-SMOKERS TOO

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — Every cabinet and every political party must somewhere have a few smoke-filled rooms hidden away. For, as any newspaper reader knows, the big decisions behind election campaigns and government actions are made by groups of men huddled in such rooms.

But if Alberta's Social Credit government is to plot any moves in such rooms, it's mum here will either have to import canned smoke or build a bonfire.

Public Works Minister, Fred Colborne becomes a non-smoker last week, joining Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke and Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross. Mercans Willmore, Lands and Forests minister and Russell Patrick, minister of industry and development, are among the few who remain on good terms with tobacco.

And Mr. Hooke's doctor has ordered the minister, a non-smoker since January, to work only half days because of a physical breakdown said to be caused by overwork. Just coincidence that the minister was seldom ill while he was crammed to the weed.

However there was more important news in the capital last week than that.

First reports began circulating that at least two large investment firms are ready to put up millions of dollars for construction of nursing homes in the province. Just happens, we suppose, that the cabinet is studying the report of a committee established to study residential care needs in Alberta and the report has not yet been made public.

The government has said that it is eager to have the institutions backed by as much private capital as possible because this, of course, would save public money.

But the government would almost have to support operation of the homes and the investment firms apparently think this support could make it worthwhile for them to put up some money for construction. At present there are some small private nursing homes caring for people who do not need highly specialized ancillary hospital treatment but who require nursing care and provided in some citizens lodges. The operators receive $8.00 per day from the government for each patient and can charge the patient another $1.50.

It is thought 4,300 beds at a cost of up to $20,000,000 might be required in the province. With a government subsidy and a comfortable enough ceiling on additional charges the investment firms believe they are ready to start.

Other facts and financial figures emanating from the capital city last week indicated a boom in oil explorations and a decline in urban construction. A sale of petroleum and natural gas reservations and leases netted the government $6,389,797 to boost earnings this year to nearly $20,240,00. The figure is only about $7,00,000 lower than that for all of 1962.

Bureau of statistics reports showed construction in Alberta's 10 cities down $19,000,000 from last year while building in other municipalities rose $6,500,000. The figure for city construction was $89,074,304 and for other municipal construction $32,697,804.

And the government also revealed that 76 Alberta hospitals had operating deficits to the end of June while 38 broke even or made money. Edmonton's Royal Alexandra showed the most red ink, more than half a million dollars worth

A brief conversation proved most interesting and made us wish we had the opportunity more often to meet and talk to tourists.

Our California visitors who had stopped to pick up a few supplies on the way through were Mr. and Mrs. Vaunt Langenbacher of San Diego, and their three children Hal 15 age 13, Patty 11, and Vicki 8.

The Langenbachers had arrived on Hinton via Banff and Jasper and were most enthusiastic about the scenery in Canada's Rocky Mountains. They placed the Banff Jasper area high on their list of favourite beauty spots which also included Lake Tahoe on the California-Nevada border, Yellowstone Park and the Idaho-Montana mountains of northern Italy. The Everglades of Florida were also mentioned as being particularly interesting.

Since the Langenbachers have visited every state in the U.S.A. at one time or another, as well as Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick they have had ample opportunity for comparison.

A retired government employee Mr Langenbacher now enjoys travelling with his family sharing the children's three month summer vacation. While in government service in Washington he served as Assistant Counsel with the famous Barkers Committee which made newspaper headlines frequently with its investigation of James Hoffa and the Teamsters' Union. Senator John F. Kennedy, now United States President was a member of the committee at the time of his brother Robert Kennedy, was Chief Counsel.

We enjoyed our talk with our visitors but work was waiting and many miles lay ahead of them. The Langenbachers were heading for Edmonton and Calgary, Glacier Park in Montana, Yellowstone, Salt Lake City, Las Vegas, and home to San Diego. We hope they have a good trip and enjoy every minute

Guardian Hugh says:

Special kinds of trips require special precautions. If you drive through mountain pass across, be sure to check the steering mechanism, foot and hand brakes and brake fluid both before and during the trip. These mechanisms can "burn out" on long, steep downhill grades. If you plan to drive through desert stretches, where service stations are scarce, carry a jug of drinking water and extra water for the radiator

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. James Hinchey wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Louise to Donald Tilby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tilby. The wedding will take place Saturday, August 31 at the Edson United Church.

THIS SHOT OF THE SHERRIFF'S POSSE shows the talented group going into their tight "Rose" drill in which they weaved themselves into an impossible looking ever-tightening, ever-moving circle, then unwound themselves without a hitch. Two glorious days of sunshine favor Rodeo

What were probably the two most perfect days for a Rodeo in Edson's history favored the thousands who flocked into Edson for the big two-day Rodeo Friday and Saturday of last week sponsored by Edson Tri-Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association.

Being the sixth annual event the committee under the chairmanship of Jim Griffiths seemed to have thought of nearly everything. The parades each day were interesting, from the water fight at noon Saturday through the professional rodeo events at the grounds, backed with a bigger than ever midway and local booths catered to the entertainment needs of the crowds.

Edson daughter Sheila Sparks reigned as Rodeo Queen as her sponsors The Edson Lions Club had really been out working on her behalf. Being an expert horse women she rode in the parades

On the first day W Hamerlak, opened the Rodeo as President of the Yellowhead Rodeo Association, after being introduced by the Hon Norman Willmore On Saturday W Jackson of the CNR in Edmonton officiated with Edmonton Exhibition President Reg Eastman being in attendance.

RODEO QUEEN SHEILA SPARKS was discovering of the honors bestowed by those who supported her in buying tickets on her behalf Sheila has taken part in every rodeo since the Tri-Service Association was formed

Parades are colorful openers for Rodeo days

Edson's Main Drag was lined with people for both of the big Rodeo Parades last weekend. Of the two parades, the one on Saturday was the longer, most colorful and most musical.

The absence of all but one band on Friday was commented on by many people. This absence was made up for on Saturday morning when three more very colorful bands added their tunes to the Vegreville and Mannville Youth Band.

They included the Canadian Army Scotties with their wild and wonderful music, the Molson Band from Edmonton in colorful red, white and blue uniforms, led by a curvaceous majorette and the Shriners Oriental Band from Edmonton whose costumes and instruments never fail to attract attention.

The Sheriff's Posse, the group of Edmonton horsemen and women who do precision drills on their beautifully matched horses, were popular all along the parade route and during their performance later at the rodeo.

The local floats entered all showed a great deal of work and planning Many hours of work and buets of dimes went into the numerous floats that featured artistic floral decoration. The effort in this type of float must be appreciated.

Several entries featured animation with persons acting out something The actors and actresses in these tableaus must have been tired of doing the same thing over and over the length of the parade which covered a route from the Sunset Motel, to 4th Avenue, up to 6th and down Main Street to the station

HINTON ENTRIES

Besides the parade members who were taking part in rodeo activities the only outside entries were the North Western Pulp & Power float and the popular old hacking car, both from Hinton The old car put bangs when it refused to budge off the 4th and Main intersection during the Friday parade It needed a push to get it started and promptly showed it's appreciation by a real backing spree

A second old car, the white coupe sponsored by the Bank of Nova Scotia, caused gales of laughter on Saturday, when the hot weather got the best of it and it had to be watered on the corner by the Post Office before it would go any further.

One entry that was conspicuous by it's absence was the Edson Town Band This caused much comment among local residents who felt it should be adding it's musical voice to the parade Unfortunately the Band Master, Dick Christie, was in Banff taking a Direct or's Course at the time

Parade winners in the various classes were

New reforestration Methods tried in Hinton

Forest researchers at Hinton, Alberta are experimenting with plastic "bullets" to plant lodgepole pine seedlings on sites normally too steep or severely eroded which make possible the use of a planting gun to drive the bullet into the soil.

Jack Walters is cash forester at the University of British Columbia, developed the technique of growing and planting tree seedlings in bullet-shaped plastic cups. Seedlings so young as eight weeks can be planted successfully by this method without disruption, the root system continued to ordinary nursery stock which is transplanted first in the nursery bed again on transfer to reforestation areas.

If the "bullet" technique proves successful in the field trials under way at Hinton, it could be applied to reforestation and restocking of forest stands.

The plastic containers two and one-half inches long are driven into the soil with the seedlings inside. They are designed to permit the small trees to grow out of them.

The Alberta District Office of the Federal Department of Forestry is joining and assisting in conducting the results of this method, in co-operation with the North Western Pulp and Power Ltd., at Hinton and the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests.

PLANS ARE ALREADY BEING MADE for three Kindergarten classes for 1963-64 and this last term's class of Mrs. Gus Stotter will be looking forward to really going to school in grade one. This picture was taken by Mrs. Stotter when the children were using the fire hall last spring and in the background Bill Cash explains all about how the big red engine works.

Elks support children's arthritis program

At the close of the National Convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks in Fort William on July 24th, Miss Mary Park of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was presented with a cheque for $12,000.00 from the Purple Cross Fund. This generous donation will go towards support of the special Children's Arthritis Treatment Program administered by C.A.R.S. in B.C.

The Purple Cross Fund is a special fund which was set up to assist crippled children in Canada and is subscribed to by the Ladies of the Order of the Royal Purple and the Elks from all over Canada.

Children who develop a chronic disabling disease often present a more tragic problem than adults with similar difficulties. Such an illness can rob a child of much of his life, and normal development is often sacrificed. This is one reason why Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis is often considered such a disastrous illness.

Children are attacked by this disease most frequently between the ages of two and four, and the disease can, in some cases, produce such severe disability that the child may never know what it is to walk or run. Fortunately this disease is not too common, but a province with the population of B.C. may be expected to produce about 35 cases a year. Through C.A.R.S. Special Children's Treatment Program started, the age range of children seen in B.C. has been from 18 months to 16 years.

The goals of this program are to minimize danger of death during the acute phase of the disease and afterwards to keep the children ambulatory, attending school and living at home wherever possible. One of the important factors in the elimination of stiffness and pain. Proper care given in time can often restore muscle power as well as counteract joint deformity.

The Children's Arthritis Program is financed through donations made to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and the generosity and understanding of the Elks and the Order of the Royal Purple is deeply appreciated by C.A.R.S.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

The man had extreme difficulty finding his breakfast table after a night out with the boys. It had been one whale of a night of boozing.

"I have never seen such bloodshot eyes," said his wife in disgust.

"Yeah," he growled. "If you think they look bad from there, you should see them from in here."

SUGGEST "EGGHEADS" GET GLORY

No doubt some wishful thinking can be expected at school trustees' convention, as anywhere else. At least it seemed like that when the call went out to de-emphasize school sports heroes and boost the earnest student into the limelight.

Largest of the Easter educational conventions was at Toronto where one section the Ontario separate school trustees' association heard a plea that sports heroes be down graded, and "eggheads" be promoted into their place as part of program to improve scholarship.

Rev. J. M. Kelly, president of St. Michael's College, said the attitude of parents and young students towards education must be changed, because survival in the modern world depends on it.

Father Kelly said bright students should not have to hide light under a bushel to be accepted. "There should be insistence that Aristotle, Einstein, Shakespeare and Dante are the great men of history — not Jackie Parker, Yogi Berra and the Pocket Rocket."

Athletics and scholarships are not necessarily incompatible. Many a fine student is a good athlete, and vice versa. But there are also cases where a high school boy becomes so prominent for his football or hockey prowess that his school marks are forgotten by himself and others.

A boy in fact might be lured by cash offers into attending a professional football or training camp before he's obtained his matriculation and therefore after the matriculation might be out of reach until his athletic ability wanes and he's up against the problem of making a living in a tough world.

For every youngster who makes a success in professional sport there must be dozens who have fallen between the two stools education and a sports career.

The way things are, secondary school students are more prone to follow the doings of their sports heroes than of their academic superiors.

After all, their parents are perhaps more interested in the Stanley Cup or the baseball season than in the cold war.

It's a long, long way from Dante to Gordie Howe.

Letters to the Editor

Miss Shirley Goldstick,
P.O. Box 1422,
Edson, Alberta.
Dear Shirley:

Thank you for your letter about the welfare of bears in our National Parks.

I am thankful for your concern over the shinny bear cub. It is one of the problems we have with bears in our parks. I don't like to disappoint you but, the reason the little cub was so thin and unattractive is that he isn't eating the food he should be. Instead of eating his natural food such as roots, grass, and wild berries, etc., he is living off the handouts from passing motorists. As a result, he is eating chocolate bars, cake, and potato chips, etc., because they are easy to get and pleasing to his taste. It is like a little girl in Grade 4 eating her dessert only and not eating her vegetables and meat; she would become thin and unattractive too.

Every year a number of people are badly clawed while feeding bears from car windows. Because people feed them this way, they soon lose their fear of people and then come into picnic areas and campgrounds, where children are playing, looking for food. Perhaps your Daddy can remember what happened to the little girl in Jasper Park. She had a basket of berries which the bear wanted and the little girl did not want to give it to him. People had been feeding him and he probably could not understand why the little girl would not give him the berries. He took the only action he understood and the little girl was very badly clawed. The reason we warn the people not to feed the bears is to keep children and grown-ups from making this same mistake.

I truely hope that you, Shirley, will never have your holidays made very unhappy by a bear who has become spoiled from people feeding him along the roadside.

Yours sincerely,
H. B. Coombs,
Superintendent
Banff National Park

Dear Editor

I wish through your paper to thank those who were in any way responsible for our very pleasant stay at your Rodeo on behalf of the Vermilville and Mannville Band members I want to extend very sincere thanks to the Edson Motor Hotel, the Commodore Hotel and especially the Legion Ladies for the luncheon. To Mrs. Kerr who is big thank you for the time was the best ever at the Desert Centre Motel.

I must also thank all the fine folk who came out to our concert.

Last but not least, to our new friend here, Jane Ann, we wish her a really thank you. They were wonderful.

And to you Jean, thanks for coming out to meet us. If Dean was for the use of your piano he thank all the kind folk of Edson.

Yours sincerely yours,
Jack Dubnik

NORTHERN ALBERTA DEVELOPMENT DISCUSSED

BY [illegible]

EDMONTON — More roads, more agricultural development and more public works such as a hospitals, were among the requirements of northern Alberta discussed at the three day meeting of the government's northern development council last week.

And, of course, more money.

Among the most interesting observations were those of Spirit River MLA, A. O. Flmrit. He observed, "the time has come when the Alberta government will have to borrow to finance future development . . . especially in the north."

Speaking in Wanham prior to the council meeting, he noted particularly the need for more and better highways to develop the north country.

As applications for homesteads multiply "we will have to make some effort to provide better roads for new settlers. They will have to have district or market roads. These would cost about 0,000 per mile. We (the government) cannot expect these people to invest effort and money in the development of the country unless we match this investment by trying to build these some system of district roads."

Hospitals, schools and other services are putting a heavy drain on the government's budget and there appears to be little available for an extensive road [illegible].

"It would appear then," he observed, "that the government will have to look to other sources of revenue. It would also appear at this time the government may have to study the possibility of borrowing funds for this development.

Extended community pasture and rural electrification programs, plus improvements in packaging and marketing, would help make the Peace River area the produce centre for the north, the council was told.

And while Mr Flmrit was discussing the possibility of government borrowing, Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman and his staff were wrestling with a loan problem of their own.

They were trying to put in simple and concise terms the intent of a bill passed at the last legislature. It is intended to make all lending bodies tell their customers exactly what interest rates, including all additional charges they must pay on the purchase of loans.

Ontario, Manitoba and a senate committee in the United States have grappled with the same problem.

Mr. Hinman said he is determined to have the bill applied by the end of the year. He hopes to come up with a formula that a grade 8 student can understand and apply and then call in representatives of business to discuss the plan and offer suggestions, which can be incorporated in the final product.

When a formula has been devised, because of the many ways of calculating interest, it will allow for a one per cent error. At present much of the trouble lies in devising a way to translate various department accounting systems into interest rates.

Just as Mr. Hinman's department was taking aim at loan sharks, Alberta's breweries appeared to be ready to eliminate a program that has rankled the government and Liquor Board Chairman A. D. Elliott for some time.

It is a matter of echo advertising.

Direct beer advertisements are outlawed under the Liquor control Act but some breweries are producing ginger ale cartons with labels almost identical to the suisser product. The board has the authority to eliminate the practice but never has used it.

"I don't think it will be necessary to take advantage of this permissive legislation," Mr. Elliott said. "I think the industry is sick of the cost of echo advertising."

THAT OLD SWIMMING HOLE. There are few communities in Canada that don't have a modern swimming pool or a well supervised lake or river to attract the youngsters. But for some mysterious reason, there are inevitably a few who prefer splashing about in that old muddy swimming hole, usually similar to the one above. Perhaps it's the privacy they prefer — or maybe it's just that they like to play Huckleberry Finn.

Dick Christie home from Band school

Many have been wondering at the absence of the Edson Band in the Rodeo parades. The reason was that Bandmaster Gordon Christie was in Banff attending a Band Directors course.

The course, which lasted from July 27 to August 3, was the second Mr. Christie has attended of a four year total. Unfortunately they have always been scheduled for this period and it was a case of miss the course or miss the parade. Mr. Christie felt that he will be benefitted the more in the long run if he continues to attend the schools for the four years.

At the end of that time when he passes his final tests the town will then be eligible for a government grant to help with Band expenses.

The line of the course may be changed next year, in which case it would not conflict with the Rodeo Parade.

The surest way to keep people from jumping down your throat is to keep your mouth shut.

Printing and free men

It is useful to pause now and then to realize that the printer, the printing press and the printed word have served for more than 500 years as champions of liberty and human rights. Printing has opened the doorhouse of knowledge and has contributed to all progress. It has spread culture, science and learning throughout the world.

August Poem

August has fewer poems written about it than any other month—maybe because it is a period of derision The family has quit arguing about where to take a vacation and is now enjoying it, or not The young folks have decided what colleges to attend

Those who have been at holiday spots almost all summer and not got engaged to anyone have decided they might just as well become en gaged to each other The har vest moon has appeared, and it's as decisive in its effect that a poem in it would be like trying to rehereatize the United States Supreme Court

Moose have declared them selves for a spell of P.T.A. and days left in enumerated kennels for the vacation per iod have forgiven the family and are counting the days on their paws.

So who needs a poem?

And the more practical fi nures th weather Ir. Ed sent she marries

Thanks All!

On behalf of the Tri Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association, I wish to publicly thank every one who assisted us both financially and physically to make our recent rodeo a resounding success. It would be almost impossible to list everyone who assisted us, but I would like to extend thanks here to the R.C.M.P. and the Edson Town Police who did an exceptionally fine job of handling after traffic, assisting with the parade and being on hand when needed at the various functions and festivities

We of the Tri-Service realize that there are many things that could still be improved on at the grounds, such as picnic tables and benches, to act as comfort stations for mothers with young children. In time all such improvements will be made Thanks again folks for assisting us to complete the biggest and best rodeo to date

THIS IS THE HOME of one of the more noted district old timers. James Shand-Havey built this cabin 40 years ago, at Entrance and has made it his home ever since. The story of his adventurous life in the early days is told in J. G. MacGregor's "Pack Saddles to the Jaune Cache".

MR. J. SHAND-HARVEY autographs a copy of the book, Pack Saddles to Tete Jaune Cache by J. G. MacGregor of Edmonton. Much of the information in the book comes from the diaries of Mr. Shand-Harvey who has kept a record of events ever since he came to the area west of Edmonton at the turn of the century.

Mother takes a holiday

Mother had just received an unexpected invitation to spend a two week holiday in B.C. so was here's ever head in last minute preparations when we dropped in for a visit.

Her suit cases were packed and from all indications she was ready for the take off. Her go go job she was not relieved but to get back to those last minute chores. Those small incidentals as clinked, baking a mammoth mountain of bread, filling the cookie jar, whipping up a couple of cakes and perhaps half dozen pies, churning a few pounds of butter, finishing a batch of head cheese, roasting a ham and a fair sized chunk, washing, ironing, mending and darning at least four changes of mens' attire, giving the house a thorough cleaning; trying to put every thing within easy reach of her abandoned men folk and have her kitchen looking neat and orderly at the same time is a known fact husbands and sons have a degree of a time finding anything, even food unless it is right out in the open or hidden away for special occasions. Put the stuff where it belongs, and

Dear Sir:

So many of us experienced a let down feeling with the completion of the rodeo, just felt we must write in with some suggestions for next year.

We heard so little of the bands, even though we attend ed the band concert and dance Saturday night, as only the localites were present. Also what happened to the fireworks? Our children were keenly disappointed to have to go home without seeing this great event!

We felt the grand(and) performance of a few years ago was an event that should have been expanded (how pleasant it was to watch the Shovell's paws perform the musical ride, to have the car loads bands parade on the truck, and as a grand finale, see the fireworks.

We felt the rodeo dropped to a standstill without these final events. How about re installing a grandstand show, with a minimum of events, to complete the day?

Also attend our band, but understand this was unavailable

Strange coincidence for visitors from East

One of those strange coincidence that often crop up occurred this week in connection with a visit from two eastern ladies.

Miss Clara Grey from Kentville, N.S. and her sister, Mrs. Edna Fraser from Quincy, Mass., on a CNR western tour, spent two days with their cousins, Mrs. Carl Ahlf and Mr. Karl Whidden.

During their visit we picked up The Leader mail which accidently included a letter for a Mr Campbell Someone, or Someone Campbell. The letter was from J. Davidson, General Merchant in Herbert, N.S.

When we mentioned it to the visitors, who had grown up in that area, they were astounded. They had both gone to school with Mr. Davidson, many years before.

Mrs. Fraser had never been west before and had not seen her cousins for more than 40 years. Miss Grey, a nurse, had taken her training at the Royal Alex. Hospital in Edmonton, graduating in 1925. During their stop-over in Edmonton they visited a former classmate who had arranged a get together of old friends. In all seven members of Miss Grey's graduating class were on hand as well as twelve other of her nursing friends from classes before and after.

They can't locate it suppose they are starving. But whip up a nightly concoction for your Ladies luncheon, put it in a burglar proof container and bury it in the remotest corner of the South forty, and sure as shooting they manage to locate and devour the stuff.

Anyway to get back to this particular blues. She is even fain her men are in for a rough time while she is away enjoying a holiday. Oh, yes, we forgot to mention it but our galwanizer will be caring for a couple of young'uns while their Mom is in hospital supplying her with another grand child.

This will be a holiday? You ask. Darn lootin', a change is as good as a rest, and for this happy mother and grand mother we anticipate plenty of changes during her two weeks vacation.

MacKay Ball Tourney set for Labor Day

The active MacKay Ball Club have inked their prize money to a total of $300.00 for their annual Labor Day Sports, September 1 and 2.

Sparkling Andy Eklund was in this week to get the pot ferry rolling for his boom. Andy announced that first prize money will be $300 on this year, second is to be $100 and with $50 a win.

Eight baseball teams are entered for the annual local classic. Activities commence bath days at 10 in the morning.

There will also be rides for the kids and a booth on the grounds for the convenience of tourney fans.

The competitive trophy is provided by the Nojack Hotel and Andy says the winning team will actually get possession of the cup for the ensuing year.

"I won't wait for Ottawa on road plans," says Phil

The above heading in The Vancouver Sun of July 15th caught the eye of Principal M. D. Meade who happened to be visiting the coast city to attend the annual convention of The Canadian College of Technicians. Mr. Meade is also the Edson Director of the Yellowhead Route Association. The story, datelined Victoria, follows:

British Columbia isn't going to wait for Ottawa to decide what to do about a second trans-Canada highway.

Highways Minister Phil Gaglardi said Monday he is tired of waiting for federal action on another coast-to-coast route.

He said all contracts for completion of two East-West highways through B.C. will be let by the end of next year.

GOING TO OTTAWA

Gaglardi gave details of the twin highway program when asked about a scheduled meeting of B.C. and Ottawa officials to discuss a second Trans-Canada Highway.

The highways minister said he telephoned Federal Works Minister Jean-Paul Deschelets to say he would attend the meeting in Ottawa.

Gaglardi said that B.C. is not going to wait and see what's going to happen to cost-sharing.

He said B.C. is going to build two new routes as soon as possible. Ottawa's financial contribution to whatever B.C. route becomes part of the second cross-Canada highway can come later, he said.

WORK GOING AHEAD

The new routes are the links between McBride and Prince George and Tete Jaune and Birch Island, north of Kamloops — the much talked-of Yellowhead route.

Work is now being done on both roads and contracts for further construction are to be let within the next two weeks, Gaglardi said.

The route will connect Edmonton with Vancouver and Prince Rupert. The Yellowhead route, however, would meet the present Trans-Canada Highway at Kamloops.

THE WOROSCHUK BROTHERS, Gene and Marsh, and their Edson Comet made their presence felt in the Gold Cup race at Speedway Park in Edmonton on August 6 when they placed 2nd twice and third once. The Comet is driven by Gene with brother Marsh and mechanic Paul Dubois in the pit. Thrills come by the seconds in stock car racing and if plans materialize Edson fans will be able to attend twice monthly races on the local track before the end of the season. It is hoped that a taste of the speedy sport will make for enough interest to have a full season or racing on the rodeo ground track next summer.

THAT SMUG LOOK!

A friend with a big and powerful car was driving me home from the lake because my own bus wasn't functioning. It was a crowded highway, so we followed another car that set a fair pace and simply relaxed to enjoy the ride and the radio that was playing good old fashioned music, nice to drive to. Suddenly, a young lad in a 1956 green Chev with fringes around the top and a dangling doll hanging from the rear-view mirror whizzed by us, cutting in just in time to avoid head-on collision. We sighed when he made it.

Next to cut in was no teenage lad; he must have been in his late fifties But he had the same look on his face A couple of other drivers, doing the same stupid things, added hazard to the drive that afternoon, and they, too, had that same look — a nauseating smugness.

What amazed us was that the car we were in could have whizzed past any of them. No cause for pride on the part of the driver, for we are all agile and strong enough to push an accelerator to the floor. Any dunce can do that. So why the smug look?

I have been trying to figure it out. Spending a weekend in a country town recently, I watched the midnight tug game that went on, with cars splattering gravel at every corner. It was such a display of ignorance I was appalled. I asked a native about it and he said, "It goes on every Saturday night. And you ought to see the look on the faces of the idiots who indulge in it a sort of blank smugness!"

Completely baffled by this behavior, I asked a psychiatrist friend of mine if he could explain it. "It's like electricity," he said, "in that we don't exactly know what it is, but we can understand how it works. It is a sign of a complete lack of security the boy or man who indulges in it is trying to bolster his ego He is conscience of some lack of manhood in his makeup, and is attempting to prove that he is a bold fellow The young fellow who drives carefully is usually the real man he doesn't have to prove anything."

So the next time you see cars whipping around small town streets or busy highways, don't think you are seeing daredevils at large. What you are seeing instead, are cowards or very little men who are trying to prove to themselves that they are brave and bold. Pity them and turn in their license numbers. You'll be doing them a favor.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor;

What's with modernizing the Arena? We haven't heard anything about it lately.

What brings this up is that the Rodeo dance in the Arena was packed beyond capacity line of the makeshift wood floor.

Would it not have been nice to have accommodated the couples who left for dine where Saturday because there wasn't room enough in our big Arena.

As an interested taxpayer, the concrete floor which was in the arena last spring would have done the job nicely at this large affair and topped our Rodeo off right.

Passenger: "Glad isn't the word for it — I'm amazed."

EDSON'S RECREATION BOARD PERFORMS VARIED FUNCTIONS

The Recreation and Cultural Activities Board was formed about two years ago to handle the recreation and cultural activities of the Town of Edson.

In the past year the Board has handled the scheduling and recommending of several facilities. These included the swimming pool schedule, uses of the ball park and arena and the steering of several letters from organizations not only in the town of Edson but throughout Alberta. Sponsors were found for two candidates to take swimming exams in Edmonton and these two are employed in our swimming pool along with Mr. Arthur Stanton, the new pool superintendent.

The recreation board recommended that the facilities in Willmore Park be started. This has been done in the form of two tables and three grills. These facilities are being used as was noticed when our board met at Willmore Park. The park is definitely showing a promise of better things to come.

Mrs. L. Mahon and N. Aspenlet had the pleasure of attending a municipal recreation board meeting at Banff. At this meeting these two members found that recreation and cultural activities are a Canada wide problem and every city, town and village regardless of size is suffering from growing pains. This was brought out in the high light speech of the meeting by Mr. G. A. Wright, the recreation co-ordinator for Canada, who spoke on "let's put sport back in sport." Mr. Wright put a special emphasis on the use of ice skating arenas.

This brings to mind the biggest task the recreation board has had to this date which was to recommend to council that engineers be brought in to survey the possibility of modifications to the present arena building. McLeod and Associates were hired by town council and found the building structurally sound and so able to be modified. The townspeople will remember earlier this year the recreation board presenting the proposed arena modifications to them through the different town organizations, keeping in mind the weather conditions of the last two winters.

Members of the Recreation Board are: N. D. Aspenlet, Chairman, Mrs. L. Mahon, Mrs. H. Bergman, N. Chiasa, T. McGreer S. Smilanich, Councillor M. Collin, Miss S. Street, secretary.

CAPITOL REPORT

NURSING, HOSPITAL REPORT BEING STUDIED

BY JOHN WARDEN

EDMONTON — The capital was hot, quiet and generally an uninspired sort of place last week. Premier Manning and the heads of the nine other provincial governments took advantage of the normal summer lull in activity to get together for a chat in Holidex.

They agreed to hold, by 1967, a confederation memorial hooliping in Quebec City and to ask the federal government for a federal-provincial conference on unemployment this fall.

The summon than was the fourth annual in an almost informal get together at which the premiers can discuss such mutual problems as how to deal with rising hospital costs, highways and incoming legislation. They agreed this year to exchange some senior civil servants to extend general government understanding and possibly pick up some administrative tips.

Mr. Manning will be chairman of next year's meeting to be held in Edmonton.

While the premiers were discussing hospital costs and medical care in Holidex there were a good number of people in Edmonton giving careful study to a report dealing with Alberta's hospitals, nursing and public health.

The 250-page report was that of a committee headed by Dr. K. P. Scarlett, the former chancellor of the University of Alberta. It called for more government aid to the ailing profession before standards drop and a "serious shortage" of nurses develops.

The report, 10 months in the making, also raps the government's policy of building hospitals in small centres because such a policy further increases the nursing shortage.

The point is one that has been made before, although the most common complaint about the government policy of building small rural hospitals is that they are uneconomical and possibly politically inspired.

A provincial council of nursing to deal with problems and assist administrative authorities is recommended in the report and detailed suggestions are made for changes in nursing training programs.

Health minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross said the cabinet is giving the report full study and recommendations that require legislative changes could be acted upon at the next session of the legislature.

And while the federal budget of Walter Gordon has been moved from newspaper front pages as a topic of prime nave, it is still inspiring considerable comment.

Latest government official to remark on it was Ismail Patrich, Alberta's minister of Industry and Development, who said softening of the federal sales tax on building materials does not eliminate all the hazards to Alberta's economy.

He said there is no doubt the tax will hurt the province, especially in the field of secondary industry. But it's a matter of waiting at least to the end of the year to see the extent of the damage.

"Then we'll be able to assess why certain developments or expansions didn't take place as scheduled," Industry has had to reassess building plans as a result of the tax.

"The full effect of the tax would have stifled expansion here, but industry now seems a little more re-assured as a result of the greatest implementation of the full (11 per cent) tax."

The oil well tool manufacturing industry, a new and growing one, is an industry that could be seriously affected, he said.

Light ning strikes Calgary Power sub station

HINTON—

Unusually severe electrical storms which thundered over Hinton early last week caused considerable damage to the main substations of Calgary Power located above the Hill Road, as well as to a number of transformers in the valley.

Lightning struck the sub station about midnight Tuesday blowing a fuse and burning out the main feed to the town. Those who saw the lightning strike reported that the area around the substation was brightly lit up by electrical charges shooting from it. Calgary Power man Fred Sobski worked through the night to repair damage.

MARLBORO

Mrs Mrs Plante is ill and a patient in St. John's Hospital.

Little Murray Lovell was injured when a pony in the pony ride at the Edson Rodeo bucked him off then kicked him in the stomach. He was treated by Dr. Cohen.

Louis Gladue was an Edmonton visitor at the week end.

The Ludwig Camp moved out on Monday.

Mrs Gillie McKenzie and children are visiting her folks the William Belsoeurg.

CAR ACCIDENT

A bad car accident on the new road east of Marlboro injured four people and sent two to hospital early Sunday morning.

The accident occurred when driver Alfred Loyer of Edmonton, travelling east, was blinded by the rising sun and ran into a parked road parker. The car was badly damaged.

Mr Loyer and Mrs. Johnny McDonall of Edmonton were hospitalized in Edson. Other passengers, Wm McDonald and Lorne Paul returned to the city following doctor's treatment in Edson.

Assisted by Neil Campbell, and later by two men from Edson Power was off about four hours.

Wednesday morning a new and steam caused trouble when several more tran-form ers were hit. All in all lightning struck about 10 different places in the valley during the two storms. It was reported that the smoke stack at North Western Pulp and Power was a target several times but suffered damage, and that a transformer near the Parkland Trailer Court was blown up.

For most residents of Hinton the evening storm meant loss of sleep though some sound sleepers claimed they hadn't heard a thing.

Plan Labor Day Dog Show

The Hinton Kennel Club will host a Dog Show and Obedience Trials over the Labor Day weekend at the recreation park near the Town Hall.

About 75 dogs are expected to be entered in the show which will be held Sunday, Sept-mber 1. It will be open to all breeds, including cross-breeds, but German Shepherds are expected to predominate.

Entries are expected from Calgary and Edmonton including several championship dogs which will compete for honors with local champions owned by Louis Philpott and Jim McCallister.

Trophies will be presented to first place winners in obedience and show, and ribbons and certificates will also be awarded.

Anyone interested in entering a dog in the show should contact Mr. Philpott.

WA members fete Mrs. Hooper

About twenty members of St. Catherine's Anglican Church WA gathered at the home of Mrs. Adams on the Grande Prairie Trail on Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Hooper with a farewell get together.

With plenty of chat and a most delicious lunch a delightful evening was spent.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hooper and boys expect to leave Edson on the 18th for Vancouver Island where they will be making their home.

They've done it again

The entire 20 point crib age band came up the silver day, providing a thrill for Pat Sawiuk.

Pat, a Pacific Western Airlines employee visiting in Edson, was having a friendly game with Al Zeddell when the big event occurred. He was dealt the three 5s and a jack and held his breath until the final five was turned. It is hard to understand how anyone could keep a straight face with a hand like that.

Al forgot to say whether he lost the game or not.

Surprise Lake Echoes

"It was such a good camp really" said Mrs. G. Veres, director of the first junior camp of the season and Mrs. J. McDevitt the assistant director heartily agreed

The eight cabin leaders Bruce Cameron, Jim Wuttke Warren Fisher, Betty Whittaker Pyrch ch, Mrs. Morin Mrs Jackson and Hicks Hotstaff were in charge of 48 campers at the grade five and six level. These campers represented numerous towns in the area surrounding Surprise Lake. As well there was a large number from Edmonton. There was one camper from Moose Jaw, also

The campers were kept busy with swimming, under Sharon Wilson, boating, crafts under Lynne Sullivan and Marion Edge, hiking round the mountains and Pilot stunt. Each night there was a camp fire at which Paul Taylor read chapters from "Winnie the Pooh" in a way the campers found stuff. And loved!

As usual Mrs Follette and her assistant Karen Fischer were busy from early morning till late at night keeping the campers and staff supplied with mountains of good food. Mrs E. Stanley, the camp mother had her hands full supervising the activities in the dining hall. The cheerboys Ken Veres and Clifford Meh-vill chopped wood and hauled water from somewhere till night. The lovelorn manager, Carol Fikman, and the nurse, Mrs C. Blackwood and her assistant Fitzbeth Talbot were all kept busy at their various tasks.

The mission project was completed with exciting games for work money for Canadian Indians. The campers donated of 20.28 for goods it

THE HON. NORMAN WILLMORE waves a signal to the helicopter pilot to "Take it away" and then officially opened the Goodwin to Coleman Road on Saturday, August 17.

CARRYING AWAY THE GATE the forestry helicopter made a clean sweep of the novel opening at the Brazeau Bridge on Saturday afternoon.

HON. NORMAN WILLMORE addresses the 125, more or less, persons who attended the opening of the Forestry Road. Mr. Willmore was the main speaker at the opening.

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency

and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

First Section — Edson, Alberta, Thursday, August 22, 1963 — Vol. 11 No. 33

Helicopter gets Brazeau bridge opened dramatically

The sun couldn't have shone more haneigely than it did on the ceremonies last Saturday when the Hon. Norman Willmore waved his arm to signal a hovering helicopter to take away the barricade and officially open the Coleman-Grande Prairie Forestry Road.

The opening took place at the Brazeau River camp ground. Attending were provincial Forestry Department officials and staff, from Edmonton and the Forest Divisions touching on the road; representatives of Chambers of Commerce from towns along the route; and interested citizens who were happy to see the opening of this road which will give access to a rich holiday area.

In his opening address the Hon. Norman Willmore, Alberta Minister of Lands and Forests, pointed out that originally the road had been built for forest protection. It had been opened because of public demand by Alberta residents who wanted a chance to holiday in this very scenic part of the province.

Mr. Willmore pointed out that the road, extending almost 600 miles, connected Coleman in Southern Alberta, and Goodwin, 30 miles east of Grande Prairie in the northern part of the province. The highest point on the road is the 7,800 foot pass in the Kananaskis area.

Following Mr. Willmore's address a two-way radio command a Forestry Service helicopter which was out of sight of the campsite, the arrival it hovered few over the site until Mr. Willmore had finished a trailing cable onto the blockade and as the "copter lifted the blockade away declared the road officially open.

Chairman of the gathering was F. E. Hussels, Director of Forestry. Other speakers included H. G. Jensen, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, J. R. H. Hall, retired Seperia tendent of the Clearwater Forest Reserve and present chairman of the Eastern Rockies Conservation Board; Bert Swift, representing Rocky Mountain House Chamber of Commerce; Dexter Champion, president of the Hinton Chamber of Commerce.

Present also was Doug Hewitt, secretary-manager of the Grande Prairie Chamber of Commerce; Clayton Kennedy, president of the Rocky Mountain House Chamber and Reg Gardener, representing the Edson Chamber of Commerce

The road, started about eleven years ago, runs in this area, through the old mining towns of the Coal Branch which once brought prosperity to the area. At the present its greatest riches are in the natural beauty, the hunting and fishing areas, that will bring tourists to the whole length of the road.

In time it will, in all probability, be brought up to paved highway standard and become an important north south artery in Alberta.

In his few words to the audience, Hinton Chamber of Commerce president Dexter Champion, complimented the Forest Service on the stand ard of road they had built for their forestry and for public use. He made a plea to the general public to keep this area unspoiled by careless fire practices

Most of the 125 persons, more or less, who attended the opening, carried picnic lunches which were augmented by hot coffee and cold pop courtesy of the Hinton and Rocky Mountain House Chambers of Commerce

Legion Kiddies Picnic set for this Sunday

An event looked forward to by the end of August each year, the Legion Kiddies Picnic at Branan's farm is scheduled for this Sunday, August 25.

As usual the treats are free as well as the transportation for anyone who can't provide their own. Cars will leave the Legion Hall at 1 p.m. providing the free rides.

Activities at the picnic site, Ray Branan's farm on the Coal Branch Road — will get underway at 2 p.m. Races and contests will keep young and old busy and work up appetites for the piles of ice cream, hot dogs and soft drinks that the Legion and Auxiliary members will be handing out.

Probably the most hilarious event of the annual picnic is the pie eating contest when the kids, wiener and runners up, find themselves covered with blueberry pie.

Don't forget it. Load the kids into the family chariot this Sunday and have fun at the Legion Picnic.

In case of rain the picnic will be postponed one week.

Drive-in closes Tuesday

Closing feature of the season at the Clairmont Drive-in will be a one night showing of "Backlash," a western film in technicolor. Closing night is scheduled for next Tuesday, August 27.

Being Buck Nite, drive-in fans will likely be loading their car up for an evening of top entertainment.

Getting back to the routine schedule of the coming school season, manager Tom Fowler will be spending his evenings in the Edson Theatre again and says he has some top notch films scheduled for the next few weeks.

Swim exams this weekend

Swimming exams for all stages from beginners to adults will be held at the Edson Swimming pool on August 22, 23, 24, 26, 27 and 28 from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. Any children, whether or not they have taken the lessons, will be free to take the exams This also applies to adults.

Nine swimmers from Edson Swim Club went to the Northern Alberta finals of Provincial Championships in Edmonton on the weekend of August 17.

The swimmers did very well Wayne Carding took second in boys' 15-18 years in the 100 yard free style. Brian Leonard came third in the eleven year group; Lora Koch, 12 14 year group, came fourth in the 100 yard butterfly. Eric Hansen from Hinton was third in the 100 yard breast stroke in the 15-16 year group

At least two of these swimmers are expected to go to Calgary to compete in the Alberta Finals on Labor Day Weekend

Local students attend Science Seminar

Miss Karen Fensholm and Mr Fred Klein have been chosen to represent Edson High School at the 3rd annual United Nations Association Annual Seminar in Science, being held this week, August 18 to 24, at the University of Alberta Edmonton campus.

The bursaries allowing Karen and Fred to attend the seminar are sponsored by the Optimist and Opti Mrs Clubs of Edson

This Seminar brings together 85 outstanding students from all parts of Alberta who will be given an opportunity to consider present and future world problems from a scientific point of view, and to provide information of the work of the United Nations in promoting international cooperation for peace and prosperity.

Three eminent scientists from the University of Alberta will lecture to the group. Dr. W. E. Harris, Professor of Chemistry, will lecture on the topic 'A Look at the Future,' with emphasis on: "Two important factors which will shape our future are the number of people the earth will have to support, and the energy supplies that can be made available." These topics will be examined using the past as a guide to our future. To obtain the kind of future we want, all the intelligent action which can be mustered must be brought to bear on current and future problems."

The second series of lectures will be presented by Dr W K Dawson and Dr. H W Taylor, Associate Professors of Physics, on "The Role of Nuclear Physics in a Changing Society." "The rapid advances in Nuclear Physics during the past few decades have contributed significantly to the present day way of life," they said. Fortunately the science of nuclear physics is also capable of supplying solutions to some of the world's problems. An outline of the past development and present state of the science will be presented and used as a basis for discussions of the great promises the science holds for the future."

Students will have a first hand opportunity to experience University life, not only by living in University residences, but also through campus tours, demonstrations of scientific facilities and discussions of lecture material.

Sponsorship to send six students to Edmonton is provided by various local Service Clubs. Alberta Teachers Association, Home and School Associations and many businessmen and principals in the high schools.

The Seminar in Science is sponsored by the Edmonton Branch of the United Nations Association of Canada in cooperation with the University of Alberta.

Richard Hanson, former U.S. Senator now representing the International North American Hollday Highway Association provided a lively audience with a rare treat Wednesday evening August 7 when he showed his colorful slides of the colored slides taken alon Highway 93 The films were shown at a special meeting called by the Minaws and Pleasant Chamber of Commerce in the Timberland Rangers Room.

Highway 93 which the Association is interested in promoting, connects Mexico City to Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska. It passes through Mexico Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, and Montana, enters Canada at Roosville, B.C and continues via Cranbrook and Kimberley to Radium Hot Springs, Eisenhower Art and the Banff Jasper Highway to Jasper and Hinton. SPIRIT ANSWERS RAILWAY AUTOMATION CUTS

A couple of weeks ago when Mr. J. K. Wilson took an early retirement from the CNR, after 42 years service, rather than move from Edson, we had a chat with Assistant Superintendent J. Helm of Jasper. (Remember when the Superintendents were from Edson?) Among the things we discussed was the phenomenon of Edson continuing to grow in spite of losing somewhere around 300 jobs in the last few years.

On hand for J K's retirement, besides Mr. Helm, were a corporal's guard of the remaining railroaders, a couple of retired CN men, and other well-wishers. The traditional ribbon with the names of fellow workers was shorter than it used to be, but the notice was short, and Mr Wilson was converting over to a non-railroad position behind the desk at the Edson Motor Hotel when he had completed his shift on the CN!!

This very thing was the subject of our talk with the Assistant Superintendent. The qualities of a railroad man such as promptness, alertness on duty and willingness to work any hour of the day or night are qualities that are highly esteemed in other industries. As if to prove this point, present at the fête gathering honoring Mr Wilson there was Mr. Manley Burleigh who, with some humour and pride, pointed out that after a railroad career dating from the twenties, he was still with the transportation industry — the Worthing trucking firm in Edson.

We also recalled a discussion we had with some of the last switchmen to work the yard in Edson. Gordie Lindgren, for one, a mere 30 or so, was telling us he didn't know what else he could do besides railroad. When we pointed to the devotion to irregular duty that marks a railroad man, and that this same willingness to work odd hours under rough conditions was a prerequisite of many jobs, such as the oil industry, Gordie and the rest of the switch boys present said they hoped so.

As if to prove the point after winter's layoffs, such men as Morley Johnson started up in the building business, Cliff Jackson, started plying his H&B experience in the carpenter trade, and this week Elmer Fossheim was back where he left off his H'AP trade of mechanic at war's end, just as if he hadn't put in more than ten years switching boxcars in between.

Edson grew in fair-sized town status thanks mainly to railroad jobs for railroad men, fortunately other types of jobs have opened up to keep our town growing. The instances we have quoted above are only a few and are a little more fresh in our minds. There are dozens of men firmly established in different jobs around Edson who changed occupations without too much fuss as automation pushed them out so long ago as ten years back.

We were quite proud of J. K. Wilson, whom we've known for more years than we'd like to admit, when he quietly pointed out to the gathering that he had better get back to work, as he had some tidying up to do around the office, before going on shift at his new job (although he didn't say it) in the town where his heart is!"

Letters to the Editor

13804 - 108 th Ave
August 17, 1963

Mr D Cannon,
Edson, Alberta
Dear Sir

Having heard you express your views regarding "Our Flag" over CFRN recently I am taking the liberty of sending you under separate cover some material which our Federation has put out to help this campaign.

The larger sticker seals are suitable for windshields etc. and the smaller ones for letters. The small ones sell for 1c each.

It was indeed a pleasure to hear a man who is in public life speak as you did and most encouraging to people like ourselves who have been sending resolutions petitions etc. to the Government for many years.

Yours Sincerely,
Ellen Higgins

EDITOR'S NOTE: The flag referred to is the Red Ensign of course.

The Minister met one of his congregation on the street and stopped to talk.

"I felt so sorry for your wife last Sunday," he said, "when she had that terrible coughing spell and everyone stared at her."

"Don't be too sorry," replied the husband drily. "She was wearing her new spring hat."

Girl, looking at her engagement ring, to Suitor: "I didn't say the stone was small. I just said that not all of my friends have 20/20 vision."

At the end of the concert the season a family doctor was giving a record number of penicillin injections. In desperation, he finally barked the following notice on his office door: "To save time, please back into office."

Cop — "Hey lady, you can't park by the hydrant."
Lady — "Why not? The sign says 'Fine for Parking'."

A little boy climbed on his Daddy's knee and said, "I want a baby rider." After a moment's thought, the father replied, "Why don't you include that in your prayers to night?" So the little boy added to his prayer, "And Lord, I want a baby sister."

Next morning, he got up and looked all over the house for the baby sister, but did not find one. However, he kept on praying for them daily, once up.

In time, however, twin girls were born to the couple, and so it came time for father and son to pick up mother and the babies from the hospital.

On the way, the father reminded his son of his prayers and asked, "Aren't you glad you prayed for a baby sister?"

The little fellow looked up at his Dad and said, "Aren't you glad I quit?"

"AW, THERE'S NOTHIN' TO DO AROUND HERE!"

From The Claresholm Local Press

Businessmen experience difficulty getting and keeping beverage help. One bust newsman had no less than two youths on the job since school closed. In the words of the proprietor; "The boys were using the job as a stop gap until something else turned up or until they got a bit of a graduation." Both boys assured the businessman they would stay the summer, so he goes ahead and lays out the holiday schedule, only to find he is short staffed.

Last week the tennis court was hard surfaced and made available for play. Several teenagers have been seen batting the ball around but this will last only so long, because the game must be played according to regulations to get any enjoyment out of the sport.

Claresholm failed to field "Little League" teams this year for the want of coaching and managerial staff. Persons stuck with the job of herding the boys previous years, decided to "Let George Do It" consequently no teams were organized. Residents continue to provide more and more recreational facilities yet we hear: "There's nothing to do in this town." Nowhere to go." "Nobody wants to hire those without experience."

These are the words of crybabies. An article in the July 5 issue of Life Magazine suggests to those who say they have nothing to do — is to go home At home there are many jobs. Paint the fence, wash the car, weed the garden, cut the lawns or clean up the yard.

THE SHORTER WORK WEEK

One of the mistaken beliefs of modern society rests on the erroneous assumption that less work makes for more happiness. Recent news that labor unions plan a campaign for the adoption of a 28 hour week as a basic employment level leaves us completely unsympathetic.

Entirely outside of the economic absurdity of paying men for 44 hours of work when only 28 hours of production is achieved, expansion of leisure time helps few people. Labor unions claim that a 28-hour week will provide more employment. Nonsense! In practice today, large numbers of ambitious persons are "moon lighting"—holding down two jobs because each demands only a portion of his time. The less time such a person has to spend on one job, the more time he has to hold down another. In effect, this results in even fewer openings for the unemployed.

Human nature being what it is, a lazy person, will still feel hard done by if he has to work 28 hours a week, while the ambitious person will take advantage of the four-or-five-day week to increase his earnings outside of his main employment.

WHY ALBERTANS KILLED PUBLIC POWER AT POLLS

This is the power scene in Alberta. Color it sound.

Voters all but ignored the public power ex. private power question on June 17 when they returned Premier E. Manning and his Social Credit Party.

Evidence that power did not rate as an issue was reflected in the post-election statements of the province's two major party leaders, Premier E. C. Manning and Dave Hunter, head of the Liberals.

Manning, in a lengthy victory speech, insisted by his capture of 60 of the 63 seats in the House the Liberals elected two and the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives re-establish, one) didn't even mention power.

Hunter did mention it, but only to say: We thought it was an issue, but obviously the public didn't agree."

Power failed to become a political issue in Alberta for a number of reasons, among them:

Relatively low power rates. Rigid government control of rates and the industrial competition offered by natural gas have combined to hold power costs in check.

In fact, rates have been dropping fairly steadily during the past 15 years, through increased use of power. The average city dweller in Alberta today pays about $7.50 monthly for 600 kwh, the small town and country user from 50% to 80% more.

Relatively modest power profits. The province's biggest private-owned producer, Calgary Power Ltd., an $18.5 million book value operation, showed a net income of $7,482,838, after taxes, on a gross revenue of $30,880,794 in 1962.

The absence of supposed benefit from public ownership.

The City of Edmonton pondered and markets its own power, yet its rates are no lower than those of Calgary Power, which supplies the Calgary power system is exempted from paying federal taxes. In addition, Saskatchewan has public power, yet its rates are higher than those of Alberta.

A government publicity resistance program launched by Calgary Power, which contains many rebuttals almost every major criticism injected against it by public power advocates during the election campaign. This program convinced the public that Calgary Power is well managed, that its rates are competitive with those entered by public power, and that its nationalization would not produce a benefit.

Agitation for public ownership in Alberta was started on the 1940's, by the Farmers Union of Alberta, then remained dormant for the next 12 years, during which the provincial government strengthened its regulatory powers and pressed a rural power program that has brought practically 100% electrification to the province.

The issue was revived last November at the convention of the Alberta Liberal Federation.

Universally criticized by the press, Hunter's plan called for the borrowing of nearly $300 million at an interest rate of 3% — an unrealistic proposal.

Although both the B.C. and Quebec power takeovers were widely publicized in Alberta, they did nothing to promote the cause of public power in this province.

Dickie, the lone Liberal elected from Calgary, told The Financial Post in a post-election interview he felt the Alberta public clearly understood that the factors which encouraged the takeovers in those two provinces did not exist here.

"In Quebec this was clearly a case of nationalism rather than nationalization. The English ran the power companies and the French wanted to be masters of their own house. In B.C. there was a dispute between the government and the power company over power site development. Here in Alberta was no such public vs. power company or government vs. power company situation."

Perpetual Care

BY PASTOR SHOWALTER

Serious investors have long ceased to search for the plum with perpetual motion. Their minds and energies are directed to making things as good as possible and to last as long as possible.

Every purchaser assumes the deep seated hope that his new house, car, clothes, or pen will last "that long or little bit longer." Life is a daily trend and where can it hope to escape the drudgery by getting one step ahead.

Manufacturers run insurance schemes, banks run assorted financial security schools run graduate you for success and cemetery associations run people "perpetual care" for your body after death, but what is more promising or lasting than the position of the true believer in God as recorded in Deut. 33:27, "The eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms"

Harvesting operations had to be postponed but it was a welcome rain none the less.

Old papers carried news of the day too

A number of old English newspapers, some published in the early years of the century and others dating back to 1802, have reached the office of The Herald recently.

The oldest of the papers, belonging to Mrs. Jack Craig, and were passed down through generations in her family. The [illegible] dated May 24, 1802, were brought in the office by Vivian Lawrence who found them between the floors of an old hotel in Edmonton while helping remodel the building. Most [illegible] were found for newspapers in those days too including insolation.

Scanning the well worn pages it became evident that newspapers then, as now, reflected the life of the time. They haven't changed very much, we decided, but the same could scarcely be said about laws, customs and social conditions.

Under the title Bailey's Journal and Old British Spy, published September 30 1800 we read that a 13 year old girl convicted of horse-stealing was sentenced to death. A similar fate awaited a young man and woman convicted of stealing 30 yards of ribbon. Persons also paid with their lives for forgery, assault, and robberybreakenment.

Not all women were stuck and retiring it seems, two being convicted for highway robbery, as well as a number of other offences.

Considerable space was given to the account of a duel, including a rather vivid description of the wounding of one of the participants. Blood flowing freely and honor was [illegible] personally upheld.

Marathon walks or "walking matches" as they were known were apparently as popular in England in that day as they were in Alberta last spring. It is interesting to note there is evidence the race is not degenerating. Hoyland's Rocky Morris arranged the same time in his walk to Edson as those participating in the walking matches a century and a half ago.

On the political scene Europe was engaged in the Continental War. Napoleon had just offered an ultimatum to Emperor Francis of Austria and Lord Wellington was commanding British forces in Spain.

In the 1802 paper brought to the office by Virgil Lawrence, an account was carried of volcanic eruption on Mount Pelee in the West Indies, which had caused widespread devastation and loss of life on St. Vincent's. A relief appeal had been launched in England and was reported to be receiving a generous response.

Small pox at that time was a dreaded and rampant disease. Approximately 1,348 persons in London were under treatment and 33 new cases were reported the day the paper was published.

We may have largely overcome the threat of small pox and our laws are no longer quite so harsh, but we do have heart disease, cancer, fall-out, and social injustices still exist. Perhaps we have traded the problems of the "good old days" for a new batch of our own.

We can't help wondering how our newspapers and events depleted in them will sound to our descendants, in let us say the year 3147? Any one using their newspapers for insulation?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Herman Tunke, who passed away August 21, 1962.

I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own.
Day by day I miss you more,
As I walk through life alone.
So often my thoughts wander
Where they laid you down to rest,
And one year ago today
I first knew I think of how you
Bore your pain,
In search for cure but all in vain.
I know I cannot wish you back
To suffer that again
Ever remembered and sadly missed by your wife Rose.

Guardian Hugh says:

Tires that are puncture or blowout resistant are well worth their slightly higher price. Your tires should be well matched, with deep, even treads. Many people rotate tires for even wear. Regular inspection is important, too. If one tire wears down a great deal faster, or more unevenly, than others, it's often a sign of improper wheel alignment.

Mike was determined to pass his favorite tavern on his way home. As he approached it he became somewhat shaky but, after plucking up courage, he passed it. Then after going about fifty yard, he turned, saying to himself, "Well done, Mike me boy. Come back and I'll

REPRESENTATIVES from the Rocky Mountain House and Hinton Chambers of Commerce co-operated to supply refreshments for the picnic that took place at the opening of the Brazeau River bridge as part of the forestry road from Grande Prairie through Hinton, Nordegg and on down to Blairmore on the Ice side of the Rockies.

Edson men explain trip to Cadomin caves on TV

A CBC-TV adventure program Monday night was enjoyed by Edsonites and, we would imagine, many former Coal Branch people in the viewing area. The feature, a trip up Cadomin mountain and into the limestone caves, made up a regular program on Channel 5.

The unedited film taken by CBC cameraman Curt Classen was shown to an Edson audience last fall. To introduce and explain the various sequences for the final edited version Mayor W. R. Brunelle and Edson businessman Al Worthing gave the background of the Cadomin cave story on TV Monday night.

As Mr. Brunelle, who has made three trips into the caves explained, they are not the attraction for a lighthearted party, but for a well prepared group with plenty of lights, ropes, warm clothing. Excersing due care, it can be a novel and comparatively safe experience.

Known to the mining community at Cadomin years ago, where delving into bowels of the earth was of no particular moment, the caves have been viewed in recent years as a possible tourist attraction for the area.

The disadvantage of being 70 miles off the Highway and the entrance being nearly to the top of the mountain are offset by the fabulous caverns with enough stalactite and stalagmites to delight the heart of any spelunker.

Both Al and Bud proved to be real TV personalities as well as appearing in the picture acquisitions along with Edson Town Engineer Eric Stopford, who took the lead in the actual clambering around inside the caves during the filming of the picture story.

Co-op tax advantage extravagant discrimination

In a brief filed with the Royal Taxation and the Retail Merchants association said: "The most glaring example of inequitable taxation lies in the provisions of the Income Tax Act which are extravagantly discriminate again at ordinary business in favor of the Co-operative method of business operations."

The Retailers, in calling for removal of the Co-operative tax advantage said every dollar of tax Co-operatives are forgiven is a dollar piled on the back of ordinary business. Referring to the fiscal deficit of $¾ billion, the R.M.A. said the Government could hardly afford the luxury of subsidizing wealthy Co-operatives doing business at the rate of $1½ billion a year.

The brief described Co-op conversions as competitively fair and said that when ordinary businesses give up the unequal struggle, the Federal Treasury again loses out.

The R.M.A. contends that the best tax incentive the Government could offer business is the equitable taxation of Co-operatives who should be prepared to accept their share of the cost of running the country and social services.

Information Bureau proving worth while

More than 7000 tourist cars have stopped at the Edson Information Bureau since it opened four weeks ago. The tourists, while mostly from the States and Canada, have come from as widely scattered places as Alaska and Panama.

The questions they ask most frequently are about local accommodation, eating places, road conditions and side trips for fishing, camping etc.

The Lions Club members who built and staff the Bureau on the coal approach to town say they have evidence that a great many tourists have made Edson their headquarters for holidays in the area on the information they had received.

Mrs. E. Taylor passes away

Mrs. Taylor is survived by her husband Elliot of Edson; one son Albert and three sisters, Mrs. Harold Chapman of Edson and Mrs. R. Wright three brothers Harold, Gordon and Lyle Kropp all of Grove Bluff. She was predeceased by her son Donald in 1960.

Interment was made in the Glenwood Cemetery.

THIS IS THE SITE of the ceremony on August 17 which officially opened the Forestry Road Connecting Coleman in Southern Alberta and Grande Prairie in the north of the province. The sign at the end of the Brazeau River Bridge points out mileages: Leavitt, 16; Hinton, 72; Grande Prairie, 283.

Bridal shower welcomes future Edson bride

The future bride of an RCAF soon boy, Miss Mary Dagis of Hinton, was given a big surprise on Tuesday evening this week when 45 now friends gathered to honor her with a miscellaneous shower.

Mostly friends of her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Jack Boome Sr., the ladies welcomed Mary and extended their best wishes for a happy future. She was taken in the Edson Motor Hotel on a pretext and the shower was a complete surprise.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment was a mock wedding which had everyone convulsed with laughter. Participants were Mrs. Al Haggert the bride; Mrs. Randy Murray the groom, Mrs. Murray Grier the shot gun toting father, Mrs. Jim Griffiths, the preacher.

Opening her gifts, Mary drew very precious thanks for the thoughtfulness of the ladies, most of whom had been strangers before the shower.

Hostesses at the affair were Mrs. Jim Griffiths and Mrs. Nino Chiesa. Co-hostesses were Mesdames Gordon Bergman, Murray Grier, Lee Armstrong and Howard Soanes.

Miss Dagis will become the bride of Jack Boome Jr. on Saturday, August 31 in St. Catherine's Anglican Church.

Parents negligent in helping correct vision

A large percentage of children who are discovered in school to have vision defects never have them corrected, a report of the Edson Health Unit shows.

Figures reveal that almost two-thirds of the children's parents are negligent in providing glasses that would help to correct their defective eyesight.

In addition to testing vision and hearing, the Health Unit provides other school health services including an extensive immunization program.

With the recent appointment of Miss Anderson as a full time Dental Auxiliary a year round dental program will also be provided. Plans for the coming year are to make this service available to all grades above two and three.

Unless they eat the white man's food, Indians never have both health and dentists think the explanation is the Eskimo diet of raw meat puts the chewing muscles to such a work-out in the jaw fashioning into clothes.

The cost of spending by all governments in this country on social security and health is more than double the cost of spending by all governments on education.

During April, May and June of the last school year, 302 children in the Edson School Division were found to have faulty eyesight. By the end of the term only 27 of these had received further attention toward having their vision defects corrected. Teachers and other members of both the teaching and medical professions frequently point out that poor vision can be the cause of poor marks in school.

In addition to testing vision and hearing, the Health Unit provides other school health services including an extensive immunization program.

With the recent appointment of Miss Anderson as a full time Dental Auxiliary a year round dental program will also be provided. Plans for the coming year are to make this service available to all grades above two and three.

Error in story re hunting regulations

Last week this paper carried a story regarding date for big game hunting in the [illegible] — but 1954 as [illegible] with a report on [illegible] regulations for deer hunters. The sentence in question should read as follows: "Deer of either sex will also be taken on the 12, 13 and 14 to patch." In addition to whatever other animal they intend to hunt. It should have read "to deer" and what followed.

Farewell party honors two couples

Rev. and Mrs. A. Hooper and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Sparks were guests of honor at a joint farewell party recently when friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Campbell.

Hosts for the evening were Messrs. Bill Owen and Bill Campbell. A pleasant social evening was enjoyed. The highlight of the affair was the presentation of gifts to the honored guests. On behalf of their many friends the Hoopers were presented with a western style lamp while the Sparks received a saddle stool.

Women's open golf tourney this Sunday

Following a successful men's open golf tournament last weekend the ladies are now planning their annual event for this Sunday, August 25.

There will be 18 holes of medal play with tee-off time set for a leisurely 10 a.m.

The girls are hoping for a good field to turn out. They are keeping their fingers crossed that the weather man will co-operate as well with them as he did with the men and not give out with the cool, damp treatment it has been giving the district this week.

Annual Rodeo Assoc. evening meeting names Jack Hook president

An annual meeting, combined with a supper and social evening elected Edson businessman Jack Hook to succeed Jim Griffiths as president of the Edson Tri Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association a week ago Friday evening in the Edson Motor Hotel.

Retiring president Jim Griffiths had served two years as Rodeo proxy and received a standing ovation from the members and the ladies present.

Lloyd Bossert [illegible] a net of the annual [illegible] that a clear profit of over [illegible] will enable the association to clear up outstanding loans and proceed with an expansion of the [illegible] well attended Rodeo about next July.

Send in coming events

As a public service which is carried on all year, this paper features a "Coming Events" column for the convenience of local associations, groups, etc., who wish to publicize a date of some future project.

Now that the new school term is about to open community events will get back to an organized schedule. With this in mind, secretaries are invited to send or phone in their events for publication. All we ask is that you give it to us in lots of time.

Needless to say, they must be concise and can not include cost of the event.

Canadian couple see world by motorcycle

With 70,000 miles and as many sights and experiences behind them Dan and Judy Harwood are beginning to look forward to getting home to their family and friends at Ottawa.

They were looking rather tired when they stopped for a few groceries and a cup of coffee in Edson last week. However, they expected a ten day slowdown in their trip though Jasper and Banff and this would give them a chance to rest up for the trip home across the prairies.

The Harwood's trip around the world started in January 1961 when they left Canada by freighter for England. The trip wasn't a spur of the moment thing. They wanted to see the far away places, with the strange sounding names as the song of a few years ago went. Unlike many other people who dream of travelling, the Harwoods made the effort and soon found themselves on a hitch hiking tour of France and Spain.

In Italy they bought their motor bike and circled back up for another look at France before starting out on a tour of Yugoslavia, Greece, etc and down through the Middle East, Singapore, Ceylon and Japan to Australia.

Stopping in Sidney, Australia, to work for a year the Harwoods picked up a definite Aussie accent. Leaving there they covered New Zealand before boarding a freighter for South America. From Peru they toured most of the South American countries, travelling up through Panama, Mexico and the central United States to B.C.

Travelling up through B.C. from Prince George over the John Hart Highway the Harwoods came through Dawson Creek and back through Ed monton on their way west to the Rocky Mountain parks be-

Modify Edson school to cut building costs

Contract for a new Jubilee Auditorium for the Edson High School has been let to Bennett Construction of Edmonton at an estimated cost of $153,302.50. It was revealed recently following a meeting of the Edson School Division Board.

Cost of the building will be covered by the provincial Foundation Program with no additional cost to tax payers in the Division.

Original plans for the auditorium were greatly modified in order to reduce cost from $19.00 to $14.00 per sq. ft. so that the cost would be covered by the Foundation Program. Modifications must still be approved by the Department of Education before construction begins. It is hoped that work will start soon and that the auditorium will be ready for next March.

Modifying original plans [illegible] meant such as gym equipment [illegible] auditorium lighting. Due to an increase [illegible] upon the Board felt that costs must be kept to a minimum

We hear that bear are set ting up camps in blueberry patches around Peers and drying more hamams to con trol their squatters' rights. Well after all bear too enjoy blueber ries.

A brief but vicious hail storm Monday afternoon caus ed some damage to gardens, and discomfort to folk who happened to be caught out and unaware.

Floyd, Mary and Ronnie Thomas, assisted by Bud are down on their south plots pet ting the finishing touches to current haying operations. Ted and Allen Ivy are also putting up hay on Bud's place.

Know something? Motorists allow themselves to depend too much on highway mark ings. Just notice for yourself sometime. There are several places in the 20 mile stretch between Carrot Creek and Edson where one could well invite disaster if he passed on a broken line.

We witnessed a near head on recently when a car passed a truck at the east side of Mcleod River. The broken lines assured him it was safe to pass, but trees near the curve obscured his vision. Road markings are fine but let us not take them too se riously. All cars are not cap able of taking off as though jet propelled.

HOMESTEAD LAND HERE TOO

We note from a news report that a party of cabinet ministers including the Hon. Norman Willmore of Edson constituency is looking over the Peace River area to help in formulating provincial government policy on homesteading.

Involved is a basic decision as to whether to continue opening new land for settlement in the northern districts at the pace of the last two years, or to curtail homesteading until present areas have been provided with roads and other basic services.

There is also the problem of opening up homesteads or selling land in the area between Edson and Whitecourt we would like to suggest. Our area has considerable land which sons of present farmers would like to start on which has been almost grudgingly let out by the Department of Lands and Forests.

This is a policy that should be expanded where there is a reasonable chance the potential farmer can make a go of it. Two things we suggest that should be borne in mind. The tracts should be large enough for economic operation in our grey wooded soil area. The fact that there is a stand of lodgepole pine on the land should not be used as reason for refusing to allow the adjacent areas to be developed for farmland.

Marketable pulp, in our opinion, is just what the young farmer needs to give him cash income while he is working up his land to the point where he can make a living on it for his family. Naturally areas where school bus routes and gravelled roads are already there would seem the logical place to start filling out.

Our farmers have been growing in stature and importance to our economy, especially since the war. For our districts to be properly balanced, locally grown farm products can do much.

Our large district situated as it is on the edge of the green area is capable of supporting more forage type farmers than it does at the present time. We think the policy of homestead land being opened up in West Central Alberta should receive priorities over more remote sections of our vast province.

"If it was my strong constitution that pulled me through ... remember that when you make out my bill!"

Letters to the Editor

August 23, 1963

Dear Sir:

We were visiting in your thriving town during your rodeo days. We enjoyed every moment. The parade was very good, the rodeo was exciting with the events being so well organized.

We wish to commend the Town of Edson for the comfortable campsite, 4 miles south of the town, on the Athabasca River. That was our stopping place.

On the way to this campsite last before one turns East to follow the river on the west side is a demolished cement "huge" structure. We examined it and wondered what it was. Could you inform us?

Thank you,
Yours truly,
Mrs. M. Salisbury,
Edmonton

EDITOR'S NOTE: The old ruin is what remains of a round house built for the Canadian Northern Railway. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and the Canadian Northern ran almost side by side from Edmonton to Jasper. During the latter part of World War I parts of both railways were abandoned and the steel sent to Europe for railway operations behind the lines.

In the early twenties the two railways were combined into the present Canadian National Railway along with other smaller railroads.

These partial walls are what remain of the roundhouse. Poking around south of this ruin you can still find evidence of a town named Tollerton which ceased to exist as Edson pushed ahead in population.

HUMOR COLUMN

The newly-rich couple decided to put on some air by letting their new position in the social scale. After shopping all to buy golf shoes, sport clothes, golf balls and clubs, they drove out to the country club.

"I'm sorry," the club professional told them, "but you won't be able to play today."

The newly-rich were flabbergasted. "Why not? We have everything — clubs, shoes, all the equipment."

"I know," said the professional, "but we don't have any caddies."

"All right, no who cares," said the male, deciding to make the best of the situation. "For today, we'll use the Buick!"

"He made the most popular after-dinner speech I ever listened."

"What did he say?"

"I'll take the check."

Jay: "Are you going to eat that sandwich with your fingers?"

Jan: "No. When I come to them I'll eat 'em separately."

HARD BAIT

A puzzled lad watched a party of anglers putting out in their boat.

"Hey, dad," he cried, "do the fish like all that beer?"

Mother discovered her little daughter fighting with the boy next door. After parting them she lectured her daughter.

"Next time," she said, "I don't want you hitting Johnny back. Remember that you're a lady. Out talk him!"

CAPITAL REPORT

AUXILIARY HOSPITAL BUILDING SUSPENDED

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — Again there was little startling news out of the capital last week. A rash of new plans for the city itself to spend money on development and the arrival of Jackie Parker to quarterback Toronto Argonauts against his old Edmonton mates seemed to be the big stories.

But there were a few tid-bits from the government — mostly dealing with hospitals, a subject that appears to be getting the lion's share of attention in the last few months.

Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross announced suspension of the auxiliary hospital building program with 13 hospitals still to be started in scattered parts of the province.

The suspension was prompted by a review of the function of such institutions, originally intended to handle persons too sick to be placed in homes for the aged but not sick enough to warrant care in active treatment hospitals.

It seemed that in many cases they were becoming domiciliary institutions and in others they weren't being used to the extent the planners expected.

In any case the suspension, until the cabinet can review the whole situation, added emphasis to rumors that private enterprise would be invited in enter the field of building and operating homes for the aged, with some government assistance.

The government also announced it has adopted a stiff hold-the-line policy on hospital operating costs. Hospitals which have regularly run into deficits have been warned they may be a cut-back in government assistance towards making up the losses.

Dr. Ross has ordered a complete study of the financial picture of all hospitals since the inception of the provincial hospitalization program five years ago.

His department wants to get at the root of the problem which prompts hospitals of the same size and similar operations to come up with such a variation in the books. Why does one hospital run efficiently within the framework of government payments while another consistently loses money.

At the same time the Associated Hospitals by not considering the additional types of service they must offer compared to small rural institutions.

They say the government's plan does not provide incentives for hospitals to improve and develop services.

Last week also saw Public Works Minister Fred Colborne announce a change in his department's policy. Until now public buildings have been designed primarily by the department's staff of 60 architects and draftsmen.

From now on, said Mr. Colborne, most members of his staff who resign or retire will not be replaced although a core of government architects will be retained. As a result private firms will be called in to design most government buildings.

Mr. Colborne didn't say the move would save any money but said he had been persuaded that it would lend a freshness to government building design which many people have said was definitely lacking.

The staff being retained will be able to offer experience in government design, which the private firms would otherwise have to obtain through extensive research, he said.

POWER RATE STRUCTURE GETTING OFFICIAL LOOK

EDMONTON — with a provincial election conveniently out of the way for another four years the government last week decided to inquire into the rate structures and financing of Alberta's private power companies.

Such a move, the electors were assured only two months earlier, was not at all necessary and the whole question of power facilities and costs was simply a plot of the Liberal Party. They brought it up because they could find no more satisfactory political gimmick to use in their campaign, the electors were told.

That, at least, was the way most press observers interpreted Social Credit reaction to the major plank in the platform of Liberal leader Dave Hunter. Maybe they were all wrong (which wouldn't surprise Mr. Manning, at least — the press being somewhat more fallible than Social Credit.)

However, to get back to the major item of last week's news. It was reported that the premier and Industry and Development Minister Ross Patrick, were the principal advocates of such an inquiry during a cabinet meeting.

From early reports the exact form the inquiry would take was not quite clear. Fred Gale, general manager of Calgary Power Ltd., said his company had not been immediately advised of the government move and "it's difficult to comment without knowing the full details."

The president of Canadian Utilities Ltd., J. C. Dale, said the move didn't come as a complete surprise to him. "Our books and rates are accessible to them now. They keep an eye on our earnings. We had some indication that they were going to formalize the [illegible] situation."

The public utilities board will begin immediately to use its legislative power to examine the books and rate structure of these companies and two others, Northland Utilities and East Kootenay Power Company. Just what it would look for and what kind of a report was expected are questions that remain to be answered.

Mr. Patrick said the study was ordered "guarantee to us that cost patterns presented by the companies are absolutely correct."

Other government sources indicated the study arose from the political play given the issue in the June election — and maybe the Liberals did persuade some people the power situation needed further study.

The board will examine the books of the companies to determine operating costs, profits, capital costs and depreciation allowances. There could be public hearings, Mr. Patrick said, and a conclusion may be a year in coming.

One problem the investigators will face is that each company has a different accounting system and it will be difficult to find a common base rate structure applying to all four.

The first major study of Alberta's power companies could result in a set of figures the government can use to compare with public power costs in other provinces — figures that aren't available in detail during the campaign when Social Credit stoutly defended private power.

It will also provide a schedule which can be used to determine if the rates are attractive to industry, and an inducement to industrial growth in the province.

Optimists have club visitor

PAUL A. JOHNSSON

Mr. Johnson who comes from Great Falls, Montana, was elected Governor of District 13 at the annual convention held in Calgary last May and will serve through to June, 1964. District 13 is one of the 29 districts in Optimist International which has more than 2500 clubs and nearly 80,000 members in the United States and Canada. The organization was founded in 1919 and this year is observing its 44th anniversary. It's international office is located in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were guests at the evening dinner with Optimists, their wives and members of the Opti-Mrs in attendance.

Governor Johnsson was introduced by Bill Owen and thanked by George Collin. His address on the goals and functions of an active Optimist Club was inspiring and interesting.

During the evening Mrs. Johnsson was presented with a piece of pottery from the Edson Craft Centre. The presentation was made by Opti-Mrs Eileen Serdiuk

Earlier in the day he had been met by Optimist President Harold Wortman and Optimist Kenneth Robins and enjoyed a round of golf with them on the local course. Traveling by car Mr. and Mrs. Johnsson are visiting all the Optimist Clubs in District 13 and are accompanied by their two daughters. From Edson they were on their way in High Prairie.

There are about 177,000 Optimists employed in the primary and secondary trades industries; the former begins with man-made and natural fibres and produces a wide variety of yarns, fabrics and other products, while the latter begins with the finished or semi-finished products supplied by the primary industry.

Boulder Dam visit highlight of holiday

Following is a boy's impression of his holiday visit to Boulder Dam. The dam visit was easily the highlight of the holiday for Leader carrier boy, Robert Jasper. The letter follows:

We started out Friday, August 9 at 6:15 a.m. It was a very foggy morning. Sometimes the fog was so thick we could only see 10 ft. in front of us. As the sun came up the fog gradually disappeared. We got to Jasper at 8:30 a.m. We filled up and then started out again.

We travelled until noon and then we stopped at Field, B.C. to get something to eat. We started out again and travelled all afternoon and then around Salvash we started looking for a motel. And found one four miles from the town of Enderby. We stayed there until Sunday.

On Sunday morning we left for Vernon. We went to church at Vernon and after church we again started out for Osoyoos with Mr. J. Vander Veer and his wife who were also heading for Osoyoos.

At Penticton we stopped to have lunch by a lake. There we saw an air show. We saw the Red Knight. The Golden Hawks and a big helicopter performs. After lunch we headed for Osoyoos and got there around 5:30 p.m.

The next day we went swimming in Lake Osoyoos behind our cabin. The water was real warm. At noon the sand of the beach was so hot that I couldn't walk on it barefoot.

On Wednesday we went down into the U.S. to the Coulee Dam. This dam produces electricity and also holds back the water for use of irrigation. We toured through this dam and at certain places there was a bottom. If you press this button a man will speak to you through a speaker and he will tell you something about what you see and he will tell you where to go to your next stop.

Altogether there are 8 miles of gallery in this magnificent structure. There is a two lane highway over top of the dam. The generators there are 65 ft in diameter and 20 ft. in height. It took 80 railroad cars to move one of these generators. All together 22,000,000 tons of concrete were used to build the Coulee Dam.

Beside the Coulee Dam there is a pumping plant which you can also tour through. This water is pumped through big concrete pipes 12 ft. in diameter. At the moment they are using 6 of those pipes but there is still enough power to put 6 more there. If anybody is going down that way I think they would really enjoy touring this terrific structure.

On the way back home from Osoyoos we stopped in at Kelowna to see the Ben Tre Factory. When we were there they were making apricot nectar. We also toured through the factory. Altogether this day was about 10 people working on the Apricot Nectar. The rest of the work was all done by machinery. After we toured through the factory we again headed for home.

Reason enough

The following is the copy of a letter sent by a subscriber to a well known hospital in answer to their appeal for funds:

"For the following reasons I am unable to send you a larger check I have been laid up, held down, sand bagged, walked upon, flattened out and squeezed by the income tax, the super tax, the motor tax, the tobacco tax, the beer tax, the spirits tax and by every society, organization and club that the inventive mind of man can think of to extract what I may or may not have in my possession for the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Ivory Cross and the Double Cross and for every hospital in town and country.

"The government has governed my business till I don't know who runs it I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined informed, required and commanded, so that I don't know who I am, where I am or why I am here at all.

"All I know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not go out and beg, borrow, or steal money to give away, I am cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked in, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, hung up, rung up, rubbed and damn near ruled.

"The only reason I am clinging to life at all is to see what the hell is going to happen next.

WAINWRIGHT WOMAN CALGARY AQUARIUM MILLIONTH VISITOR

Mrs. Dave Gardiner of Wainwright, Alberta, was the one millionth visitor to the Calgary Aquarium, being the chats with J. B. Cress, past president of Calgary Associates, S. Harling Co. Ltd. and founder of the Aquarium following presentation of $100 in Silver Dollars.

The Calgary Aquarium welcomed its one millionth visitor Friday, August 16th, with a display of nautical fashion that included an unusual sea chest with 100 pieces of silver as its treasure — and a pretty mermaid to dive for it.

A daily count of the number of visitors has been kept since August 20th, 1960 when the Aquarium, free attendance public service arm of the Calgary Brewing & Malting Co. Ltd. was opened in the $2 million dollar building presented to the Brewery plant at Calgary. It is the only interior aquarium in Canada.

At 2:46 p.m. August 16, Mrs. Dave Gardiner, Sr., of Wainwright, Alberta, walked through the main entrance of the Aquarium and became its millionth visitor and the recipient of a $100 cash prize, a commemorative scroll, a bouquet of flowers and a fish dinner - a fresh-caught Arctic char flown to Calgary for the occasion from the North West Territories.

SPEED IS MODERN SYMBOL

Speed . . . the symbol of our age. We want something when we want it, and we want it the moment later. ● There is some merit in this philosophy, too. For example, when you suffer a loss, you want your insurance claim settled immediately . . . if not sooner. Fast service can be yours if you purchase your car, home or business insurance through an Independent Agent. He places your interests first and never forgets that he is working for YOU . . . not the insurance company. Let the Independent Agent handle your insurance problems . . . all topnotch, with reputations for fast, fair payment . . . he is in a position to know the best policy for YOU. He keeps you posted on new, more advantageous policies as they develop and suggests economical ways to prevent when your insurance needs change. ● When an emergency does arise and you suffer a loss, your Independent Agent can cut red tape and help speed settlement. His personal attention to your insurance needs never falters.

Sept. 30th. Monday Annual meeting Yellowhead District Council at Hinton.

Congratulations to the Cubs and Scouts and to those who stood behind the scenes on the Yellowhead float for the Edson Rodeo Parade. It must have been very rewarding when the entry placed 2nd in the Organizational Class. It was a pleasure to have a Boy Scout from 1st Edson on board also

Ed's Bill Mahon, Edson and Doug Fleming, Hinton, are just home from their jaunt through the Central Canada Hope to have a story and pictures next week. The only regret to date was that the boys couldn't be there

Canada's private radio and television stations provide more than 15 million hours of programming a year.

Our pioneers deserve credit

Driving through the countryy one sees the marks of progress and with a feeling of gratitude for the efforts and sacrifice of those who have gone before us; the pioneers, some perhaps who did not do so much as others and are not especially remembered but rather like the bricks in a building help to make a piece of work complete.

The brave gallant souls who left relatives and friends and came to an unknown land, to these we owe a great deal.

The small bits of clearing that some homesteader made and then abandoned and un-other did a bit more; the wagon roads that were cut with an axe and leveled by hand; the hardships suffered through cold, mosquitoes and lack of every convenience should make us strive to be worthy of our great heritage

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson wish to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Linda Diann to Ronald Wadley, son of Mrs. G. Wadley and the late Mr. H. Wadley, all of Edson. The wedding will take place in St. Catherine's Anglican Church on October 5th.

fore heading the 9,000 odd miles home. They expected to be stopping quite a few places to visit friends on the way home.

Asked what country they liked best in their travels Judy replied that it was impossible to say as each country had something that made it specially stand out in their memories.

Originally they had planned to see Africa and go back up into central and northern Europe. The rather unhealthy state of affairs on the African continent was one of the things that decided them against this trip. Their next trip will be across the north ern part of the world, they say, and will include Russia, Siberia and the Scandinavian countries.

The hottest spot they found was in Arabia where it was up to 130 degrees in what shade could be found. Not far behind was the Mojave Desert in New Mexico where it was 110 degrees. Following the sun wherever they went, Don and Judy said it could be good to see a Canadian winter again.

The Harwoods have become expert in packing a lot of things in a little space. This includes a tent, sleeping bags and air mattresses, cooking utensils, food, personal necessities and a typewriter.

Taking advantage of hostels and government provided camping areas wherever they could Don and Judy, months later became expert camp ers during their trip.

Not including the year spent in Sidney when they were earning as well as spending money, Don estimated the trip cost in the vicinity of $6,000. This included cost of bike and equipment.

Asked if they planned to write their memoirs, they said they didn't know about memoirs, but they certainly planned to do some articles on their trip.

Their bike bike is covered with names of places they have been, mostly the capital cities of the many countries they have visited. That and the general widely-travelled look of bike and riders al tracts attention wherever they go.

Having a coffee with them, we didn't have to ask many questions. As Judy said, they were asked the same thing twenty times a day, wherever they happened to be stopped.

They plan to be home some time the last half of Septem ber before cold weather sets in and funds run out.

Major scholarship winners announced

Winners of scholarships for receiving the highest aggregates in the different high school grades have just been announced by Principal M D Meade. Some delay in making these results known was occasioned by the Department of Education from whom the principal required a written statement as to the highest aggregate in grade IX. The summary received by the school gives only one letter ratings and stanine scores. Names of the runners-up in each grade are given parenthetically.

The Commodore Hotel award in grade XII will go this year to Carole Svedberg (David Keyes). The scholarship from the same donor for grade XI will be received by Fred Klein (Frank King).

The Edson Motor Hotel scholarship will be awarded to Dennis Calvert (Roselle Pinske). In grade IX the Edson Motor award will go to Juliana Mazurin (Colleen Meade).

Word has also been received that one of the $500 Alberta Hotel Association scholarships will be received by Carole Svedberg who is planning to enroll in the Faculty of Education at the University of Alberta.

Winners of other prizes and bursaries will be fully reported after the presentations on Friday, September 20.

THE THOUSANDTH TOURIST to register at the Lions Tourist Information booth on Edson's east end was registered by Mr. W. MacDonald on Thursday of last week. The family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Gilder of Port Orchard, Washington, were delighted at being singled out and enjoyed a sightseeing tour around town. Presented with a souvenir ash tray from the Craft Centre by the Lions Club and a complimentary dinner by The Leader they were agreeably surprised. From left to right Publisher D. Cashin, Lion Andi Haak, the Van Gilders, Grandson Dan, and Lion Bert Herring.

Edwin Gutzke found dead in his home

A familiar sight for many years around Edson as he rode his bicycle or old car, carpenter John, bearded Edwin Gutzke was found dead in his shack on Friday, August 30. He had been dead for some time, and death was attributed to natural causes.

Mr. Gutzke had lived a mile south on the 3 Mile McLeod road for a number of years. He was about 74 years old.

A routine investigation was made by the local detachment of the RCMP.

Percy Wells does it again

Percy Wells, a member of the Edson Golf Club, won the Championship Flight of the Borhead Annual Labor Day Open Golf Tournament over the weekend. In the final which was close, Wells won two up on the 17th hole over Wm. Wright Sr. of the Victoria Club in Edmonton.

The tournament, which drew 134 golfers, was played in ideal weather and under excellent playing conditions. Another Edson Golfer John Walker, brought home the winner's trophy for the second flight. Other Edson golfers taking part in the tournament were John Butters and Andrew McEvoy.

Large fossil intrigues geologically minded

A find that would have excited anyone interested in digging fossils, etc. was brought into The Leader office last week by Hank McTemis who has been prospecting the upper reaches of the McLeod River in the Mountain Park area.

The "find" was a fossilized snail shell measuring 6½ x 9½ inches and weighing between two and three pounds. Mr. McTemis, who gives his name and address as Hank McTemis, Prospector, Spruce Living Spruce Tree, Alberta, B.C., said he was curious when he saw a bit of bright blue the size of a quarter buried in the sand beside a log. He walked past, but curiosity got the better of him and he went back to unearth the form of a creature of the past.

Strangely enough, at the same time Mr. McTemis was in the office a geologist turned theologist, Miss Ruth Reid, was in to pick up some supplies for the United Church at Peers. Miss Reid had covered the Coal Branch area in the past on a field trip for Shell Oil Co. of Calgary.

She had never seen this particular type of shell before which was covered with protuberances which shows it is a highly specialized type. Probably a million years old, the snail is of the ammonite type. It was covered with definite time lines which to a geologist are as easy to read as the rings on a tree trunk.

Mr. McTemis has been prospecting the upper McLeod for the past month hoping to find the elusive "rich vein of gold" that has kept men seeking for eons. Before coming to this area he also prospected in the northern Cariboo area of B.C. and in the Yukon.

GEOLOGIST RUTH REID at right, points out the time lines on a huge snail shell brought into The Leader office by prospector Hank McTemis. Miss Reid said the shell was "only a young one, possibly a million years old". Forming a background for the fossil is Prospector McTemis' mercury gold sluicing pan.

REPORTS HAVE COME IN THIS SUMMER of the wonderful gardens in the Edson district. Many people are enjoying corn, cucumbers, etc. from their own gardens and may have tomato plants heavily laden with fruit. We haven't seen any tomatoes though, that come up to those grown by Mr. and Mrs. D. Arpacsi up The Grande Prairie Trail. Mrs. Arpacsi brought the seed from her sister's garden in Windsor, Ontario, last summer, but had no idea they would do so well. The rest of their garden is just as good and Mrs. Arpacsi has put down pounds of frozen stuff as well as a barrel of sauerkraut. Mr. and Mrs. Arpacsi retired from up the Coal Branch four years ago. They have since transformed a bare yard into a well landscaped home.

Robb and Branch News

Mrs. Kennedy and Patsy visited at Hinton on Monday, where a cloudburst accompanied by hail almost stalled traffic and left the streets a river of water.

The last long weekend of the summer saw the Coal Branch Glety dripping with visitors. It seemed as if every available spot along the road big enough to park for the night was occupied.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wade and family were out from Edmonton to spend the weekend with the Brundles at Old Mirror Brundle.

The Charlton's home was the scene of a family reunion complete with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Charlton from Prince Rupert, B.C., as well as Ken Charlton from Edmonton.

Nick Klipic and Marko Kovich drove to Drayton Valley on Saturday. Marko remained for medical observation by former Branch resident Dr. Waugh.

People are gradually moving back to Mercoal. In spite of the fact, the remains of the hospital went up in smoke the other morning.

The many friends of Mrs. Rogers, a teacher on the Branch for a number of years were sorry to learn that her sister in Calgary had suffered a broken leg. Mrs. Rogers expected to visit up here this fall and we hope to see her when the fall colors are in all their glory.

Highland dance classes have rewarding moments

JASPER—

With the beginning of new classes in Highland Dancing it might be a good time to print a few of the impressions gleaned from the teacher, Mrs. F. O'Rourke, the students, and the mothers of dancers.

From the teacher's standpoint, all pupils are accepted, regardless of age, or ability. The same attention is given to all students of Highland Dancing. Mrs. O'Rourke encourages children of the class to enter competitions, for in doing so the pupils have something to work, and are more likely to practise the fine points of dancing.

She has found in the past that those pupils most likely to succeed in becoming proficient in the dances, are those whose mothers take enough interest to attend lessons frequently, and to see that the dancers spend some time practising every day.

A dancing school cannot be held successfully without funds. The teacher has found from experience that the most efficient way to keep her books in order is to have the fees collected once a month. These fees, compared to other schools are very reasonable being $6.00 per month for each student. When there are more than one in a family a special arrangement can be made.

Mrs. O'Rourke herself, is quite pleased with the success of her dancing school pupils in attending Medals, both at competitions and Medal Tests. She is willing to work overtime with such students as she feels need extra help.

From the student's standpoint, they all love Mrs. O'Rourke. She nonetimes has to become a bit of a disciplinarian, but she is able to do this in such a manner that the child does not hold it against her. She treats the students in a fair manner, and this is something which children not-ice and appreciate.

From the standpoint of the parents, Highland Dancing is a wonderful pastime for the children. It is good for their poise, their sense of rythmn, their co-ordination, and their prestige among their friends. Sometimes it is a bit of a shock at first when parents realize the cost of the costumes and of entering competitions. However, much ingenuity has been shown among the parents of the dancers in the past in providing the costumes.

At first all that is needed is a pair of dancing slippers, a kilt and a white blouse. By the time the full dress uniform is needed, usually the parents have done some scrounging, and found where they can acquire a second-hand outfit or make it themselves. It isn't as difficult as it sounds at first. As for attending the competitions, generally this can be worked into a family holiday. It is never a difficult as it sounds at first hearing.

From the public standpoint this summer has proved in Jasper that many people are interested in watching Highland Dancing. The children of Mrs. O'Rourke's School of Dancing have performed either on the Administration Building lawn, or in the Athabasca Hotel three evenings a week all summer.

The comments heard from the general public are most flattering to both Mrs. O'Rourke, and to the dancers. It has been good entertainment for the tourists who visit Jasper. Some of them have never before had the opportunity of seeing Highland Dancing.

The happy, flushed faces of the dancers when they know they have accomplished a dance as well as they are able, whether it be for entertainment, or a competition, is a great reward for those who have worked to bring this feeling of satisfaction about.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce the engagement of Linda Pare daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Pare of Edson to Mr. Bill Heintz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heintz of Carrot Creek. The wedding will take place Sept. 21st at 3 o'clock.

MR. AND MRS. NICK PURYCH

St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church in Edmonton was the setting for a wedding on July 13th, when Miss Mary Theresa Klikarch, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Klikarch of Edson, Alberta, became the bride of Mr. Nick Purych, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Purych of Edmonton, Alberta.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Father J. Hamilton before an altar decorated with baskets of gladiolas.

Wedding music was played by Mr. Larry Schmidt and the soloist was Miss Carla MacDonald of Edson, who sang On This Day and Ave Maria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of organza with fitted bodice, having a scooped neckline trimmed with flemence lace and lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with Virenese ace cascading down the front with a bustle effect at the back. Her bouffant silk illusion veil was held in place by crystal and pearl encrusted crown. For her jewelry she wore a drop pearl necklace with matching earrings, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white stephanotis.

The maid of honor was Paula Resnik, and her bridesmaids were Misses Stella Zawaly and Audrey Grywiak. The serial attendants were identical bell-shaped dresses of spring organza accented by a matching bow at the waist, with short sleeves and scoop neckline. They wore a single strand of pearls. Their headpieces were circlets of white carnations and they carried bouquets of white carnations.

Flower girls for the occasion were the bride's two nieces, Diane and Joanne Klikarch of Edson, who were identical white dresses of organza and wore pink carnation headpieces, and carried baskets of pink carnations.

Groomsmen were Joe Resnik, Allan Charney and Larry Lee, the latter two being nephews of the groom. Kenny Klikarch, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Lector for the ceremony was Mr. Hector Letourneau, brother-in-law of the bride uthered the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Klikarch chose a two piece gold suit accented by a beige hat and taupe accessories and also wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Purych wore a dusty rose dress and floor ensemble with white accessories, set off by a corsage of pale yellow roses.

A reception for three hundred and fifty guests was held at the Ukranian Catholic National Hall in Edmonton.

Centering the bride's table was a three tier wedding cake decorated with white roses and silver leaves. Flanking this were white candles and vases of red roses.

Mr. Billy Klikarch, nephew of the bride, said Grace and Mr. Joe Klikarch, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. John MacDonald of Edson and was responded to by the groom.

Following the reception a wedding dance was held.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a three piece blue suit with black patent shoes and purse and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations and white stephanotis.

A telegram was received from South Hampton, England from the bride's Godfather and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hodson.

Out of town guests were from Seattle, Washington; Vancouver, Calgary, Hinton, Edson, Boyle and Radway.

The young couple honeymooned in Vancouver and the Okanagan. The newlyweds will be making their home in Brule, Alberta, where Mr. Purych is Manager of the Brule Liquor Store.

"We needed it now, the bank said yes, so..."

Many a household purchase like this starts with a bank loan. People find that the simple, natural thing to do is to borrow where they save—at the local bank. In fact the chartered banks are the largest single source of consumer credit loans, both in number and value.

Through the years the chartered banks have made it increasingly easy for people to borrow, at reasonable rates, for almost any worthwhile purpose: the purchase of a car...a new home heating system...a son's or daughter's education...a family vacation...

Three out of four bank loans are to individuals for their personal credit needs. And the total amount of such loans has almost doubled in the past five years...further evidence of the way bank customers are relying more and more on their local branches for borrowing as well as for all other financial services.

B.C. family finds Edson folk a kindhearted lot

Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths, and three children, of Coquitlam, B.C., have discovered that if one must have trouble Fine Edson is a good place to have it.

The Griffiths belonging to Alberta, were on their way home on August 16 when they were involved in an accident with another car just B.C. Junction. The other car turned without notice into the approach of the police radar and swung wide and of Stony Plain Road, realizing there was a car following, swerved with many, then half of them were right side of the road.

Mr. Griffiths swerved his vehicle into the ditch to avoid hitting the second car head side. In doing so the doors flew open and the other four members of his family were thrown out. The eldest boy, Keith, was badly cut on his right shoulder and arm and was rushed to hospital. Mrs. Griffiths was brought to hospital in a second trip suffering severe cuts and abrasions and was later found to be suffering from concussion.

The persons in the other car were able to continue on their way the next day, but the Griffiths family were not so lucky.

Mrs. Griffiths, her memory only slightly improved was sent home by train on Sept. ember 3rd with Keven 14 and Kay 6. Mr. Griffiths and Keith will go as soon as their condition was has been reserved.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maddock were the first to come to the aid of the Griffiths, taking them into their home for the first two days after the accident, until Keith had been released from hospital. The Griffiths then moved out to where the accident had occurred and set up camp for the duration of their stay.

The two boys are Scout Leaders and set the camp up in a most convenient way. After a week there, during which it rained a good deal of the time, Mr. Griffiths had taken his family to the public campsite at Surprise Lake for their supper and there met George Callin. In the conversation that ensued Mr. Callin learned of their plight and on his return to town told our Mort who set the wheels rolling with phone calls that soon resulted in Edson people opening their hearts to the campers.

Bedding was sent out from the United Church WI, the Salvation Army gave a cash donation to help with expenses and the Knights of Columbus promised to help with Mrs. Griffith's train fare when she was well enough to travel. Besides this, individual families helped with blankets and quilts to help make last living more comfortable and donations of food were often to be found on the Griffith's kitchen table. Others offered the use of their homes so that the campers might have a bed with.

The funny part of it was that most of the time they never even knew who had left things. They would just be found there when they returned from visiting Mrs. Griffiths or being out somewhere.

Police Welshman Jack Griffiths told them to help themselves to whatever his bountiful garden could supply and the Dept of Public Works men who supplied the camp with wood, thoughtfully left a load handy for them so they wouldn't have to carry it on far.

The family will soon be together again in Coquitlam and are sure to carry with them memories of the kind people of Edson who made them feel less alone in their trouble.

JOHN GRIFFITHS sits with his family, Kay 8, Keith 17 and Keven 14, before the tent that has been their home since August 16. The Griffiths were victims of a car accident on August 16 that sent their mother and wife to hospital suffering severe cuts and loss of memory. —Leader Photo

Counselling seminar great experience

The Banff School of Fine Arts has just been the setting for the first two-week Annual Seminar on Counselling, directed towards the practical problems that ministers, lawyers, doctors, teachers, social workers and others meet in their community work.

The Seminar was sponsored by the Calgary United Church Institute of Family and Personal Counselling, which is the first of its kind in Canada.

The Faculty of the Seminar consisted of Rev. W. Edgar Mullen, Pastoral Director of The Calgary United Church Institute of Family and Personal Counselling; Clinton E. Phillips, Psychologist, Marriage Counsellor, The American Institute of Family Relations, Los Angeles; Judge Herbert Allard, Judge of Juvenile and Family Court, Calgary, J. P. Matheson, Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta Calgary, G. Donaldson Carson, psychiatrist Calgary, F. William Hawley, psychiatrist Calgary; Douglas T. Fitch, lawyer, Calgary, and others.

Some of the topics dealt with were premarital, individual and group counselling the use of the Johnson Temperament analysis, referrals, marriage rules, divorce, alcohol, psychedelic drugs, home servants, counselling and the law, etc.

The Rev D A MacPherson who was present from Edson reports that the seminar was a great experience, and that it will help him a good deal in his counselling. He indicated that almost half of the people who seek help with their personal and marital problems in the U.S. go first to a clergyman and he feels that the clergy must know not only what to do themselves but also what other agencies can do so that clients may be referred for help when necessary.

Rev and Mrs MacPherson also attended a "School of Religion" at Naramata, B.C. on Christian Education. Dr Randolph Crump Miller, an outstanding writer and lecturer from Pennsylvania was the theme speaker. The perfect weather and scenic of the Penticton area added to the

MR. AND MRS. RAY REDPATH

Mr and Mrs. R R Redpath returned recently from an extensive honeymoon, spent in the west coast and in the United States.

Their bride Miss Ila Jean Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall of Haddock, Alta was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Bennett Redpath, son of Mrs. Redpath and the late Tom Redpath of Edson.

The ceremony was performed by Reverend Gordon Ackford in Christ's United Church, Edmonton on June 18 at a 2 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a white floor length organza over taffeta with lily point sleeves. Her four tier veil was fashioned in a band of small roses and lily of the valley. She wore a necklace of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lily of the valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Shad Hollebeek, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Redpath, sister of the groom and Miss Donna Fitzgerald. Flower girl was little Diane McGregor. All the bride's attendants were seen in pink dresses of French blue over the satin sheath with white accessories and crystal jewelry. They carried bouquets of blue and white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a brown and yellow nylon sheath dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the groom wore a pale green three-piece suit with white accessories and carnage of yellow roses.

Grooms man were Mr. Wilfred Hollebeek, brother of the groom Mr. Merril Minelli, brother of the bride and Mr. Laurie Millar. Ushers were Mr. Morris Blair and Mr Lionel Minelli, brother of the bride.

A reception and dance were held in the Parish Hall in Edson, the same evening.

Mr and Mrs. Redpath are making their home in Edson.

God's Around

PASTOR SNOWALTER

"The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good." Proverbs 15:3

When the boat is around the work seems to get along better While the teacher is in the room the learning process runs smoothly.

If the policeman is present the law is kept in an orderly way.

When mother is in the kitchen the cookie jar is not robbed.

In the preacher's presence the language and the stories are upgraded

All of us have a tendency to forget that God is always around And He does not just look for the bad ones to order their punishment, but He is observing the good ones as well

The best part about it is that when a person lives as in the very presence of God it makes no difference where the boss, teacher, policeman, parent, or the preacher are

SIX YEARS AGO THIS NOVEMBER George Congrave was seriously injured while playing hockey at Denver, Colorado, where he had been on a "hockey scholarship" at the university. During months of hospitalization friends and neighbors here in Edson gathered up a fund of money to help him financially when the time for rehabilitation came. George is now taking business administration and hopes to start working in a few months. This week a cheque for $1815.00 was presented to George from two key members of the fund committee A. W. Leonard 2nd from left, and G. V. Bolton, right. George's mother, Mrs. J. Patterson, looks on during the brief ceremony. George wishes us to convey his sincere thanks for all the encouragement, prayers and kindnesses that promoted the helpful contributions of the sponsors of the fund through the intervening years.

GEORGE AGED 10, got a real thrill when he was fishing in Jasmine Lake with his dad and had this huge jackfish take his hook. Needless to say George couldn't even begin to land the 14 pound, 36 inch fish as it was as big as he. His proud father came to the rescue and brought it in, but gives George the credit for catching it. National highway program most important, says Gordon

A national highway program would receive far greater support from most provinces than a second Trans-Canada highway, Hon. Gordon Taylor told members of the Hinton and District Chamber of Commerce when he addressed a dinner meeting of the Chamber at the Athabasca Valley Hotel, Wednesday, September 4.

Responsibility for building roads in Canada has rested on the shoulders of provincial governments and municipalities thus far, he said, and this "has not been good enough". Canada is one of the few modern countries today, he emphasized that doesn't have a national highway program.

In considering such a pro gram the basis of thought should be how the federal, provincial and municipal governments could work together, he declared — not how much each could get out of the federal government. Still, he felt that roads were not receiving a fair share of money from federal coffers in view of the millions of cars, trucks and transports they served. From 1940 to 1961 the federal government spent slightly under $400,000,000.00 on highways, he revealed, while in 1961 alone it spent $235,000,000.00 on air transport, and $107,000,000.00 on water transport.

Mr. Taylor felt that a national highway program should include the following: (1) Contribution of federal monies for the building of national highways linking provinces; (2) Federal aid for provincial highways not linking provinces; (3) Federal financial assistance for constructing urterial roads to serve major cities; (4) Federal contributions for farm to market roads.

A road building program would bring buoyancy to Canada's economy he thought and better roads would mean more tourists. Present policy was to build roads to serve our own people and their needs first, then invite visitors in our times, he explained, foresight was being used in building new highways to handle heavy specifications so that they would stand up under heavier loads in the future, he added. Mr. Taylor assured his audience that full value was received from every cent of every dollar spent on highways in Alberta.

Two-thirds of the entire main network of highways in the province were now blacktopped, he said. More dividend high-ways would be provided he promised, as the vehicular population increased.

Ten new stamps set for 1964 issue

Ten new postage stamps will be issued by the Canada Post Office in 1964, it was announced today by the Honourable Aethius Denis, Postmaster General.

The first new stamp to go on sale to the public will be a regular stamp of the Definitive series, intended basically for air mail postage. Wednesday, February 5th has been tentatively set as the date of issue. The 7c stamp will replace the present "four pence" air mail stamp which has been in use since November 1957.

"Unity in Canada" is the subject of the second stamp of the year which is scheduled to go on sale in March. This issue will be followed by four stamps honoring provincial floral emblems. The Postmaster General said that present plans call for the flower stamps to be produced in several colours, probably by lithography. Within the next few years it is planned to issue a stamp carrying the floral emblem of the ten provinces, Mr. Denis stated.

A special stamp on the theme of World Peace is scheduled in the 1964 programme of Parliament to give commemoration to man's desire for peace; this stamp is to be released in June.

Two stamps of special historical interest are scheduled for release in September. The stamps will commemorate the Charlottetown and Quebec conferences which were held in 1864 and which led to Confederation 1867 years later.

For the first time in Canada a Christmas stamp will be issued in 1964. Final date of release for this stamp has not been decided, but it will be in time for use on Christmas mail. Mr Denis said that the decision to issue a Christmas stamp was made after a lengthy study and after taking into consideration the requests and suggestions of individuals and organizations across the country.

Designs for the 1964 stamp series will be announced as they are completed.

FLY CONTROL IN BARNS

Have you tried Diazinon 25E for controlling the flies in your barn? This chemical has been used very successfully at the Beaverlodge Experimental Farm.

Fly spraying is necessary and one application is enough for a whole season. Simply soak loosely spun cotton cords, about three feet long in Diazinon, dry them out and hang them up in the barn. At Beaverlodge they use strings taken from a new mop head. These are put up in June and left there until the end of the season.

The easiest way of dipping the cords is to tie them with wire into bundles of about 50. After the excess chemicals have been squeezed out with two sticks or rubber gloves, the strings should be hung up to dry for about 48 hours.

Since Diazinon is very poisonous, directions on the container must be very carefully followed. This is important as Diazinon cattle poisoning occurred in Ontario in 1962 where this chemical was used incorrectly. The operators should always wear rubber gloves and rubber aprons. He should never work in an enclosed area.

When the cords are dry, staple each end to the ceiling of the barn. With three-foot lengths, this will leave a loop of about 6 inches hanging down. The cords should be hung so the loops are in rows 9 to 8 feet apart, across the length or width of the barn. The efficiency of this method of fly control is greatly increased when the cords are looped in front of the windows as well.

About 95 worth of Diazinon is enough to treat a 24' x 100' barn. Diazinon can be obtained from most hardware stores and Agricultural Chemicals Co-Op Chemicals Ltd. P.O. Box 790, Sydney N.S. are now manufacturing a cord already impregnated with Diazinon 25E and Parathion. Each cord costs approximately $4 and will treat an area of 1,000 square feet.

ALFALFA HARVESTING

Alfalfa crops in this Province should not be harvested later than the end of August says G. G. Bratvold, Supervisor of Alberta's Crop Improvement Service. If however, it is impossible to cut the second crop by this date, Mr. Bratvold recommends leaving it until the end of September.

Studies at the Lethbridge Research Station indicate that alfalfa plants build up winter food reserves in their roots during the first three weeks in September. This is necessary for good winter survival as well as for an early and rapid growth next spring.

When alfalfa is cut during this period, the plants have used all their energy to establish regrowth. This means they will enter the winter in a weakened condition. As well as predisposing the stand to winter injury, this weakened condition reduces the yield from the first cutting the following year.

Teen & Herd

It happened . . . the holidays came to an end and here we are back at the old grind. Just think, only ten more months until holidays again. That's only two thousand, one hundred and sixty more periods. Nice thought, boy . . . and to teach and guide us for these next 2160 periods (approximately) we have a teaching staff of twelve, seven of whom are new to our high school. We welcome these new teachers to Edson and hope they will like us and our town. We really like being back at school. It is a change from the holidays.

The Hub School population has increased greatly this term on account of all the new Frosh. This is the most pupils who have ever enrolled in the school in the history of Edson. Won't initiation be something for those kids. Talk about school is that there might not be any initiation this year. Wouldn't that be awful? The good kids that is what they look forward to when they enter "High". When we have our first Students Union meeting Mr. Meade will, we hope, give us permission to have a bigger and better initiation than last year.

It must have been a very profitable summer this year for a few of the guys. The parking lot and along the sides of the school is getting more crowded. I see a lot of old wrecks. I mean cars being driven to school every day. (Would like to have one too).

A new teen band has been organized in Edson lately — called "Gene and the Vergers". This band will cater to all the teen dances and from all reports the boys are pretty hot. It is rumored they might be playing at the clubroom hall Friday or Saturday but if some thing unexpected turns up it will be the next weekend for sure. Let's hope everyone will have to look them and let's not be slow about getting them for our dances.

This is a request I have received would everyone say "Hi" to Donna Strongman like she used to. Freshmen . . . I still see Tilted (Thats what's Shirley) flying around the school.

Well I guess our accident insurance will be up next year another thirty cents. Not two weeks gone and Steve broke his finger playing foot ball.

School isn't the same. So many of our former friends have moved to other places . . . Paula Craig, Linda Cliff and Wayne Bitchover. Speaking of Wayne he hops in any old basketball team shaping up pretty soon. There's going to be a lot of competition this year.

Optimists to sponsor benefit show

Calling old and new timers! Will you play, step-dance, sing, recite, black face or show costumes of any country to help the benefit show at the Legion Hall on Friday, October 4th.

This variety program is sponsored by the Optimists, and proceeds will go to Master Robert Owen, who was injured at the Edson Rodeo in August. A dance will follow the program.

With the Scouts

An open meeting was held September 6th for parents and boys interested in the organization of the Wolf Cub Pack for the season of 1963-64. On hand were Rod McGrachie, Northern Alberta Field Commissioner; Guy Cousineau, President Yellowhead District Council; J. D. Champion, District Commissioner; K. Wall area Scout Executive; J. Oliver, Cubmaster and R. Mahon, Chairman.

Each speaker urged parents to take a more active part in the local Cub organization. With the registration of 112 boys during the evening, the formation of three Packs was necessary. These boys require a minimum of three Cubmasters with five assistants each. It is a pleasure to report that the meeting didn't let them down.

The Packs will be known as A, B, and C Pack. The leaders, date, time and place of meeting will be made known later. Among those volunteering to assist were: R. Potter, Cy Smith, Jim Allen, Janis Barker, Mitch Harmata, V. Murray, J. Oliver, Don Rutherford, B. Kirchhauck, T. Hicks, K. Perkins, Clarence McIntosh, Mrs C. McIntosh, Jack Maddock, Tom Brandon, Mrs Bodnar, M. McKnight and Vern Goodwin. A training course will be held Saturday, October 4 6:30 to 8:00 p.m and Sunday, October 5, 2:00 p.m to 10:00 p.m.

The boys will be notified as to which pack they have been assigned.

During the evening a presentation was made to K. Wall are on behalf of the Edson Group Committee.

The annual meeting Yellow head District Council will be held Friday, September 20th, at Hinton.

WHERE GRATITUDE IS DUE

The free world seems to have forgotten the debt it owes to the United States of America for its contribution to the preservation of liberty on earth. Were it not for power and wealth of that nation and the generosity of its people, Communism would now be dominant throughout the world.

When the last war ended the economy of Europe was in shambles. The subsequent re-establishment and recovery of the nations on that continent was brought about through the contribution of immense sums of money by the United States. Since the end of the war that nation has contributed $36.3 billions to aid to its allies in Europe. Now that continent is enjoying the greatest prosperity experienced in it's whole hist'ory.

The tremendous military power of the United States has been and is, the only bulwark against Communism. Last year that nation's expenditure on defence totalled $54 billions. The contribution of its European allies for defence in the same year was $17 billions.

The annual per capita cost of defence of the United States is $529 in Europe it is $61 per person and in Canada $36

This newspaper's circulation does not extend very far beyond our own locality. Nevertheless we desire to express a small voice of gratitude for the great achievement made by our big neighboring nation towards the cause of freedom in the world.

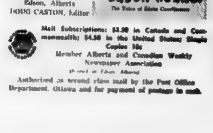
THE MEDICAL CARE PLAN

The majority of Alberta's taxpayers will achieve no visible benefit from the new medical care plan announced by the government because there is nothing additional to that which they now have access. The low income groups who will benefit do not get everything free; they still must pay out something for medical insurance.

Doctors are said to be very pleased with the new plan. This is natural, since their representatives worked with the government in devising it. And insurance companies who also participate will be pleased, because they will win so much new business.

But a quick survey of opinion among prospective premium payers has shown us no great enthusiasm, although there is no downright opposition. The most widely voiced opinion is that the plan should have included hospital protection. People don't like paying multiple premiums and several taxes to finance what they regard as one service — namely, health insurance. Of course, another survey might bring out another set of ideas, partly or completely different.

In any case, the likelihood is that more Alberta families will be tempted to try medical insurance, now that a plan has been produced.



"The Senator certainly isn't taking his election defeat very gracefully!"

Letters to the Editor

This letter is in reference to the article in the Edson Leader dated Thursday, Sept. 5, page 2, about the place on the Grande Prairie Trail once owned by the Rasmussen (Jr.) family that they built with much hard work and is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Arpacci The last sentence "They since transformed a bare yard into a well landscaped home" is totally unfit to be printed as the eldest of the children in the Rasmussen (Jr.) family and I feel very hurt and the rest of our family also

My mother and father planted the spruce tree hedge which my father took such pride in keeping so well trimmed, and the lawn which was kept so well cut and neat, and flowers bordering the house in the summer. This took a lot of hard work but we were proud of it. Now we feel deeply hurt to think after all this hard work someone could print that sentence.

We had been residents of Edson and district for years, it is no doubt that the people take good care of the place which was once our home, and have wonderful crops, but it was the last sentence that hurt by hurt me. My father is a constant subscriber (as you know) to the Edson Leader which we get to keep in touch with our old home town.

You may think you have praised the owners wonderfully but that last sentence I feel was totally unrelated for, and in printing it you have hurt others. We are now residents of Jasper and our yard certainly is not bare and no other yard of ours ever has been and ever will be.

It would make me feel hurt that our hard work in that district could be so easily forgotten.

P.S.

You would make me and my family feel somewhat better if we could have this printed in your next paper.

Yours truly
Mrs. Elsie Rasmussen

Editor's note: The Rasmussen property was known to Edson residents of a few years ago as one of our rural showplaces. In praising Mrs. Arpacci's tomatoes we had no intention of casting aspersions on the original pioneering done by the Rasmussen family.

CAPITAL REPORT

SOCIAL CREDIT RID OF CAOUETTE

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — Any news involving the Social Credit party in Canada inevitably involves Alberta and Premier Manning. And so it was last week when the long suspected and long denied rift between Robert Thompson and Real Caouette burst onto the headlines.

The former deputy national leader of the party from Quebec accused Mr. Thompson of a lack of sympathy for French Canadian interests and of being unduly influenced by Mr. Manning

He said the latter was "the worst anti-French Canadian I've ever seen" and described Mr. Thompson as "Manning's marionette." He then appealed to other Quebec members to follow his lead in breaking away from the party in Ottawa. About half of the 26 MP's did so.

Mr. Manning responded by saying the breakaway of the "Caouette faction" from the Canadian Social Credit movement was a good thing because Caouette's irresponsible statements and actions were harmful to the movement.

"I am confident that outside this one faction Mr. Thompson has the overwhelming support of Social Credit across Canada..." he predicted the demise of the Quebec group because of its strictly regional interests.

The whole thing was not surprising may be, but it was gratifying in the sense that it provided a clear picture and some harsh comment on the uncomfortable condition of the national party for the last year at least.

It also makes Mr. Manning look partisan only farsighted for resisting appeals during the last three years to enter the federal political arena.

In the provincial capital a good deal of attention was being focussed on the foundation program for financing education and changes in it appear almost certain.

Principal reason for this is the failure of the basic 32 mill levy on property to maintain its share of the spiralling costs of education. Education minister A. O. Aalborg said the increase amount received from the tax levy over last year is just more than $1,000,000 while at least $6,000,000 extra is needed each year to take care of natural growth in the educational system.

However, Mr. Aalborg's department is simply an example of the general budget problems the government foresees during the next few years.

A government study projecting income and expenditure patterns has revealed the province could face a $25,000,000 deficit next year. Government revenues this year were just enough to meet the $274,000,000 budget and projections indicate the budget next year will be close to $320,000,000 higher. Education and health are each expected to slip into this pot for about $100,000,000.

But unexpected oil and gas revenues have hailed the provinces out before and might do it again.

One segment of the population at least, is having fewer problems than it was a year ago. An agriculture department official said there may be some localized shortages of livestock feed in the Peace River area and just north of Edmonton, but the province in general should have enough feed to carry stock through the winter.

And a final item—the bunker-training program announced at the last session of the legislature should start sometime next year. Lands and Forests Minister Norman Willmore said last week. The $16,000 cost of the program will be covered by a $1 surcharge on hunting licences.

FLAG FLYING IN QUEBEC

This is one of those times of the year when we must decry the flying of the Stars and Stripes in this country "as a friendly gesture to our American visitors." The idea is marvellous, but why not try some other form as a friendly gesture... like a little service maybe, and courtesy.

Most American visitors want to see a Canadian flag flying here. They want to get a kick out of knowing they're in a foreign country, and it's just as possible to enjoy seeing the Red Ensign flying as it is to enjoy the premium on their money. How many Red Ensigns did you ever see displayed "as a gesture" by American stores, for instance?

Just as a side commentary on the flag-flying, the I.O.D.E., the Canadian Legion, and many other citizens should enjoy the following little item reported in The Sudbury Star:

A Toronto newspaperman travelling in the province of Quebec reports that he has never before seen so many Union Jacks and Red Ensigns flying in that province. He reports the number is in the quantity usually reserved for the observance of Victoria Day in Ontario.

This will be most disturbing of those nationalists and the separatists who are constantly advocating a "distinctive" Canadian flag. Those people inevitably turn in Quebec's opposition to the Jack and Ensign as a reason for a distinctive "Canadian" flag to bring about national unity. The observation of the travelling newspaper man make these arguments look mighty weak.

A ROSE BY ANOTHER NAME

The City of Edmonton's efforts to sell "Klondike Days" is another example of an incessant search for the 'gimmick' — the magic ingredient which is supposed to catch the imagination of the public and make them eager to buy.

But Klondike Days is no more than a gimmick — and one which was only partly successful. Edmontonians, of course, have for years yearned for some presentation to rival the appeal of the Calgary Stampede. They have set a target which will be tough to reach. The stampede has become a Canadian household word, and seems designated to roll along successfully forever.

"Klondike Days," somehow or other, just doesn't seem to have the same appeal. It's just a trite phrase used to describe the Edmonton Exhibition. Which brings up a good thought: what is wrong with calling it the Edmonton Exhibition? It has a lot of attractions for everybody.

One thing more: in this day and age, the word "exhibition" is becoming almost unknown in popular use. Saskatoon has its "Pan-ora," Vancouver its "exposition," and Winnipeg its "Red River Days."

The old Edmonton Ex is a pretty good show. Calling it Klondike Days is not going to make it better.

Meets brothers for first time during Scottish trip

Mrs. Mary Bergerun is home again and giving another class of first graders a start on the paths of learning, but her thoughts often turn back to her Scottish holiday of the summer just past.

It was a momentous holiday and one Mrs. Bergerun had looked forward to for many years as it was the first opportunity she has had to meet her two brothers Neil and Donald Campbell.

Mrs. Bergerun's father came to Canada from Scotland in 1912. Her mother had no wish to immigrate to such a far away place as Canada and stayed behind with her two small sons, then 5 and 3 years old. However, Mr. Campbell liked what he saw of Canada and didn't return home as his wife had hoped.

Mrs. Campbell made plans to join him, but just as they were about to sail the boats contracted German measles and Mrs. Campbell left them in care of her parents and made the trip alone. It was planned they would follow when they were over the measles, but World War I broke out and made the reunion impossible.

In 1920 plans were again made for the two older Campbell children to come to Canada. Plans came to a halt when their grandfather died. They again postponed their trip as they felt duty bound to look after their grandmother. World War II passed and they found it financially impossible to make the long awaited trip. They never saw their mother again for she died in 1942.

During this time, Mrs. Bergerun, who had been born in Montreal, also found it impossible to make the trip to Scotland. It had become necessary for her to care first for her ailing father who died in 1951, and later her husband, Andrew, who is presently confined in St. Joseph's Hospital in Edmonton.

Finally this spring Mrs. Bergerun saw her way clear to visit her brothers at their homes in Scotland. She was thrilled with the old home places she had heard her parents talk about and said that after the first few days it seemed she and her brothers had known each other always.

She was surprised to find they talked Gaelic a great deal of the time when together and had to remind them to "talk English" so she could understand them.

All in all, it was a wonderful summer for Mrs. Bergerun and one which she will never forget — the year she met her 80 and 84 year old brothers for the first time.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mr. John Skelly, who passed away September 6th, 1962.

You are gone, but not forgotten

By the ones who loved you best.

And our love with you will linger

Until we, too, are laid to rest.

Ever remembered by Ken, Edna, and Grandchildren.

How beautiful is the rain!
After the dust and heat, in the broad and busy street, and in the narrow lane; how beautiful is the rain

MR. AND MRS. DAVID MATHERS

On August 24th, 1963 at 5:30 p.m., the Edson United Church, decorated with baskets of multi-colored gladioli formed an attractive setting for the double ring ceremony for the marriage of Miss Rose Jane Vesnovich and Mr. David Rutherford Mathers.

Rev. L. R. Halliwell performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Vesnovich and the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Mathers, all of Edson.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta interspersed with appliques and seed pearls featuring a boop shirt complimented by a bow at the back. The fitted bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline encrusted with appliques and seed pearls and lily point sleeves. The bride's chapel length, four-tiered veil was held in place by an exquisite tiara covered with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a double strand cultured pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Sheberra roses.

Mrs. Annette Graden was matron of honor, Misses Hoben Smilanich, cousin of the bride, and Anna Sherbaner, fiancee of the bride's brother, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of mauve peau de soie, styled with full skirts, matching cummerbunds, topped with lace jackets and lily point sleeves. Their headpieces were of peau de soie covered with lace forming a bow bandeau. Each carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Mistress Christine Maxwell was flower girl. She was dressed in pink nylon with a very full skirt over a crinoline. She wore a bandeau headpiece of pink rosebuds. Master David Maxwell was the ringbearer.

Mr. Donald Maxwell of Edson was the best man. Guests were ushered to the pews, marked by diminutive bells tied with mauve satin ribbon, by Mr. Stanley Gelinski, and Mr. Norman Graden.

Miss Katherine Kendall, soloist, sang The Wedding Prayer and Walk Hand in Hand, accompanied by Mrs. Harris McCrae at the organ.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vesnovich chose an attractive brocaded two-piece Jacket dress with white accessories. She wore pink roses as corsage. The mother of the groom wore a brown crepe gown with pink accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was a corsage of pink roses.

About 125 guests attended a reception at the Edson Motor Hotel Banquet Room at 8:30 p.m. The bride's table was centred with a magnificent four-tiered cake topped with a small basket of pink rosettes and lily of the valley and arched by a large silver heart in outline entwined with miniature hearts.

Mr. Thomas Lewko of Hinton was Master of ceremonies. Mr. James E. Reil of Edson proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded in a very capable manner. Mr. Lewko proposed a toast to the mothers and a special toast to Mrs. George Nakonechny, who baked the cake, and Mrs. William Lilly who did the decorating. Mr. Donald Maxwell proposed a toast to the matron of honor and the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Dougal Maxwell was in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to Oakville, Toronto, Niagara Falls and the U.S.A., the bride donned a three piece pink linen suit with matching accessories. White roses formed her corsage.

On their return the newly married couple will reside in Edson.

Out of town guests included Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bogdasen of Edmonton; Mr. Ray Kosowick of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Ovi Mathers (brother of the groom) and son William of Whitecourt; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewko and Elaine of Hinton; Mrs. Jake Hendricks (sister of the groom) and son David, who arrived from 800 miles north of Uniwin for the wedding

Something of value

(Taken from News Bulletin A.W.C.F. publication.)

When a breathing has ceased, can anything be done for the victim?

To the knowledge of artificial respiration of any value? Let us check the record!

DRYTON — An American doctor, on a camping trip to Alberta was overcome by the carbon monoxide fumes from a charcoal stove. He managed to struggle from the tent, before collapsing

A passerby, an employee of North Western Pulp and Power Ltd noticed the victim; a quick examination showed that breathing had stopped. Artificial respiration was applied and within minutes the doctor was resuscitated and later completely recovered. The doctor was able to return to his own practice of saving lives and sending pulp. Was this of any value?

EDMONTON — A Petroleum servicing operator received basic training in mouth to mouth resuscitation at a safety meeting held in his company. Two weeks later his four month old child had a digestive problem which caused it to cease breathing. The victim thought the baby as it resulted in suffocation. Bill Fisher, a drilling his training, clear of the child's throat and applying mouth to mouth respiration saved the child's life.

Was the safety training the father attended of any value?

DRYDEN VALLEY — The workman was entangled in cleaning out an old storage tank and his air line became twisted, shutting off his respiratory. When noticed he had collapsed and he all appearances was dead. His partner, having no knowledge of first aid stood helpless by. A pipe line employee on the cleaning crew, attracted by the commotion and upon arrival immediately started artificial respiration on the victim and was revived and in due time returned to full employment.

Was this pipe line employee's knowledge of artificial respiration of any value?

These are only three of the many cases where lives have been saved because someone went to the trouble to learn and practice accepted resuscitation. There is no way to say can possibly know when such emergencies may occur, so why not prepare yourself to be able to act instantly should your very be needed with such an emergency?

PREPARE NOW! The next victim could be you, a member of your family or your fellow worker

Baskets of white gladioli, pink carnations and white lupins decorated St. Catherine's Anglican Church in Edson for the wedding on August 31 of Miss Margaret Antonette Dugis and Mr. John Richard Thomas Roome. Father James Bhuri of Hinton read the marriage lines for the daughter of Mrs. Katherine Dugis of Hinton and Chetbill and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roome of Edson. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Soldan all Red Deer. Wedding music was played by Mr. Neil Horne Soloist was Mrs. Ron Roome.

For her nuptials the bride chose a full length gown of white bengaline, fashioned with princess line bodice accented by a scoop neckline and lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a bustle held by two self-fabric roses and bow at the waist. Her full, elbow length veil was gathered to a crown of pearls and sprayed bouvardia. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses.

Attending her sister as matron of honour, was Mrs. Irene Perry of Cold Lake. Mrs. Margaret Pregon of Edson was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore dresses of brushed cotton lace in turquoise shade with fashioned full skirts, scoop neckline and three - quarter length sleeves. White flower headpieces, white shoes and gloves and nosegays of white carnations on a gold lace background completed their ensembles.

Groomsmen were Ivor Leach and Ted Miles of Edmonton and Wahstenaw Gagne were ushered by Alvin Lyons and Gary Mahon.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dugis wore an afternoon dress of blue bengaline with white accessories and corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Roome chose a pink brocade sheath with matching three-quarter length coat accented by pink accessories and corsage of ivory roses.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the Edson Motor Hotel. The bridal table was centred with a three tier wedding cake flanked by bouquets of pink and white flowers. The toast to the bride was proposed by her brother-in-law, Mr. Dan Bell Pery of Cold Lake and answered by the groom.

Griffiths get away home

The family of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths, whose accident story was carried in last week's Leader, are re-united now.

Mrs. Griffiths and the two youngest children had gone home by train on September 2 leaving Mr. Griffiths and their elder son, Keith, to bring their vehicle They had expected to be away last Thursday How ever, repairs didn't go along as fast as they had hoped and it was Tuesday of this week before they were able to leave for their home at Coquitlam, B.C.

In the meantime word had been received that the real of the family had arrived, but no word as to how Mrs. Griffiths was progressing from her injuries.

Three other Edson service clubs came to the aid of the Griffiths following last week's story. The Elks Lodge and both Lions and Kinsmen Clubs gave financial assistance to help tide the family over the rough spot.

Productions of natural gas in Canada totalled 932.8 billion cubic feet in 1962, nearly three times the pre-duction of 327.8 billion cubic feet only five years earlier.

Change not justified on Forestry road

Queries regarding two matters of special interest to Hinton were answered by the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways at the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at the Athabasca Valley Hotel, last Wednesday

Mr. Taylor said that the provincial government would not be justified at present in developing the Entrance-Goodwin road when the cut-off road from Beach Corners (west of Edmonton) to Whitecourt, Valleyview and the Peace River country was not being used to capacity. Road building had to be justified in all parts of the province, he said, and the Highways Department would not be justified in taking the Entrance-Goodwin road into the highway network at this time.

He predicted however, that "someday" in the future the Coleman-Goodwin road could become a modern national highway linking the American border with the Grande Prairie region and points north on up to Alaska

Both the Hinton and Grande Prairie Chambers of Commerce forwarded a resolution to Mr Taylor last winter calling for development of the road then. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests announced that reshaping and gravelling of a 20 mile stretch of the road from highway 16 toward the Berland River, had completed last week.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD HENRY TILBY

The Edson United Church was the setting on Saturday, August 31, for the wedding of Louise Caroline Hinchey, daughter of Mr and Mrs. James H. Hinchey, and Ronald Henry Tilby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geof Tilby, all of Edson.

Rev. O. E. Hurd performed the ceremony. For the occasion the church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli. Wedding music was performed by Mrs. D Mathers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length, heavy brocade gown with lily point sleeves. The neckline was accented by a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. The pearl theme was carried out in the coronet which held in place a chapel length veil. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Miss Jean Anne Hinchey was bridesmaid for her sister. She wore a dress of pale pink nylon sheer over taffeta and carried a bouquet of variegated pink asters. Carol Marie Hinchey was a cute flower girl for her sister wearing a dress of pale green dotted swiss over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Best man was Clifford Tilby, Gerald was ushered by Robert Hinchey and Joe Tilby.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of blue brocade with pink accessories and corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Tilby wore a light wool suit in a green shade with pale green accessories and pink aster corsage.

A reception for 65 guests was held in the ROOF Hall with the ladies of the Welcome Rebekah Lodge serving a delicious wedding supper. The toast to the groom was proposed by Mr. Paul Gilfarr and answered by the groom.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip in Edmonton and Vermilion the bride wore a navy blue ensel suit with white accessories.

The happy young couple are making their home in Edson.

Surprise Lake Echoes

By LYNNE GALBRAITH

The second Junior High Camp of the season was rather rainy, but this didn't damper on the spirits of the staff or the 48 campers. The morale of the camp was very good, even when the sun did shine now and then and the campers were able to have their swiney round, which they always look forward to.

Because of the rainy weather, Mrs. Louise Wood, the director, had to revise the camp wake up music, which she sang to such catchy every morning, from — "Here all the woods are waking the sun is riding high, wake up now get up to now, before the dew is dry" to "How all the woods are waking the clouds are riding high..." (here she usually stopped). When one heard this revised version they did not feel too much like getting up, but after a great effort they somehow managed it.

After the campers were up and ready for a new day they went to their activities under the leadership of their various cabin leaders. Mrs. Bob Mrs. Dot Mabel, Mrs. Bev Iriana, Carol Erisman, Betty Whittle (who's cabin was later taken over by Louise Barton because of circumstances at home) Bruce Cameron and Jim Whittle. There was swimming under Shirley Baron and crafts under Lynne Galbraith and Leslie Switzer. Each cabin had two cabin hours, in one they had Bible study and in the other they did such things as boating, hiking, archery and making lanyard signs for cabins etc. One of the projects the boys undertook in their cabin hours was to build a new after fire place on the island.

Speaking of hiking, one cabin of boys went for a hike and ended up in Wolf Creek I guess you could have called it a rain hike Other cabins went on cookouts too but they went either to the island Flat Rock Hill or Beaver Dams. These cookouts were all rather damp also. Harry Wood cooked your dinner in the rain and then eaten it while crouched under a little piece of plastic with six giggling, squirming little girls! Try it sometime, it's fun).

Every night, except for two, there was a campfire and even when it was inside the campers started off by sing ing the "Evening Hurraing." Each night a few of the campers practised leading some of the songs. There are some good leaders coming up. On one of the other two nights there was antiphonal singing On the other there was a square dance, thanks to Slim Collin, his father and his girl. Everyone really enjoyed this. While all this was going on the people behind the scenes, as it were, were all busy at their various duties. Mrs Jo Fall was busy as assistant director being Mrs. Wood's right hand man. Mrs. Andrew and her assistant Pat McKerricher were kept busy doing everything from washing wash boards in dishing out cough medicine. Pat also helped with games in the evening and during rainy spells when some campers were at loose ends. The camp mother, Mrs. Allen Fickt, the cook Mrs. Fullette and her assistant Sally Campbell were all working from morning till night feeding the seventy people at the camp Sally had always wanted to be Cookie's assistant and was "in her glory" so as to speak. Three other people who where kept hopping were the chore boys Brian Nichol, Doug Wood and Doug Ahlf. The staff children were well looked after by Jessie Campbell and Alan Butterworth.

Josephine keeps a record of all her lovers' quarrels in her diary—she calls it her scrapbook.

First Section — Edson, Alberta, Thursday, September 19, 1963 — Vol. 11, No. 37

THESE EMPLOYEES of McGregor Telephone Co. under foreman Roy Schooby are making what is known as an energized changeover. In this business it means they are working mighty close to 69,000 volts of hot Calgary Power as they replace a 55 foot pole in the Pinedale district that was struck by a car last December. Had the operation been done by the usual method Calgary Power customers would have been without power for eight hours. The energized changeover took 3½ hours with an interruption of service. This was a trial project to see if it is an economical enough method to be used consistently. So far the company seems satisfied with the results.

Public meeting called to discuss Arena plans

Edson ratepayers are reminded of the meeting in the Legion Hall October 7 which has been called to acquaint the general public with the plans for modifying the skating arena. The meeting has been called for 8 p.m.

The modification calls for construction of an addition to the present arena, the installation of an artificial ice plant and the general modification of the building. Cost of the arena changes has been estimated at $140,000.00

Following the meeting on Wednesday, October 16th the taxpayers will be asked to approve or reject By-law 1002, which makes provisions for the issuing of debentures for the necessary money

It is an important meeting and one that every thinking ratepayer should make every effort to attend.

Start construction on 12 suite apartment

The sod was broken and basements dug for Edson's first apartment building on Wednesday of this week when Rempel Homes of Hinton made the first noticeable step in a $80,000, 12 unit building.

Located on the corner of 46th Street and 9th Avenue the building will be straight east of Parkland Lodge. As in the manner of present day town planning, it is allocated close to schools and playgrounds, making it particularly attractive for tenants with families.

The apartment block will contain one bachelor suite, five one bedroom suites and six two bedroom suites.

The enterprising firm of Rempel Homes have also started construction of two up and down duplex residences on either side of the street at 12th and Main. These will each contain a three bedroom suite at the top floor and a two bedroom suite and utility room on the bottom floor.

Rempel Homes have already two side-by-side duplexes on 10th Avenue East which are an attractive addition to the surrounding new homes

Vandals hit curling in senseless splurge

Vandalism is on the rampage again, with the curling rink the latest scene of destruction.

At an executive meeting of the curling rink last week, it was discovered that vandals had torn off several boards in the ice area of the rink in order to gain entrance. Entry to the kitchen was gained by breaking a lock on the door.

The kitchen was a sight to behold. Several pounds of coffee had been torn apart and scattered about. Sugar cubes were everywhere. Boxes of hot chocolate were added to the mess. In the kitchen sink a moldy meat pie remained.

The ingredients consisted of the Curling Club's tea-towels and a mixture of the above mentioned foods. Cans of milk had been opened and poured about, or just left to rot. Guns and lifesavers had been rendered unsaleable. Locks on kitchen cupboards were broken; cupboard doors were splintered; everywhere sheer vandalism seemed the sole object.

In early August, someone had broken in via the snow-out doors, but at that time, no damage had been done. Therefore, it is probable that those responsible for this destructive splurge missed entry sometime after the first of August.

Change in times for mail services

The mail service at the Edson Post Office will revert to the times in effect prior to June 2nd change in schedule

Mail intended for Jasper and Hinton, via Train 1, will close at 4:00 p.m. daily except Sunday.

The mail arriving on Train 1, for distribution at Edson, will be delivered to the boxes by 5:30 p.m.

There is no change in the Motor Vehicle Service now in effect, leaving the Edson Post Office at 7:30 p.m. daily except Saturday.

Four needed to fill Council, School vacancies

Only one nomination has been received so far by Returning Officer Peter Serdiak for the October 16 Municipal election. That is from incumbent Percy Wells who is contesting his seat at the Edson Council table. The term of Abe Goldstick is also up this fall, but so far there has been no indication from Mr. Goldstick as to whether or not he plans to contest the seat.

There are also two vacancies on the local School District Board as the three year terms of M. A. Collin and Abe Goldstick are up. Both of these citizens have been serving Edson in the dual role of Town Councillor and School District Trustee. The local board is separate from the larger Edson School Divisional Board.

KIN APPLE DRIVE SET FOR OCT. 2nd

Following their practice of the past few years, the Kinsmen Club of Edson wtil be holding their annual Apple Drive on Wednesday, October 2. At that time Kin members will be out in force from 5 to 9 p.m. as they canvass the town and surrounding areas taking orders for delicious MacIntosh apples.

The Kinsmen apple chairman asks the public to "Buy as many boxes as you can". Proceeds will go to help Kinsmen projects including the swimming and wading pool.

There will be more details on the canvass next week.

Long time Branch resident dies in Edson

Old friends, scattered far and wide with the closing of the Coal Branch, will mourn the death of Mrs. Palma Maria Recchia who died in Edson on September 13 at the age of 76.

Mrs. Recchia, who was predeceased by her husband in 1938, has been a resident of the local mining communities west of Edson since 1911. She raised her family of four sons to a number of the coal towns, moving to a new town as mines closed.

She and her husband lived first at Pocahontas, from the time the mine opened in 1911 until it closed ten years later. From there they moved to Brule where a thriving town existed from 1920 until the mine closed in 1928. The next move was to Cadomin where the family lived until the mines closed in 1952.

Living near her son Tony who continued to follow the mines as they closed, Mrs Recchia next spent three years at Mercoal. When the mine closed there in 1958, she went with her son and his family to Edson where they live at present

Besides Tony, Mrs. Recchia is survived by three more sons, John at Fort Lupton, Colorado, Dominic on Edmonton and Joseph at Zeballos, B.C. Sixteen grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren also survive as well as one brother and two sisters in Nashaui, Minn

The funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 21 from the Sacred Heart Church in Edson Interment will be made in the family plot in Glenwood Cemetery.

Prayers will be said Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Connelly-McKinley Funeral Home in Edmonton and Friday at 8 p.m. in the Edson Funeral Home.

Excitement aplenty but no game

A party of Edson hunters had a bit of excitement one day this week while on a hunting trip in the Brazeau River area. Included in the group were Fred Makowecki, Steve Prylowski, Dave McNiven and Alex Riffle.

Dave and Alex attempted to cross the swiftly flowing Brazeau on a raft, but instead were caught in the current and carried rapidly downstream. Fred, dodging brush and logs made repeated attempts to throw a rope to the stranded pair. It wasn't until he had covered almost two miles of shoreline, trying all the time to get rope to the two on the raft that they finally managed to catch the life line and haul themselves to shore

Incidentally they didn't get any game.

Haddock Happenings

Mrs. F. Williams Sr. was pleasantly surprised by a visit from her sister, Mrs. Annie Grimm of Bradenbrien whom she had last seen fifteen years ago. Mrs. Grimm is a champion quilt maker and has taken many firsts in local and provincial competitions and fifth place in competition at the Toronto Royal; she brought some samples of her work out to show her sister.

Recent guests also in the H. Williams home were: Mrs. Williams nephew, Herman Devert of New Sarepta and Mr. and Mrs. S. Costello and family of Edmonton.

Mrs. J. Williamson and family were guests of her parents recently; little Betty is staying with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fairbairne to attend school.

Mrs. B. Vallant (Bernice) was home for a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Beckett last week.

Bertha Fairbairne spent a week visiting friends in Peace River recently.

The flu has been taking its toll in the district lately; Harold Hedden and Roy Turney are both home after a few days in Edson hospital but it is taking Wilson Gordon a little longer to recover.

Keith Tatton had an emergency operation for appendicitis in Edson hospital on Sept. 6th and at last report was doing fine.

Harvesting is in full swing again after the recent rain. Those who have done some combining report a low yield and poor sample. Sebastian's and Louis Pearson have threshed a little.

Teen Age

BY BBH

Real familiar sight around town last weekend and this week are the red coats and caps donning that hunting season is here. Our own Barney donned his red coat and cap and disappeared into the wilderness in search of game. Back at school on Tuesday Barney reports no luck...tsn't...better luck next time.

The boys are starting to get itchy feet. Whom are we going to start our basketball practices? Wayne Mitchener tells us that Hilton is on the ball and Bob Sawyier in his column in the Hinton Hinnie predicts that Hinton will match the championship from Edson. My prediction. They haven't a chance All we need is to get started. Let's go.

More trouble for our parents. They just got the pool hall members immortized and a new bowling alley is being built we hear. That — the bowling alley — will be an asset to our town and I'm sure no parents will complain if we are bowling... if the rates aren't too high. Our summer earnings just don't cover everything.

Cats seem to be in style. The latest to have one is Jack Smith. Must have broken his hand or arm 'cause that's a have he is wearing it. What happened Jack? Must have fallen or what does the other guy look like.

Strongman's (again) have a new addition to their family and it's another girl... a cute little chihuahua. Buster watch out for that active dog catcher.

No parties or anything this weekend but my likes says the potatoes need digging. That's an idea... Anyone want some good potato pickers.

Robb and Branch News

Mr and Mrs. Leonard Kolbe and family accompanied by Doug Kolbe were weekend visitors of the Cox geese.

Mr and Mrs. Ken Brandle returned Monday evening having spent a week in the city. Hunting season is in full swing, but our weatherman wasn't ready. Therefore the majority of hunters plus our local residents have had no luck.

Mr. Frank Heil was home from the city over the weekend.

Robb Community Hall was the scene of a very pleasant get together Saturday to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heil who are leaving shortly to make their new home in the city. They will be greatly missed as they have been here for several years and have taken an active part in community affairs. The many friends gathered spent the rest of the evening dancing to our local orchestra. After the cutting of the farewell cake Mr Alcock presented Mr and Mrs. Heil with a purse of money on behalf of those present and some who were unable to come. On behalf of their friends he wished them the best of luck, health wealth and happiness in their new home and assured them they would be greatly missed

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Conger and son will take up residence in the house formerly occupied by the Heil's.

Mr. Hevran and Mr Church of Edmonton were visitors of the Kenwell's and tried their luck at hunting. They returned to the city Wednesday morning still trying their luck.

2 LT. DENNIS VERNON JOHNSON, 2PPCLI AND MRS. JOHNSON SIGN THE MARRIAGE REGISTER FOLLOWING THEIR MARRIAGE AT SURPRISE LAKE UNITED CHURCH CAMP.

Memories of happy days as campers and leaders prompted a young Edmonton couple to make a romantic pilgrimage from Edmonton recently to exchange their vows beneath the pines and spruces at Surprise Lake United Church Camp. The wedding took place at 6 p.m. Saturday, September 7.

The ceremony that united Sandra Jean Adru and Dennis Vernon Johnson in matrimony was performed against the breathtaking backdrop of a perfect sunset low over the lake. The outdoor chapel was decorated with the natural beauty of an early September afternoon and the silence was broken only by the indignant chatter of a squirrel as the marriage ceremony progressed.

Dr. K. J. Thompson, Principal of St. Stephen's College, Edmonton conducted the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adru and the son of Mr and Mrs. Marvin P. Johnson all of Edmonton Miss Salley Campbell played the wedding music on the camp organ, which had been moved to the outdoor chapel for the occasion

Ushers in the dress uniform of the PPCLI escorted the invited guests to their places. Preceding the bride and her father to the front of the chapel were bridal attendants Mrs. Kenneth Berg, a sister of the bride, Miss Lorraine Coombes and Miss Karen Lenz. The vivid blue of their gowns was bright against the sombre shades of the forest and drew hints of the groomsmen uniforms.

In spite of the unusual setting for her wedding the bride chose traditional white in a floor length gown with a bouffant veil misting from a headpiece of tiny pearls. Her bouquet was of red roses.

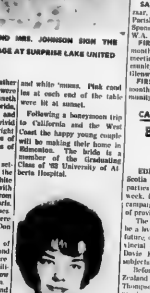
Attending the groom were Messrs. Brian Strecker, Dan Berg and Bill MacMillan.

Following the signing of the register the bride and groom proceeded to the receiving line through a military arch provided by fellow PPCLI friends of the groom.

About 100 relatives and friends attended the wedding and the outdoor reception which followed. They came from such widely scattered points as Vancouver, Montreal, Edson, Edmonton, Vernon, B.C., Grande Prairie, Tofield and Bindary.

Giving a garden party air to the reception, the bride's table was decorated with twin bouquets of sweetheart roses and white mums. Pink candles at each end of the table were lit at sunset.

Following a honeymoon trip to California and the West Coast the happy young couple will be making their home in Edmonton. The bride is a member of the Graduating Class of '63 University of Alberta Hospital.



MISS CAROL SVEDBERG who will be presented with the Alberta Hotel Association Scholarship at a ceremony in the Edson High School this Friday afternoon. Miss Svedberg, a consistent scholarship winner during her high school years in Edson is taking Education at the University of Alberta.

CAPITAL REPORT

B.C. ELECTION OF INTEREST TO ALBERTANS

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — In British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Ontario — the major political parties were at one another's throats last week, in the kind of bluff and name-calling campaign they hope will reach the sympathies of provincial voters.

The British Columbia election promises to be a lively one with a medical care plan, the future of hydro electricity and the first provincial election test of Conservative leader Davie Fulton among the most interesting subjects of study.

Before departing for a junket to New Zealand national Social Credit leader Robert Thompson loaned parts of the West Coast province and read the election campaign scene to be going well for the provincial party — especially in the rural ridings.

What is a certainty, however, is that premier W. A. C. Bennett is going to have a tougher row to run than did his Social Credit counterpart Ernest Manning, in Alberta's election this spring.

There was a fair amount of news emanating from Ottawa also as Judy LaMarsh and the federal pension increase attracted the greatest interest — and attention from each of the provincial governments.

With the picture as crowded by political events in other parts of the country about the only item about Alberta affairs that made front pages was an oil bowl type story about Highways Minister Gordon Taylor.

The minister was thoroughly chastised by Alberta's Law Society for over-ruling a recommendation of the governments driver review board to suspend for five years the driver's license of an Edmonton man with 10 driving convictions.

Government sources say the board last year recommended about 800 suspensions in 2 000 cases that came before them. In approximately 30 per cent of those Mr. Taylor over-ruled the recommendation.

The law society termed Mr. Taylor's rulings "an irresponsible exercise of ministerial discretion." Society president Louis D Hyndman added the minister's reversal of the board's recommendation "is extremely difficult to understand and appears to be unwarranted."

Whatever the conclusions that may be drawn the story probably wouldn't have received the play it did if news hounds had been able to find anything else to write about.

Last week saw the little community of Villeneuve, 25 miles northwest of Edmonton, draw more than its normal share of attention. The subject is a dispute over the community's outdated school and it might yet involve the education department.

Friday Villeneuve parents said they were considering formation of a school district, independent of Sturgeon county, which would enable them to put up their own new building with government assistance. The county has already purchased land for a new centralized school that would make it necessary for Villeneuve children to travel 16 miles from Alcurt.

Any move by the parents of the smaller review to go it alone could embarrass the county which is counting on Villeneuve tax revenues to help pay for the centralized school.

Early in the protest more the parents kept their children away from school for three days, but they were to go back this Monday. "We don't want to penalize the children" said Albert Lesburg, chairman of the local board

Mr Lesburg added that the cause for a new local school appeared to be alienating a lot of support.

Edson girl has fairy tale experience

"It was just like it happens in the movies, or something" was the way Marlene Larson summed up her week's appearance on the Mrs Allen show while on a visit with her grandparents in Bremerton, Washington this summer. Marlene the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harry Larson of Edson, was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Stone.

The fairy tale started when Marlene attended a press party at a private home in Bremerton. The first two guests to arrive were Ken Allen's manager, Wilson Sell, and another member of the Allen entourage Marlene and her grandparents had arrived early to give the hostess a hand. Mr. Self took one look at this French Indian girl from Edson and said "You're just what we've been looking for".

He then went to explain the song and the part Marlene would be expected to play and she agreed to do it That night after going over the act with the Western star, Marlene was ready for her first try at show business.

She appeared with the Allen show for five Bremerton Stampede performances as the Indian maiden "Hershee". Others in the show included Hank and Frank Rodgers of Edmonton (who appeared at the Edson Rodeo) and Wade Ray.

Tentative plans have been made now for Marlene to appear with Rex Allen on the show in Edmonton next year

Show people are often said to be temperemental and hard to get along with, but Marlene said the Rex Allen group and Rex himself were truly the most wonderful, happy and sincere people she had had the pleasure to meet in a long time. She added that the experience had been very exciting and lots of fun.

She never told her parents until it was over and she put in a phone call to them. Her family was as excited as she and now list Marlene as their favorite western star.

Positive Living

PASTOR SNOWALTER

A man and his visiting friend walked to the corner store to get some for the evening paper.

"Good evening," greeted the friendly customer. "May I have a paper please?"

The paper was handed over and the change made without so much as a nod or a pleasant look from the newsman "Thank you very much" was the kind reply from the customer.

Once outside, the friend turned to his host and remarked, "Do you always buy your paper here?" "Yes." "Is he always like that?" "Yes." "Well, why did you speak so nicely to him." "Because I refuse to let anyone tell me how to act!" was the masterful reply.

This man had found the secret of positive living recorded in Romans 12:21 "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Switzer return from extensive trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Switzer have just returned from a two month's auto tour of some 5,500 miles when they visited numerous members of their widely scattered family and renewed old acquaintances at many different points.

The first leg of their journey took them to Fort William, Ont., where they attended the 85th Dominion Convention. There Mr. Switzer was elected a Grand Trustee for the B.P.O. Elks of Canada.

They returned by easy stages all the way to Vancouver, B.C., and from there back via the Cariboo Highway to Prince George, the John Hart Highway to Dawson Creek and the Alaska Highway to Grande Prairie and White court and return to Edson.

On their trip up through the Cariboo, the route followed the old Cariboo Wagon road through the Fraser Canyon and up the river to the old Gold Fields. This was built by the Royal Engineers subsequent to the year 1858.

Those were a body of men sent out from England, around Cape Horn, to build roads for the young colony of British Columbia, one of whom was Philip Jackson, the great grandfather of the Switzer children.

A very interesting side trip was to the historic town of Barkerville which was at one time the gold mining capital of B.C. and the largest town west of Chicago and north of San Francisco. It was restored as a tourist attraction by the government for B.C.'s Centennial year, and is well worth visiting. A large gold quartz mine is still in operation at the nearby town of Wells.

Niton News

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Elliott (Heldi) worth (nee Emily Milly Ladrosse of Hinton) who were married recently in The Lady of the Foothills Catholic Church, Hinton, Alberta, on August 31.

Mr. Jim Lawrence and Mr Harold Cox of Prince George, B.C., were visiting relatives and old friends in this district.

The sympathy of the district goes to Mr. J. D. McArthur and Mrs. Harvey Bet ser on the death of their sister, Mrs. Stella Miller at Brooks, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Setzer got a surprise when their nephew Owen Wright, his wife and daughter, and Mr. Douglas Gordon from Kelowna, B.C., called on them. They had been in Hinton to attend the wedding of their nephew, Russell Holdsworth and were on their way to Edmonton.

The community meeting held at the home of Mr and Mrs. H. Setzer was well attended. It was decided to hold a Turkey Shoot on October 12 at the old Niton School. Hope the weatherman will give us some sunshine for it.

What immunization means to your family

The following article is presented by the Edson Local Unit in conjunction with National Immunization Week which is being observed from September 22 to 28. It is the hope of the Health Unit that the information given in this article will prove helpful to the public in general.

IMMUNIZATIONS

Canadians today spend $100 or more per year on health services for every man, woman and child. Part of this expense is unavoidable, but much could be saved by earlier diagnosis, more routine examinations and other avoidable methods which are ignored to our cost.

The saving of teeth by fluoridation and dietary measures, the prevention by proper nutrition of rickets, scurvy and obesity, and the control of infectious diseases by immunization are well examples of such methods.

Immunization is one of the great achievements of medical science. It is available against a wide variety of infections. Many of these, such as Yellow Fever, are so rare in North America that protection is not necessary unless foreign travel is planned. For others, such as Tuberculosis or Typhoid, immunization is of benefit under certain circumstances, but it is not, at present, considered necessary everywhere for routine community use. In some cases, such as Measles or Hepatitis satisfactory means of permanent protection have not yet been developed.

In Canada today it is common practice to give protection against five diseases Smallpox, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus and Poliomyelitis.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN

Immunization should begin early, if possible at three months of age in order to protect the very young against whooping cough. Reactions, if any, are always mild in infants. Older children are more likely to experience some temporary redness of the inoculation site with a little local swelling. They are also more likely to object to the procedure, however simple and painless it may be.

Protection against these diseases is not achieved by one shot. A course of three injections spaced a month apart is needed, followed by three 'booster' or reinforcing doses at intervals during preschool life. This means that, for adequate protection against polio myelitis, tetanus, immunities is for each disease in early life.

Fortunately, a preparation is available to give protection against all four diseases in one shared form. This saves many trips to the doctor, and makes it much easier to remember when and what is needed. In fact, on special visits may be required at all since all babies and young children need regular health supervision, and immunization is only part of this need.

PROTECT YOURSELF

Throughout school life, continued protection is secured by further reinforcing doses at intervals. Surveys indicate that the great majority of Canadian children receive immunization. However, adults, too, need protection for some of these diseases and many do not have it. It may be that the tonsil and vaccine were not available when they were children, but in many cases their protection has waned without the continued boosters or shots, which are needed about every five years to maintain immunity against tetanus, poliomyelitis and smallpox.

Parents avoid taking chances with their children. Too many take chances with themselves. A child's future may be crippled as badly by the loss of a parent as by having the disease himself.

THE RECORD

An individual record of immunization is a guide for you and your doctor of what you have had and what you may need in the future. Be sure to keep one. It might save your life sometime.

Our country's record in the control of communicable diseases is a good one. Medical research has contributed to the development of safe, simple and effective immunization procedures. Governments at all levels have given support and leadership. Through this combined effort, protection is available to us all at minimum cost.

The safety of the individual depends upon his community and his country, and our country has played its part. The safety of our community also depends upon each individual member. Our success in containing preventable communicable disease will continue only if all of us take advantage of the facilities developed and available to us. Our own protection lies, in the last resort, not with medical science or government, but with ourselves.

Canada's National Immunization Week is an opportunity for each of us to consider whether we have done our share in protecting our children, ourselves, our neighbors, and our community.

Bible counter opens Sept. 26

A new service is being made available to the Bible and surrounding communities with the opening on September 26 of a counter of religious supplies in the Leader Building.

The materials being offered are those most used items without denominational emphasis such as Bibles, Bible study aids, inspirational books, activity books for children, religious phonograph records, scripture text cards for all occasions, and gift items for the home such as Bible posters, pictures and mottoes.

Naturally, the full line of the excellent supply of religious materials cannot be carried on the Bible Counter, but each day catalogue service and the personal attention of Pastor Schwabler is available to help you secure what you need.

The Leader Building, located ½ block west of the traffic light on Highway 16 in Edson, will now offer the Bible Counter in addition to their counters of stationery and office supplies in their new enlarged showroom after Sept. number 26.

In a recent write-up on the swimming activities this summer, Mr. Art Hnatiuk's name was inadvertently omitted. Mr. Hnatiuk, an Edmonton University student, served as life guard supervisor at the pool and was the head instructor. I understand that Mr. Hnatiuk arrived at the pool at 8:30 each morning in order to assist the competitive swimmers. Although there were quite a few who entered the competitive swimming this year, it is hoped there will be many more next year.

At Parkland Lodge

Edson residents have been most wonderful to us in thinking of the pleasure and comfort of us all.

Among those we would like to thank for their thoughtfulness are: the Lions Club for sending buses to the Lodge so that we could get out to see the rodeo in August, also for taking guests down to see the parade on Friday and Saturday mornings;

To the Christian Reformed Church Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook, Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. J. Pyper for the lovely flowers; a special thanks to Mr. H. W. Nelson for the wonderful fresh vegetables from his garden that he donated. Some members of the staff enjoyed the trip to his home to gather them fresh from the garden.

A thank you to the Lady Lions for the barbecue held at the Lodge on Sunday, August 18. It was enjoyed by all. A thank you to the ladies and gentlemen for bringing magazines and jig saw puzzles for the enjoyment of the guests to the Lodge.

We've come new guests to the Lodge in the persons of Mr W. A. Budd of Edmonton and Mr A. Pumfrey of Bobb. We hope their stay with us will be a happy one. Welcome back to Mr P. J. Hansen and Mr T. N. Newberry who have returned after being away for a few months. Mr. A. E. Challenger and Mr. Peter Barnes are home after a stay in the hospital in Edmonton and we hope they will be feeling up to par for a long time to come.

Mrs. B. B. Phillips had as her guest for the month of August her niece, Mrs. Vergil Hart of Lansing, Michigan. Her visit was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The guests are looking forward to the start of church services on Tuesday evenings.

Health Unit waives third quarterly payment by Town

One of those rare moments came to Edson Council at their meeting on September 17 when it was the pleasure of the local taxing authority to not have to meet the third quarterly requisition from the Edson Health Unit. A letter from the Health Unit informed the Council that the Unit did not need the revenue this year to meet their normal operating expenditures. Council moved to accept the financial relief with thanks.

A committee of the Council are to interview Canadian National Railways officials to see what can be done about saving the trees and lawn on the West side of the Station property on the South side of First Avenue. A letter from the railway indicated they would like to transfer the lawn to the Town for upkeep.

Further details on the two duplex homes on the North end of Main and the 12 unit apartment East of the Parkland Lodge between 8th and 9th Avenues East were worked out with the builders, Rempel Homes.

Present were Mayor W. H. Brunelle and Councillors M. E. Collin, W. F. Kortzman, A. Goldstick, M. D. Meade and J. Brett. Two citizens

ARTHUR HNATIUK coach of the Edson swim team and superintendent of the Edson Pool receives the Kinsmen Trophy from Hinton pool superintendent Joe Lewsin. The trophy was donated by the Hinton-Edson-Jasper Kinsmen Club for inter-town swimming competition. Unfortunately, a new Parks ruling did not allow time for a Jasper competitive team to practice, nor did it allow time for a swim meet to be held this summer. The Jasper team had won the trophy last year, but due to the ruling had no entries in the Hinton and Edson meets where the most points were totalled by Edson.

Tragic accident takes life of district youth

The many friends of Edward Solon (Teddy) Young of Peers, were stunned at the weekend when they learned of the tragic accident which claimed his life early Friday morning. The death occurred at 2:30 a.m. September 20 in a truck accident at Sunnybrook, Alberta.

Teddy was 19 years old. He is survived by his parents, Mr and Mrs. Percy Young of Peers, one sister Mrs. Lorna Rosillard of Edson, two brothers, Kenneth of Peers and Donald of Edson.

Well known in the Peers and surrounding districts, Ted was born at Peers and took all his education in the local school with the exception of Grade 12 which he took in Edson High School, graduating when only 17 years old.

He was a member of the Peers 4-H grain club for six years, played ball for the local team and was active in local church activities. During his around years in Peers he held every office in the Sunday Union.

Possibly he was best known outside of his own district for his dancing abilities as he took part in numerous talent shows as a remedial trainer.

Following his graduation from high school he took an accelerated course in electronics at Devry Technical Institute in Toronto. For the past eight months he has been employed by Lane Wells (Canada) Ltd. as an electronic technician servicing oil field equipment in the Edmonton area. During that time he had received two promotions with the company.

The funeral service was held Monday, September 23 from the Edson United Church. Rev D A MacPher son conducted the service.

COUNCIL INCUMBENTS ABE GOLDSTICK AND PERCY WELLS were returned to their Council seats on Wednesday by acclamation when no other nominations had been received up until the 12 noon deadline. Messrs. Goldstick and Wells are returned for a three year term. Returning Officer Peter Sardak could not accept a further nomination that was received shortly after the 12:00 noon deadline. Councillor Goldstick was elected to fill an unexpired term last fall. Councillor Wells has been serving on Council since 1957. Elected by acclamation to three year terms on the Edson School District Board were Gordon P. Teddy and Morton Collin.

EDWARD S. (Teddy) YOUNG

Soloist during the funeral service was Miss Beth Bibby of Niton who sang "When you say goodnight here and good morning up there." Pallbearers were school chums Bill Cronin, Charlie Bond, David and Robert Radcliffe, David Solin and Richard Fabian.

Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery at Edson. Floral tributes are as follows:

THE 1964 METEOR is significantly longer in every way than its predecessor. It is almost 12 inches longer, seven inches wider and slightly higher and rides on a wheelbase of 120 inches compared with the 114.5 inches of the 1963 Meteor. It has the distinctive Mercury reverse slant rear window and provides big ride and interior comfort at a price that keeps it in the low priced class. In the two new series the Meteor and Meteor Custom 55 will offer a full range of standard cars including two and four-door sedans, hardtops, convertible and wagon models. It will be on display in all Mercury dealerships early in October.

HINTON— MR. AND MRS. HARRY FELABES look all set to start on this giant loaf of crusty white bread. Mrs. Felaber brought it back with her from a holiday to show unbelieving Albertans how big the loaves grow in Saskatchewan. The loaf was a big one by the average person's standard, but was not out of the ordinary for the Hutterite Colony bake oven that it came from.

Lorne Neale was home for a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Neale last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGregor of Edmonton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Irvine.

Good news for scorched pans

Arctiosis will happen even to the best regulated kitchen but cheer up girls.

Next time one of your precious pots or pans becomes scorched and discolored don't panic. Just submerge it in a solution of warm water and baking soda.

The soda will not mar the finish and in a few minutes, more or less, depending on the severity of the scorching, the utensil will emerge good as new, with no scorches or pit marks.

Weatherman can't talk back

By PERN ICE

We finally found out why everybody talks about the weather but nobody does a thing about it. You can say anything that comes in your mind without fear of a libel charge. Who ever heard of the weatherman hauling anybody into court for defamation of character? Actually discussion of the weather provides an outlet for reserves of frustration, and downright meanness.

Inclement climatic conditions don't really get on your nerves — things just pile up and when the sky becomes overcast, rain pours and muddy tracks follow you all over the house you just naturally fly into a tantrum.

Make sense eh?

Weekend party for Post Master

Th staff of the Edson Post Office and their spouses, gave an official welcome to their Post Master, Mr. R. (Duke) Lengiet, when they held a surprise housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Lengiet on September 10.

Games and a social period filled a pleasant evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lengiet were presented with a gift for their new home by the staff members.

The evening ended with everyone enjoying a delicious luncheon.

Hunting season opened with a bang last Monday morning and several hunters bagged their quota within a day or two.

Our district was well represented at the wrestling match in Edson recently. Avid T.V. viewers thoroughly enjoyed seeing their favorite bruisers in person. We always thought that in a wrestling match, two contestants went into a clinch and twisted, grappled, and floundered around till one or the other hit the mat. Not so! They kick, bite and strike, punch, gouge and mutilate. At least that's how it looks to us. Oh well everybody to his own liking.

Harold Thomas required medical attention after a friendly scrap with a power saw that resulted in a badly cut shoulder. Then to add insult to injury he was stung 13 times by bees.

Raymond Nasby spent Monday night in hospital following an attack by hornets.

Shawn, four year old son of Pat and Terry O'Toole suffered no fatal effects as a result of a tumble from a mobile car. The boy opened a door and was thrown to the pavement. His parents said he was up and chasing after them before the vehicle had come to a stand still.

A head family drove to Valleyview Sunday and saw a truck on it's top under a bridge near Pac Creek. The big truck had crushed the bridge railings and landed in a gully. The where abouts of the driver was unknown. Unconfirmed reports said the accident had occured several hours earlier but had not been reported. The RCMP were on the job Sunday after noon.

Lynn Thomas is in Edmonton getting some work done on her teeth. She spent last week at home suffering a bad case of strep throat.

There will be a dance in the Drostan Hall on Friday, September 27. Come on out folks and enjoy yourselves. A lunch is included in the admission price.

With the return of good weather threshing machines are going full time. Here's hoping everyone gets their harvest finished soon.

EDUCATION NEEDS RE-ASSESSING

Enrollment has increased appreciably this fall at both of Hinton's elementary schools. At the same time the number of teachers has been reduced. The result is larger classes and an increased load on administration and teaching staffs.

We are told that the reason for the decrease in teachers is a desire of the School Board to economize, and to increase the pupil-teacher ratio in accordance with a similar trend in other school divisions. One can understand why the Board would be economy conscious after the uproar of municipalities over increased school requisitions last spring, but are teachers the place to economize? To our way of thinking teachers are the most important ingredient in education and should be the last to be affected by economy measures.

One classroom at Crescent Valley School is reported to have 40 pupils. Whether a teacher can do justice to the needs and varied abilities of so large a number is questionable. Certainly a crowded classroom must present problems and a certain amount of strain on both teacher and pupils. It is not a desirable condition for learning.

Still, where can economy measures be taken? Many costs, such as busing of students, did not face School Boards in earlier days. The rapid increase in school population accompanied by a modern belief that as many people as possible should complete High School has resulted in a need for more and larger buildings. Teacher salaries have risen also and one can scarcely suggest that they be cut and still expect to have the best type of teachers, or overcome the teacher shortage.

It becomes more and more apparent that education costs are soaring beyond reach and that the Foundation Program of the provincial government is no longer effective in alleviating the burden of education cost on municipalities as it was intended to do. School requisitions are crippling municipalities and placing ever increasing load on taxpayers. Now would be the time for the provincial and federal governments to re-assess the whole question of education and its jurisdiction by the provinces.

An attempt should be made to arrive at a more suitable solution, not only for financing education costs but for establishing a uniform educational system throughout the country as a whole. True, the necessary funds would still have to come from the pockets of taxpayers, and Quebec would present a special problem, but a 19th century arrangement would be brought up to date in order to fulfill present day needs.

Dear Sir:

In Edson Leader 12/68, I would like to make a correction in the Around Town which read "Miss Joyce Peet of Calgary was in Edson reviewing requisitions recently." It should have read "Joyce and Charlie Peet and not David of Calgary were in Edson reviewing requisitions recently."

It would please me to read this correction correctly.

CAPITAL REPORT

NURSING HOMES GETTING COST SCRUTINY

BY JOHN WARREN

EDMONTON — It turned out, after all, that Highways Minister Gordon Taylor suspended the license of the Edmonton driver with 40 convictions against him. And Mr. Taylor said earlier reports erroneously left the impression that he had given the man's license back for an indefinite period.

Not at all, said Mr. Taylor, he merely rejected the board's proposal pending the outcome of a dangerous driving charge against the man. The review body then made a second recommendation for suspension of the man's license and this has been approved.

Undoubtedly all who became concerned in the case and arguments that followed, are pleased to see it concluded after receiving such unwarranted publicity.

One subject that never seems far from the centre of government activity these last few months has been that of nursing homes in the province.

Last week one of the reasons for the general concern came into clear focus. The proposed program may cost up to $9,000,000 a year to operate and municipalities fear it will mean a tax increase.

The government is working on the prediction that $24,000,000 will have to be spent in the next five years to meet the nursing need. The health department's custodial care committee has recommended a three-way cost-sharing deal among the province, municipalities and occupants of homes.

The matter of a mill rate hike has not yet been decided and the government plans meetings with municipal authorities to discuss methods of cost sharing. The committee's survey of the province showed at least 4,000 persons can qualify for residence in a nursing home. About 625 of them are in hospitals and senior citizens homes.

At the time the province announced it would cut back payments to private nursing homes that provide care for persons eligible for auxiliary hospital treatment.

Immediately following this announcement the government was charged with fabricating much of the need for nursing homes as an excuse for cutting back on its expensive auxiliary hospital program. The amalgated Hospitals of Alberta charged that the government saw it was now planning in the auxiliary hospital field and came up with the nursing home need to justify shifting emphasis.

And finally it was revealed that an awkward agreement with Ottawa covering dealings with private nursing homes has pound the provincial departments of health and welfare with a problem.

Fundamentally the problem is that as the health department gradually withdraws from payment subsidies in nursing homes more beds will become available for welfare patients. But as long as there is a health department patient in a home, the welfare department hesitates to fill the empty bed — because the federal agreement cuts off its cost-sharing if there are welfare patients in a home contrary to the health department.

This particular problem may be solved when the cabinet gets around to deciding just what to do about a nursing home program.

Premier Manning, whose medical insurance program isn't ready off the ground yet, last week said he foresees government aid to home care as an automatic sequel to medical care programs.

He told the Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association there is a growing public attitude that their welfare should be taken care of by statutes.

"Where matters of justice are at stake, it should be essential that all the skills of the legal profession are offered" and this could soon require legislative provisions.

THE EQUALIZATION PUZZLE

Alberta Foundation Program for Education is a puzzling thing. Consider its impact on the various kinds of municipalities in the province.

If you take the figures published in The Alberta Municipal Counsellor for June, showing the actual and equalized assessments for each municipality in the province, and calculate the mill rate on actual assessment which is imposed by the Foundation Program, some startling variations are revealed.

The following figures are the average mill rates which would have to be levied against actual assessment in order to raise 20 mills on equalized assessment for the Foundation Program (the equalized assessment for school purposes has been used wherever hospital and school figures differ):

Three Special areas	20.3
29 Counties	22.7
25 Municipal Districts	23.1
10 Cities (including Alberta, section of Lloydminster)	24.3
31 Improvement Districts	29.0
Lethbridge	29.6
192 Towns	29.6
91 Towns	29.7

Of course allowance must be made for the difference in the bases of assessment. But it is precisely because of these differences that one would expect a table such as the one above to show an orderly progression between the most intensively developed urban communities at one extreme and the most loosely organized rural areas at the other.

Instead, special areas are at one end of the list while improvement districts fall in the middle, along with cities.

The explanation must lie in the equalization formula used by the government. But no one outside government has ever been told what this is. Local governmental authorities are simply given a figure, and told "This is your equalized assessment. Kindly remit 2.3 per cent of it (23 mills) by such and such date."

This comes close to taxation without representation, and it's high time the government offered some explanation of the way in which it "equalizes" educational finance.

Fish Hatcheries expand

JASPER —

The Park Fish Hatcheries is located in one of the most beautiful settings in Jasper National Park, at the mouth of the Maligne River.

Each year since the fish hatchery was established in 1942, has seen some advancements and changes. Probably this year has seen the greatest improvements, and many people who live in Jasper are not even aware of this.

Behind the old building, where many tourists have visited, there has been another building built of equal size. A huge rearing pool, 120 x 30 x 6 ft. with five large raceways is being completed now.

Jasper has been advertised as a "fisherman's haven", but because so many people come here to fish, it is difficult for the government to keep the lakes stocked. These additions to the fish hatchery in Jasper should help a great deal.

The staff at the fish hatchery in Jasper is comprised of Mr. Cliff Ward, Biologist for the Western National Parks who is in charge of the Fish Hatchery Operation and Lake Management; Gary Hankins, lab technician, who helps with lake management and analysis of disease among the fish; Joe Hilstad is the officer in charge with the rest of the staff consisting of Jan Shoreguard, Art Colbeck, Bill Hooper, Pete Dorei, Willie Sciard and Pete Nesdiet.

As in the raising of any family, there prime requirements have to be watched carefully, cleanliness, balanced diet, and disease control.

The Fish Hatchery here raises many of their own eggs, but cannot supply the great demand, so eggs are shipped from the United States each year. These are sent as "eyed eggs" i.e. the eye can be seen in the egg.

They are shipped on trays piled in a container, which is packed in ice to maintain the proper degree of moisture and a steady temperature of 36 degrees. Spawning of fish begins in November, and carries on until early spring. The eggs are placed in an incubator to hatch.

After the eggs are hatched they are moved to troughs in the fish hatchery. For two weeks they stay on the bottom of the trough and derive food from the yolk sac on which they have been born. When the young fry emerge from the yolk sac and start swimming freely about the troughs, they have to be fed.

Ground liver, and dry food is carefully prepared, and weighed, so that there is plenty to supply the need. After a few weeks the fish are planted in the pools until they become "yearlings," at which time they can be planted in the lakes.

Lake surveys are carefully studied to estimate the population of the fish, the food structure of the lake, and how many fish per acre could survive in such conditions. The mountain lakes are limited in their natural food supply for fish.

Diseased fish, both in the hatchery, and in the lakes, are studied, analyzed, and treated with chemicals. Much research is done in this field, and care taken to avoid an epidemic among the fish.

To plant fish in the accessible lakes, a tank truck is used. The past week has seen many trips to Patricia Lake where the fish population has been greatly increased. Before being liberated in the lake the left pectoral fin is clipped.

In order to do this the fish are immersed in a tub of water to which has been added an anesthetic. While the fish are in a state of sleep, two men of the hatchery, one by one, clip the fin and toss the fish into a tub of fresh water. In neither of minutes the fish revives, and are as active as before.

By "marking" these fish, they are easy to identify and such things as growth, disease, etc. can be studied.

The tank truck used to transport the fish from the hatchery to the lake is equipped with a circulating pump in order to keep the oxygen level.

For long hauls, to lakes where the tank truck cannot reach, the fish are taken by pack trips. They are carried in polyethylene bags which are partially filled with water to which is added a buffer to breath down the formed dioxide, and also a slight bit of anesthetic is added to curtail the activity of the fish in this manner the fish may be safe for as long as 36 hours, providing the temperature is kept at 40 degrees.

This is "Big Business" at the Hatchery, and now, with the addition of the new buildings, many more fry and fingerlings will be able to be handled. These will eventually find their way into the fishing lakes and rivers in Jasper National Park, and the fishermen will have even more luck than they have enjoyed in the past.

A PLACE THAT HAS FASCINATED THOUSANDS is the Jasper Fish Hatchery. At left is the hatchery building where visitors can future needs in the egg and fail stage. The pool in the foreground is full of the adult fishery beauty that make fishermen wish they could sneak a hook and line in. At right Hatchery staff members Art Colbeck and Bill Hooper mark the fish, by clipping a fin, before planting. —Staff Photo

Edson son married in Victoria, B.C.

A slipper-length gown of sheer over taffeta was worn by Miss Marilyn Ruth McMurdo recently when she exchanged vows with Bruce Lambeth. The gown featured a lace bodice with lily point sleeves and front lace panel. Her veil misted from a coronet of pearls. Johanna Hill roses, tangerine chrysanthemums and ivy were in her bouquet.

Bronze and gold chrysanthemums flanked the altar in First United Church, Victoria. Rev. Robert J. D. Morris officiated.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McMurdo, of Victoria, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lambeth of Edson. Mr. McMurdo gave his daughter in marriage.

Matron of honor, Mrs. H. E. McMurdo, sister-in-law of the bride; bridesmaid, Miss Bonnie Campbell, and flower girl, petite Miss Wanda McMurdo, niece of the bride, were individually gowned in apricot crystal charm. The senior attendants carried bouquets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums and the flower girl carried a basket of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Best man was Bill Clark. Ushering guests to their pews were John Clark, Malcolm McMurdo and Lyle McMurdo.

A four-tier wedding cake decorated with the ornament used on the bride's parents' wedding cake twenty-five years ago, centred the brides table, at a reception in the Tally-Ho Travelodge. The table was covered with a lace cloth, created by the groom's late grandmother and enhanced with bouquets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

The tablecloth was used on the groom's parent's wedding table.

Elmer McMurdo, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast. Sister of the groom, Miss Bonnie Lambeth, was in charge of the guest book.

For travelling, the bride chose a two-piece camel-tone bouclé suit with moss green gloves, hat and scarf, and antiqued silver accessories. Her corsage was a green orchid.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lambeth and their daughters, Bonnie and Tracy, from Edson; Mr. and Mrs. M. McMurdo and Wanda of Powell River, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. G. McMurdo and Betty of Mission, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. I. McMurdo, Joanne and Dale

1964 CHEVELLE

THE STRIKINGLY BEAUTIFUL new line of Chevelle cars combines new smartness and luxury with new size and price range. Built on a 115-inch wheelbase, four inches shorter than regular models, Chevelle is shorter, narrower and lower than the regular car, but most Chevelle interior dimensions are said within one inch of regular 1964 models. Chevelle introduces a new type perimeter frame engineered for each of the four body styles. Shown here is the Chevelle Malibu Super Sport coupe.

Robb and Branch News

Some of our visiting hunters seem to get carried away in the trigger happy days, have shot a couple of horses. Some have bagged their limit with some mighty fine specimens. Others haven't succeeded any. Better luck when the snow flys Sops.

Mrs. Jim Booker and two children from the city spent Wednesday with Mrs. Ken Daniels.

Mr. Ernie Foss of Edmonton formerly of Mercoal spent the weekend in Robb.

Mrs. Margaret Charlton is a patient in Hinton Hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery. Mr. Charlton had the misfortune to break his wrist. Never mind Les things are tough all over this year.

Mr. Archie McLeod of Whitecourt was a visitor at the Kennedys on Monday having tried his luck at hunting. An old timer of the Branch, he had no luck either.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Sr. and daughter Bea were visitors at Charlieau during the week. Mr. Charlton Sr. and daughter returned to the city while Grandma remained for a few days.

Robb community Hall was the scene of another gathering Saturday to bid farewell to the Bill Daniels family.

Mr. Daniels has been transferred to Whitecourt. Mr. Alanis presented them with a purse of money and wished them the best of luck. They will be greatly missed, having taken an active part in community affairs.

A baby shower was held in the Robb Hall on Thursday evening in honor of Baby Simcosa. There were fourteen ladies present and a good part of the evening was spent playing bingo. This was followed by the opening of the many lovely gifts. Mrs. Simcosa graciously thanked the ladies for their thoughtfulness. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Orinsky and Mrs. Cards which brought the evening to a close.

"Have I told you about my grandchildren?"
"No, and I appreciate it."

MIGHT MAKE A SPLASH

Mother has scolding her naughty chirks: "If your father could see you now he would turn over in his grave."

Reason for doubting

PASTOR SIDWALTER

There is an opinion common to many people that the Christian Church is a hoax and that God is impersonal; that is, He doesn't pay much attention to us.

I greet you that the Church may sometimes fail, but let man be the liar — God knows you better than you know yourself.

And, He knows why you think of His Church as being mainly an offering plate to get your money, or as a strict set of rules and regulations to restrict your pleasures.

The season is you are on the outside looking in. Oh, your name might be on the Church Roll, but the reason you doubt its worth is because you haven't let God do anything much for you.

The writer of Psalm 116 confidently declares, "I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplication."

McMurdo of Courtenay, B.C.; Mrs. G. Deender and Kathy of Deloraine, Man.; and Mrs. E. C. Beatty, Tindale, Sask.
